WEEKLY
REPORT

PUBLISHED FOR THE FACULTY, STUDENTS AND STAFF OF AUGUSTA COLLEGE

Deadline for copy Wednesday noon of preceding week Office of Public Information Rams Hall

FOR WEEK OF: JANUARY 5 - JANUARY 11, 1976 WRITTEN BY: [Name] [Address]

The beginning of the long winter quarter is to be marked by the opening of the Babysitting Service and the Child Development Center on Monday, January 5. The long exhibition of works by John Kichie and Kenneth Kerstie will continue in the gallery. Kichie, professor of art at the University of Georgia, is known for his use of 2-D and 3-D design, and Kerstie, professor of art at the University of Georgia, is known for his print work. The Babysitting Service will lengthen its winter hours to 8:30 a.m. to 8 p.m., according to Director Patti Childs, in order to accommodate parents who wish to attend evening classes. The service is located at the Rams Hall property. The Child Development Center, which serves 3,000 children, has a few openings this winter in each category. Call the Director for more information and specifics.

The newly-formed CSRA Interest and Study Group, a non-profit educational organization involved in transactional analysis studies, will meet Tuesday, January 5, at the office of the Testing Bureau in Belle Hall. The group will sponsor a workshop, "IAT," Feb. 6-7 conducted by Charles S. Frick, clinical supervisor at the Memorial Medical Center in Savannah. The location is considered a "pre-requirement" for regular membership in the International Transactional Analysis Society.

NEWS BRIEFS

COLLEGE CONCERT Gene Cotton will conduct the "Madrigal Society" at 8:30 p.m. Saturday, Jan. 10 in the theatre. The concert is the first of a series of four concerts of the quarter sponsored by Student Activities. Tickets for the concert will be available through the Student Activities office. The performance at the theatre is at 10:30 p.m. on Saturday, Jan. 10. Tickets for the concert are $2.00 for students and $3.00 for the general public. The concert is a benefit for the "Gene Cotton Scholarship Fund."

PARTICIPANT Dr. Roy E. Nicks, Jr. has been appointed as a judge in the competition for the selection of the best papers for the Marketing Assn. Educators' Conference to be held in Memphis this summer. The conference will be held on Thursday, January 8, 9, and 10, 1976. The conference is a benefit for the "Gene Cotton Scholarship Fund."

FACULTY SPEAKER "Industry and the Use of Transactional Analysis" was the topic of Dr. Roy E. Nicks, Jr.'s recent lecture at the CSRA chapter of the Industrial Management Club (IMC). He also spoke to a meeting of the Personnel Assn. of the CSRA on the same subject. The lecture was held on Thursday, January 7, 1976. The lecture is a benefit for the "Gene Cotton Scholarship Fund."

BOOK TRUCK COMING The College Marketing Group Truck will return to campus on Friday, January 9, 1976. The truck will be parked in front of the Rams Hall. The truck is a benefit for the "Gene Cotton Scholarship Fund." The truck is a benefit for the "Gene Cotton Scholarship Fund." The truck is a benefit for the "Gene Cotton Scholarship Fund."

VIDEO TAPE PLANNED A 35-minute color video tape of Oedipus Rex is being planned by Dave Jones, who is also providing his original visuals for the program, according to the Inter-Collegiate Video Clearing House Newsletter in Miami. Jones' presentation was originally produced with color slides and a long playing record as a "slide-opera" in 1957. The production has been shown at colleges, universities, and art associations throughout the eastern U.S. for the past 18 years. The video tape is a benefit for the "Gene Cotton Scholarship Fund."

FOR WEEK OF: JANUARY 12 - JANUARY 19 Written January 7, 1976 No. 72

Following in the wake of the Student Government Association's record breaking turnout at the Octoberfest last quarter, SGA is gearing up for an International Food Festival Friday, January 16, in the College Activities Center. There will be no admission charged at this event; however, everyone is expected to bring a foreign food of some type, said Tim Davis, SGA president. SGA will provide bread, fruit, wine and tea. The CAC will open at 6:30 and dinner will be served at 7. Folk guitarists will play during and after dinner. The event should end at 10 p.m.

The Augusta College chapter of Phi Kappa Phi, national honor society, will meet 7:30 p.m. Thursday, Jan 15, in the AC Towers. All department chairpersons are urged to attend as well as all interested students.

The Babysitting Service, now serving children ranging in age from 1-5, is operating from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. this quarter on a trial basis in order to serve students who wish to attend evening classes. The Service will also be able to serve those who wish to attend the 6 p.m. movies in the AC film series. 50 cents an hour for the first child; 75¢ for two. The Service is located on the Boykin Wright property.

You are looking at Augusta College's new logotype--a symbol which will be seen quite extensively in the near future. Selected on the basis of a campus-wide vote, the entry was one of 70 submitted for judging. The simple, easily reproduced trademark will be seen on campus vehicles, signs, name plates, parking stickers, stationary, news releases--virtually every mode of College communications. The logo selected was the work of Jean Stewart, former secretary for the Dept. of Physical Education (1968-1973). The simple design will represent the college primarily through the recognition factor. The designer felt that the flowing lines represent smooth, continuous development with the vertical bar denoting the end of one phase, the Junior College; and the open end suggesting, not completeness, but opportunity for continued growth. The logotype makes its entry at an appropriate time--the celebration of Augusta College's 50th anniversary. The Publications Committee is beginning work on a Graphics Manual for Augusta College which will serve as a guide to those involved in the conception and execution of printed communications for the College.

WHO'S WHO ANNOUNCED Eighteen campus leaders were approved for inclusion in the 1975-76 edition of Who's WHAT'S NEW? In order for the AC Spotlight to be a more inclusive house organ, and to keep all segments of the campus population well-informed as to planned activities on campus, the Public Information Office requests all students and faculty to send club and campus activities to the Spotlight as much in advance as possible. News media representatives rely on the Spotlight to keep aware of AC activities.

LIBRARY As part of the AC Library's annual inventory, all library materials due in 1975 must be returned by Feb. 9. "Please help us to clear our files by returning your books promptly," requests Virginia E. deTreville.

BOOK TRUCK HERE The annual visit of the College Marketing Group Book Truck will take place Wednesday from 9-4 p.m. beside the CAC. The faculty will be able to view more than 3,000 books from over 200 publishers. They can fill out request forms which are sent to the publishers who will send back sample books for use in the classrooms. Prospective authors may also report on manuscripts they are writing.

MINISTER COUNSELOR The A.C. Wesley Foundation under the leadership of the Rev. C. Robert Allred, invites interested students who might benefit from the special work of a minister/counselor to contact the Rev. Mr. Allred. The Foundation is also interested in providing ministry to anyone from out of town; or, anyone who is not active in the life of a church. The minister may be contacted at Asbury United Methodist Church, 1305 Troupe St., 733-6497.

The following new employees are being welcomed to campus: Gloria Williams, Chemistry and Physics; Laurie Attaway, Student Records; Carlene Colclough, Counseling, Thomas Crenshaw and Howard Crenshaw, Plant Operations; and Paula Cody, Physical Education.

AN OPEN LETTER FROM PRESIDENT FORD TO THE 1976 COLLEGE GRADUATES:

The freedom to pursue knowledge is one of the great blessings our Founding Fathers sought to bestow on the society they envisioned. You have been the beneficiaries of this great legacy. You have tasted the freedom to engage in the studies of your choice, to express your opinions and to pursue new opportunities for self-fulfillment.

As I congratulate you on the accomplishments reflected in your college degrees, a proud nation looks to you to help advance the continuing realization of the dream of our Founding Fathers and the aspirations of our society. We can reflect that two hundred years ago half of our population was less than twenty years of age. The author of our Declaration of Independence was thirty-three; and of its signers, sixteen were in their thirties and three were in their twenties. Young or old, our Founding Fathers cherished the concepts of individual freedom and equality and were fiercely determined to direct their own destiny.

As the Bicentennial college graduating class, you are the embodiment of what America can achieve. You are both the strength and the hope of our nation. I send each of you my very best wishes for every success and personal satisfaction in your future lives.

ORIENTATION A summer quarter orientation program for entering freshmen and transfer students will be held 1 p.m. June 11 in the PAT. Departmental advising will follow.

APPLICATIONS Applications are being accepted for a graduate assistantship in the Dept. of Mathematics and Computer Science for the 1976-77 year. Applicants may be enrolled in (or applicants to) the M.Ed. program in sec. ed. with mathematics as the teaching field concentration. Details from Dr. Jerry Sue Townsend, department head.

CHESS TOURNEY The College of Charleston is having a Chess Tournament June 26-27. For further information, contact Mike Miller, English Department,

NEW STUDENT LEADERS SGA officers are being congratulated on their victories. New president is DAVID SEGARS, vice president is RENNIE WOLFE, secretary is STEPHANIE ISHII and treasurer is PHYLIS TROWELL.

MEDITATION Ananda Marga will present an open discussion on meditation with Acarya Rudranath, a teacher of meditation from The Philippines, 7:30 p.m. Friday in the Lecture Room of Butler Hall. Free.

GOLF TOURNEY The Dean of Student's Office is planning a golf tournament for this summer at the Persimmon Hills Golf Course near Saluda, S.C. Playing date options: June 15, July 2, and 9th. Interested faculty and staff are asked to contact the Dean of Students Office.

The first concert of the Southeastern Hornists Guild will be given at 8:00 p.m. Sunday (July 11). The program will consist of music from the Baroque, Classical, and 20th Century periods, including several arrangements of many French Horn arrangements of French Horns and Tuba. Members of the Augusta Community Orchestra, Columbia Philharmonic, Charleston Symphony, and students and faculty from the Univ. of S.C. and Trans University have rehearsed together to perform the concert here Sunday, July 11, and at the Univ. of S.C. in Columbia on Monday. The public is invited.

Three AC alumni were recently featured in the North Augusta Bicentennial College students' production of "The Music Man." Deborah Lawrence played the role of Miss Gersie, piano teacher Marian (The Librarian) Jones; Matt St. Hill played the part of Frederick Washburn, and Jim Stevall, his father, played the part of Mayor Wilson.

STUDENT FLAG - A special hand-sewn flag made by student Elizabeth Good of Warren, S.C., graced the AC flagpole Sunday, July 4th. The flag was made from a description of one flown off the coast of Savannah in the early 1700's, Miss Good said, and is believed to have been the earliest Georgia flag. The description was found in the State Archives, she said. The flag was made as a class project for Dr. Edward L. Cashin's Culture Bicentennial Program on American Culture.

PLUMMER, 87 - The AC member Ed Plummer continues to make his mark in the history of "Public Information Service." The 87-year-old veteran director of Organizational and Staff Development, Women Development, Debra's Castello, and Ed Plummer, "When we have a major organization turning into a chaotic, chaotic situation, it is from a story of the declining and falling away of the American dynasty, where the individual was forced to change to meet the new science of the world he lived in," states the 87-year-old.

FACULTY WINNERS - The Faculty team of Christensen, Crisshaw, and Hobbes was first place winner (five award points) in the recent Bicentennial Galt Classic at Perdisston Hills. Second place (seven points) went to the team of Galloway, Jaybird, and Bickert (by virtue of a technical ruling), and third place (seven points) to the team of Thomas, Keen, and others.

STUDENT BELIEVER - Political Science Major Gloria Dittus has been selected to serve as an alternate delegate for the upcoming Republican National Convention. She is one of four college Republican alternates and is the youngest Republican alternate ever from Georgia. The 20-year-old was nominated by Augustin Bob Eckhardt at the state GOP convention in Savannah when an appointed alternate dropped out.

KITTENS AVAILABLE - Lively Kittens free to good home. Also one grown spotted cat. 738-2182.

PLUMMER, 87 - "The History of Augusta College" by Dr. Edward L. Cashin, III, with Dr. Helen Callahan as co-author, is in the Office of the College and Public Services and is being mailed to those who pre-ordered their copies several months ago. The 150 chapter volume was printed for the Augusta College Press by the State Printer, the Co. of Columbia, S.C.

SCHOLARSHIPS AWARDED - Eight entering students at Augusta College and one already enrolled have been awarded scholarships by the Exchange Club of Augusta. Scholarships are awarded annually under the Miller-B. Foster Scholarship Fund for which the Exchange Club offers $25,000. The AC scholarship recipients are Bruce Carlton Benson, Lincoln County High School; Barbara Rowland, Glenn Hills High; Leonard Cassidine, Glenn Hills High; Dennis Alan Conrad, Richmond Academy; Sophie Marie Dean, Aquinas High; Videra Lucille Gordon, Hephzibah High; Dawn Phillips, Southside High; Leila Ann Paryson, Southside High; and Nancy Diane Esry, who is enrolled. The new scholarships bring to 41 the number of scholars being subsidized by the Exchange Club.

From coffee-mugs and ash-trays to a pre-school and teacher's corner, the Augusta College Bookstore may be the answer to sparking up your summertime gift-buying and reading activities. Attractive white coffee-mugs with AC's new logo (99¢) have just arrived and have been added to the many other personalized items such as keychains, letter openers, beer mugs, tie-tacs, charms, etc. A large shelf of "Special Buys" offers a number of outstanding books at sharply reduced prices. The Hunting Dogs of America, which sells for $9.95, is selling at $4.95; a two-volume set of Harry S. Truman: Years of Trial and Hope, is on sale for $8.95. The Other League, a book about the American Football League, was $12.95 and is now $8.95. The Teacher's Corner provides public school teachers with instructor curriculum materials and resource handbooks. A special attraction is the Spice Series, available only at the AC Bookstore. A Pre-School section features the Home Activity Series with handbooks covering spelling, counting, arithmetic, coloring, reading and cooking. Mother Goose coloring books are available as well as a number of picture books. A large Juvenile Section features a variety of books including the well-known Mother West Wind's Series. The Bookstore can attire tots to teachers in tennis shirts, jackets, sweat-suits, baseball shirts and Jaguar T-Shirts. Other items include art supplies, stationery, notebooks, pennants, umbrellas, greeting cards, car decals, books by local authors, study aids, and attractive postcards featuring scenes of the AC campus. Bookstore Director Mary F. Bailey, Secretary June Pritchett, and the staff invite everyone to "drop by and browse at your leisure."

CLOTHES/SHOES NEEDED AC personnel are urged by the Student Activities Office to donate any useable clothing and shoes to the Community Clothing Shop via a receptacle in the lobby of the CAC. The response has been good, reports Susan Lentz, but more apparel is necessary-- particularly children's clothes. The Community Clothing Shop, operated by area churches, is located at 1854 Broad St. All clothes are sold to the needy at minimal prices (shirts, 15¢, dresses, 25¢ etc.) Anyone may buy adult clothing but referral cards are necessary to purchase children's attire. Such cards are available at the Student Activities Office.

SUPER SUNDAY SET S.G.A. is planning a "Super Sunday" for July 25 at the AC Rec Area, Clark Hill. Field day games will be held and drinks provided. Activities will be held from 1-6 p.m. Everyone is invited.

FOUR MORE WEEKS AC's Summer Day Camp for children from 4-12 will have four more sessions. Children may sign up for any or all of the remaining weeks. Hours are from 8:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. Breakfast and lunch is included. AC children, $15 per week; community children, $20. Student Activities, 828-3806, has details.

GREEK PARTY A Greek soft-drink party will be held following Friday's orientation for new students in the Performing Arts Theatre. The party is planned for 1:30-3 p.m. If weather permits, it will be held on the PAT veranda.

LIFEGUARDS ON DUTY Lifeguards are on duty at the AC Clark Hill property each Saturday and Sunday from noon-6 p.m. Boating and camping areas, an air-conditioned lodge, a sanded beach, picnic facilities and barbecue grills are all available to AC personnel.

BABYSITTING The AC Babysitting Service, located next to Boykin Wright Hall, is open from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. for children of students, staff and faculty. Children may stay for a maximum of four hours. 50¢ an hour.

DONORS NEEDED The Personnel Office would like to urge all employees to follow-up on their appointments to give blood in order to maintain AC's quota. Employees have to apply for membership in the plan which provides blood for you and your dependents whenever necessary no matter where you are. "We are in dire need on blood donors now," said Personnel Assistant Sylvia Clark.

TUITION AND ACCESS The proportion of college-age youth going on to any college has declined precipitously in recent years because of rising tuition and other student costs, says a new Low Tuition Fact Book, Further, especially low percentages of high school graduates and Vietnam veterans go on to any college in those states which charge high tuition. These are among the findings of a new research study just released by the American Assn. of State Colleges and Universities (AASCU). This study, subtitled Eight Basic Facts about Tuition and Educational Opportunity brings together for the first time carefully documented evidence which shows that rising college costs are keeping many students from going to college at all. Copies are available from AASCU Publications, Suite 700, One Dupont Circle, Washington, D.C. 20036 at 50¢ per copy, orders of 100 or more 25¢ per copy.

The Dept. of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) is seeking the cooperation of all college campuses in its enormous effort this fall to immunize the nation against influenza. Last February an influenza outbreak occurred among recruits at Fort Dix, N. J. One young man died. Several hundred were infected. This virus is similar in some respects to the virus suspected to be the cause of the great 1918 epidemic. "There is no certainty that a pandemic will occur. And certainly there is no indication that this virus will be as deadly as that of 1918," a HEW spokesman said. Nevertheless, the nation's scientific and medical authorities recommended to the President that an all-out program be mounted to immunize the entire U.S. population against the new influenza strain--known as swine flu. Congress quickly voted a supplemental appropriation of $135 million to underwrite the program which will make vaccine available to more than 200 million people in a few short months--a program unprecedented in public health history. Local health agencies and private providers of health care will be charged to get the vaccine into people's arms. HEW asks all students to keep informed, volunteer assistance to the local health department to help inform the public. Those with medical or public health experience can assist in actual administration of the vaccine when immunization begins in early fall.

WALKER TAPPED James D. Walker, a member of the Class of '70 and vice-president of the AC Alumni Assn., has been named general chairman of the 1976-77 Alumni Fund, according to John Trulock, president. During the fund year 1975-76, gifts from 542 alumni totaled $8,965.11. The gifts ranged in size from $1 to $1,000 with the average being $16.54. Of the $8,965.11 donated, $7,643.50 was unrestricted and $1,321.61 was restricted as follows: library $668.50, scholarship $316.50, presidents' portraits $106.61, Jaguar Club $80, and miscellaneous projects $150.

The State Legislature has been asked by the Chancellor of the University System of Georgia for a 15 percent pay increase to help stop an "alarming" loss of faculty members and other employees.

Chancellor George L. Simpson, in presenting the System's proposed budget for the fiscal year beginning next July, said, "We have come to the point in the University System at which one need overrides all others. This is the need for a substantial increase in wages and salaries for all who work in the System; teachers, non-academic people of all sorts, researchers, and administrative persons.

"There are a number of other serious needs in the University System. But the matter of pay increase, at this time has a direct effect on the quality of all institutions, all programs, and all services provided by the System to the people of the State. Unless this need is attended to, improvement in other areas will be but poor economy, and poorer education."

1. We are beginning to lose faculty members and others at an alarming rate. A new recruiting season is just beginning. Without the prospect of some relief, our losses will be serious. There have been substantial raises in most of the southern states in recent years, as well as elsewhere. The relative gains made in Georgia just a few years ago have been lost. Georgia is at the bottom in faculty pay raises granted the last two years in 13 southern states.

2. We have lost ground to other state employees in pay raises. In the non-academic area, an employee of the System who was making $6,000 in 1969, is now making $8,256; whereas an employee under the Merit System, who was eligible for in-grade increases, would now be making $10,650, or one-fourth more than the System employee. In the academic area, a faculty member making $8,000 in 1969, is now making $10,623, while a school teacher eligible for step increases is making $14,254, or about one-third more than the faculty members.

3. Pay raises for the System have been substantially below the rise in cost of living in recent years. Employees of the System have lost at least 15 per cent in real purchasing power during the last three years. The 15 per cent increase "will go far toward regaining the ground lost in recent years to the cost of living increase, and to restoring our competitive position to that of a few years ago," he said.

The proposed budget asked that 2.5 per cent be given as an annual "built-in" increase, comparable to step and in-grade increases of the school teachers and other state employees.

It was requested that half of the remaining 12.5 per cent be given as raises across the board to all System employees and the other half (6.25 per cent) be given on a performance basis.

"In accordance with the desires of the General Assembly, a thorough study of the pay structure of the University System, for both academic and non-academic areas, is being conducted. An outside consulting firm has been employed," he said.

"The last dozen years have been difficult, turbulent years in higher education, in Georgia and elsewhere. It is easy not to see and keep in mind what has happened under this rough surface. During this time the people of Georgia have developed a good system of higher education, available to all people of the State who want to attend college.

"Today, and for all foreseeable tomorrows, such a resource is absolutely essential in the life of the State.

"The hard fact remains: the average Georgia high school graduate needs, and will continue to need, some form of education after high school to make his way in the world. Half or more of these graduates will want, even demand, access to good college education. This access is now available. But it must remain of good quality. In education, quality lies in people."

7/ FOR WEEK OF: OCTOBER 25-OCTOBER 31, 1976 Written Wednesday, Oct. 20, 1976 No. 112

3/ A busy week at Augusta College! On the agenda is the annual French Fair, lectures by a Cullum Visiting Scholar, the continuing workshop on the public welfare system, a seminar on Personal Mastery by best-selling author Wayne Dyer, films, a "distinguished Augustan," a concert, entertainment at the coffeehouse, and a concert by a trio of well-known performing musicians. The Spotlight has the details below.

"A resounding success" was the consensus of those who attended the second annual Oktoberfest held last week-end at the College Activities Center. More than 1,200 students, staff and faculty attended the SGA food fest which featured a wide assortment of German foods. Members of the AC Band--tagged the Oomphas--entertained with German musical selections. SGA Prexy Dave Segars extends a word of thanks to all who helped put it together.

The annual Exchange Club Fair will be in Augusta this week. Augusta College is a major recipient of fair profits, according to Financial Aid Director Jim Stallings, who said 36 AC students are now on Exchange Club scholarships making the Exchange Club the largest contributor among civic clubs to Augusta College...Don't miss Augusta College's booth in the Educational Exhibits Building at the fair.

FRENCH FAIR The French Club's annual French Fair will open 9 a.m. Monday for a five-hour bonanza around the College Activities Center. Featured will be food, arts and crafts, French films, paintings, and a photographic exhibit in the library of French author Albert Camus. The films will be shown on the second floor of the College Activities Center.

FUTURE TRENDS The Tri-Beta Biological Society will sponsor a film series on future trends in the biological sciences Oct. 26 and Oct. 29 at 8 p.m. in the Lecture Room of Butler Hall. The six films will be shown in three-film segments. Chris Murphy (Sociology) and Dr. Steve Hobbs (Psychology) will discuss the series on both nights.

CULLUM SCHOLAR HERE Dr. Charles S. Milligan, a professor of philosophy of religion at the Iliff School of Theology in Denver, will be here Monday and Tuesday. He will be speaking to students 11 a.m. Monday in Butler Hall B-6 on "Religion In A Changing Society" and at 10 a.m. Tuesday in Meeting Rooms 1 & 2. An open lecture on "Theological Education" will be given noon Tuesday in Meeting Rooms 1 & 2. The public is invited. Dr. Milligan serves as editor of The Iliff Review and is an ordained minister of the United Church of Christ.

SGA CONCERT "Jericho Harp" will perform in concert 8 p.m. Saturday in the Performing Arts Theatre. Free with AC identification.

EDITOR REMEMBERED Patrick Walsh, editor and Democratic Party Boss, will be remembered in the next case study of the "Distinguished Augustans" series 8 p.m. Thursday in the Lecture Room of Butler Hall. Dr. Helen Callahan (History) will be the speaker. Panelist will be Dr. Thomas Ramage (History).

WELFARE SYSTEM The second session of the "Meeting Human Needs" workshop will be held in the Lecture Room of Butler Hall on Monday, Oct. 25 at 8 p.m. Speaker will be Dr. Dexter Burley of the Sociology Dept. His topic, "Values and Attitudes Positively and Negatively Affecting the Delivery of Goods and Services in The Public Welfare System." Because of the overflow crowd on Oct. 18, officials have decided to retain the Lecture Room as the site for the next five sessions rather than the American Red Cross office.

COFFEEHOUSE "Smith and Jones" will entertain Friday night at the Coffeehouse, located in The Chateau. 50c for AC student and one guest.

TRIO PERFORMS The Karlas-Kim-Eicher Trio, a chamber group from the University of Georgia, will perform at the PAT 3:30 p.m. Sunday. The concert is the second series offering of The Augusta Music Club. AC students and faculty, free with I.D. Adult tickets, $2; students, $1.

DYER HERE The second Seminar on Counseling For Personal Mastery by Dr. Wayne Dyer, author of Your Erroneous Zones, will be held Friday and Saturday on campus. Continuing Education is accepting late registrations.

STUDENTS SPONSOR BBQ The Student Nurses Assn. will sponsor a barbecue Friday, Nov. 5 from 5-8 p.m. at the Julian Smith BBQ Pit.

Several members of the AC faculty participated in the program for the Ga. Assn. on Young Children's annual conference held in August earlier this month. Participating were Ernestine Thompson and Dr. Tanya Johnson (Sociology), Dr. Jane Cross (Psychology) Dr. Earl Cheek, Jessie Stewart and Dr. Anne Christenberry (Education).

The past, present, and future of academic libraries was A. Ray Rowland's topic at the Library Section of the Ga. Assn. of Junior Colleges meeting held at Young Harris.

Faculty and staff may take advantage of recreation nights at the AC Gym Tuesdays and Thursdays from 7:30 p.m. to 9 p.m.

A Golf Tournament will be held at the Armed Forces Golf Course at Forest Hills on Oct. 29. Contact Roscoe Williams if interested in signing up.

A LIFE CYCLES Conference involving younger and older Augustans will be held No. 3-5 by the Dept. of Sociology and Younger and Older United of Augusta. Instead of seeing the two groups as social problems, the conference hopes to approach the two populations as normal, universal biological stages in life's cycles, said Dr. Tanya Johnson of the Sociology Dept. There will be no charge for the conference except for the cost of noon luncheons. "We wanted to demonstrate that there is some value in donating time, energies and ideas and receiving the same without the need for financial support," she said. The conference will be held at the Bon Air Retirement Hotel, AC Performing Arts Theatre, and several other Augusta locations. Dr. Johnson has details.

POET TO VISIT Daniel Mark Epstein, a rising young poet and recipient of the 1969 Robert Frost Award and the 1972 Stephen Vincent Benet Award, will read from his works the evening of Nov. 10 in the Lecture Room of Butler Hall.

CLOTHES/SHOES NEEDED The Community Clothing Center, operated by local churches, is again requesting used clothes and shoes to be donated for the poor. A receptacle has been placed in the CAC Lobby. Referral cards for those who wish to purchase children's clothes are available in the Student Activities Office.

CHRISTMAS BELLE Nominations for Christmas Belle will be made by petitions this year. Petitions are available from the Student Activities Office and must be signed by 20 AC students and turned in by Nov. 3. Balloting is set for Nov. 22.

INTERCLUB MEETS The Interclub Council will meet noon Wednesday in TR 2 to discuss the Christmas Belle Dance. Organizations wishing to compete for the Spirit-on-the-Hill Award are asked to check their mailboxes for the basketball schedule.

FOR WEEK OF: NOVEMBER 1-NOVEMBER 7, 1976 Written Wednesday, Oct. 27, 1976 No. 113

Augusta College's booth at the Exchange Club Fair bested all other educational booths and was awarded a blue ribbon in its division. The booth, produced by the Office of College and Public Services, featured a pictorial display of academic and social opportunities available at Augusta College. A 30-minute slide show on Augusta College was also designed for the booth. William H. Rodimon extends a word of thanks to everyone who contributed their time and talents!

Pianist Allison Capers will be presented in her senior recital 8:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Performing Arts Theatre.

Dr. Lawrence C. Hartlage, associate professor of Pediatrics & Neurology at the Medical College of Georgia, will speak 4:30 p.m. Tuesday (Nov. 9) in Room Six, Butler Hall. His topic will be "Neurologically Impaired Learning Disabilities." Margerie Peterson of the Dept. of Education is sponsoring his visit.

Members of the Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority recently sponsored a Halloween Party for the residents of the Gracewood State School and Hospital. Attired in Halloween costumes, the young women made cupcakes, cookies, ice cream and punch. The sorority's adopted resident, Jeanie, was invited to attend "and seemed to enjoy it greatly." After the party, several Zetas visited with the residents they had worked with as pals this past summer.

BOOK AVAILABLE Yesterday's Augusta, a pictorial history of the City of Augusta by Librarian A. Ray Rowland and Dr. Helen Callahan of the AC History Department, is now available at the Bookstore on campus. "This lavishly produced book portrays the history of its people-- their spirit and beauty; joys and sorrows-- from Augusta's founding in 1735 through the 1950's in over 230 authentic photographs, engravings and maps," the published stated.

COUNCIL NAMES OFFICERS Pam McNorrill, a member of the Alpha Delta Pi Sorority, has been named president of the Panhellenic Council. Vice-president is Sondra Plunkett of Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority. Katheline McLain, a ZTA, was named secretary-treasurer.

CONFERENCE BEGINS The Life's Cycles Conference, co-sponsored by the Dept. of Sociology and Younger and Older United of Augusta, gets underway Wednesday at the Bon Air Retirement Hotel and continues through Friday at several locations in Augusta. Planned are speakers, films, dramatic presentations, musical entertainment, a fashion show, and numerous discussion groups focusing on the problems of youth and age. Dr. Tanya Johnson has details, 828-3001.

AFFIRMATIVE ACTION The third location of Augusta College's Affirmative Action Seminar will be Meeting Room 1 of the College Activities Center. The seminar will begin at 8 p.m. Thursday with talks by Dr. Ralph H. Walker, Thomas M. Riley, Jeanne Jensen and Dr. Robert Cannon, all of AC, Charles Walker of the Human Relations Council, and local attorney Landrum Harrison. Free and open to the public.

GRANDSON FEATURED The grandson of former Junior College of Augusta President J. Lister Skinner was invited to exhibit several of his art works during the second annual Invitational Art Show sponsored by the AC Student Art Assn. Arthur Skinner submitted two etchings with a "train theme" and one entitled "Knives." The son of President Skinner, James L. Skinner Jr., an Atlanta architect, wrote, "I know my Dad would have been pleased that one of his grandsons was asked to exhibit in Augusta College's show." Skinner was the second president of the Junior College of Augusta.

WALKER STUDIED Charles Walker, champion of the cause of Black Augustans and a pioneer in promoting education for Black people, will be studied 8 p.m. Thursday in the "Distinguished Augustans" series in the Lecture Room, Butler Hall. Free and open to the public.

WELFARE SYSTEM Dr. Ralph Walker and Pete Whatley will be the speakers Monday night in the continuing workshop on "Meeting Human Needs," 8 p.m. in the Lecture Room, Butler Hall. Topic will be "The Effects of Politics and Economics on the Delivery of Goods and Services in the Public Welfare System." Speakers for the Nov. 8 session will include Dr. Marcus Clayton of Paine College and local attorney John B. Long.

REPORT

PUBLISHED FOR THE FACULTY, STUDENTS AND STAFF OF AUGUSTA COLLEGE

Deadline for copy - Wednesday noon of preceding week - Office of Public Information, Rains Hall

FOR WEEK OF: NOVEMBER 8-NOVEMBER 14, 1976 Written Wednesday, Nov. 3, 1976 No. 114

If you're an education major or minor and plan to do your student teaching during the Spring or Fall of 1977 or the Winter or Spring of 1978, Dr. Frank Tubbs, coordinator of field experiences, requests that you file your application for admission to teacher education and application for student teaching with him immediately. "As you plan for student teaching, remember to put the September experience on your schedule," he advises. Changes have been made in the course requirements for education majors and minors and a check with your advisor is strongly recommended, he said.

Thanksgiving holidays will be observed on Thursday and Friday, Nov. 25 and 26. Christmas holidays are scheduled from Monday, Dec. 20 through Friday, Dec. 24. The Personnel Office reminds employees the official holidays are not deducted from leave time...Personnel Director Alex Mura also reminds all non-academic employees that a list of non-academic job vacancies is posted weekly at the Personnel Office, College Activities Center, Payne Hall, Plant Operations, Library and Public Safety Office. "This is to encourage all non-academic employees to qualify for better job opportunities on campus," he said.

FAT 'N JOLLY? Though these two credentials would help, they are not absolutely vital in applying for a job as Santa Claus at the Daniel Village Shopping Center. The Daniel Village Merchants Assn. need a Santa to start work Nov. 26 and continue Monday-Thursday from 1-5 p.m. and on Fridays from 1-9 p.m. and on Saturday's from 1-6 p.m. through December 24. Pay will approximate $2.70 per hour for a total of 116 hours. Santa is to arrive via fire truck on Nov. 26. Duties include giving away ballons and candy to children, having photographs taken with children, and being "jolly and happy," according to Martha Menger, who can be contacted at 733-0042 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Monday-Thursday. The Placement Office at Augusta College, 828-3801, also has details.

POET HERE WEDNESDAY Rising young poet Daniel Mark Epstein, a recipient of the 1969 Robert Frost Award, and the 1972 Stephen Vincent Benet Award, will read from his works 8 p.m. Wednesday in the Lecture Room, Butler Hall. Epstein, 28, has published two books including Appearances in 1969 and No Vacancies in Hell in 1973. His works have been published in such magazines as The New Yorker, The Nation, The American Scholar, The Kenyon Review, The New Republic and many more. The public is invited.

RECEPTION SATURDAY The Faculty Art Exhibit featuring the work of Nathan Bindler, Eugenia Comer, Jack King and Richard Frank will officially open at an 8 p.m. reception Saturday in the lobby of the Performing Arts Theatre. The exhibit will remain on display from Nov. 13-30. The Faculty String Ensemble and the Student Brass Ensemble will provide the music. Members of the AC Student Art Assn. will prepare and serve refreshments.

LEARNING DISABILITIES Dr. Lawrence C. Hartlage, associate professor of Pediatrics and Neurology at the Medical College, will speak 4:30 p.m. Tuesday in Room Six, Butler Hall, on "Neurologically Impaired Learning Disabilities."

COFFEEHOUSE OPEN Musical entertainer The Rev. Pearly Brown will be heard 8 p.m. Friday at the Coffeehouse, located in the AC Chateau. 50¢ with college I.D.

MOVIES THIS WEEK "Night Moves" and "M*A*S*H" are slated this week in the AC Film Series. "Night Moves" is set for 6 and 8:15 p.m. Tuesday with "M*A*S*H" following at the same times on Thursday. Free with college I.D.; others, $1.50.

AC RADIO WACG-FM is now broadcasting programs by the Chicago Symphony Orchestra 8 p.m. each Tuesday. The New York Philharmonic Orchestra may be heard each Thursday at 8 p.m. (90.7 FM).

FUNDS AVAILABLE The faculty is reminded that the AC Foundation has again made funds available for modest research projects. The deadline for submitting proposals to Dean J. Gray Dinwiddie is Friday. Total funds may not exceed $400.

NEW TEACHING APPROACHES Nine members of the faculty attended the first Georgia Consortium workshop on "New Directions In Teaching and Learning" held last week in Macon. Representing the fields of math, biology, chemistry and physics were Dr. Gerald G. Thompson, Dr. Ronald S. King, Dr. Harry F. Bowsher, Dr. Ronald L. Ezell, Dr. Janice B. Turner, Dr. John W. Pearce, Harry Dolyniuk, Dr. Russell E. Stullken and Dr. Emil K. Urban. The workshop was an Undergraduate Education Reform Project of the Southern Regional Education Board (SREB).

WHAT'S HAPPENING THIS WEEK?

YOU AND MONEY Effectively managing one's money is a complex, difficult, and time-consuming job. The Dept. of Business Administration now offers a course to help you become a better manager. The winter quarter course, Business 495, will be taught fifth and sixth periods Monday and Wednesday in Market Hall 23. Personal Finance will cover an in-depth study of such activities as earning and borrowing money, intelligent use of credit to satisfy needs and wants, buying personal and real property, making plans for retirement, and estate and tax planning. Non-business majors may be interested as the course has no prerequisite, other than junior/senior classification, and is taught in non-technical terms. More information from Dr. Harry Kuniansky or David Duncan, 828-3566.

TUBBS HONORED Dr. Frank Tubbs (Education) was recently honored at a banquet during the annual conference of the Southeastern Regional Assn. of Teacher Educators (SRATE) in Mobile, Ala. He was honored for his work throughout the years in the organization and as a former president (1966-67). During the conference, Dr. Robert Hilliard presented a workshop session explaining the Augusta Model for Secondary Teacher Education, and Dr. Anne Christenberry presented a paper reporting her recent research conducted with Dr. Jean Morse, concerning non-physical abuse of children in the classroom. SRATE was celebrating its 25th anniversary during the Alabama gathering.

HOLDS STATE OFFICE Sharon Montgomery, president of the local chapter of the Student Ga. Assn. of Educators, has also been elected SGA State Historian.

FOR WEEK OF: NOVEMBER 15-NOVEMBER 21, 1976 Written Wednesday, Nov. 10, 1976 No.115

Sociology Club members are asking all members of the AC Community to skip one meal on Friday, Nov. 19, and donate the cost of that meal to their special Thanksgiving project called "Fast Friday." Booths will be set up at the College Activities Center, Fine Arts, and Skinner Hall from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on November 19 to accept donations. Club members hope to raise enough money to provide Thanksgiving dinner for three needy Augusta families selected by the Dept. of Family and Children Services. In return for your donation, a hot beverage will be provided "to hold you to your next meal" and a button signifying your participation in the project. In addition to providing a holiday dinner to the families, a secondary goal is to "encourage a feeling of community experience by pulling together with the entire campus in order to reach out to other persons in need," said coordinators Ernestine Thompson and Dexter Burley of the Sociology Dept.

The Dept. of Nursing will sponsor two films on uterine and breast cancer noon Thursday (Nov. 18) in Meeting Rooms 1 & 2 of the College Activities Center. All women on campus are urged to view the "life-saving" films.

The college community has been invited to hear Dr. Morris Abram, past president of Brandeis University, speak on "Value of Jewish Survival" 8 p.m. Nov. 17 at the Augusta Museum.

TOP TEN SOUGHT Augusta College women students are invited to participate in Glamour Magazine's 1977 Top Ten College Women Contest. A panel of Glamour editors will select the winners on the basis of their solid records of achievement in academic studies and/or in extracurricular activities on campus or in the community. The women will be featured in the magazine's August issue and will receive a trip to New York and a $500 cash prize. Applications are now available in the Public Information Office, Rains Hall. Deadline for submitting the completed information is February 15.

INTERNATIONALS HOSTED The Faculty Wives of Augusta College will host their annual International Night Thanksgiving Dinner for AC's foreign students Friday, Nov. 19 in the College Activities Center. Deadline for reservations is Tuesday, Nov. 16. A traditional American Thanksgiving dinner "with all the trimmings" will be served to the students. Special guests will include the family of Dr. Belagodu Shiek Ali, AC's visiting curriculum consultant in Indian Studies. Students to be honored include Fatma A. Al-Shubaiky, Kuwait; Lea M. Dexter, England; Anthony O. Ita, Nigeria; Eddy Y. Mens, Belgium; Boon Chong Na, Singapore; Shahida Sheik Ali, India; Visit Supanich, Thailand; Hans Vanderlinden, Netherlands; and Javier R. Villegas, Bolivia. Reservations may be made through Mary Alice Moore, 736-4762 or through Felton Moore in the Business Administration Department.

SIX NOMINATED Christmas Belle Contestants for 1976 include Nancy Carter, Joyce Evans, Kim Frederick, Eva Jewell, Jennifer Hammond and Denise Tutt. Photographs of the women are now on display in the library and the CAC. Voting will be Nov. 22.

VOLUNTEERS THANKED The blue ribbon booth produced by the Office of College and Public Services at the Exchange Club Fair was accomplished through the efforts of many persons. Special thanks go to Dr. John Smith, Dr. John Black, and David Duncan of the faculty; to students Alison Fortgang, Alison Stephens, Bill Anderson and those in Dave Jones' summer art class; to alumna Loretta Leonard Healy who designed and developed the booth; to former student Jim Haney; to the Military Science Dept., Office of Veterans Affairs, Admissions Office, Office of Student Activities and the Physical Plant. Appreciation is also extended to the Rev. Mr. Dan Musgrave of Trinity Television and to WBBQ Radio.

CHRISTMAS PRODUCTION A Christmas Extravaganza entitled "A Felicity of Cards and Carols" will be presented by the AC Theatre Dec. 3-4 at 8 p.m. in the Performing Arts Theatre. This is the first Christmas presentation ever offered by AC Theatre, according to Director Keith Cowling. Details will be forthcoming. Both performances are free and open to the public.

HOLIDAY SCHEDULE Library hours during the upcoming holiday season are as follows: Nov. 24, 7:45 a.m.-5 p.m.; Nov. 25, closed; Nov. 26-27, 9:30 a.m.-5 p.m.; Nov. 28, 2 p.m.-10:30 p.m.; Nov. 29-Dec. 10, regular schedule; Dec. 11-12, closed; Dec. 13-17, 8 a.m.-5 p.m. Dec. 18-26, closed; Dec. 27-30, 8 a.m.-5 p.m.; Dec. 31-Jan. 2, closed; Jan. 3, 7:45 a.m.-8:30 p.m.; Jan. 4 begin regular schedule at 7:45 a.m.

HELP NEEDED If your interested in earning extra money for Christmas, part-time help is needed selling a specific product. Call 863-5434 for details.

DR. LYLE R. SMITH (Education) gave a presentation entitled "Bruner's Teaching Strategy Applied to Mathematics" at the annual conference of the Georgia Council of Teachers of Mathematics held in Eatonton, Ga.

DRS. EARL and MARTHA CHEEK (Education) spoke at the annual Florida State Reading Council Conference Oct. 14-16. Dr. Earl Cheek's topic was "Developing a Competency-Based Reading Program" and Dr. Martha Cheek presented a session on "Integrating Reading and Language Skills in the Content Areas." During the Miami meeting, Dr. Martha Cheek was presented a plaque for her "outstanding service to the reading supervisors" in the state.

DRS. STEVE HOBBS and RALPH ELKINS have recently published an article entitled "Batschyness Retention in Rats With Olfactory Bulb Ablations" in Physiological Psychology.

The Faculty Art Exhibit featuring the work of NATHAN BINDLER, EUGENIA COMER, JACK KING and RICHARD FRANK officially opened Saturday with a reception sponsored by the AC Student Art Assn. The exhibit, which features sculpture, watercolors, ceramics, oil paintings, drawings and glass-blown items, will be on display through the end of the month in the lobby of the Performing Arts Theatre.

DR. MARY ANNE CHRISTENBERRY (Education) conducted a workshop for parents of young children at the Augusta-Richmond Co. Public Library last week. The "make and carry home" workshop showed parents how to make learning games for their children using throw-away materials available in the home. The session was inspired by the games described in her book, "Games Graffiti: Learning Games To Make: For Young Children." Due to overwhelming response, a second workshop has been scheduled for Nov. 15.

DR. JOHN W. PRESLEY (Special Studies) has published two poems, "A Friend Abroad" and "Two Images from Hemingway," in The Lost Generation Journal, Spring-Summer Edition.

Deadline for copy - Wednesday noon of preceding week - Office of Public Information, Rains Hall

FOR WEEK OF: JANUARY 10-JANUARY 16, 1977 Written Wednesday, Jan. 5, 1977 No. 121

The Student Government Association will sponsor its annual "International Food Festival" for students, staff, faculty and members of the community on Jan. 21. Price of admission: one covered (hopefully foreign) dish. The food fest will be held 6 p.m. in the College Activities Center. SGA will provide cheese, bread, wine, coffee, and tea. Entertainment will be provided by pianist Howard Simperts. SGA officials ask those planning to attend to "bring enough for you and your guests." While the focus is on foreign foods, any type of covered dish will be acceptable, they said. A special invitation has also been extended to AC alumni.

The AC Student Art Association is now sponsoring an exhibition of weaving fiber art, silkscreens and silver prints in the lobby of the Performing Arts Theatre. The works are those of Richard Ross of the University of Florida and Marguerite Hickernell, now of Augusta, formerly of Syracuse, N.Y. The exhibition will remain on display through Jan. 31.

Librarian A. Ray Rowland may now be contacted at extension 4566. Other new Reese Library numbers are: Acquisitions, 4801; Associate Librarian, 4566; Cataloging, 4801; Circulation, 4066; Documents, 4066; Reference, 4810; Serials, 4066; and Technical Services, 4801. The Reese Library officially opened its doors for business last Thursday.

FOURTH COMPETITION The J.B. White Literary Competition conducted by Augusta College is now accepting entries from all junior and senior high school students in the CSRA. This is the fourth annual competition, according to Director Dr. Walter Evans, who said it is open to students in all junior and senior high schools that are members of the Georgia High School Assn. or the S.C. High School League. Deadline for submitting entries is March 1. Further information and a brochure is available by contacting Dr. Evans, 828-3706.

A SUCCESS! The Christmas Party for alumni and AC Personnel sponsored by the AC Alumni Association drew more than 300 persons to the Maxwell Alumni House making the event "the most successful Christmas party the Association has had to date." Alumni Coordinator Helen Hendee said response was overwhelming from all years. The Maxwell Alumni House will open its doors again January 11 following the game between the AC Jaguars and Armstrong State. Drop by and enjoy the refreshments, compliments of the Association.

LEARNING ABOUT COLLEGE The Office of Continuing Education will sponsor a two-day seminar on "So You Want To Go To College" Jan. 12 & 19 from 7-9 p.m. in the College Activities Center. Speakers will include those in the fields of financial aid, testing, admissions, counseling, student activities and academic requirements.

CHRISTIAN CONSULTATION A consultation of Faculty Christians, to be held Jan. 14-16 at Hickory Knob State Park, will include faculty at AC, Medical College of Georgia, and Paine College. Information on registration may be obtained by contacting Dr. John Black, Dr. Charles Saggus or W.H. Rodimon.

"THE NEW SOUTH" A six-week seminar series on "The New South" will bring to campus six scholars from various disciplines who will meet with classes and give a general lecture at noon each Tuesday. The series, a part of the Lyceum program, will start with Alvin Boskoff, professor of sociology at Emory University, here Tuesday and Wednesday. His Tuesday lecture will be held in the Lecture Room, Butler Hall. Wednesday at 12:15 the scholar will lunch with the faculty and "share insights related to his discipline and experiences which he feels of special importance to faculty in other disciplines."

PROJECT FUNDED The Committee for the Humanities in Georgia has notified Dr. Edward J. Cashin that his project, "Augusta And The Humanities" has been funded in the amount of $1,100. Details will be forthcoming.

DEADLINE SET The deadline for entering Glamour Magazine's 1977 Top Ten College Women Contest is Feb. 15. Interested women may pick up an application at the Public Information Office, Rains Hall. A panel of editors will select the winners on the basis of their solid records of achievement in academic studies and/or in extracurricular activities on campus or in the community.

FALL SCHOLARS The fall quarter Dean's List shows a total of 232 students qualified for the honor.

FILM AVAILABLE A 25-minute professionally produced film on utility economics is now available for viewing in the Augusta area through Feb. 15. The Georgia Power Co. is the sponsor. Call GP's Jim Bright at 714-0892.

FOR WEEK OF: FEBRUARY 14-FEBRUARY 20, 1977 Written Wednesday, Feb. 9, 1977 No. 125

The man who wrote the first documented history of the black actor in the American cinema will speak 8 p.m. Monday (Feb. 14) sponsored by the AC Black Student Union as a part of Black History Week. Donald Bogle, author of the book, "Toms, Coons, Mulattoes, Mammies and Bucks" will lecture in the Performing Arts Theatre. He is a graduate of Lincoln University in Pennsylvania, where he served as literary editor of the college newspaper, editor of the yearbook and chairman of the University Players. He started learning about the movies when he worked for film producer Otto Preminger. Later, he joined the staff of Ebony magazine. In his book, he takes a close look at the "stereotypes black actors have been forced to portray," and examines films such as "Uncle Tom's Cabin," "Birth of a Nation," "Our Gang" "Gone with the Wind," "Shaft" and others. He also examines the roles played by numerous old-time black performers as well as more contemporary actors. Bogle's talk will bring to a close the various activities sponsored on campus during Black History Week. Free with AC ID, others, $1.

Pre-registration for the Spring Quarter will be held between Feb. 21-25. Classes will begin March 23.

NEW INITIATES Zeta Tau Alpha International Fraternity for Women announces the initiation of Joy Adams, Dawn Cook, Sophie Dean, Kathy Hardy, Susan Harwood, Brenda Locks, Sissy Mitchell, Lisa Pendleton, Jan Ritch, and Jane Rooks. Following a week of activities, the initiates were entertained with a banquet held at the new sorority house, 1148 Monte Sano Ave.

INDIAN DANCER Yamini Krishnamurti, a virtuoso of the dance of South India, will perform here 8:30 p.m. Feb. 26 as part of the AC Lyceum Series. Her performance is also considered to be a prelude to the spring quarter Cullum Third World Cultures Program on India. This is her first tour on the U.S. AC ID, free; others, $2.

ENERGY SYMPOSIUM The Lyceum Series will present an "Energy Symposium" 7:30 p.m. March 8 in the PAT. Speakers will include Dr. Charles E. Melton, chairman, Dept. of Chemistry, Univ. of Ga., Dr. Stanley Bailie, School of Aerospace Engineering, Ga. Tech; Dr. Eugene P. Odum, Calloway Professor of Ecology, Univ. of Ga.; and Dr. Norman Baumann, Research Associate, Reactor Physics Division, Savannah River Laboratory. Free.

CULLUM SCHOLAR HERE Dr. Robert Heilman, a distinguished critic of Shakespeare, will give three lectures on campus Feb. 17 Noon: "Farce in Shakespeare," Lecture Room; 3 p.m. "The Teaching of Shakespeare." B-6, Skinner Hall; 8 p.m. "Robespierre and Santa Claus: A Morality Drawn From Various Plays," Lecture Room. Dr. Heilman is being sponsored by the English Department.

BEST FILM Top awards were picked up by AC students accompanying Dr. Charles Willig to Film South 77, a three-day workshop and competition held at Converse College. The 16 mm film on the Savannah River produced by 14 AC students, in cooperation with Jimmy Thomas and Frank Christian of Cine-Southern Film Productions, won the highest award in the "Documentary Film" category. The film, "Renaissance of a River" was funded by a grant from the Georgia Ports Authority. Recil Thrash, one of the students attending the workshop, won an honorable mention for his Super 8 film, "Whatever happened to Tom Snopes?" "This indicates film should be an important part of our curriculum," said Dr. Willig, adding "even our beginning films--particularly the Super 8 films--are competitive throughout the South."

ANOTHER SCHOLAR Dr. Paul Satz, a former president of the International Neuropsychology Society, and now professor at the University of Florida, has been named a Cullum Visiting Scholar and will lecture on campus Feb. 17-18. His 4 p.m. Feb. 17 talk in the Lecture Room: "Some Developmental and Predictive Precursors of Specific Reading Disabilities: A Three and Six Year Follow Up." At 2 p.m. Feb. 18 in Skinner Hall B-6 his topic will be "Chronic Marijuana Use: Some Recent Findings." Dr. Satz is being sponsored by the Psychology Department.

Deadline for copy: Wednesday, 11:00 a.m. Address: AC, P.O. Box 1000, Augusta, Ga. Room 111

For WEEK OF: FEBRUARY 21, FEBRUARY 22, 1977. Write to the Editor, P.O. Box 1000, Augusta, Ga. 31904.

Dr. James B. Meriwether, director of the Department of Southern Studies at the University of South Carolina, will be the last one in a series of the six-week "Deep South" Lyceum Lecture Series at Augusta College. Dr. Meriwether will speak at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday (Feb. 22) in the Lecture Room of the Fine Arts Building on the general subject of southern literature.

The Department of Business Administration, the Department of Administration and the Office of Continuing Education will sponsor a workshop for anyone who is interested in starting his own business. The workshop, entitled "How to Start Your Own Thing" will be held March 5 in the Lecture Room of the Fine Arts Building. The workshop, designed for new and prospective business owners, will answer such questions as: How do I secure venture capital? How do I finance a new business? How do I maintain a good cash flow? How can I market my products? For more information, contact the Office of Continuing Education, 3306.

Pre-registration for the Spring Quarter at Augusta College is closed this week. Spring Quarter classes begin March 23.

PERSONAL FINANCE - The department of Business Administration will offer a new course especially designed with the non-business major in mind. The course will identify problems involved in what may be thought of as the family financial cycle. This cycle includes earning income, the need for borrowing, making various different types of expenditures, making plans for retirement, and planning an estate. Personal Finance (ACB 314) will be offered in the Spring Quarter. It is non-technical, has no prerequisites, and will be taught in "down-to-earth" language. More information at 3306.

GRADUATE - The magazine "Graduate" will be distributed to seniors again this year, compliments of the Alumni Association. "Graduate" is a handbook for leaving college. Details at Maxwell Alumni House.

RECITAL SET - A faculty recital by David Pellon will be held Sunday (Feb. 27) at 3:30 p.m. in the Performing Arts Theatre. The tenor will be accompanied by pianist Edith Sweatan. Included in the program will be works of Purcell, Beethoven, DeFolla and Walton. The public is invited.

AUDITIONS - The Department of Fine Arts announces auditions for the Craig Rockholt Scholarship to be held in the Fine Arts Center on Tuesday (March 19) at 7:30 p.m. This scholarship is awarded on the basis of musical achievement and is awarded to an incoming freshman. It is a one-year terminating scholarship. The Craig-Rockholt Scholarship is sponsored by the Augusta Music Club in memory of two prominent music educators, Bertha Craig and Prector Rockholt.

RELEASE LIBRARY - The official dedication of the Release Library will be held April 23. Details will be forthcoming.

TRAVEL - The Military Service Department is inviting all staff and faculty to enjoy a buffet style lunch on Wednesday, Feb. 23, from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. in a room house. All will be held in the old library Building.

ALICORN - We are happy to welcome the following new employees to Augusta College: Lois Davy, 3306; David Gault, 3306; Ronald Hunt, 3306; Beverly Jones, 3306; Robert Johnson, 3306; and Gloria Peirce, 3306.

SCHOOL REBELLION - A question of the month and award ceremony will be held at 7:00 p.m. on Monday, March 1, in the Fine Arts Center. The award will go to someone who plans to participate in the next college-wide application to the Fine Arts Center.

FRANCHISE OFFER - August 1977 will receive a lot of applications for franchises against the backdrop of the new Georgia Garden City boom.

STUDENT - The annual election of the Student Association of the College will be held on Tuesday, March 1, in the Fine Arts Center. The election will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the Fine Arts Center. The Student Association is a student organization of the college.

FACULTY NEWS - Dr. Floyd Wood, Director of the Department of Science, will be the keynote speaker at the three-year anniversary of the Faculty Association. The anniversary will be held on Tuesday, March 1, in the Fine Arts Center.

INDEPENDENT - The application for a new independent organization will be held on Tuesday, March 1, in the Fine Arts Center. The application will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the Fine Arts Center.

The 1977 recipient of the Spirit-On-The-Hill Award is Alpha Delta Pi Sorority, the campus organization "that has contributed most to boost school spirit during the basketball season." The winner was announced at the last home game of the season Feb. 21. The Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority and the Black Student Union tied for runner-up. Engraved plaques were given each organization by ICC President Doug Collins. Past winners have been the Jaycees in 1976, and Alpha Delta Pi in 1975. Criteria used for judging were attendance, 20%, participation in cheering, 25%, gym decorations, 25%, and participation in homecoming activities, 30%.

The Student Activities Committee has approved charter applications for two new campus organizations, the Yerby Forum and the Pre-Veterinary Association. The purpose of the Yerby Forum will be dedicated to "reading and analyses of Black literature in the U.S. and Africa. The Forum will attempt to acquaint members of the AC and the community of Augusta with some of the different facets of Black literature. A secondary function but of similar importance will be the attendance at cultural events which pertain to Black life," the charter states. The purpose of the Pre-Vet Association is "...to help pre-veterinary students better understand the facets of veterinary medicine through projects, speakers, etc." The organization also hopes to provide information concerning procedures for admission to veterinary schools, tours of schools, and other such services.

TOUR TO D.C. Members of the AC Choir will leave for Williamsburg, Va. and Washington, D.C. March 18 for a week-long Spring tour which will be highlighted by a March 20 performance at President Carter's new church, the First Baptist Church of Washington, D.C. Dr. Christenberry has notified President Carter of the choir's invitation to sing at the 11 a.m. worship service. "Our choir would be greatly honored to have the privilege of participating in the worship service with you and your family," he wrote. The choir also plans to visit Winthrop College in Rock Hill, S.C. and Richmond, Va.

Speakers include Dr. Charles Melton of the Dept. of Chemistry at the University of Georgia, Dr. Stanley Bailie, associate professor of aerospace engineering at Georgia Tech and designer of President Carter's solarheated Inaugural Facility; Dr. Eugene Odum, founder and director of the University of Georgia's Institute of Ecology; and Dr. Norman Baumann, a research associate in the Reactor Physics Division of the Savannah River Laboratory. AC Chemistry Major Steve Hull will emcee the panel presentations and the audience participation segment. The Symposium will climax the 1976-77 Lyceum Series.

The Political Science Club will host Charles D. (Pug) Ravenel noon Thursday (March 10) in the Lecture Room of Butler Hall. Ravenel successfully ran in the 1974 South Carolina gubernatorial race and was later disqualified due to a residency requirement. He is now president of his own brokerage firm in Charleston, S.C. Ravenel received his undergraduate and graduate degrees from Harvard University. A question and answer session will follow his talk.

ORIENTAL EXHIBIT A special exhibition and sale of original oriental art will be presented on Monday (March 7) in the Lobby of the Fine Arts Center from 11 a.m. to 7 p.m. The collection totals approximately 500 pieces from Japan, China, India, Nepal, and Thailand. The oldest prints date back to the 18th Century. A representative from Marson Ltd. of Baltimore will be present to answer questions.

SCULPTURE/PHOTOS A month-long exhibition of sculpture and photography will be on display in the PAT gallery beginning Monday. Artists include sculptor Ted Metz of the University of Montevallo (Ala) and Dr. Ray A. Menze of Western Carolina University. The exhibit is being sponsored by the AC Student Art Assn. It may be viewed from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. and from 3 to 8 p.m. Monday-Friday and from 1-5 p.m. on Sundays.

FORMALS NEEDED Susan Keenan, assistant coordinator of student activities, is requesting donations of short or long formal dresses to be used by patients at Gracewood State Hospital at a formal dance on March 16. The girls are in desperate need of any useable formal.

WELCOME TO AC Dee (Mrs. Rick) Davis is being welcomed as the new assistant to the director of College and Public Services. A December graduate of Augusta College, she served as news editor and business manager of the Bell-Ringer. She graduated with a Bachelor of Arts degree in English.

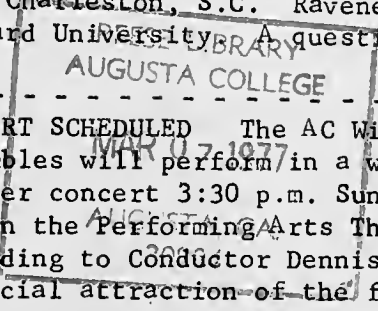

SHOW DISCONTINUED "Augusta College Presents," the TV program produced by the Office of College and Public Services, has been discontinued following a 2½ year run. A total of 127 shows were carried over Cablevision and Channel 26 three or four times per week.

CONCERT SCHEDULED The AC Wind and Jazz Ensembles will perform in a winter quarter concert 3:30 p.m. Sunday (March 13) in the Performing Arts Theatre, according to Conductor Dennis J. Zeisler. A special attraction of the free afternoon concert will be a French Horn solo by Harry M. Jacobs.

HARLEM HEYDAY The Delta Sigma Theta Sorority at Augusta College will present Voices, Inc., a Black musical theatre in an off-Broadway production called "Harlem Heyday" 8 p.m. Thursday (March 10). "Harlem Heyday" is a vaudeville show featuring many old songs and dances. Tickets may be purchased from any sorority member or at the door.

UPCOMING EVENTS The Student Union has planned a jam-up spring quarter featuring concerts, an art show, Clark Hill Recreation Area activities, Field Day, Honors Night, and myriad other events. Larry Jon Wilson, an Augusta singer now gaining national prominence, will appear in concert 8 p.m. April 1. Plans are also underway for a "Big Band Era" dance in April reminiscent of the 30's and 40's; a two-day art fair and auction tentatively scheduled for May 6-7; Field Day at Clark Hill has been planned for May 21, and numerous concerts are now in the planning stages. The College's recreation area at Clark Hill has now re-opened for Tuesday through Sunday guests. A new lodge patio has been poured and the campsites have been improved, though no water or electrical hook-ups are available yet.

BASEBALL/TENNIS The Men's Tennis Team will face Mercer University 1 p.m. Friday, March 11, AC Courts. AC Baseball continues Saturday, March 12 at 3 p.m. when AC meets Mercyhurst College.

TELETHON A SUCCESS The Augusta College Alumni Fund campaign gained more than $1,755 as a result of a two-night telethon held March 16-17 at Payne Hall. More than 30 former students and ROTC unit members had a list of 796 former students from the classes of 1967-73 who had never given to the Fund. Of that figure, 452 were not contacted due to being out of town, wrong numbers, etc. A total 126 alumni pledged $1,755 with 80 more pledging but not designating the amount. "We considered it to be a highly successful telethon," commented William H. Rodimon, director, College and Public Services. "To date," he said, "the 1976-77 alumni fund has received a total of $9,045.85 in gifts--a record for the six years the fund has been in existence--and we still have three months to go. Last year the total figure was $8,965."

NEW BOOK Dr. Mary Anne Christenberry announces the publication of a new book, "How To Make And Use The Creative Cocoon," written with two education students, Muriel Applewhite and Ramona Sullivent. The Creative Cocoon evolved, she said, from a demonstration of a similar project (plastic bubble) in a workshop for kindergarten teachers and it has been used successfully with children 3-5 years of age. The cocoon has a "unique separated atmosphere of its own. The intimate feeling of an enclosed space and whirring of the fan make it a valuable addition to the classroom for teachers who are looking for new ways to teach, to create interest, and to motivate learning for their students." The cocoon was utilized last summer during the Dept. of Education's five-week program for pre-school children held at Trinity Methodist Church

A model of a Solar Receiver Generator built by a team of students and faculty will be on exhibit in the main lobby of the Research Library around the time of the Library's dedication on April 18. The model is an accurate 3/4 scale replica of the actual steam generator enclosed in transparent insulating panels. The containment structure represents the upper portion of the central receiver system's 350-foot tower and is filled to imitate the sun's rays and light entering the receiver. Honeywell, B&K and B&K of Avondale are the principal contractors on the TRDA-sponsored project.

"The Mysterious Key," known the world over for its computer-related applications, will appear at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the performing arts theater sponsored by the student union. John Novak, hypnotist, magician and speaker, will tell us that one's brain can be programmed to do things which seem impossible, and the correct programming of the "computer" can bring each one of us to a new level of ability. He will discuss how to program their "computers" to work for us to solve our daily problems and how to cope with school-related problems. Novak has spent the last eight to ten years of his life studying with some of the world's leading hypnotists and has worked over a period of 30 years. He also works with law enforcement agencies and hypnosis to help solve crimes and apprehend criminals. Tickets are $2 for students and $2 for others.

RUSH CONCERT - Tom Kubi, a singer and guitar player who surfaced in the early 60's, will appear in concert 8 p.m. April 16 in the PAU. (Come with a 10 card, others, $4.)

MANAGEMENT FOR THE FUTURE - The Organization of Graduate Students and Opportunities, a one-day program sponsored by the Fraternity Club of Graduate and PG, will be held at 7 p.m. Tuesday (April 19) at the Haus of Graduate. Speakers include Dr. Stella Kofsky, Dr. James L. Green, and Dr. Howard R. Smith, all of the business school. Graduate Managers with policies, laws, and/or supervisory responsibilities and/or who are expected to assume such responsibilities are encouraged to attend. Call Office of Graduate Studies at 828-3306 for further information.

HEALTH PROFESSIONALS - A one-day seminar, "Special - The Orthopedic Nurse" will be held April 26/27 sponsored by the Dept. of Orthopedic Surgery and the Dept. of Hospital Administration, University of South Florida. The seminar is designed to familiarize nursing personnel with the latest techniques, procedures and identify nursing needs of patients with the above procedures. April 19 is the deadline for registration.

Elizabeth Goad, an AC student from Aiken, will spend the summer in France as a participant in the University System of Georgia Study Abroad Program. Ms. Goad will earn 15 hours of credit at the University of Dijon taking three French courses-- culture, language and civilization. Classes start July 9, she said, and will continue through late August. Upon her return, she will enter the master's degree program in French at the University of South Carolina in Columbia. The studies aboard program will cost her approximately $1,400 which will cover tuition, room, board, books, etc. Studying in France has been her goal for the past three years, she said, and it has taken that long to save that amount of money. She plans on leaving the first week in June in order to tour Ireland and the British Isles before joining other international students in Paris.

A seminar for women involved in business or homemaking will be held Wednesday, June 1, at the Executive House on Ellis Street sponsored by First Federal Savings. Speakers will include Karen Clark, lecturer and instructor, who will present new ideas on "unleashing your potential" and making the most of your relationships; Financial Specialist Lee W. Curley, Donald T. Cameron Jr. of First Federal, and CPA Roger W. Wahl, who will offer advice on retirement accounts, taxtips, investments and money management for women. Tickets are $10 per person and are available from any branch of First Federal Savings.

EARLY CHILDHOOD SERIES Four summer workshops in Early Childhood Education will be offered by the AC Dept. of Education and the Office of Continuing Education in cooperation with several other sponsors. Workshop I, "Moving and Learning," will be held June 21, 23, 28, 30 at the University of S.C. - Aiken; Workshop II, "An Effective Program For Young Children," July 7, 8, at Augusta College; Workshop III, "Effective Discipline and Guidance of Young Children," July 12, 14, 19, 21, at USC-Columbia; and Workshop IV, "The Speech of Adults-The Language of Children," August 4-5, Augusta College. $15 per workshop or $25 for two workshops. FOR THE WEEK: July 11 - July 17, 1977

Written Wednesday, July 13, 1977

Authorization from the Board of Regents to improve the Augusta College tennis courts will hopefully be received this month, according to Comptroller Billy B. Thompson. Board member and Vice Chancellor for Construction Frank Dunham plans to recommend at the July meeting that funds be allocated for the project, which will provide resurfaced courts, expanded playing areas, new fences and nets, and lights for night playing. Bids for the improvements will go out as soon as final approval is given.

A Pre-Fall Orientation-Registration Program for entering freshmen and transfer students will take place in the Performing Arts Theatre and the University Center on Friday, July 22. Orientation will begin at 10:00 a.m., followed by lecture and advising according to majors. Special registration will be held from 1:00 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. in the lobby of the University Center.

AC radio station WAUG-FM has a new schedule as the result of a listener opinion poll conducted last month. Broadcast time on Saturday is 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. and on other nights is 12 p.m. on Friday and 11 p.m. on all other nights.

SUPER SUNDAY will take place at the Clark Hill Recreation Area on July 31. Families of AC students, staff, and faculty are invited and may obtain maps to the area from the Office of Student Activities.

DR. EARL CHEEK (Education) recently participated in a seminar on "Current Trends in Learning Disabilities" at the Johns Hopkins University.

THE FILM SERIES WILL FEATURE "The Man Who Loved Cat Dancing" on Tuesday, July 12 in the Performing Arts Theatre at 6 and 8:15 p.m. Admission is free with AC I.D. and $1.50 for others.

SEVERAL PAIRS OF EYEGASSES have been turned in to the Lost and Found Dept. in the Office of Student Activities. They can be reclaimed from secretary Ann Coleman, 2nd floor, College Activity Center.

THE SECOND OF A SERIES of Early Childhood Education workshops for parents and teachers of young children will be held July 12, 14, 19, and 21 from 7-9 p.m. at the University of South Carolina at Aiken. Entitled "Effective Discipline and Guidance of Young Children," the workshop will be conducted by Dr. Leroy Baruth of the College of Education, USC Columbia. It will involve practical suggestions for the development of personal techniques in guiding children toward appropriate behavior through environmental planning and careful observation. Pre-registration is required through the AC Office of Continuing Education.

AUGUST 19 IS THE DEADLINE for filing applications for the summer session for this quarter.

DR. WAYNE DYER, author of the best seller "Your Erroneous Zones," will conduct a one-day seminar entitled "Take Charge of Your Life" Monday, July 18 in the University Hospital Auditorium. Registration will begin at 8 a.m. and the seminar will conclude at 4:30 p.m.

DR. DEXTER BURLEY (Sociology) has been selected to participate in the annual Summer Seminar for College Teachers program as part of a grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities. He will spend the summer at New York University to study "Analytic Systems of Thought" under the direction of Thomas O. Beidelman.

AUGUSTA COLLEGE

FOR WEEK OF: July 18 - July 24, 1977 JUL 15 1977 Written Wednesday July, 13, 1977

Augusta College will admit persons 62 years of age and older free beginning in September with the fall quarter as a result of the passage of Constitutional Amendment #23. The Amendment states that Georgia residents over 62 may enroll as regular or auditing students in courses offered for resident credit on a "space available" basis without payment of fees. Persons interested must, in general, meet all system and institution undergraduate or graduate requirements to include high school graduation, SAT scores, and Special Studies, if enrolling for credit. To find out more about the new policy, contact Dr. Don Smith, Director of Admissions, at 828-3301.

Veterans who took the summer off but intend to register for fall quarter classes at Augusta College have until the first week of August to make their intentions known or risk not getting reimbursed for their tuition until November, according to Wade Gassman, Coordinator of Veterans' Affairs. The number includes about 200 men and women, Gassman said, adding he must let the Veterans Administration know by August who will be attending fall quarter classes.

HUERY BENTLEY III, a sophomore from Grovetown, Ga. majoring in Computer Programming, is the Augusta College recipient of a Board of Regents Scholarship for the summer quarter.

CECELIA VOELKER (Fine Arts) will conduct a 3 hour tour of Augusta on Thursday, July 21 as part of a course she is teaching on American Tradition in the Arts. The purpose of the tour is to acquaint students with the historical significance of various architectural styles and periods reflected in buildings throughout the city.

THE RICHMOND COUNTY BOARD OF EDUCATION is interested in commissioning Dr. Edward Cashin (History) to write an up-to-date history of Augusta and Richmond County. If approved, the text will be used in a history of Augusta course to be offered in county high schools when the quarter system becomes operational in 1978.

PREREGISTRATION FOR FALL QUARTER for students presently enrolled at Augusta College will take place July 18 thru the 22nd.

THE AC FILM SERIES movie for this week is "Le Samourai," to be shown Thursday, July 21, at 6 and 8:15 p.m. Admission free with AC or MCG I.D.; $1.50 for others.

COMING UP FALL QUARTER are several interesting and unusual short courses offered by the Office of Continuing Education, according to assistant director Shari Covitz. "Leathercraft," "Yoga," "Printmaking and Silkscreen," "Beginning Macrame," "Deer Hunting," and "Journalistic Writing" are but a few of over 40 courses to be offered. A mini series on nutrition is also tentatively scheduled for fall.

THE BOARD OF REGENTS of the University System of Georgia has approved at its July meeting a committee recommendation to rework the Augusta College tennis courts. The $32,000 allocation will provide the college with resurfaced courts, new nets and fences, expanded playing areas, and lights for night playing.

THE LIBRARY will be open on Friday night, July 29, 1977 until 10:30 p.m.

THE OFFICE OF ALUMNI AFFAIRS has announced that a limited number of AC friends and alumni may join an Auburn Alumni trip to the Hawaiian Islands for the week of August 23-31. Price of the trip is $549 all-inclusive. Interested persons should contact Helen Hendee at 828-4701.

Deadline for the weekly Spotlight is noon on Wednesdays.

July 20 is the deadline for the August calendar of events.

Georgia Power Co. in Atlanta will have representatives on campus Thursday, August 4, to recruit employees for their nuclear power plant in Baxley, Georgia. The company is seeking to fill several chemical radiation technician positions to be available around September 1. They are interested in interviewing graduates with chemistry and physics majors and biology majors with a minimum of 20 hours in chemistry. There are only 14 interview slots available, and these will be assigned on a first-come basis. For further information on this mid-summer recruiting opportunity, visit the Placement Office on the second floor of the College Activities Center.

The State Board of Education reapproved at its July meeting the teacher education programs at Augusta College, according to Dr. Geraldine Hargrove, who chairs the Education Dept. The programs, which prepare teachers for certification in Georgia schools, received five-year approval through 1982 and include both undergraduate and graduate levels for elementary and high school teachers.

An exhibit of the works of local artist Frieda Dean will be on display throughout the month of August in the lobby of the Performing Arts Theatre. The collection consists of landscapes and figures in watercolors, all of which are for sale.

THE FINAL EARLY CHILDHOOD EDUCATION WORKSHOP sponsored by AC and the University of South Carolina will be held Thursday, Aug. 4 from 9:00 to 5 p.m. and all day Friday, Aug. 5. The topic both days will be "The Speech of Adults--the Language of Children." Persons interested in attending should contact the AC Office of Continuing Education at 828-3306.

THE AC ANNUAL ALUMNI FUND had a very successful year in 1976-77. A total of $13,415.88 was received from 759 alumni. This sum reflects growth from $5,662 donated in 1971-72 (the first year the fund operated).

COMMENTS FROM RITA RUTSOHN (Career Planning and Placement):
"If the summer heat and humidity have you down, stop by the Office of Career Planning and Placement on the 2nd floor of the CAC for a refreshing pause. The placement office is open to assist students, alumni and faculty Monday through Friday from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. and 1:30 to 3:30.

"Individuals who have registered with our office for employment assistance (seniors for full-time placement and undergraduates for part-time jobs) are urged to visit the office weekly to review incoming jobs. While summer is at a prime time for the job hunter, the placement office has been fortunate in receiving any full and part-time positions from CSRA businesses and school districts because of the job development being done by the office.

"Since the resurrection of the office of Career Planning and Placement in mid-January of this year, several hundred students have visited and registered with our office for full and part-time job placement, assistance with resume preparation, interview technique awareness and career choice guidance.

"Some of the graduates who have been assisted and placed by our office are:

- Burford Manning, accountant, Merry Brick
- Jim Perkins, admissions counselor, North Georgia College
- Louis Gardner, management trainee, J. B. White & Co.
- William Porter, management trainee, Merry Brick
- Terry Florie and Clyde Newman, accountants, Continental Can
- Linda Abernathy, bookkeeper, Clinical Lab, MCG
- Angela Stewart, accountant, Southern Travel
- Howell Anne Bell and Jim Hollingsworth, summer management analyst interns, City of Savannah.

For further information on the Placement office and its services, call 828-2045 between -4:30 Monday through Friday."

RS. "FRENCHIE" BUSH will address Cecilia Belker's American Traditions in the Arts class on Wednesday, August 3, at 11:30 a.m. in the Fine Arts Center, Room D-1. Her topic will be "Landscape Architecture and Gardens."

The Augusta College Theatre, under the direction of Keith Cowling, will present the play "East Lynne" 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday, August 12-13 in the Performing Arts Theatre. The famous and "hilariously funny" Victorian melodrama stars 14 performers including a nine year old child, Cowling said. Admission is $2.00 and free with AC I.D.

Mrs. Frances Powell will address the American Traditions in the Arts course this week on "The Role of Antique Furniture in the American Tradition." The course is taught by Cecelia Voelker.

MEETINGS SCHEDULED A committee of the State Board of Regents will hold a series of open meetings to gather suggestions on how Georgia should comply with a federally ordered desegregation plan. The first open meeting is scheduled for Aug. 10 at 10:30 a.m. in the Regents' Board Room in Atlanta. Other meetings are set for the same time and place on Aug. 17 and 19.

SPEAKER CHOSEN Dr. Frank Chou, a member of the AC faculty since 1960, has been chosen by graduating seniors as the professor they would most prefer to deliver the traditional commencement address. Dr. Chou was selected following a survey sent to each August graduate. Summer commencement exercises will be held 3 p.m. Sunday, August 21 in the Performing Arts Theatre.

DEADLINE NEARING The Admissions Office reminds prospective students that Friday, August 19 is the last day to file applications for new fall admissions. Orientation and registration is scheduled September 14 with classes to follow on September 19.

PROBLEMS ENCOUNTERED The following was taken from the Placement Recruitment Exchange, March 1977...165 employers responded to an Endicott questionnaire about the problems college graduates experience in making the transition from school to work with the following answers:
...relating theory to practical situations
...adjusting to the routine of work, regular hours and scheduled assignments
...adjusting to the corporate structure and business environment
...developing a cooperative attitude toward supervisors and other workers of different ages
...accepting responsibility and decision making
...understanding the philosophy of management and motivation.

Two leadership seminars and a real estate brokerage and sales course are among the first pre-fall courses to be offered by the Office of Continuing Education in September. A workshop entitled "Leadership Training for High School Students" will be conducted by Drs. Russ Holloman and Bill Bompert on Saturday, Sept. 10, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. The workshop is intended to give high school students who are assigned or elected to positions of leadership the opportunity to acquire the skills necessary to solve problems and make decisions effectively. Another seminar, "Learning to Lead a Group," will take place Friday, Sept. 23 from 7-10 p.m. Since most organization work is done in groups, this workshop will focus on communication and leadership skills necessary for effective meetings. Theoretical and practical training will include agenda building, effect of group norms and expectations, leading discussions, problem solving, and decision making. "Courses for Real Estate Brokerage and Sales" is a ten-week, two-part course which satisfies the Ga. Real Estate Commission's education requirements for brokers and those in sales. Persons planning to qualify for the sales license may take the Sales Preparatory Course on Tuesdays from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. beginning Sept. 6. Those wishing to qualify for a brokerage license may take the sales course in addition to the Broker's Preparatory Course on Saturdays from 9 a.m. to noon beginning Sept. 10. For further information contact the AC Office of Continuing Education, 828-3306.

A BICYCLE WAS REMOVED from the front entrance to the Reese Library on Aug. 5. The owner may visit the Office of Public Safety to reclaim it.

THREE FACULTY SCHOLARS will be among the entering freshman at AC this fall. The three honor students were selected for the special scholarship on the basis of their academic talent. They are: Jane Elizabeth Mooneyham, Lyle Kevin Neff, and Teru Kay Lapaquette. The scholars will be introduced to the faculty at its first fall meeting and will be given a plaque commemorating their selection, which brings to 35 the number of high school graduates who have received the scholarship.

THE 1977-78 AC FILM SERIES will begin on Sept. 23 with "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest" at 6 and 8:15 p.m. in the Performing Arts Theatre. Other movies to be featured during fall quarter include: "Buffalo Bill and the Indians," "The Sting," "The Exorcist" "Oedipus," "Small Change," "Badlands," "Barry Lyndon," "The Magic Flute," and "On the Waterfront." Admission is free for all persons 65 or older and for AC faculty, staff and students. (Students are reminded, however, that they must have paid student activities fees for the quarter during which they seek free admission.) Public school students and active alumni will be admitted for $1.00 at the 6 p.m. showing. General admission is $1.50.

NITA WIDENER (AC Cafeteria) will join James B. Boatwright, Jr. and Marjorie R. Murray of Augusta on a trip to Hawaii sponsored by the Auburn Alumni Assoc. They will leave on August 23 and return on the 31st.

The AC Office of Continuing Education is available to help any organization or agency wishing to plan a seminar, workshop or conference, according to Shari Covitz, assistant director. The office is one of the few departments in the area that offers this community service. Covitz said that the CE staff can plan an entire meeting - from handling registration, facilities and publicity to engaging speakers, who can be drawn from the AC faculty or from others in the CSRA with expertise in specific areas. The office can also recruit "big name" speakers if an organization wishes. Agencies that plan their meetings through the office allow their participants the added advantage of earning Continuing Education Unit (CEU) credits, which are becoming increasingly important to professional groups. Many are requiring their personnel to continue their education or upgrade their skills through advanced workshops or seminars. For further information, call the office at 828-3306.

AC alumnus Floyd Montgomery will sing at the summer commencement exercises Sunday, August 21, at 3 p.m. in the Performing Arts Theatre. Montgomery earned his B.A. degree at AC in 1969 and holds a Master of Music degree from Texas Tech. He has performed in many operatic and oratorio roles and is a special soloist for the Augusta Choral Society. He is employed by Tompkins Music Co. and is music director at Fairview Presbyterian Church in North Augusta.

A NEW COURSE IN FILMMAKING (Eng 495) will be offered fall quarter. According to Dr. Charles Willig, who will teach the course, AC has acquired all the equipment necessary to teach super-8 movie-making in a sophisticated way. Prerequisites are the same as for any upper division English course.

NO DECISION HAS BEEN MADE ON THE GOLF COURSE, but the college is making preliminary plans to be ready when and if the property is acquired. Two architects (construction and landscape) from UGA have made a survey and prepared a layout for playing fields and a municipal tennis center.

FACULTY NEWS

FIVE AC ROTC ADVANCED COURSE STUDENTS will spend the next three weeks with the Airborne School at Ft. Benning, Ga. as part of their training to become parachute-qualified. Cadets Steve Roy, Wayne Sawyer, Patrick Beer, James Johnson, and Jack Collins will be required to make five jumps from cargo and jet aircraft in order to graduate from jump school in Sept. They bring to 16 the number of AC cadets to undergo parachute training.

WELCOME TO NEW FACULTY MEMBERS Bonnie Devet (English) and Dr. Michael McLeod (Bus. Admin.) who were recognized at this month's meeting.

CONGRATULATIONS TO GENE AND SYLVIA CLARK on the birth of their baby girl, Erica Lansdell, who arrived Aug. 1 at St. Joseph Hosp. weighing 7 lbs. 12 1/2 oz. Employees of AC will miss Sylvia, who has decided not to return to her job in Personnel.

SEVERAL FACULTY MEMBERS will spend the coming year working on advanced degrees: JEANNE JENSEN (History) will be at the University of South Carolina. PHILIP REICHEL (Sociology) will continue his work at the University of Kansas. LILLIE BUTLER JUGURTHA will continue her studies at the University of Ga., where she was one of 15 recipients of a Faculty Development Award. The award is designed to support deserving faculty in the university system in an effort to raise the quality of faculty throughout the state.

CLAIRE SWANN, who has completed her internship in Higher Education at AC, returns this week to her position of Assoc. Director of Admissions at the Univ. of Ga.

JOHN SCOTT (Fine Arts) has returned to campus after a year of advanced study at Indiana University.

ESTABLISHMENT OF A CENTER for a free enterprise on campus is in process. Details will be forthcoming.

DR. RON JOHNSON (English) will leave next week for Hofstra University in N. Y., where he will spend the next year researching "Comedy as Fantasy Triumph." His work is made possible through an NEH grant.

TWO $600 GIFTS have been received by the AC Alumni Assn. for its Gallery of Presidents.

DR. JOHN PRESLEY (Special Studies) will have his article "D. H. Lawrence and the Resources of Poetry" published in the forthcoming quarterly issue of Language and Style.

COMING UP IN OCTOBER will be a performance by the Trio D'Anches, Cologne, Oct. 19 at 7:30 p.m. in the Performing Arts Theatre. Admission will be free with AC I.D. Adult tickets are $2 and students, $1. Their French name (for "trio of reed instruments") was coined by composers of that country in the late 19th century who were particularly attracted to the mellow tones of the oboe, clarinet, and bassoon combination.

ALL FEMALE STUDENTS enrolled fall quarter at AC are invited to participate in sorority rush week, Sept. 13-18. Interested persons may attend Panhellenic rush orientation, Tuesday, Sept. 13, 7:30 p.m. in the Performing Arts Theatre.

CONGRATULATIONS to Dr. J. Gray Dinwiddie, who was recently elected president of the Augusta Kiwanis Club.

COLLEGE AND PUBLIC SERVICES is working with an ad agency in developing a campaign for student recruitment. The program includes a series of T.V. and radio public service announcements and billboard coverage throughout the city.

THE 1977-78 AC CATALOGS are now available at the Admissions Office. All departments are reminded that the printing schedule for the 1978-79 edition calls for delivery of copy to the printer by Feb. 1, 1978.

A BROCHURE of fall quarter short course offerings has just been released by the Office of Continuing Education. Almost 70 short courses are listed along with a number of seminars, conferences, and workshops.

FOR WEEK OF: September 11 - September 17, 1977

Written Wednesday, September 7, 1977

An eight-foot harpsichord, hand-crafted in England, has been donated to the AC Department of Fine Arts by alumnus Racy Smith, class of 1975. According to Dr. Eloy Fominara, chairman of Fine Arts, the gift will benefit the entire department. The concert-sized instrument, which he said is comparable to a grand piano, is estimated to be worth about $4,000. Smith said he decided to give it to AC because "I enjoyed my years as a student here very much. I think AC has one of the finest faculties I've ever seen, and I've attended five major universities."

The Governor's Conference on Georgia Libraries and Information Services will be held at the Georgia World Congress Center in Atlanta on Sept. 15 and 16. It will be the first of the Pre-White House Conferences to be held in the States. A. Ray Rowland, librarian at AC and president of the Georgia Library Association, is chairman of the conference. More than 1500 participants are expected, including Mrs. Lillian Carter and Hugh Carter, Jr., administrator of the Oval Office in the White House. Others attending from AC are Marquerite Fogleman, Virginia deTreville, Frances Paulk, and Carl Shurtleff.

THE FACULTY WIVES CLUB OF AC cordially invite faculty and staff members and their spouses to attend the annual reception honoring new faculty and their spouses Sunday, Sept. 18, from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. in the lobby of the Fine Arts building.

CONGRATULATIONS to Rosemary DePaulo Smith and her husband Dennis, who were married Sept. 3 in Long Island, N.Y. The Smiths will spend their honeymoon in Europe.

JO McIVER IS BEING WELCOMED as the new administrative assistant in the Registrar's office. McIver comes to AC from Clayton Junior College in Atlanta, where she was assistant registrar.

WELCOME, TOO, TO LEE DEASON, who is a counselor in the Admissions office. Deason is a former student at AC and earned his B.B.A. at the University of Nebraska and his M.A. in Counseling at Ball State University in Indiana. He is a native North Augustan retired from the Air Force.

MARY DICKSON (Dean of Students office) is a patient in room 503 at University Hospital. AC employees wish her a speedy recovery.

SUPPORTERS OF THE WOMEN'S BASKETBALL team will be glad to learn that AC now has a women's athletic dormitory on Katherine Street. The dorm is capable of housing seven players, six of whom will take up residence next week. According to Lady Jag coach Cookie Johnson, it will enable the team to recruit players from other areas, which she sees as important in competing with other teams on the college's level.

FOR WEEK OF: September 26 - October 2, 1977

Written Wednesday, September 21, 1977

The Augusta College Theatre, under the direction of Duncan Smith, assistant professor of English, will hold tryouts for its first production of the 1977-78 season Monday, Sept. 26, and Tuesday, Sept. 27, from 3-5 p.m. and 8-9 p.m. in the AC Chateau. Anyone who is interested in acting or working back stage is invited. The first production, scheduled for Nov. 11 and 12 in the Performing Arts Theatre, will consist of three one-act plays dealing with the eternal triangle: Pirandello's The Vise, George Barnard Shaw's How He Lied to Her Husband, and The Great Fury of Philip Hotz by Swiss playwright Max Frisch. There are major roles for four women and six men and smaller roles for two women and three to five men. For further information, call Duncan Smith in the Department of Language and Literature, 828-3706.

AC President George A. Christenberry received a check for $800 for the AC Foundation this week from Piggly Wiggly Southern, Inc. This is the eighth consecutive year that the company has given support to the foundation. The check was presented by Piggly Wiggly officials Ted Burnsed and Henry Hillis.

THE AC FACULTY WIVES will sponsor a pork barbecue Sat., Oct. 1, on the athletic field. Activities like volleyball and softball are scheduled to begin early in the day, with supper served from 4:30-6:30 p.m. Those wishing to attend are asked to make arrangements with president Sue Ellen Harrison, 863-2601. Admission is $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for children.

AC STUDENTS Teru Kay Lapaquette of Hephzibah and Philip T. Weinbrecht of Augusta have been named recipients of two out of 33 scholarships awarded this year by the Ga. Distilled Spirits Institute. The awards are given on the basis of academic excellence and community and school involvement. They are part of a $22,000 direct financial aid package contributed by the association's memorial foundation and distributed among 16 institutions within the University System of Ga. This is the second year Weinbrecht has won a GDSI scholarship.

FACULTY DEPENDENTS TICKETS TO THE AC FILM series are now available in the Office of Student Activities. For a flat fee of $8.50, the tickets are good for the entire film series for any number of dependents. Contact Anne Coleman, 828-3806.

THE AC NEWMAN CLUB, a social and service organization for young Catholics, will hold its first meeting in Topic Room 2 of the College Activities Center Wednesday, Sept. 28 at noon. Questions may be directed to Dr. Mark Lloyd, Dept. of Language and Literature.

PRESIDENT AND MRS. CHRISTENBERRY wish to express their deep appreciation for the many expressions of sympathy extended during their recent bereavement.

WGAC RADIO PERSONALITY HANS PETERSON is the first speaker in AC's innovative identity program, scheduled at intervals throughout fall quarter. He will speak on "Identity in Contemporary Music" at noon Tuesday, Sept. 27, in the Performing Arts Theatre. Everyone is invited.

THE FOLLOWING NEW FACULTY MEMBERS ARE currently being welcomed to campus: Mary K. Lisko, Dr. Michael E. McLeod and Mary T. Sherrouse, business administration; Karen S. Sheppo, education; Bonnie D. Devet, J. Kenneth Jackson, Duncan B. Smith, and Carol E. Williams, English; James E. Russey, fine arts; Dr. David M. Foley, history; Dr. Max E. Pettit, Jr., and Patricia M. Synder, math and computer science; and Mary H. Anderson, nursing.

THE TRIO D'ANCHES (French for "trio of reeded instruments") will appear in concert 8:30 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 19, in the PAT. The trio performs compositions for the unusual combination of oboe, clarinet, and bassoon. The Dept. of Fine Arts has asked the Spotlight to note that posters on campus erroneously state that the performance date is Oct. 18.

A PAPER BY DR. LYLE SMITH (Education) and Susan Alexanderson on "The Relationship Between Short Term Learning of a Mathematical Concept and Teacher Verbal Behaviors" was recently published by the Center for the Study of Learning and Teaching Mathematics.

Written Wednesday, September 28, 1977

The AC Student Union will again sponsor its fabulously successful Oktoberfest Friday, October 14, from 6-12 p.m. in the College Activities Center. The annual event, attended by hundreds of students and guests, features the best of German foods including German meats, potato salad, sauerkraut, brotchen, soft pretzels, and beverages. Music will be provided by the Oompahs, part of the AC band. The Hourly Child Care Service on Katherine Street will be available for children ages 1-6. It will be open from 5:30 p.m. to midnight. Reservations will be necessary for use of the service, and may be made by calling 733-5837. Admission will be $1 for AC faculty, students, and staff with valid I.D., and $2 for guests. Anyone wearing a German costume will be admitted free.

Classical and popular guitarist Ron Hudson will open the 1977-78 Lyceum Series with a performance at 8:00 p.m. Thursday, October 6, in the Performing Arts Theatre. Hudson taught himself to play the guitar while he was growing up in the mountains of a small village in Northern Guatemala. He came to the U.S. when he was 17 years old and continued his musical education in Oklahoma and at the University of Texas. Since then, he has performed in concerts throughout the U.S., Latin America, and Europe and is recognized as one of the leading guitarists in the world. His unique program will include the entire first movement to Bach's "Brandenburg Concerto #3," selections by popular composers like Paul Simon, David Gates, Andrew Nebber, and Gary Brooker, and some of his own compositions. Admission is free with AC I.D.. General admission at the door is $1.00.

NEXT ON THE IDENTITY PROGRAM'S SCHEDULE is William Epton of Maryland, Institute of Art, who will speak on "Identity; Contemporary Art" Tuesday, Oct. 4, at noon in the Lecture Room of Butler Hall. Epton is an art historian who also holds degrees in art and philosophy. He has taught, among other places, at the University of Southern Illinois and at Oklahoma State University. The public is invited to his lecture.

THE AC STUDENT ART ASSN. will sponsor its first show of the season from Oct. 10 thru Oct. 31 in the lobby of the Performing Arts Theatre. The exhibit will feature paintings by Albert Smith, assistant professor in the Visual Communications Program of the College of Architecture at Ga. Tech, and ceramics by Gretchen Turnbull McCance and Don McCance, both of Fairburn, Ga.

THE GEORGIA DANCE THEATRE will host the Atlanta Contemporary Dance Company in its Kid's Dance Series Sat., Oct. 8 and Sun., Oct. 9 at 3 p.m. in the AC Performing Arts Theatre. They will perform "Wind in the Willows," an hour-long dance production freely adapted from Kenneth Graham's animal tale for children. Tickets are available from the Georgia Dance Theatre, Highland Ave.

A FAMILY HALLOWEEN PARTY sponsored by the AC Student Union is planned for Oct. 29 from 2-4 p.m. in the College Activities Center. The party is open to AC dependents and their guests and admission is 50¢ per person. Each child must be accompanied by a responsible adult. Bring your children and their friends for an afternoon of games, refreshments, and prizes, including one for best costume.

THE AC PREDENTAL CLUB will hold an organizational meeting at noon Thursday, Oct. 6, in the Science Building, Lab 5. Plans for this year will be discussed. The club is open to all AC students and provides them an opportunity to pursue their interest in dentistry.

TWO WORKSHOPS will be offered this month through the Office of Cont. Ed. The first, a workshop for leaders in volunteer organizations, will take place Thursday, Oct. 6, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Friday, Oct. 7, from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the Lecture Room of Butler Hall. The second, entitled "Learning to Solve Personal and Organizational Problems," is scheduled for Friday, Oct. 28, 7-10 p.m. and Saturday, Oct. 29, 9 a.m. - 5 p.m. Instructor for both will be Dr. Russ Holloman. Advance registration is required and can be arranged through Continuing Education, 828-3306.

A CONFERENCE on the concerns of young single adults and their role in the church will be held Oct. 7, 8, & 9 at First Presbyterian Church on Telfair St. Speakers will be Dr. Gary Collins and Ney Bailey. Advance registration is preferred. For information call 724-1865.

THE MEDICAL DAMES AND MCG WIVES CLUB have announced that their Children's film series will begin Saturday, Oct. 29, at National Hills Theater, 10 a.m. to noon. The first feature movie will be "Willie McBean & His Flying Machine." Series tickets or further information can be obtained by calling 736-2665 or 733-5745.

THE SECOND ICE CREAM SOCIAL of the quarter will take place in the College Activities Center Wednesday, Oct. 5, at 2:45 p.m. Students, faculty, and staff are invited by the Student Union to come and enjoy making their own banana splits. Free!

THE TESTING CENTER has announced that Oct. 14 is the closing date for registration for the Graduate Management Admission Test to be given Nov. 5. Registration materials and the GMAT Bulletin are available in the Business Administration Dept. and at the Testing Center.

The Trio D'Anches of Cologne will perform in concert at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday, 1977 October 19, in the Performing Arts Theatre. The French name Trio D'Anches (for trio of reed instruments) was coined by composers of that country in the late 19th century who were attracted to the mellow tones of the unique combination of the oboe, clarinet, and bassoon. The woodwind trio was formed in 1973 by the three principal wind soloists of the West German Radio Symphony Orchestra -- Hansjorg Schellenberger, Hans D. Klaus, and Christopher Carl in an effort to fill a glaring void in chamber music repertoire. They bring to the public extraordinary works of classical and modern periods, performing a wide variety of selections -- from the divertimenti of Haydn and Mozart to the works of Poulenc, Villa-Lobos, and Martinu. Admission to the concert is $2.00 for adults and $1.00 for students. Tickets will be sold at the box office of the theatre the night of the performance.

The 1977 Southern Grassroots Music Tour will appear in concert at 8 p.m. Tuesday, November 1, in the AC Performing Arts Theatre as part of the 1977-78 Lyceum Series. The Tour, formerly known as the Southern Folk Festival, brings together some of the finest grassroots musicians in the South. Augustan Jane Sapp, a Black contemporary singer and piano player, is one of the five featured acts who will do individual as well as group numbers on stage. Other performers in the Tour are: The Beausoliel Cajun Band from Louisiana, featuring fiddle, guitar and French accordion; Robert Garrett, a Black blues man from Tennessee; Paul Craft, a comedian as well as country singer and writer; and Anne Romaine, who specializes in autoharp, guitar and piano. Tickets will be sold at the box office the night of the performance. Admission is $2.00.

Faculty and Administrative staff members will soon be receiving information from the Office of Student Activities on the selection of students for recognition by "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges." Who's Who is a national program which annually honors outstanding campus leaders for their scholastic and community achievements. Nominations of juniors, seniors, and graduate students for consideration are being solicited from each department.

John English of the University of Florida School of Journalism and Mass Communications will speak on "Identity in Contemporary Film" at noon Tuesday, November 1, in the lecture room of Butler Hall as part of the Identity Series. English is editor of the Journal of Popular Culture and a practicing professional filmmaker as well. His visit will bring to a close this quarter's Identity program which, according to Dean of Students J.W. Galloway, was a tremendous success. Galloway stated that the program was the best of its kind ever attempted on campus. "I am confident that we accomplished our objective of showing an interrelationship between the disciplines. Students and faculty alike were very enthusiastic about each speaker. The faculty who planned this program are to be commended." He added that he would like to see the project extended in the future to involve the entire freshman class.

The Office of Student Activities promises an "outstanding show" when the Southern Grassroots Music Tour appears in concert November 1 at 8 p.m. in the Performing Arts Theatre. The tour comprises five separate acts who will perform individually and together on stage. Their music has a distinctly southern flavor and ranges from blues and ballads to country and gospel. Admission to the live performance event is free to AC faculty, staff, and students. General admission is $1.00 instead of $2.00, as previously announced.

KEVAL SINGH, ambassador to the U.S. from India and featured speaker in last year's Cullum Third World Culture Series, has graciously returned the honorarium given him by the college for his appearance here. Singh requested that the $200 be used for worthwhile purposes. As a result, the money has been put into the Faculty Scholarship Fund.

DR. ANNE CHRISTENBERRY (Education) has received notice that her paper, "A Strategy for Locating and Building Support Systems for the Expectant and the New Parent," (co-authored with Dr. Paul Wirtz of USC-Aiken) was accepted for inclusion in the ERIC (Educational Resources Information Center Early Childhood Education) documents.

A REMINDER to faculty and administrative staff that the deadline for submitting nominations for "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges" is Monday, October 31. Nominations should be sent to the Office of Student Activities.

THE MUSIC & THEATRE PROGRAM at Fort Gordon will present the award winning new comedy "The Last Meeting of the Knights of the White Mameluke" at their Tinner Theatre Nov. 3, 4, 5 and 10, 11, 12 in the Rec Center #1, Building 19120. Reservations for dinner and the price may be made by calling 791-2714 or 791-2781.

THE INTEREST GROUP OF ALPHA KAPPA ALPHA sorority will meet November 2 at 2 p.m. in meeting room 2 of the CAC. Interested women are invited to attend.

The Augusta College Theatre will present its first production of the season in three one-act plays dealing with the eternal triangle at 8 p.m. November 11 and 12 in the Performing Arts Theatre. The plays will feature a cast made up of a highly diverse group--the employed and the retired, the young and the old, students and non-students. Starring in Luigi Pirandello's The Vise are AC students Betsy Gilmer and Philip Sacco, and Briscoe Merry, instructor in the Dept. of Language and Literature. All three of these actors have been active in college and community theatre. Lynn Jones, another AC student who plays a supporting role, is new to local theater. The cast of Bernard Shaw's How He Lied to Her Husband includes two area high school students, Rick Corley and Marianne Moss, and Henry Miller, a practicing lawyer who gained his acting experience in North Carolina. Area theatre goers are well acquainted with the talents of Rick Ward, who leads the cast of the third play, Max Frisch's The Great Fury of Philip Hotz. He is capably supported by Mary Schorsch, Fran Ricci, Claudia Nichols, Bonnie Pirkle, Kent Holden, and Tommy Chappelle. The theatre group also includes many others who have expended a great deal of effort to stage an enjoyable and first-rate performance. Tickets are free with valid AC identification, $1.50 for other students, senior citizens and military, and $2.00 for the general public.

The annual Augusta College Faculty Art Exhibit will open November 13 in the lobby of the PAT and continue through December 5. The show will comprise new works by several faculty of the Dept. of Fine Arts who are well-known in the community. On display will be paintings, drawings, and water colors by Richard Frank, ceramics by Jack King, sculpture and carvings by Nathan Bindler, and paintings by Eugenia Comer. A reception will be held at 7:30 p.m. on Sunday evening, Nov. 13 in the lobby and the community is invited to attend. Refreshments will be served.

Pi Kappa Phi will sponsor a dance Saturday, November 19, in the CAC. Admission is $2.00.

EACH YEAR the Georgia Federation of Music Clubs and the Georgia Power Co. jointly sponsor a number of full scholarships to talented orchestral and band musicians, ages 12 to 18 years, to the nationally known Brevard Music Center in Brevard, North Carolina. Auditions for these scholarships will be held this year at AC on February 18, 1977. FOR WEEK OF: Dec. 4 - Dec. 11, 1977

Written Wednesday, Nov. 30, 1977

With fall quarter drawing to a close, faculty, staff and students alike are looking forward to a busy and enjoyable holiday. December's calendar is filled with parties, dances, and entertainment sure to spirit the work-weary. Two special stage productions planned for this month promise to provide delight for the young, old, and all in between. The last performance of the musical puppet show "Captain Noah and His Floating Zoo" will be presented by the Augusta Children's Theatre Sunday, Dec. 4, at 3 p.m. in the AC Chateau. Tickets are $1.00 and may be purchased at the door. Also, the Fort Gordon Music/Theatre will present its first Children's Theatre in several years this month with the production of "Androcles and the Lion" by Aurand Harris. The play is scheduled for Dec. 10 and 17 at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m., and again on Dec. 18 at 2 p.m. and 4 p.m. This ancient fable of the thorn in the lion's paw is told in the style of the Commedia d'ell Arte, using plenty of physical buffoonery, slapstick comedy, and quick-witted banter. Reservations are necessary and can be made by calling 791-2281 or 791-2714 Wednesday - Monday between noon and 7:30 p.m.

An evening of old-fashioned family Christmas caroling is planned for Sunday, Dec. 4, at 6 p.m. by the Summerville Neighborhood Association. Singing will be led by the Augusta College choir and will take place around the AC Christmas tree near the Fine Arts Building. Everyone attending is asked to bring a candle to be lighted during the singing.

Augusta College will observe Christmas holidays the three weekdays before Christmas weekend (Dec. 21, 22, & 23) and the two after Christmas Day. New Year's holiday will be observed on Monday, Jan. 2.

THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION extends an invitation to all faculty and staff to join former AC students at the annual Christmas Party Dec. 17 beginning at 7:30 p.m. at the Maxwell Alumni House on McDowell St., and to a pre-game warm-up from 6:30-7:30 p.m. Jan. 7 before the AC - Valdosta State basketball game.

THE AQUA JAGS ARE WARMING UP for their season, which opens winter quarter with a meet Jan. 6 at 4 p.m. against Ga. State at the AC pool. If you've never seen our swim team compete, make plans to attend one of their exciting matches. The pool has plenty of bleachers for good viewing.

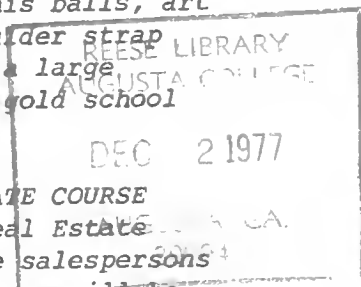

THE CHRISTMAS BELLE DANCE will be held in the College Activities Center Friday, Dec. 9, 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Admission is 50¢ per person and mixers are free. Music will be provided by "Stud." Denise Tutt, last year's Miss Christmas Belle, will return to crown the winner from among the nine nominees in this year's contest.

AT A LOSS FOR SOME GOOD GIFT IDEAS? A lot of shopping can be done on campus, according to Mary Bailey of the AC Book Store who says that books are the "perfect present for all ages." The Book Store offers a selection on everything from art, cooking, and crafts to Elvis, bloopers, and best sellers. You can also find watches, stationary, umbrellas, coffee mugs, ash trays, T shirts, gym shorts, tennis balls, art supplies, and Mon Sac shoulder strap bags. The newest item is a large ceramic mug (black with a gold school seal).

THE AC ROTARACT CLUB is planning a dance in the CAC at 9 p.m. Friday, Dec. 17. More details will be announced later.

AC BASKETBALL CONTINUES through the holidays with both the men's and women's teams seeing plenty of action. The Jaguars, who have won all three games this year, take on Lander College at Greenwood Dec. 12, then travel to Asheville to play UNC on the 15th. They return to face Ga. Southern at home Dec. 17. THE LADY JAGS will also play Lander on Dec. 12 at 6 p.m. and Ga. State University at home Dec. 16. On Dec. 19, they travel to Aiken to face USC at 7 p.m.

AC IS OFFERING A REAL ESTATE COURSE approved by the Georgia Real Estate Commission for prospective salespersons beginning Jan. 3. The course will be held on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 7:30 - 10:30 p.m. through Jan. 26, completing in time for the February License Examination. Sponsors are the Office of Continuing Education, the Center for Private Enterprise, and the Business Administration Dept. For registration information, call 828-3306.

THE ALPHA KAPPA ALPHA INTEREST group wishes to thank the AC community for its support in the sorority's recent Fast Day. Proceeds were used to feed needy families at Thanksgiving.

CASH FOR BOOKS, even those not used at AC, will be available in the Book Store Dec. 7 & 8. Bring any current texts you have.

THE METROPOLITAN OPERA broadcast of "Peter Grimes" can be heard Sat. Dec. 10, at 2 p.m. on WACG-FM.

LOST AND FOUND: The Public Safety Office has several sweaters waiting to be claimed.

THE REESE LIBRARY will be open from 8 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. during registration on January 3. The regular schedule will begin on January 4.

THE OFFICE OF CAREER PLANNING and PLACEMENT announces that three students have been selected to participate in a co-operative education program with the Internal Revenue Service. Richard Athey (Business) and Lester Jones (Pol. Sci.) started fall quarter and are training as revenue officers. Jones is working in the Augusta IRS Office and Athey is in Macon. Cynthia Walker (Business) will start her co-op training winter quarter as an internal revenue agent in Augusta.

REMINDERS

WALT DISNEY'S MAGIC KINGDOM CLUB sweepstakes deadline is this month. To be eligible for the more than 2,500 prizes, entry forms must be postmarked no later than Dec. 31 and received by Jan. 15. The Procurement Office has details and entry forms.

DEC. 15 IS THE DEADLINE for submitting applications to the Glamour Magazine 1978 Top Ten College Women Contest. Winners will be featured in the Magazine's August issue and will receive a trip to New York and a $500 cash prize. Pick up applications from the Public Information Office, Rains Hall.

THE LAST DAY TO FILE applications for new admissions to Augusta College is Friday, Dec. 9. Exemption examinations in U.S. and Georgia History and in U.S. and Georgia Constitutions will be given on Dec. 9 in the Testing Center. Registration for winter quarter will take place Jan. 3.

A SEMINAR/WORKSHOP on "Planning For Wellness and Community Awareness" will take place Mon., Dec. 12, in the 2nd Floor Civic Room of the Ga. Railroad Bank Building. The seminar is sponsored by the East Central Ga. Health Systems Agency of Augusta and The Health/Planning Development Center of Atlanta, and is designed to assemble a group of people who are interested in promoting health and education activities. For more information, call Joyce Lewis, 724-9927.

DR. FRANK (Rennie) TUBBS (Education) has received a letter of recognition from the Executive Board Southeast Regional Assn. of Teacher Educators which states: "For many years there has been a member of the Executive Board of the Southeastern Regional Association of Teacher Educators who has been very active on behalf of our organization... a man whose work and encouragement has made S.R.A.T.E. a stronger organization. This person's leadership on this board has led us to more effective planning and his insight has helped us in solving many problems. He had the responsibility for planning a highly successful conference for us in the state of Florida. Since that time, he has represented us well at national conferences and on many committees at both national and regional levels. He is presently chairman of the Conference audit committee. He will be retiring at the end of this school term from his position at Augusta College. "We want you, Dr. Rennie Tubbs, to know that your loyalty, your devotion to S.R.A.T.E. and your willingness to accept responsibility has forwarded the work of the organization and also that your contributions are appreciated and will long be remembered.

"We wish you well in whatever you do and sincerely ask that you try to attend our future conferences and that you continue to love us all enough to keep in touch."

FOR WEEK OF: Jan. 9 - Jan. 15, 1978

Written Wednesday, Jan. 4, 1978

The Augusta College Theatre will hold tryouts for its production of Cole Porter's Anything Goes January 9, 10, and 11 in the Performing Arts Theatre. The lively musical comedy has tryouts for as many as 20 men and 20 women and all interested actors, singers, and dancers are invited to audition. Acting and vocal auditions will be held from 3-5 p.m. on January 9 and 10, and dance tryouts will be held from 7-10 p.m. on the same days. Call backs are scheduled for 8-10 p.m. on Wednesday, Jan. 11. The performances are planned for March 5-8 in the PAT.

The Student Union will sponsor its first concert of winter quarter Friday, January 20, when two highly entertaining acts appear in the Performing Arts Theatre. Featured will be Steve Smith, a Black comedian from Atlanta, and Mike Williams, a folk singer and composer who displays unusual talent with a twelve-string guitar. Admission to the 8 p.m. concert is free for AC students, faculty, and staff, $1.00 for other college students, and $2.00 for the general public.

C.W. HUGGINS, director of the National Alliance of Businessmen's Business Education Liaison Program in Augusta, is the new director of the Center for the Study of Private Enterprise located in Boykin Wright Hall. A major aim of the center, which was established last quarter through the NAB, is to teach methods of teaching how the free enterprise system works.

THE DEADLINE FOR APPLICATIONS for the Rotary Foundation foreign study awards is March 1. Winners of the scholarships for Graduate Fellowships, Teachers of the Handicapped, and Professional Journalists will be announced in Sept. More information and application materials may be obtained locally from Monty Osteen at the Ga. Railroad Bank or Dr. James Puryear at MCG.

THE MCG CHAPTER OF SIGMA XI will hold its next meeting at noon Mon., Jan. 16, at Paine College. Dr. Wu Chieh Cheng, associate professor of physics, will give a presentation in chemistry research. Lunch will be available in the cafeteria and tours through the new Haygood Holsey will be conducted following the lecture.

A 5 DAY SMOKING WITHDRAWAL CLINIC at University Hospital will begin Jan. 9 at 7:30 p.m. The program is designed to help participants "kick the habit" by offering educational information and self-help tips. Participants are asked to plan to attend all five evening sessions. There is no charge for the seminar.

SPYROS DALIS (Political Science) will participate in a forum titled "Whither Thou Goest, Mr. Sadat, Mr. Begin?" at 8 p.m. Jan. 8 in the Slusky Assembly Hall of the Walton Way Temple. Also participating will be the Honorable Yuval Metser, Israel Senior Consul General of the Southeastern U.S. and Jim Davis of WJBF-TV. The three men will discuss the fast-changing implications of war and peace in the Middle East and questions from the audience will be welcomed. The public is invited.

A LUNCH HOUR LEARNING SERIES designed for business people is being sponsored by the Office of Continuing Education with the Chamber of Commerce of Greater Augusta in Jan. and February. Accounting I will start at 12:05 p.m. Jan. 9 and continue every Monday and Wednesday through Feb. 1. Communication Skills for Women will be held on Tuesdays and Thursdays from Jan. 10 to Feb. 2 at 12:05 p.m. Both courses will be held in the Chamber Conference Room. Participants are asked to bring their lunch with them.

THE AC FILM SERIES will get underway again Jan. 13 with Martin Scorsese's "Taxi Driver" starring Academy Award winning Robert DeNiro as a New York cabbie whose "intense aloneness" leads to compulsive violence. Showings will be at 6 and 8:15 p.m. in the PAT. Admission is free to students, faculty, and staff of AC and MCG. General admission is $1.50

OF SPECIAL INTEREST to those with basic typing and shorthand skills are two advanced courses offered by Continuing Education. Typing II and Shorthand II will be held for ten consecutive Tuesdays and Thursdays Jan. 10 through March 16 on campus. Typing will be held from 7-8:30 p.m. followed by shorthand from 8:30-10 p.m. Register by calling 828-3306.

FOR WEEK OF: Jan. 16 - Jan. 22, 1978 Written Wednesday, Jan. 11, 1978

The Student Union's International Food Festival, a winter quarter highlight, will take place 7 p.m. Friday, Jan. 27, in the College Activities Center. The Union will provide cheese, bread, wine, tea and coffee and the price of admission will be one covered dish, of foreign or American origin. Pianist Walter Hawkins will entertain. All former students are also invited to join in the festivities.

With the arrival of winter, surely Homecoming cannot be far behind. Both students and alumni are planning separate get-togethers, exhibits will be on display, three games will be played, a queen will be named for 1978, and a pep parade will be held. A reminder that Tuesday is the deadline for homecoming candidates to submit their signed petitions to the Student Activities Office. Voting will be held Jan. 30-31 in the Library and CAC, where photographs of the candidates will be on display. At the homecoming dance following the game, the band "Symbol 8" will play. The Maxwell Alumni House will be open from 3-4:30 p.m. for those arriving in town early; the Lady-Jags will face Piedmont College at 3:30 p.m.; the alumni basketball game will start at 5 p.m. and the homecoming game at 8 will pit the Jaguars against Columbus College. All former students are invited to a party following the game at the Maxwell Alumni House. And speaking of games, a pre-game warm-up for all alumni will be held Wednesday (Jan. 18) from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. at the Maxwell Alumni House. Plan to drop by and "warm up" before the Jaguars-Piedmont College game at 8.

THE DEAN'S OFFICE has announced that the faculty meeting scheduled for Jan. 18 has been cancelled.

A FACULTY RECITAL featuring Vola Jacobs on the piano and David Cedel on the cello will be held 3:30 p.m. Sunday (Jan. 22) in the Performing Arts Theatre. Selections will include Boccherini's Sonata #6 in A; Hindemith's Sonata For Cello and Piano; and, following an intermission, Chopin's Sonata for Piano and Cello.

RECRUITERS from Lily, a division of Owens Illinois, Inc. will be on campus Monday (Jan. 16) to interview accounting seniors to fill entry level positions. The highly acclaimed National Players will bring their version of Richard III to the stage of the Performing Arts Theatre as the quarter's first Lyceum Series event Monday, (January 30) at 2 and 8 p.m. The chronicle history is the story of one of Shakespeare's most popular arch villains. Richard is portrayed as a man of "Machiavellian schemings" who murders his way to the throne. His cunning wins him the wife of one of the men he has murdered and his "morbid machinations and misdeeds" give him violent control over a kingdom where sexual, military, and political power have become chaotically confused. The National Players bring with them the reputation of being one of the most respected touring repertory companies in the U.S. Their appearances here in the past have been marked by SRO performances. Admission to the event is $2.00 or free with current AC I.D.

The Office of Student Activities has announced that eleven young women have qualified as candidates for 1978 Homecoming Queen. They are Denise Hodgens, Julietta Hughes, Joyce Jackson, Barbara Johnson, Kathy McNitt, Debbie Murphy, Vanessa Peterson, Leigh Ann Puryear, Sandy Strength, Cathy Struble and Terri Thompson. The queen will be crowned in half-time ceremonies February 4 at the Homecoming Game which will pit the Jaguars against Columbus College. Voting will be held Jan. 30-31 in the Reese Library and the College Activities Center, where photographs of the women will be on display...A homecoming parade is being planned for noon Feb. 3 starting on campus and proceeding toward the downtown area. Every campus organization is asked to submit an entry. Floats, cars, and even bicycles may be entered. Plaques will be presented to the top three winners and a cash prize will go to the first place winner. Call Louis Navarro at 3414 or Student Activities at 3806.

Film Series movies this week are Truffaut's Day For Night (which won an academy award for Best Foreign Film) on Jan. 24 and the hilarious Uptown Saturday Night on Jan. 26. Showtimes are 6 & 8:15 p.m. in the Performing Arts Theatre. Students, faculty and staff are reminded that the AC Hourly Child Care Service is open for the 6 p.m. showing. Regular hours are 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. for children ages 1-5. Fifty cents an hour for the first child, seventy-five cents for two. FOR WEEK OF: Jan. 30 - Feb. 5, 1978

It's Homecoming week and spirits are riding high as both winning AC basketball teams ready for their February 4 contests on the AC courts. At press time, the Jaguars had just been ranked seventh in the nation in NCAA Division II play. The Lady Jags upped their record to an impressive 9-4 with a double overtime victory over the USC-Aiken Pacers... Student activities will begin with the parade Friday noon Feb. 3. After the games Saturday night, the Homecoming dance in the CAC will feature "Symbol 8," a musically diverse group who will play until 1 a.m. Admission to the dance is 50¢ and one AC I.D. per couple. Homecoming has always had special significance for alumni, who are planning their own basketball game at 5 p.m. Saturday, featuring former players of AC and the Junior College. Out of town alumni arriving early are invited to stop by the Maxwell Alumni House which opens at 3 p.m. and to the party following the game. Campus personnel are also invited to come by and see old friends.

Three major attractions in the AC Lyceum Series are coming up in the next few weeks. The National Players of Washington D.C. will stage their production of Richard III at 2 p.m. and again at 8 p.m. Monday, January 30, in the Performing Arts Theatre. Discount tickets to the matinee performance will be available to area school students. Following Shakespeare will be a musical theatre production by the National Theatre Company February 9 at 8 p.m. "Black Magic" celebrates the world of black entertainment during the 50's through the 70's. Then on February 17, Georgia State Senator Julian Bond, spokesman of the "New Politics," will make a guest appearance and lecture in the PAT. General admission to all events is $2.00, or free with current I.D. Active alumni receive a special discount.

CAREER DAY, a project sponsored by the Office of Career Planning and Placement, will be held from 9-2 Wednesday (Feb. 15) on the first floor of the College Activities Center. Placement counselor Rita Rutsohn said area employers representing business and industry, state and federal agencies and educational systems will be on hand to describe opportunities available in the job market. A 11:15 a.m. luncheon will be held in the AC Towers with President George A. Christenberry scheduled to speak. Copies of The Graduate, a magazine which describes job availabilities, will be distributed to interested students by the AC Alumni Association.

THE AUGUSTA OPPORTUNITIES INDUSTRIALIZATION CENTER (OIC) is sponsoring its second annual sweetheart ball 9 p.m. Feb. 17 at the Executive House Convention Center with entertainment by the Brown Ash Band. Donations are $6 per person and tickets may be obtained by calling 724-0542.

FILM SERIES MOVIES THIS WEEK are Casablanca, the 1943 classic starring Bogart and Bergman, Jan. 31 (Tues.) and The Conformist, directed by Bernardo Bertolucci of "Last Tango" fame on Feb. 2. Show times are 6 and 8:15 p.m. in the PAT.

A BENEFIT CONCERT to support a scholarship at AC will be presented at 3 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 19, in the PAT. Sponsored by the Rho Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, the concert will feature duo pianists Artemesia Thevaos and Lydia Porro and soprano Mary Ann Britt. Tickets are $3.00 and can be purchased at the door. The cost is tax deductible.

CAMPUS PERSONNEL are reminded of their invitation to attend a continental breakfast meeting of the Manufacturer's Council of the Greater Augusta Chamber of Commerce Tuesday (Jan. 31) at 7:45 a.m. at Trinity On-The-Hill Church fellowship hall. A live taping of a t.v. program about the college's Center for the Study of Private Enterprise will follow breakfast. The program will offer a means of finding out more about the Center and its services. President Christenberry has asked personnel to respond to his office if interested in attending.

JOB NEWS FOR STUDENTS-----
The Office of Career Planning and Placement has announced that United Parcel Service (UPS) will come to campus to interview for part-time positions if enough students show an interest. These jobs offer a $5.47 HOURLY WAGE. Interested persons should sign up at the Placement office right away.

FOR WEEK OF: Feb. 13 - Feb. 19, 1978

Written Wednesday, Feb. 8, 1978

The Black Student Union has announced plans for a campus-wide celebration of Black History Week beginning Monday, February 13, and continuing through Friday. A roster of speakers, one each day, will lecture at noon in meeting room 2 of the College Activities Center. The schedule includes Ed McIntyre, county commissioner, on Monday; Joseph Green, first president of the BSU, on Tuesday; a special guest on Wednesday; Charles Walker, director of the Human Relations Commission, Thursday; and Geneva Stallings, coordinator of Title I remedial reading and math program, Friday. Also on the agenda is the festival "Changing Times" Monday night at 8 p.m. in the PAT. The program will include creative dancing, poetry reading, singing, dramatic presentations, and a fashion show. Admission is free with a valid I.D. and $1.00 for the public. Culminating the week's activities will be the Lyceum Series appearance of Ga. State Senator Julian Bond at 8 p.m. Fri. Feb. 17 in the PAT. General admission for the event is $2.00. Reigning as queen and official hostess for Black History Week will be Annetta Mackie, a sophomore nursing major who was elected by the BSU.

Denise Hodgens, a senior accounting major, was crowned Homecoming Queen by Pres. George A. Christenberry during halftime ceremonies at the Homecoming game last Saturday night. Teena Cunningham, last year's queen, presented Denise a bouquet of roses and John Trulock gave her a silver picture frame on behalf of the Alumni Association. Vanessa Peterson was first runner-up in the competition and Cathy Struble was second runner-up. Also during the ceremonies a $25.00 check went to the Student Nurses' Assn. for first place entry in the Homecoming parade. The Drama Club won second place and the Black Student Union and the Modern Dance Club tied for third.

DEPT. OF MATH AND COMPUTER SCIENCE members are gearing up for the fourth annual AC Mathematics Contest to be held on campus March 6. Richmond Academy will co-sponsor the competition which draws math students from throughout the CSRA. The tournament consists of a morning written exam and an afternoon quick-answer session. Entrance forms are available from the department, according to Dr. Fred Maynard, contest coordinator. Plaques, trophies, and medallions will be awarded to winners in both team and individual competition.

AC STUDENTS ARE INVITED to a Health Careers "Tour and See Day" at the Medical College of Ga. Sat., Feb. 25. Sponsored by local medical auxiliary clubs, the program will acquaint students with various career opportunities available in allied health fields. It will begin at 8:15 a.m. in the MCG student center and will include rotating visits to ten hospital areas. Lunch is included for $1.35 and will allow students time to ask questions after the tour. Interested persons should sign up at the Counseling Center in Bellevue Hall. Deadline is Feb. 15.

ENGLISH MAJORS and all who have taken English courses are invited to the English Club meeting 1-2 p.m. Feb. 14, Room 3 of the CAC. The new club is organizing to provide interested students an opportunity to exchange ideas.

THE MILITARY SCIENCE DEPT. has invited two Maylasian army officers who are studying at Ft. Gordon to speak at noon Fri., Feb. 17 in the lecture room of Butler Hall. Capt. Peng Yew Kee and Maj. Ahmad Khalit will discuss the Maylasian army and the balance of power in Southeast Asia. Everyone is invited.

DUE TO THE LENGTH of the Film Series feature Lawrence of Arabia, there has been a change in show times. It can be seen at 3 p.m. and at 8:15 p.m. Wed. Feb. 15.

THE DEPT. OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION hosted the annual meeting of the Ga. Assn. of Accounting Instructors at the Thunderbird Inn last week. Dr. Otha L. Gray, chairman of the dept., delivered the welcoming address.

Written Wednesday, Feb. 22, 1978

The Cullum Third World Culture Program on Brazill will highlight the spring quarter calendar beginning March 28 with the opening session at 8 p.m. in Butler Hall. The program is available to students for credit in various disciplines, and the films and lectures are open free to the community. As a prelude to the three-month program, a Brazilian art show will open this month in the Reese Library and will include photographic examples of Brazilian Baroque architecture and a collection of prints and drawings by modern Brazilian artists. Seven experts on 20th century Brazil have been invited to campus as Cullum Visiting Scholars to lecture here weekly and films will be shown on Thursdays throughout the March-to-May series. Pre-registration for spring quarter courses, including the Third World Program, will be held Feb. 20 - 24.

The Student Union is sponsoring a concert at 8 p.m. Fri., Feb. 24, featuring Darryl Rhoades and the HaHavishnu Orchestra. The 12 piece rock band is well known for its outrageous parodies of nearly every genre of pop music-- from rock and top 40's to country western and blues. Their satire focuses on such superstars as Kiss, Greg Allman, Johnny Cash, and Helen Reddy. Back-up band for the concert will be "Bandit," an Atlanta-based country rock group who performs often with Rhoades' act. Admission is free with valid I.D., $1 for other college students, and $2 for the public. Tickets can be purchased at the box office the night of the performance.

THE AC BAND, under the direction of John Scott, will perform in concert at 8:30 p.m. Wed., Feb. 22, in the PAT. The program will include works by Sousa, Wagner, Vaughn-Williams, Gershwin, and Osser. An unusual feature will be "Notturmo for Turkish Band," written by Spohr in 1820. Admission is free.

THE UNIVERSITY CIVIC SYMPHONY Orchestra of the University of Ga. in Athens will perform in concert at 8 p.m. Tues., Feb. 28, in the PAT. The orchestra is directed by Thomas Weaver, well known to local audiences as concertmaster of the Augusta Symphony. The concert is free and open to the public.

STUDENTS ARE NEEDED TO WORK the concession stands at the Master's Golf Tournament April 3-9. Hours will be 8 a.m. - 6 p.m. at minimum wage. Inquire at the Placement Office, 2nd floor of the CAC, for further details.

AC HAS SET MARCH 17 as a second audition date for the Robert J. and Annie V. Maxwell and the Craig-Rockholt music scholarships for incoming freshmen. The additional auditions are offered to accomodate students unable to attend try-outs on Feb. 18. For further information and application forms, contact John Scott in the Fine Arts Dept., 828-3211.

A CAREER OPPORTUNITY FAIR sponsored by MCG will be held 3-6:30 p.m. Tues., Feb. 28 in the MCG student center. Hospital, army, and navy recruiters will be available to discuss current job opportunities and trends. AC students, particularly nursing, science, and allied health majors, are invited. If you are interested in interviews with specific groups, contact Buddy Martin, Placement Office, Residence II, ext. 3471.

THE PERSONNEL OFFICE has new Group Health Program booklets available for members of the AC Blue Cross and Blue Shield plans. The booklets explain coverages, claim procedures, and contract exclusions. If you would like one mailed to you, call the office at 828-3127.

A BENEFIT CONCERT to support a scholarship at AC will be presented at 3 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 19 in the PAT. Sponsored by the Rho Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, the concert will feature duo pianists Artemesia Thevaos and Lydia Porro and soprano Mary Ann Britt. Tickets are $3.00 and can be purchased at the door. The cost is tax deductible.

NOBEL PRIZE WINNER DR. ARTHUR KORNBERG, one of America's outstanding researchers in biochemistry, will be the first lecturer in the Medical College of Ga.'s Sesquicentennial lecture series. His address, "DNA in Biology, Medicine, and Society," will begin at 3 p.m. in the large auditorium at MCG.

07 FOR WEEK OF: Feb. 27 - March 5, 1978

Written Wednesday, Feb. 22, 1978

The Augusta College Theatre will stage its production of Cole Porter's musical comedy Anything Goes 2 p.m. Sunday (March 5) and at 8 p.m. March 6, 7, and 8 in the PAT. The play is a farcical story about gangsters on the lam and mismatched lovers. Stirring up the social scene on board the England bound "America" is an evangelist and night-club entertainer, Reno Sweeney, and her four Angels. She and Moonface Martin, public enemy #13, help Billy Crocker to win Hope Harcourt from Sir Evelyn Oakley, the English peer her mother has picked out for her. Before Hope and Billy can get together, though, hilarious confusion reigns. Such famous Porter songs as Friendship, I Get A Kick Out of You, Anything Goes, and Blow, Gabriel, Blow are featured. Cast members include Dale Lam, Jim Stovall, Charles Livingston, Misha Fogle, Arthur Wilson, Ellen Prather, Ruthie Shuford, Debbie Nelson, Ella Reischer, Susan Plunkett, Lynne Jones, Rob Walker, Curtis Adams, Michael Angel, Tommy Chappelle, Michael Bethune, Eugene Hightower, Andy Long, Mark Pritchard, Bruce Purvis, Johnny Walsh, Larry Weintz, Joe Downs, Joe Clement, Paula Findly, Sue Giambalvo, Betsy Gilmer, Mary Goodspeed, Jeannie Huber, Mary Ann Reeves, Melissa Allen, and dancers from the Augusta West Dance Studio. Direction is by Duncan Smith, musical direction by James Russey, choreography by Arthur Asbell and the setting by Richard Frank. Tickets are $2 general; $1.50 for non-AC students, free for military, senior citizens and retired personnel. AC ID holders will be admitted free.

The University Civic Symphony Orchestra of the University of Ga. will perform in concert 8 p.m. Tuesday (Feb. 28) in the PAT. The Symphony is a full 70-piece orchestra and is under the direction of Thomas Weaver, concertmaster of the Augusta Symphony. The program for the concert will include Schubert's delicately orchestrated "Symphony No. 5 in B-Flat Major," Sibelius popular "Finlandia," and Liszt's "Piano Concerto No. 1 in E-Flat Major," featuring soloist Carlos Kussrow-Corma. Admission is free.

THE PLACEMENT OFFICE reports that the PACE exam (a U.S. Civil Service qualifying exam for 120 entry level federal positions GS-5 to GS-7) will be given in April for the last time this year. To be eligible, a student must be within nine months of receiving a degree and must call Atlanta before the Feb. 28 deadline. The toll free number is 1-800-282-1670.

ANYONE INTERESTED in an interview with the Peace Corps or Vista representatives on March 9 can contact the Placement Office for literature.

APPLICATIONS ARE NOW BEING ACCEPTED for the Grover B. Williams Mathematics Scholarship for the 1978-79 academic year. Math majors may pick up applications at the Dept. of Math and Computer Science or the Financial Aid Office before the April 30 deadline.

AN EXHIBITION AND SALE of original and oriental art will be held 10 to 5 Monday (March 6) in the lobby of the Fine Arts Center. An outstanding selection of antique woodblock prints, plus original etchings, woodcuts and lithographs by contemporary oriental printmakers will be on exhibit.

THE MANAGER of the counseling division of the Teachers Retirement System will be on campus March 8 for individual counseling sessions and a talk at the faculty meeting. He will offer an explanation of the benefit program and information on recent retirement legislation. He will answer questions about vested rights, establishment of retirement credit for out-of-state service and others you may have. Individual sessions will be scheduled every 15 minutes from 10:30 a.m. to 11:45 a.m. and from 1:15 p.m. through 2:30 p.m. in the conference room, across from the Personnel Office (Fanning Hall). Call Personnel (3127) to make an appointment. A limited supply of "TRS Facts, A Member's Guide to the Teachers Retirement System of Georgia" are also available by calling Personnel.

THE CAMPUS was the site last week-end of the East Central Regional Conference of the Georgia Council of Teachers of Mathematics hosted by the Dept. of Mathematics and Computer Science. Program coordinator was Dr. Fred Maynard.

FOR WEEK OF: March 6 - March 12, 1978

Written Wednesday, March 1, 1978

Members of the Augusta College Student Art Association are busy this week preparing the Brazilian Art Show to be displayed in the Reese Library beginning this month. The show is part of the spring quarter Cullum Third World Culture program on Brazil. Featured in the display will be photographs by art historian and visual arts scholar Clarival Do Prado Valladares depicting details of Minerian Baroque painting, sculpture and architecture. In addition, a series of prints including serigraphs, lithographs, and etchings by modern Brazilian artists are being mounted by the students for display. The exhibit is sponsored by the Brazilian-American Cultural Institute under the auspices of the Ambassador of Brazil and Mrs. Araujo Castro.

Applications are now being accepted for two Richard Timothy Mixon Scholarships for the academic year 1978-79. Applicants must be full time students seeking graduation from AC as either chemistry or pre-med majors, and must have attained sophomore standing. The awards are in memory of the late Richard Timothy Mixon, a 1972 chemistry graduate. Applications are available from the Dept. of Chemistry and Physics and must be completed by July 1.

ACTION REPRESENTATIVES Terri Wiggins and Charles Fuller will be interviewing senior students interested in joining the Peace Corps or Vista all day on March 9. Interviews will begin at 8:45 a.m. and the Placement Office must be contacted ahead of time to schedule an appointment.

A U.S. ARMY RECRUITING TEAM from Columbia, S.C. will be on campus Wed., March 8, in the main lobby of the CAC to interview interested students. Interview times are from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m.

THE COLE PORTER MUSICAL "Anything Goes" will be staged by the AC Theatre 2 p.m. Sunday, March 5, and Monday through Wednesday (March 6-8) at 8 p.m. in the PAT. Students with a valid ID will be admitted free. General admission, $2; non-AC students, $1.50.

THE OFFICE OF STUDENT ACTIVITIES reminds interested students that the sign-up period for Student Senate elections is in effect through March 31 with elections scheduled for April 25-26. Persons interested in representing their department or filling the SGA slots of president, vice president, secretary and treasurer are asked to come by the office. Alice de Saavedra has signed up for the position of SGA president thus becoming the first woman to run for the post.

PRE-PAID AND PRE-REGISTERED STUDENTS may get their ID's validated March 23-24 at the Student Activities Office or the Library. Students are also reminded that they MAY NOT have their ID's validated on registration day March 27.

William S. Doxey, professor of English at West Georgia State College, will visit campus this week as an exchange scholar in the Ga. Consortium Exchange program. His two-day stay at AC will include meetings and conferences with creative writing, science fiction, and freshman English classes. In addition, he will give a public reading from his collection of poems titled "The Good Ol' Girl" at 8 p.m. Wednesday, April 12 in the lecture room of Butler Hall. At noon April 13 he will give an informal lecture tentatively and intriguingly titled "Love, Violence, and Life After Death." Doxey has had poems and articles published in professional journals as well as mainstream and science fiction in popular magazines. Everyone is invited to his lectures.

The AC Department of Fine Arts will present "The A.C. Pops" in concert at 8:30 p.m. Monday, April 10, in the PAT. The program will feature selections by Simon and Garfunkel, Mac Davis, John Lennon, Gordon Lightfoot, and other popular entertainers. Admission is free.

The AC Student Union will sponsor an afternoon concert featuring "Overland Express" at 3 p.m. Sunday, April 16, in the Performing Arts Theatre. Admission is free with a valid I.D., $1.00 for other college students, and $2.00 general. Tickets can be purchased at the door.

THE DEADLINE for submitting manuscripts and samples of work to the Sandhills Writers' Workshop and Writing Conference has been extended to April 10, according to conference director Charles L. Willig. Dr. Willig reminds everyone that the conference will be held April 20-22 on campus and is open to everyone interested in writing. A staff of four professional writers will conduct sessions and consult individually with those who request a conference. For further information, contact the Office of Continuing Education, 828-3306.

STUDENTS WHO PLAN to do their student teaching during fall quarter of 1978 or winter quarter of '79 are urged to apply immediately. Contact Dr. Frank Tubbs in the Education Dept.

STUDENTS MAJORING IN PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION and all other interested persons are asked to meet with Dr. Ralph Walker at noon Thursday, April 13, in topic room 3 of the CAC.

THE AUGUSTA FOOD CO-OP will sponsor a benefit concert at 8 p.m. at the Julian Smith Barbecue Pit Monday, April 17. Music will be provided by several groups, including the John Doe Jazz Band and Bill Dooley. The AC Modern Dance Club will be on hand to give a modern dance presentation. Refreshments will be available. Tickets are $2.00 in advance and $3.00 at the door.

DR. THOMAS E. SKIDMORE, professor of history at the University of Wisconsin, is this week's guest speaker in the Cullum Third World Culture Program on Brazil. His topic at noon April 11 will be "Conflicting Trends in Brazilian Political History to 1964," and at 8 p.m. "Brazil: Developments Since 1964," both in the lecture room of Butler Hall. Dr. Skidmore has authored several books on Brazil (including An Experiment in Democracy and Black Into White: Race and Nationality in Brazilian Thought) and more than a score of scholarly articles.

AC STUDENT TINA JORDAN is one of two students to receive a $500 scholarship from the 10th District Nurses Assn. She will receive her award at this week's meeting.

INTERNATIONALLY known pocket billiard and trick-shot artist Jack White will return to campus by popular demand Tuesday, April 11 in free exhibitions at noon and 7:30 p.m. in the College Activities Center. White has been featured in numerous magazines and on top television shows and has played throughout the U.S. and in foreign countries. He has played billiards with Jacqueline Kennedy Onassis, Racquel Welch and other well-known personalities.

A NUMBER OF FACULTY MEMBERS in the Department of Languages and Literature

Department have spent the last several days judging nearly two hundred entries in various contests of the J. B. White Literary Competition. Judges for the junior high school contests include: poetry: Ken Jackson, Beth Fanning, Charles Freeman; story: Marya Dubose, Mark Lloyd, Briscoe Merry. Judges for the senior high school contests include: poetry: Carol Williams, Charles Willig, Heidi Atkins; story: Peggy Ynce, Bonnie Devett, Walter Evans. Judges for both senior and junior high school essay contests are William Johnson, Jim Smith, and Rosemary Depalo. Prizes to be awarded April 17 will include $200 scholarships to first prize winners in each of the high school contests.

Joseph F. Mele, Augusta College's comptroller and dean for business and finance, will join the administrative staff in mid-August, according to John L. McNeal, dean of college relations. Mele was the unanimous choice of the search committee appointed in April and was approved last week by the Board of Regents upon President George A. Christenberry's recommendation. In his new position, he will be directly responsible to the president for all fiscal and physical assets of the college, and will develop and administer the college budget. Mele comes to Augusta College from Bradley University in Peoria, Illinois, where he served as vice-president for Business Affairs. The 44 year-old native of Troy, N.Y., earned the B.S. degree in accounting at Russell Sage College there and the master's degree in educational administration from Bradley. Since joining Bradley in 1964, he had served in several capacities including assistant to the treasurer and controller.

The Student Union has announced plans for another "Super Sunday" July 30 at the AC Clark Hill Recreation area. Students, faculty and staff are invited to bring their families for a day of swimming and sunning. Hot dogs and potato chips will be served at the popular event, which has been well attended in the past. Directions to the Clark Hill site can be obtained from the Office of Student Activities, second floor, College Activities Center.

A pre-fall orientation and registration program for entering freshmen and transfer students will be held Friday July 21 in the Performing Arts Theatre, according to Associate Dean of Students Roscoe Williams. The day will begin with a reception by the Student Government Assn. at 9 a.m., followed by a How to Study session and campus tour at 10 a.m. Individual advising sessions will take place at 11 a.m., followed by lunch, courtesy of SGA, at noon. Afternoon activities include welcoming remarks from college officials, a tour of the library, a special studies session, then registration from 2-4:30 p.m.

THE PLACEMENT OFFICE has announced that Milliken and Co. (textile manufacturing and marketing) will recruit on campus Wed., July 26. The representative will interview AC graduates from all degree areas. The company is seeking trainees in production management who are highly competitive and aggressive. If interested in scheduling an appointment, call the office at 828-2045.

RICHARD A. BURGLAND, son of Mrs. G.B. Jones, has been selected to receive a one-year scholarship in the ROTC program. The scholarship is funded by the Ft. Gordon Officer's Wives Club. Augusta College has received a Title 6-A Category 1 matching grant of $14,897 from HEW, according to Dr. John Presley, who wrote the proposal. The money will be used to purchase instructional equipment for several departments, he said. The Biology Department will get a $5,000 machine called a physiograph to use in teaching diagnostic techniques in anatomy and physiology classes. The School of Education will receive two batches of equipment. The first is a series of film strips, slides and movies on communication and group dynamics. The second, called "Bells, Bottles, and Boats," is a collection of items designed to aid prospective elementary science school teachers teach concepts like volume, density and mass. The Special Studies Department will receive learning resource equipment in the form of programable calculators to use as a substitute for the Math 097 course. The calculators have the capability of generating exercises for review work and of keeping total and average scores. Presley said that the purchases will be made before the start of fall quarter.

The Greater Augusta Arts Council (GAAC) has announced plans to produce a Salute to the Performing Arts Groups in the CSRA August 3-7 at the new Augusta Mall. The Salute will begin with a performance at 1 p.m. Thursday, Aug. 3, by the Fort Gordon 434th Army Band and will feature over 30 performing arts groups on two stages at 15 minute intervals until 9 p.m. The schedule is the same for the following days, with the exception of Sunday, Aug. 6, when performing hours will be 12:30-5:30 p.m. Groups and individual performers in the festivities will participate in a wide range of activities including opera, bluegrass, ballet, clogging, symphony, jazz, drama, puppet theaters, barbershop singing, square dancing, gymnastics, and much more. In conjunction with the Salute, the City of Augusta and the County Commission have proclaimed the entire week "The GAAC's Salute to the Performing Arts Week."

TWO NEWCOMERS to campus are currently being welcomed by the Office of Public Information. Marian and Joe Cheek are the proud parents of a baby girl born at 2:50 p.m. July 18 at University Hospital. "Little" Miss Cheek weighed 8 lbs. 12 oz. at birth. While waiting for her arrival, Marian edited a new employee newspaper, tentatively titled AC Campus Currents. The first issue also made its appearance last week, and is available in the Public Information Office, Rains Hall.

THE NURSING DEPARTMENT received word recently that the National League for Nursing has granted continuing accreditation to the AC nursing program for a full eight-year period. Over 25 staff and faculty members attended the organizational meeting of the AC Golf Association meeting last week in the CAC. The original purpose of the meeting was to form a group whose common interest was golf outings and ideas for use of the Armed Forces Golf Course; however, a suggestion was made and it was agreed that concerns of the organization could be broadened to appeal to those interested in other recreational activities like jogging, tennis, swimming, fishing, etc. In order to determine the extent of interest in a Recreational Association, a committee was formed to take a campus poll. Chairman Roscoe Williams said that the committee will report the results to the faculty at the August meeting, at which time the next meeting will be announced. Interested faculty and staff are asked to return their comments to the committee by August 4.

The Friends of the Richmond County Schools will sponsor a presentation and discussion of needs of Richmond County Schools and the importance of the school bond issue at 7:30 p.m. Monday, July 31, in the lecture room of Butler Hall. Anyone interested in the effect of the school bond issue on the community is invited.

THIS YEAR'S FILM SERIES, which starts fall quarter, promises to be one of the best ever. Dr. Charles Willig has released a partial list of movies to be shown offering something for everyone and ranging from comedy like "Love and Death," "Monty Python and the Holy Grail," "Tom Jones," and "The Ruling Class" to classics like "Casablanca" (back again by popular demand). Of special interest are two by Wertmueller, "Seven Beauties" and "Love and Anarchy," Truffaut's "Stolen Kisses," and surprise successes like "Rocky," "Hester Street," and "Coming Home." Rounding out the list will be James Bond movies and specials for children: "Bambi," "Dumbo," and "Charlotte's Web." The series begins Sept. 22 with "Gone With the Wind."

WHY NOT DISCOVER the glory that is Greece when you make your travel plans this Thanksgiving? A Center for Public Policy containing documents on major public policy issues has been established in the Reese Library and is available for use by faculty, staff, and students at Augusta College. C. Willard Huggins, director of the Center for the Study of Private Enterprise which was instrumental in obtaining the collection, said it was donated by the American Enterprise Institute (AEI) for Public Policy Research. It contains over 500 publications covering a wide range of opinions by acknowledged authorities on topics like economics, energy, foreign affairs, government, defense policy, health, and law and legislation. In addition, the center also offers 71 cassettes of AEI's television series "Public Policy Forum," Huggins said, making the center an excellent source for study and research.

The last day to file applications for new admissions to AC for fall quarter is Friday, August 18. Orientation and registration will be held September 13 and classes will begin September 18.

The Augusta College Community welcomes new Admissions Counselor Bart Snead, a familiar face to many on campus. Bart graduated from AC in 1975 with a B.A. degree in Psychology after having served as president of SGA that year. Before joining the Admissions staff, he attended the University of Northern Iowa for two years where he did graduate work.

OVER 600 STUDENTS will participate in a special program fall quarter on "Identity and Change," according to Dr. Creighton Peden. The program, like this year's Lyceum Series and Cullum Series, will focus on living in a changing world. It will feature a series of speakers and entertainers each week beginning September 26 with the appearance of John Donlan, a mime who will perform at noon and at 8 p.m. in the PAT.

THE AC FILM SERIES will show "Leadbelly" at 6 and 8:15 p.m. Tuesday, August 8 in the PAT.

THE FT. GORDON FILM SERIES will feature "Miracle in Milan" by Vittorio de Sica at 8 p.m. August 12 in the Performing Arts Center at Ft. Gordon.

CASH FOR BOOKS will be given by a used book salesman who will be in the AC Book Store 8 a.m. - 4 p.m. August 15 and 16. Manager Mary Bailey has announced the following schedule for the Book Store during quarter break:

August 17th through September 15th:
Monday - Thursday	7:45 a.m. - 4:15 p.m.
Friday	7:45 a.m. - 3:15 p.m.

A QUARTERLY REPORT from the Special Studies Department to the Board of Regents shows encouraging results from last (spring) quarter. Of the total no. of students in the program, 46 completed their final Special Studies requirements. In addition, 23 of the seniors who graduated in June were students who took Special Studies courses.

ANNOUNCEMENTS from the Office of Career Planning and Placement: Are you interested in working for the Dept. of State, Agency for International Development? Until Sept. 29, the agency will accept applications for its next intern class for winter, 1979/80. The intern program is a two-year career program which leads to positions in the developing countries of Asia, Africa, Latin America, and the Near East. The typical intern holds a graduate degree in agriculture, economics, engineering, business administration, public health, nutrition, or education administration. Candidates with an undergraduate degree in accounting with at least one year of professional experience are also eligible. Salaries for beginning appointments range from $12,330 - $17,300. More information is available in the Placement Office.

The Placement Office would like to identify students who are interested in accepting temporary work assignments as typists, tutors (all areas), babysitters, movers, yard caretakers, etc. The office has many such temporary job requests from time to time which go unfilled because of most students' interest in permanent jobs. Anyone who would like to be listed on an "on call" basis for temporary work should stop by the office to sign up.

FOR WEEK OF: August 14 - August 20, 1978 Written Wednesday, August 9, 1978

A total of 138 candidates for graduation were approved at last week's faculty meeting, and it was announced that summer commencement exercises will take place at 8 p.m. Friday, August 18, in the PAT. Of the 138, 40 will receive master's degrees, 39 bachelor of arts, 33 bachelor of business administration, 12 bachelor of science, two bachelor of science in education, two bachelor of music, and one bachelor of fine arts. In addition, nine associate degrees will be awarded. Dr. Geraldine Hargrove, dean of the School of Education, was selected by the graduates to deliver the address. This is the fifth year that seniors have been asked by the Dean of Students to choose a speaker from among the ranks of faculty. Others chosen were Dr. Edward J. Cashin, Dr. Jean A. Morse, Dr. Otha L. Gray, and Dr. Frank H. Chou.

Following graduation practice at 10 a.m. Friday, August 18, in the PAT, the Alumni Association will have a party for all graduating seniors. The "Taste of the Good Life" celebration will be held on the lawn of the Maxwell Alumni House.

THE AC ALUMNI ASSN. EXECUTIVE BOARD, newly enlarged to 48 members, held its first meeting recently with new president Jimmy Walker presiding. The biggest announcement made was that the association met its intended goal of $36,400 for last year and raised the $10,000 in new money to match the challenge gift offered by the Pamplins. In addition to reports from all seven vice-presidents, the board heard Jack McNeal, dean of College Relations, who commended the association on its fund raising efforts. Nancy Solomon-Stuntz, vice-president for social activities, announced plans for the Christmas Party Dec. 16, Homecoming Feb. 3, and the annual dinner meeting in the spring. Bill Dunn, vice-president for development, reported that the annual fund drive will begin Sept. 1. A social hour in the Maxwell Alumni House followed the meeting.

AC PEOPLE WILL RECEIVE A REDUCTION in rates at the Armed Forces Golf Course when the college assumes control of it, according to President George Christenberry. He told faculty members at their meeting that at the initial meeting of the Augusta College Athletic Assn. it was decided that students will only have to pay 50% of greens fees and faculty and staff 75%.

IS CO-OPERATIVE EDUCATION FOR YOU?

Co-operative education is an educational program which combines periods of full-time academic study on campus with periods of full-time, supervised employment in career related assignments. The practical experience in cooperative education is usually in the form of paid employment in industrial, business, government, or service work situations.

Augusta College currently has three students involved in a co-op program with the Internal Revenue Service, and it was recently learned that additional co-op positions will be available for Internal Revenue Agent (accounting majors only) and Revenue Officer (any major) beginning as early as September 1.

Students interested in applying for the IRS co-op assignments or for other co-op experiences as developed, should contact

Rita Rutsohn, Career Planning and Placement Office. Co-op candidates must be classified as sophomores, and all students are encouraged to apply.

At the first meeting of the Augusta College Recreation Association, formally the Augusta College Golf Association a suggestion was made that the group include other sports beside golf. A committee was formed to poll all members of the faculty and staff to see if this idea had any validity. According to Dr. John Black, who served on the committee which conducted the poll, there were 70 responses to the questionnaires. The areas of highest interest were golf and tennis followed by swimming, jogging and fishing. Coordinators will contact each person who showed an interest in participating. They hope to have activities scheduled for the pre-fall workshops.

Written Wednesday September 20, 1978

The Augusta College Lyceum Series will present its first event of the season when mime John Donlon of the North Carolina School of the Performing Arts appears at 8 p.m., Tuesday, Sept. 26 in the Performing Arts Theatre. Donlon's act, "Commodore Eggerton," combines classical pantomime, illusion, and circus techniques to tell the story of an eccentric retired naval officer who introduces a kaleidoscope of entertainment--from light and humorous to provocative and unusual. Donlon's appearance also opens this fall's identity and change program. In conjunction with it, he will conduct a mime workshop/lecture/demonstration at noon in the PAT. The midday performance is free to interested persons, and the evening show is free to faculty, staff, and students, $2.00 general admission.

The AC Political Science Club will sponsor a political forum with mayoral candidates Newman, Taylor, and Hamilton at noon on Oct. 4 in the lecture room of Butler Hall. All interested persons are invited.

The School of Business Administration and the Center for the Study of Private Enterprise are co-sponsoring a Certified Public Accountant review program on selected Thursday evenings, Saturday mornings, and Sunday afternoons through Oct. 22. The program covers topics like auditing, accounting, theory, business law, accounting practice, and federal income taxation and is designed to aid candidates for the CPA exam to be offered in November. In addition, it offers Continuing Professional Education credits to certified practitioners. Each section of the program is independent of the others, allowing applicants to enroll in any or all of them. For further information, call David Duncan, 828-3566.

TESTING DIRECTOR JULIAN HEYMAN reminds seniors that the deadlines to submit applications to the Testing Center for the National Teacher Exams are Oct. 1, January 1, and June 1 for tests to be given in November, February, and July. Language area exams will be offered only on the Nov. and Feb. test dates. AC will pay the cost of these tests if applicants sign up at the appropriate time. Anyone who registers and fails to report for the test will be charged a penalty fee to defray the extra expense to the college.

ROTC CADETS Keith Gallagher and Harry Bloomer were recently commissioned as Second Lieutenants, USAR, in ceremonies in the Military Science Dept., with Major Clark D. Gilbertson, officer in charge, administering the oath of office. Lt. Gallagher will be assigned to Ft. Sam Houston, Tex. for medical support training before reporting to Ft. Bragg, N.C. for his first duty assignment. Lt. Bloomer will be assigned to Ft. Bliss, Tex. for training as an air defense artillery officer.

A BAKE SALE will be held in the snack bar of Butler Hall from 8 - 11 a.m. Friday, Sept. 29. The Student Assn. of Educators is sponsoring it.

AN ENERGY SEMINAR sponsored by the AC Dept. of Chemistry & Physics will be held on campus throughout fall quarter, according to Dr. Floyd O'Neal. Titled "The Pros and Cons of Nuclear Power," the program will be conducted from noon-1 p.m. each Thursday beginning Sept. 28 in the lecture room of Butler Hall. Thursday's speaker will be Dr. Ron Ezell, who will give the introductory lecture on "The Nucleus of the Atom and Its Structure." Future programs will center on the operation of nuclear power plants, wastes, and refuelling on Oct. 5; nuclear reactors (conventional and breeder), Oct. 12; waste disposal, Oct. 19; and future energy supplies, Oct. 26. Everyone is invited.

STUDENTS ARE REMINDED that Financial Aid has moved to the second floor, Payne Hall.

DON'T FORGET TO VOTE! The School Bond Referendum is Tuesday, Sept. 26.

THE FRENCH, ENGLISH AND DRAMA Clubs are jointly sponsoring a reading in the Chateau at 7:30 p.m. Sun., Sept. 24. Everyone is invited.

A FREE ICE CREAM PARTY for students sponsored by the Student Union is scheduled for 3:30 p.m. Wed., Sept. 27, in the CAC.

THE NUTSHELL MAGAZINE is now available to students, compliments of the AC Alumni Assn. The magazine's cover story is a photographic chronicle of the years 1969 - 1978, highlighting fads and trends of that decade in the life of American college students. Other articles include a report on the oversupply of new Ph.D.'s, a look at the "lecture business," an inside view of campus radio stations, a guide to buying and owning a moped, and a preview of issues which will affect students in the coming year. Assn. Director Nopi Barnard has announced that free copies of the magazine can be picked up at the Reese Library, the Admissions Office, Financial Aid, Student Activities, and Public Information.

THE CENTER for the Study of Private Enterprise is sponsoring a lecture series on American Business and the Private Enterprise System beginning Oct. 4 at 10:30 a.m. The first featured speaker is Robert P. Keim, president of the Ad Council. His talk, "Is Anybody Learning?" will examine the interface of business and communications as well as the mutual responsibilities and support necessary between the communications industry, American business, and educational communities. His lecture in the Butler Hall lecture room. To reserve seating, call the center at 828-4993.

Written Wednesday September 27, 1978

A symposium on "The Quality of Life in the 21st Century" will take place Oct. 12 and 13, sponsored by AC, MCG, Paine College and the CSRA Community Symposium. An outstanding group of speakers and panelists will convene for the seminar, which will focus on issues of economics, health care, ethics, and morality as they affect our lives in the near future. The two-day event will open with an evening dinner session at 6 p.m. Oct. 12 in the Grove Room of the Augusta Hilton and continue the next day in the Performing Arts Theatre here on campus. Keynote speaker for the dinner will be Dr. Willard Gaylin, president of the Institute of Society, Ethics, and the Life Sciences (Hastings Center) in New York. In addition to his work there, Dr. Gaylin is clinical professor of psychiatry at the Columbia Psychoanalytic School and adjunct professor of psychiatry and law at the Columbia University School of Law. He will also address the opening meeting of the day session Oct. 13, followed by Dr. Russell Moores, professor of humanities and medicine and associate dean for special programs at MCG. Dr. Michael Mescon, Regent's professor of human relations and chairman of the Department of Management of Ga. State University, will give the afternoon talk. Panel members for the seminar are: Dr. Edward Cashin and Dr. Creighton Peden of AC, and Dr. Vivian Robinson, Dr. Frank Sisy, Dr. A. Ali Syed, and Roger Williams of Paine College. The dinner session is $7.00 per person, and the day session is free. For further information, call Continuing Education, 828-4611.

Ever heard of collagraphy? It isn't the art of hand lettering (that's calligraphy), though it is an art. Collagraphy is a relatively new area of printmaking which uses the collage process to produce multiple images from common materials. Some samples of it will be on display in the Performing Arts Theatre beginning Oct. 5 when the Student Art Association sponsors an exhibit of the works of Conrad Ross, associate professor of art at Auburn University. Ross earned his B.F.A. from the University of Illinois in painting and his M.F.A. in printmaking from the University of Iowa. He has taught drawing and printmaking at Kansas University, and drawing and design at Louisiana Polytechnic Institute. His prints and drawings have been exhibited extensively over the past 20 years, and have received over 25 top awards and prizes. He is a member of the Southeastern Graphics Council and is listed in Who's Who in American Art. (Anyone who is interested in collagraphy should call the Office of Continuing Education, which offers a course in it each quarter).

MIKE WILLIAMS, the singer/guitarist from Austin, Texas, whose concert at AC last year was a tremendous success, will be back by popular demand this week. His act, in which he mixes humor, exceptional talent on the twelve-string and a bass-baritone voice, is scheduled for 8 p.m. Oct. 6 in the Performing Arts Theatre. Appearing on the same program will be Bill and Bonnie Hearne, a blind couple who specialize in country rock on piano and guitar. Admission to the concert, sponsored by the Student Union, is free with a valid AC I.D., $2.00 general. Tickets can be purchased at the box office the night of the performance.

THE AC POLITICAL SCIENCE CLUB invites everyone to a political forum with mayoral candidates Newman, Taylor, and Hamilton at noon, Oct. 4, in the lecture room of Butler Hall.

THE FRIENDS OF THE SAVANNAH RIVER along with several other groups are co-sponsoring a Southeast Water Projects Conference at the Carolina Inn in Columbia, S.C. at 10 a.m. Oct. 7. Dr. Bill Bompert, president of the organization, said that the conference aims to unite opposition to wasteful and dangerous water projects, to inform citizens of the facts concerning the economic and environmental impact of these projects, and to support the pending veto by President Carter of the water projects funding bill. The conference will include briefings on eight southeastern water projects including the Richard B. Russell Dam and addresses by prominent speakers like Congressman Butler Derrick, S.C. senate hopeful Pug Ravenel, Ann Graham of the National Audubon Society, Brock Evans of the Sierra Club, and others. For more information, contact Dr. Bompert of Math and Comp. Sci., 828-3426.

THE AC FRENCH CLUB invites all interested persons to meetings on the first and third Wednesdays of each month at noon in the language lab, Markert Hall.

THE ENERGY SEMINAR "Pros and Cons of Nuclear Power" will continue at noon Thurs., Oct. 5 in the lecture room of Butler Hall. Dr. Floyd O'Neal will talk on "Nuclear Power Plants: Operation, Wastes, and Refueling." The series, sponsored by the AC Dept. of Chemistry and Physics, features a different program each Thurs. and is intended to provide the public with information which will help in making knowledgeable decisions. Everyone is welcome.

ALL EDUCATION MAJORS AND MINORS are invited to the first meeting of the Student Assn. of Educators at noon Tues., Oct. 5, in room 5, Butler Hall. The club has announced plans for meetings, workshops, and conferences during the coming year. Officers are Sandi Strength, pres.; Vickie Smith, 1st vice-pres.; Margie Marshall, 2nd vice-pres.; Gina Adams, secretary/treasurer; Jonni Tate, historian; Debbie Powell, chaplain. A PROGRAM ON ANTI-NUCLEAR ACTIVITY is scheduled for 8 p.m. Oct. 13 in the Civic Room of the Ga. Railroad Bank, Daniel Village. Sponsored by the Dogwood Alliance, the public meeting will focus on topics like transportation of nuclear cargo through the CSRA and solar energy as an alternative resource. Everyone is invited.

THE WEEKLY IDENTITY AND CHANGE PROGRAM will feature a panel discussion on "Change: A Female Perspective" at noon Tuesday, Oct. 3 in the PAT. Willarena Williams, Mary Wing, and Vera Murray-Bellman will serve as panelists. Everyone is welcome.

WBBQ RADIO has reported a general assignment position available immediately. Applicants should furnish a resume, a photo, some writing samples, and an audition tape to the News Director, Box 2066, Augusta, 30903. Anyone wishing a personal interview should call Bob Young rather than dropping by. BBO is an equal opportunity employer.

THE ALPHA KAPPA ALPHA SORORITY invites all women interested in pledging to a meeting at noon Thurs. (Oct. 5) in meeting room 2 of the CAC.

THE FALL LECTURE SERIES presented by the Center for the Study of Private Enterprise will begin at 10 a.m. Oct. 4 in the Butler Hall lecture room. Robert P. Keim, president of the Advertising Council, will be featured in the opening program. Call the center to reserve a seat, 828-4993.

SOME AC PEOPLE "ran away" with the honors at last week's United Way 10,000 meter (6.2 mile) run, which had over 200 entries. Mary Lisko (Bus. Admin.) took first place in her age group, and Charlie Freeman (Lang. & Lit.) placed third in his. Among those who "also ran" were Carol Wittkamp, John and Trudy Groves, and Rick and Dee Davis. SPEAKING OF UNITED WAY, the Spotlight congratulates the Computer Center for being the first dept. on campus to contribute 100% to the United Way Campaign.

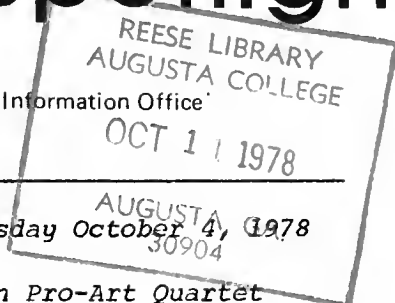

THE AC FILM SERIES has two fine movies on schedule for this week: "Jesus Christ Superstar" Tues., Oct. 3, and Mel Brooks' "The Producers" Thurs., Oct. 5. Show times are 6 and 8:15 p.m. in the PAT.

AC ROTC CADET JAMES L. HUGGINS, JR. was recently notified by First ROTC Region Commander General Barnes that he was selected as the top male cadet in the 1978 Fort Bragg Advanced Camp. In a letter informing President Christenberry, Lt. Col. Thomas D. McCrary, professor of military science at the Univ. of Ga., said of Huggins' accomplishment, "In competition with nearly three thousand ROTC cadets and college students, Cadet Huggins demonstrated his capabilities in leadership and military skills which greatly surpassed those of his peers. His proficiency, assertiveness and judicious preparation speak well for his capabilities as a future officer in the United States Army. Cadet Huggins' exemplary accomplishments are certainly demonstrative of the quality of the ROTC program at Augusta College and should set the example for others to emulate." On behalf of the college community, the Spotlight congratulates Jim.

Written Wednesday October 11, 1978

The Student Union's tremendously popular annual Oktoberfest will begin at 6 p.m. Friday (Oct. 20) in the College Activities Center. This year's celebration promises to be better than ever with the traditional German food, beverages, and music. Admission is free with a valid AC I.D. and $3.00 each for guests (must be accompanied by AC person.) Active alumni are invited at guest price. The Babysitting Service on Katherine Street will be open free of charge from 6-11 p.m. for pre-school children of faculty, students and staff. Reservations must be made by calling 733-5837.

The Augusta College French Club will hold its fifth annual French Fair Tuesday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. in front of the College Activities Center. The fair is the main project of the club, a dedicated group of about ten students and alumni under the direction of Colette Avril. Each year the students become French chefs to prepare the day's menu, which includes crepes, pain d'epice (gingerbread), choux a la creme (cream puffs), and pains au chocolat. New additions this year are omelettes francaises and croissants (crescent rolls). Other features of this year's fair are French books and magazines, plants, artwork by talented club members, and movies showing continuously throughout the day. Proceeds will be used to send a senior student majoring in French to Paris for a week. Make plans to enjoy a taste of France Oct. 17!

"THE ROMANCE OF WORDS" will be the subject of a lecture by Dr. Rowland M. Myers at 10 a.m. on Oct. 23 in Butler Hall. Dr. Myers, a native of Brooklyn, New York, and a graduate of Dartmouth College, received his Doctor of Philosophy degree in Romance Languages and Literature from the Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore. This lecture is open to all interested persons and sponsored by the Special Studies Department.

the same CEC conference on Oct. 5th.

PLANNING AND PLACEMENT wants all students to know about co-operative education, a program which combines professional experience with academic study by allowing students to alternate between periods of full time study and employment. Those who choose the program must be willing to delay getting their degree in the traditional four years due to the addition of work periods;

however, the plan offers compensatory advantages: exposure to the work world, professional experience, a possible job after graduation, and a salary during the work periods. AC has an on-going co-op program with the IRS and one in final stages of development with the department of energy/Savannah River

Plant, Aiken, S.C. Both companies plan to interview possible candidates on campus in Oct. The IRS is seeking candidates for internal revenue agent and revenue officer positions. The Dept. of Energy is seeking contract specialists in the procurement/property management division. Requirements for each job differ, so interested students should contact Rita Rutsom,

2nd floor, CAC.

AC ASSISTANT LIBRARIAN Virginia

detraville will be the featured speaker at a program on genealogy at the Reese Library at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 19.

The program is designed for persons who wish to learn how to trace their family tree. The public is invited.

FOR WEEK OF: Oct. 22 - Oct. 28, 1978

Written Wednesday October 18, 1978

The AC Lyceum Series along with the Office of Career Planning and Placement will sponsor a guest appearance by Tom Jackson, author of The Hidden Job Market, at 8 p.m. Thursday, Oct. 26, in the Performing Arts Theatre. Jackson is recognized as a national authority on jobs and careers. During his program, "Guerilla Tactics in the Job Market," he will discuss ways to get the job you want, how to find the "hidden jobs," how to "get inside" to top management, trends in the job market, and other related topics. Admission to his evening lecture is free with AC I.D., $2.00 general. Jackson will also be on campus Thursday afternoon and Friday morning to visit with interested students and faculty. Contact the Placement Office for details.

A seminar on counseling children and parents will be conducted by Dr. Richard A. Gardner, noted author and practicing child psychiatrist and adult psychoanalyst all day Friday Nov. 3, in the Performing Arts Theatre. The seminar is designed for all those who work in helping professions such as health services, juvenile corrections, counseling, and the ministry. Topics will include storytelling techniques, psychotherapeutic approaches to the resistant child, the psychological trauma of divorce, and children with minimal brain dysfunction. The opening session starts at 9 a.m. For registration details, contact the Office of Continuing Education, 828-4611.

THE AC BAND, under the direction of John Scott, will stage an outdoor concert (weather permitting) this Fri. Oct. 27 between 11:50 a.m. and 1 p.m. in front of the College Activities Center. Everyone is invited to come and listen.

A SURVEY OF LIBRARY PATRONS will be taken by the Reese Library from 7:45 a.m. to 10:30 p.m., Wed. Oct. 25, according to Ray Rowland. The purpose is to determine how library patrons can be served better. Everyone entering the library during that period will be asked to take a few minutes to complete a questionnaire and to leave it at the exit before departing.

AN IMPORTANT MEETING of all students in Education will be held at noon Fri. Oct. 27 in room #7 of Butler Hall. Dr. Geraldine Hargrove, dean of education, urges all students majoring or minoring in undergraduate teacher education programs, all students taking undergraduate education courses, and all those planning to enter teacher education programs to attend.

"THE TALL OAK," a three act pageant directed and written by Keith Cowling about the history of MCG, has been rescheduled for Dec. 20 and 21. The production was originally planned for Oct. 26, 27, and 28. Rescheduling allows it to fall on the exact date of the 150th anniversary of the institution. The pageant will be shown at 8 p.m. both nights at Bell Auditorium Music Hall. Tickets are available through the Office of College Relations.

THE ENGLISH, DRAMA, AND FRENCH CLUBS invite everyone to an evening of reading at 7:30 p.m. Thurs. Oct. 26 in the Chateau. Several of the readers will present original material. If you're interested in reading, contact Colette Avril, Duncan Smith, or Carol Williams, Dept. of Languages & Literature. Coffee and tea will be served.

THE AC ALUMNI ASSOCIATION has honored the six men who have served as president of Augusta College by donating portraits of them to be hung in Reese Library. The formal ceremony for dedicating the portraits of George P. Butler (1925-1930), James L. Skinner (1930-1937), Eric W. Hardy (1937-1954), Anton P. Markert (1954-1957), Gerald B. Robins (1957-1970), and George A. Christenberry (1970 -) will take place at 3:30 p.m. Sun. Oct. 22, in the lecture room of Butler Hall. A reception will follow in Reese Library. All those interested are welcome.

THE FINAL SESSION of a seminar on nuclear energy (sponsored by the Dept. of Chemistry & Physics) will take place at noon Thurs. in the lecture room of Butler Hall. This week's program will focus on future energy supplies and features a panel discussion. Everyone is welcome.

A POLITICAL FORUM with contestants for the Richmond County Commission will be held at noon Wed. in the lecture room of Butler Hall. The Political Science Club is sponsoring the forum to give everyone a chance to know the issues and the candidates before voting.

FOR WEEK OF: Nov. 5 - Nov. 11, 1978

Written Wednesday November 1, 1978

The Augusta College Theater will present J.M. Synge's lively Irish comedy "The Playboy of the Western World" in the Performing Arts Theatre at 8 p.m. on Nov. 9, 10, and 11 and at 3 p.m. on Sunday Nov. 12. The play is set in the turn of the century Western Ireland. Because of its depiction of peasant character, it created a stir among Irish nationalists when first produced at the Abbey Theater in 1907. It is now regarded as one of the finest plays in the English language and admired for its poetic Anglo-Irish idiom. The part of Christy Mahon is played by Philip Sacco, who has acted in several productions including AC theater's "The Vise." Ellen Prather plays Pegeen Mike, the innkeeper's daughter. She was most recently seen as Frenchy in the Augusta Players' "Destry Rides Again," and as Bonnie in AC theater's "Anything Goes." Victor Maye, well known to Augusta audiences for his one man shows, plays Pegeen's fiance, Shawn Keogh. Arthur Wilson plays her father and Brisco Merry plays Old Mahon. The rest of the cast include: Betsy Gilmer, Dianne Greenleaf, Randi Garcia, Alison Booth, Ellen Anderson, Tommy Chappelle, Eddie Livingston, Louise Shivers, Connie Dyson, Colin Smith, and Tony Weisenburger. Admission is free with AC I.D., $1.00 for students, and $2.00 general. Tickets can be purchased at the box office before the performance.

THE AC HISTORY CLUB will sponsor a visit by Cullum scholar Dr. Thomas Ganschow of the University of Georgia at noon Fri. Nov. 10 in the lecture room of Butler Hall. His topic will be "The Execution of Chairman Mao: China After Mao." Ganschow is the co-author of "Comparative Communism: The Soviet, Chinese, and Yugoslav Models" and has contributed numerous articles and reviews to scholarly journals. He received his Ph.D. from Indiana University and served on the faculty of Ching Yi Liberal Arts College in Taiwan. He has twice been named Outstanding Honors Professor at the University of Georgia. The academic community and the public are invited to his lecture.

THE FEDERAL RESERVE AND THE ECONOMY will be the topic of a lecture by Monroe Kimbrel, president of the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta, at 10:30 a.m. Nov. 8 in the lecture room of Butler Hall. Kimbrel's visit marks the close of the fall quarter lecture series sponsored by the Center for the Study of Private Enterprise. His talk will detail the scope and dimensions of our federal reserve system and the Open Market Committee and the effect of both on today's economy. To reserve a seat, call the center at 828-4993.

INTERESTED FACULTY ARE INVITED to a seminar on Computer Assisted Instruction to be held from 1 to 2 p.m. Nov. 14 in room A-4 of Skinner Hall. Dr. Frank Gillespie of the University of Georgia will discuss CAI sessions available to university system users. These include sessions on English grammar, music, history, chemistry, biology and mathematics.

THE AC CROSS COUNTRY running team took fifth place in a 10,000 meter (6.2 mile) invitational meet sponsored by Valdosta College recently. Jurgen Cowling finished first for the AC team, which had its best ever 10,000 meter meet.

A FACULTY ART EXHIBIT will open with a reception at 7:30 p.m. Sun. Nov. 12 in the lobby of the PAT and continue through the month. The display will feature the works of Nathan Bindler, Richard Frank, Eugenia Comer, Ann Barton, Jack King, and Linda Peters.

BUY A PLANT AND HELP THE AC CHOIR!!! Weedhaven Farm Greenhouses will contribute 10-15% of your purchase price towards the AC chamber choir's spring tour fund. The store is located on Old Waynesboro Road, four miles past Goshen Plantation entrance.

THE UNITED WAY DRIVE AT AC ended last week with a total of $4,904.50. This generous response to a community cause places AC at 156% of its goal. Departments attaining 100% this week:

- Counseling Center
- Math and Computer Science
- Student Activities Office
- Veterans Affairs
- Placement

Congratulations to building representatives and donors who made the drive a success.

FOR WEEK OF: Nov. 12 - Nov. 19, 1978

Written Wednesday November 9, 1978

The Student Art Association's biggest-ever faculty art exhibit will open with a reception at 7:30 Nov. 12 in the lobby of the PAT. The show will include ceramics, paintings, prints, wood and stone sculpture, and for the first time, bronze casting. Fine Arts faculty members represented are Jack King, Richard Frank, Anne Barton, Nathan Bindler, Eugenia Comer, and Linda Peters. Everyone is welcome.

The AC Lyceum Series will present a free lecture/recital titled "American Piano Music and the Future" with composer Neely Bruce at 8:30 p.m. Tues. Nov. 14 in the PAT. Bruce, well known as a performer of new music and the music of American composers, has been instrumental in promoting the music of neglected and forgotten Americans. The founder of the American Music Group, he is associate professor of music at Wesleyan University in Middletown, Conn., where he is director of choral activities. In addition to his evening performance, he will visit AC on Nov. 15 to discuss various aspects of new music with interested students and faculty.

THE FINE ARTS DEPT. will present duo pianists Joseph Rezits and Despy Karlas in recital at noon Thurs. Nov. 16 in the PAT. Rezits is professor of piano at Indiana University in Bloomington, Ind. He has toured extensively as a soloist and as recitalist, and has recorded on several record labels. He has authored several books and has made many appearances as a lecturer as well as a duo pianist. Karlas is well known to local audiences as a soloist and chamber player. A professor of piano at the University of Georgia, she studied at the New York Institute of Musical Art, the Julliard School, and the University of Illinois. She is a lecturer and clinician and has performed with the Atlanta Symphony. The Thurs. program will include works by Debussy, Stravinsky, Schubert, Mozart, and Bizet and is free to the public.

CY TIMMONS, the hit of last year's Jazz Festival and the NECAA convention, will appear in concert at 8 p.m. Thurs. Nov. 16 in the CAC. The Student Union is sponsoring his visit and will provide free bread and cheese for those attending. Admission is free with a valid I.D., 50¢ for guests.

A VOLLEYBALL GAME between the faculty and members of the SGA will take place Fri. Nov. 17 on the AC courts. Those interested in playing should contact Gerald Thompson in the Math Dept., 3426.

A GROUP OF READERS, WRITERS, AND PLAYERS at AC will continue with a series of monthly readings in the Chateau at 1 p.m. Mon. Nov. 20. Coffee and tea will be served, and everyone is invited. Anyone interested in reading should call Carol Williams, Duncan Smith, or Colette Avril, Dept. of Languages and Literature, 3706.

THE AC JAZZ ENSEMBLE, under the direction of Michael McClary, will open its 1978-79 season Nov. 16 as the featured entertainment for the Georgia Visiting Teachers' Convention at the Augusta Hilton Hotel. The program will feature a wide range of tunes--from sounds of the 40's to Chuck Mangione, '78. The ensemble will be seeking playing engagements for winter and spring quarters and invites interested parties to inquire at the Dept. of Fine Arts.

OUTGOING AND FRIENDLY STUDENTS are needed to work as Santa's reindeers entertaining children waiting to have their pictures made at Regency Mall. The part time jobs start Nov. 18 and finish Christmas Eve and pay $2.65 per hour. Apply in person at the Information Booth, Regency Mall.

A DAY OF FASHION AND BEAUTY sponsored by the Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority is scheduled for Nov. 16 from 1 to 4 p.m. in meeting rooms 2 and 3 of the CAC. Representatives from major companies will demonstrate hair styling methods, hair cuts, cosmetics, and fashions. Admission is 75¢. Everyone is welcome.

A SEMINAR on computer assisted instruction will be held from 1 - 2 p.m. Nov. 14 in room A-4 of Skinner Hall. Dr. Frank Gillespie of the University of Georgia will discuss CAI sessions available to university system users. They include grammar, music, history, chemistry, biology and mathematics. Faculty members are invited.

FOR WEEK OF: Dec. 10 - Dec. 16, 1978

Written December 6, 1978

Ten AC students have been selected for recognition in "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges," it was announced today by the Office of Student Activities. A committee of faculty members, students, and administrative officials evaluated the students on the basis of academic standing, participation in college and community activities, and leadership ability. Selected as being among the country's most outstanding campus leaders were John Randolph Barden, James J. Casey Jr., Alice de Saavedra, James Hancock III, Clifford Hull, Jr., Ronald Paul Irick, Julie D. Lewis, Leign Ann Puryear, Thomas O. Turner, and Walter Randall Wall. The ten will receive a certificate of membership in Who's Who at Honors Night ceremonies this spring.

The Office of Continuing Education has issued its winter quarter brochure listing a total of 65 short courses, including over 20 new offerings. Those new ones include: Aerobic Dancing, Better Imaging (a Guide for Working Women), Brick Laying, Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation for Heart Attack Victims (CPR), Creative Music Methods, Flower Making, Graphic Design, A History of Soviet Russia, Coping with Divorce and Separation, Painting Portraits, Parents' Questions About College, Personal Adjustment, Personal Politics (the Psychology of Making It), How to Improve Test Scores, Time Management, Understanding Legal Stuff, Watercolor Painting, Weaving, and a course on aging: You're Never Too Old. A one day workshop with noted American lyric tenor John McCollum is planned for Feb. 6-9. In addition, the office in conjunction with Alumni Affairs will offer a series of Alumni Evenings at the Maxwell House in February. The first will feature Dr. Ed. Cashin discussing "Augusta New Insights into History" on Feb. 8. On Feb. 15 Dr. Jane Cross will lead a discussion of "The Seasons of Our Lives." Dr. Creighton will be the last featured speaker on Feb. 22. His topic will be "The Death of God." For more information about these or the many other courses offered, call the Continuing Education Office, 828-4611.

THOSE PLANNING TO TAKE the Graduate Management Admission Test at Augusta College on Jan. 27 are reminded that the deadline for registration is Jan. 5. Contact the Testing Center or the Dept. of Business Administration for registration materials.

FOR WEEK OF: ~~January 7~~ - January 13, 1979 Written January 3, 1979

When is a juggler not just a juggler? When he is also a teacher, comedian, and musician. So say representatives of the AC Student Union about juggler Chris Bliss, whose visit to campus they will sponsor on Jan. 10. In his innovative act called "Music for Your Eyes," Bliss combines unusual ability with selected pieces of contemporary music and special lighting effects. He will perform at noon in the PAT, free for AC people and 50¢ for all others. At 3 p.m., he will conduct a free workshop in the CAC. (Anyone seriously interested in learning the ancient craft of juggling should bring three tennis balls.) That night, Bliss will again demonstrate his abilities in a brief performance at half-time ceremonies of the Jaguar-Armstrong State basketball game in the AC gym.

The Augusta College Theatre will hold tryouts for its next presentation, Guys and Dolls, on Jan. 8 and 9, according to director Duncan Smith. The play is a musical fable of Broadway based on a story and characters by Damon Runyan and will call for dozens of singers and dancers. Acting and singing auditions will be held Monday at 7 p.m. in the Performing Arts Theatre. Dance tryouts and additional acting and singing auditions are scheduled for Tuesday at 7 p.m. in the Fine Arts Center. Callbacks will be held Wednesday, Jan. 10, at 7 p.m. in the PAT. Performances of the mammoth musical will take place March 1,2,3,4 in the PAT.

AN EXHIBIT OF FIBER AND CERAMICS by two members of the University of South Carolina faculty will be in the PAT lobby from now through the end of the month. Exhibiting artists are Gilbert Reed, who holds an M.F.A. from the University of Michigan, and Nancy Albertson, who earned her M.F.A. from Syracuse University.

PERSONS PLANNING TO TAKE the National Teacher Examinations (NTE) at AC on Feb. 17 are reminded by testing director Julian Heyman that they have to register with the Educational Testing Service (ETS) in Princeton, N.J. before Jan. 25. A general information bulletin and registration materials can be obtained from the Testing Center, Bellevue Hall.

A REAL ESTATE COURSE approved by the Georgia Real Estate Commission for prospective salespersons will be offered at AC beginning Jan. 8. Sponsored by the Center for the Study of Private Enterprise and the School of Business Administration, the 24 hour course will be taught by Phil Armstrong, J.D., and will meet four Mondays, four Wednesdays, and three Saturdays through Jan. 31. For more information, call Roland Kidd, 828-4993.

A CONFERENCE ON WIFE ABUSE sponsored by the Augusta Area Mental Health Center will take place 1-5 p.m. Jan. 11 in the University Hospital auditorium. Registration fee is $5.00 for more information, contact Dr. Jesse Lewis, 722-2615.

A 1978 TAX ACT SEMINAR sponsored by the Center for the Study of Private Enterprise, the School of Business Administration, and the Chamber of Commerce of Greater Augusta is scheduled for Wed., Jan. 10, at the Augusta Hilton. Moderators of the nine member panel of experts will be Dr. Otha L. Gray, CPA, and attorney J. Larry Broyles. Topics include capital gains, employee benefit plans, tax credits, corporate and other business provisions, tax shelters, estate and gift taxation, and tax administration (practice and procedure). Registration is $15 and can be done through the Center for the Study of Private Enterprise, 828-4993.

THE ENTIRE AC COMMUNITY regrets the death last week of Norman L. Galloway, dean of students emeritus of Augusta Junior College. He served as a faculty member for 35 years until his retirement in 1964. He remained through the years an ardent Jaguar fan, and will long be remembered for his many contributions to AC, among them the words to our alma mater.

A ONE-NIGHT WORKSHOP on "Better Imaging: A Guide For The Working Woman" will be held Tues., Jan. 9 from 7-10 p.m. in the lecture room of Butler Hall. The workshop is designed to show women appropriate methods of make up, hair styling and dress for various occupations. Speakers will include a fashion buyer, a cosmetic consultant and a hairdresser. Contact the Office of Continuing Education to register.

SUMMER HUMANITIES SEMINARS FOR 1979 have been announced by the National Endowment for the Humanities. They are open to members of the business, journalism, labor, law, medicine, public administration, and school administration professions. Participants in the seminars meet at selected colleges and universities during the summer for a month of full time study under the direction of distinguished scholars. Twenty-one professional and five interprofessional seminars will be open tuition free to 12 to 15 persons each. Persons chosen will also receive a stipend of up to $1200 to cover expenses plus reimbursement for travel. Application deadline is April 16. For more information, write Professions Program, Division of Fellowships MS 101, National Endowment for the Humanities, Washington, D.C. 20506.

THE AC FILM SERIES will resume this week. Showing Tues. Jan. 9 at 6 and 8:15 p.m. will be "Rocky." Friday will bring Lina Wertmuller's "Love and Anarchy," which won Giancarlo Giannini a best actor award at the Cannes Film Festival. There will be only one showing of the film, at 8:15 p.m. Admission is free with an AC or MCG I.D., $1.50 for others. Public school students will be admitted for $1.00.

THE SPOTLIGHT wishes a speedy recovery to Casmier (SKI) Szocinski of Central Office Supply who underwent surgery at Eisenhower Hospital last week.

NEWS FROM THE PLACEMENT OFFICE: BOOKLETS concerning summer jobs with various government agencies are now available in the office. Some jobs, including clerical ones, have an application deadline of January, so anyone interested should not delay.

The next featured speaker in the AC Lyceum Series will be Associated Press correspondent Jim Hoagland, who will deliver a public lecture at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the meeting room 2 of the College Activities Center. Hoagland is a Pulitzer Prize winning journalist who earned his degree from the University of South Carolina and did post-graduate work on a fellowship to the University of Aix-en-Provence in France and another to Columbia University. He worked for the New York Times before moving to the Washington Post, where he was named African correspondent and later foreign desk bureau chief. He won the Pulitzer Prize in 1970 for a series of ten articles he wrote on apartheid in South Africa, and has also written a book, South Africa: A Civilization in Conflict.

The Department of Languages and Literature has invited literary critic M. H. Abrams of Cornell University to speak on campus Jan. 23 as a Cullum Scholar. Abrams is an authority on 18th and 19th century literature, literary criticism, and European Romanticism. He is the author of The Mirror and the Lamp: Romantic Theory and the Critical Tradition, and edited the widely used Norton Anthology of English Literature.

All faculty, staff, and students are invited to a reception for him from 3 - 4 p.m. Tuesday in the Maxwell Alumni House. He will give a public lecture that night at 8 p.m. in the lecture room of Butler Hall on "How to Prove an Interpretation: Wordsworth's 'A Slumber Did My Spirit Steal.'" On Jan. 24 at 11 a.m. in the lecture room he will deliver a short speech and answer questions about his latest and best-known book, Natural Supernaturalism: Tradition and Revolution in Romantic Literature. Copies of poems he will discuss will be available at the lectures or can be obtained from Carol Williams in the Languages and Literature Dept.

THE ANNUAL INTERNATIONAL FOOD FESTIVAL will take place at 6 p.m. Friday in the CAC. Admission is one covered dish. The Student Union will provide cheese and wine. The campus babysitting service, which is usually open for the event, will not be available unless there is a demand, according to John Groves. Anyone wishing it to be open should call the Office of Student Activities.

FACULTY INTERESTED IN BLUEGRASS are invited to contact John Flowers in Education to discuss "getting together for some informal and very amateurish bluegrass pickin' and grinnin'." His number is 3601.

THE LANGUAGE LAB, which is located in rooms 1 and 2 in Markert Hall, will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily and from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays, according to Colette Avril. She also stated that lab assistants are available to give free tutorial services in French any time by appointment to enrolled students who need help in basic grammar and oral proficiency.

THE FINE ARTS DEPT. has announced that the annual auditions for two music scholarships will be held in the rehearsal hall of the CAC on Sat. Feb. 17 starting at 7:30 p.m. The Robert J. and Annie V. Maxwell Scholarships are for incoming freshmen who plan to major in music at AC. They can be renewed each year for four successive academic years providing the recipient maintains a B average in all music courses and demonstrates consistent progress on a chosen instrument or in voice. The Craig-Rockholt scholarships are in the amount of $100 and are available to incoming freshmen only. They are one year terminating grants. For more information, contact the Dept. at 3211.

AC STUDENTS WHO TOOK the first Ga. Teacher Certification Test administered at the end of fall quarter enjoyed a 99% success rate, according to Dr. Geraldine Hargrove, dean the School of Education. Dr. Hargrove explained that beginning last fall, anyone wishing to be certified to teach in Ga. will be required to take the criterion-referenced test. She said that it was expected that 20% of the applicants who took it would fail. AC students scored well above the statewide average where the failure rate was 7%.

FOR WEEK OF: Jan. 28 - Feb. 3, 1979

Written Wednesday January 24, 1979

It's Homecoming week at AC, and students, faculty, staff, and alumni are invited to participate in a number of planned activities:

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 1: 11 A.M. - 1 P.M.: The Student Union will present a noon coffeehouse performance by folk singer Elaine Silver in the student lounge of the CAC. She will perform two 45 minute sets. In addition to her singing, her program features banjo, guitar, and dulcimer in arrangements ranging from traditional folk to ballads and blues. Admission is free for AC people, 50¢ for guests.

2 AND 8 P.M.: The National Players will perform Shakespeare's "The Taming of the Shrew" in the PAT. Admission to the Lyceum Series event is free with I.D., $2.00 for all others.

FEB. 2: NOON: The annual Homecoming parade will begin behind the Fine Arts Center and proceed down Walton Way to Sears. A prize of $25 will go to the best float, with judging done by a committee made up of Carol Williams, (English), Lenny Carlson (Physical Education), Jim Benedict (Math), Dean Joseph Mele, and students James Sherman, Robin Grace, and Gina Adams.

6 AND 8:15 P.M.: The AC Film Series will feature "The Last Waltz," a Martin Scorsese film of The Band's last concert, in the PAT. Admission is free with I.D., $1.50 otherwise.

FEB. 3: 2-4 P.M.: The Maxwell Alumni House will be open for all alumni, former Jaguars, cheerleaders, and fans.

6 P.M.: The annual alumni basketball game will be played in the gym.

8 P.M.: The Jaguars will face Columbus College. Halftime ceremonies include crowning of Homecoming king and queen, and presentation of the Spirit-on-the-Hill award. Candidates for queen are: Mary Ruth Hill, Joyce Lynch, Charlotte Lyons, Ellen Prather, Sandi Strength and Tracy Webb. Competing for title of AC's first ever Homecoming King are: Dale Hoyt, Ron Irick, Cliff Keese and Curtis McCladdy.

AFTER THE GAME: Students are invited to the dance in the CAC. Music will be provided by Mainstream, a six piece horn band from Durham, N.C. An AC I.D. will permit one student and one guest. Others will be charged $2.00 per person. Mixers will be provided.

Alumni, faculty and staff are invited to a party at the Maxwell Alumni House after the game.

LYRIC TENOR JOHN MCCOLLUM, a Cullum Visiting Scholar to AC, will spend four days on campus in February as part of a music workshop offered by the Office of Continuing Education. He will present a recital at 8:30 p.m. Feb. 6 in the PAT. The public is invited. On Feb. 7, he will give a lecture-demonstration from 2-4 p.m. on "Interpretation of the Oratorio Recitative." At 7:30 p.m. he will give a two hour general coaching session on oratorio recitatives. His schedule on Feb. 8 will include a 10 a.m.-noon general coaching session on German Lieder which will resume at 2 p.m. On Feb. 9, at 10 a.m. he will conduct a two hour coaching session on French Song. To register call Continuing Education.

AUDITIONS FOR THE AUGUSTA SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA'S March 17 performance of the Mozart Mass in C Minor will be held at 6:30 p.m. Jan. 30 in the Fine Arts Center. The concert will be conducted by Dr. Eloy Fominaya and will include the Augusta Choral Society and the AC Choir. The performance is included in Series I of the Symphony season and will be held at St. Paul's Church. Auditions are open to soprano, tenor and bass soloists prepared to present any vocal selection by Mozart. An accompanist will be provided.

THE PI KAPPA PHI FRATERNITY will sponsor a campus blood drive from 10 a.m. - 5 p.m. on Feb. 7 on the second floor of the CAC. The drive is in response to what is termed by representatives of the Sheppard Blood Center as a nationwide critical blood shortage. All healthy persons are being asked to donate, according to fraternity member Andy Cheek, who said it only takes about 30 minutes. To make reservations, call the Blood Center at 722-0224.

A LOCAL BANK has several part-time positions for proof machine operators. Details available at the Placement Office.

ALSO.....
SUMMER JOBS are available with the National Weather Service Southern Region. Those interested should contact the Placement Office for more information.

A HEALTH CAREERS "TOUR AND SEE" DAY

will be held at MCG on Feb. 24. Sponsored by the MCG Intern and Residents Wives Club, the program is designed to allow high school and college students a look at the various career opportunities available in allied health fields. The day will begin at 8:15 a.m. with a brief introduction and film in the student center. Beginning at 9 a.m., guides will conduct tours through the following areas: physical therapy, occupational therapy, radiologic technology, medical technology, medical illustrations, dental hygiene, school of nursing, physicians' assistants, medical records, and respiratory therapy. Lunch will be served in the student center for $1.75. For more information or to register, sign up at the Counseling Center in Bellevue Hall before Feb. 14.

The March to May Cullum Program will have as its theme this year "1984 Minus Five: The Future of the Individual in a Changing Society," according to Dr. Edward J. Cashin Jr., Cullum Committee Chairman. The program will not focus on a "third world" country this year in order to explore the future of the individual in a collective society, he said. Keynote speaker Arthur Schlesinger, Pulitzer Prize winning historian, will kick off the three-month program on March 29. Other speakers include Lerone Bennett, biographer of Martin Luther King and editor of Ebony, April 3; Education innovator Fred S. Keller, April 17; poet and philosopher P. Lal, April 19; Michael Harrington, author of The Other America, April 24; author and syndicated newspaper columnist Max Lerner, May 1; Georgia Tech Dean John Crenshaw, May 8; Best selling novelist Chaim Potok, May 15; University of Michigan professor of neuro-science Elliot Valenstein, author of Brain Control, May 22. Other presentations will include Victor Maye's recitation of Franz Kafka's "Metamorphosis," on April 5; Daniel Negrin's dance interpretation of Camus' Fall, April 12; a film "The Stranger" on April 26; another film "Metropolis," a silent film classic on a collective society, May 3; a Woody Allen film "The Sleeper," on May 10, and on May 17, a student drama on the theme directed by Duncan Smith of the Language and Literature Department. The entire program is funded by the Cullum Foundation and by a grant from the Georgia Committee for the Humanities. Students planning on taking the program for credit may sign-up during pre-registration from Feb. 19 to the 23. Others on campus and in the community may attend any of the lectures and presentations at no charge. The program will consider the direction in which our society is moving, Dr. Cashin said. The theme was suggested by the realization that George Orwell's infamous 1984 is now only a few years away. Some questions that will be considered include: "Is the direction of our social organization toward a collectivized future?" "Can we perceive the shape of that future?" "What will happen to individual rights in the future?" and "Will we 'outgrow' the Constitution?"

Three faculty members will speak on various topics this month during the "Alumni Evenings at the Maxwell House" co-sponsored by the Office of Alumni Affairs and the Continuing Education Office. Speaking at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 8 will be Dr. Jane Cross on "The Seasons of Our Life," on Feb. 15 Dr. Edward J. Cashin Jr. on "Augusta-New Insights Into History" which will delve into what life was like in ante-bellum Augusta and the experiences of black people here during that era and on Feb. 22, Dr. Creighton Peden will discuss the "God is Dead" movement of the 1960's. Registration is through the Continuing Education Office.

THE AUGUSTA COMMUNITY CONCERT BAND, under the direction of John Scott, will present its winter concert in the Performing Arts Theatre 3 p.m. Feb. 11. Special guests will be the Newberry College Stage Band, directed by Charles Pruitt. There will be no admission charge but donations may be made.

LYRIC TENOR JOHN MCCOLLUM, a Cullum Visiting Scholar, will spend four days on campus this week as part of a music workshop offered by the Office of Continuing Education. He will present a recital 8:30 p.m. Feb. 6 in the PAT to which the public is invited. On Feb. 7, 8, and 9 he will be involved in numerous coaching sessions and lecture-demonstrations. Registration is through Continuing Education.

A CAMPUS BLOOD DRIVE will be sponsored by Pi Kappa Phi Fraternity from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Feb. 7 in the CAC. The drive is in response to the critical blood shortage both in the CSRA and nationwide.

THE COUNSELING CENTER is taking registrations for the Health Careers "Tour and See" Day scheduled for the Medical College on Feb. 24. The program is designed to allow high school and college students a look at the various career opportunities available in allied health fields. The day will begin at 8:15 a.m. and end with lunch in the MCG student center for $1.75.

THE STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION has 1040 and 1040A tax forms available in the SGA office for interested students.

AN OPEN FORUM dealing with questions and answers about the School of Business will be held at noon Tuesday, Feb. 13, in Room 22 of Markert Hall, according to Dean Otha Gray. Students and faculty are invited.

FOR WEEK OF: Feb. 11 - Feb. 17, 1979

Written Wednesday February 7, 1979

February is Black Heritage Month and the Augusta College Black Student Union has announced a series of activities in observance of the national theme of History: A Torch for the Future. Plans for this week include: The Lucy Laney Chorus will perform at noon Feb. 13 in the Student Lounge, second floor, CAC. On Feb. 14 AC student Jason Smith will conduct a quick sketch session (portraits for a small donation) from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the CAC. That evening, "The Great White Hope," a movie about heavyweight champion Jack Johnson will be shown as part of the AC film series at 6 and 8:15 p.m. in the Performing Arts Theatre. On Fri., Feb. 16, guest lecturers Omari Musa and Cathy Sedwick will speak at noon in the lecture room of Butler Hall. Activist reporter Musa's topic will be "The Freedom Movement in Southern Africa." Sedwick will discuss "The Bakke Decision: Is Affirmative Action Reverse Discrimination?" At 8 p.m. in the Performing Arts Theatre, the Lyceum Series will present the Porgy and Bess Singers in concert. The program will include all the original Gershwin music presented just as it was written in the original opera. Plans for events in the following weeks will be announced in the future.

A group of over 200 high school students and teachers will be on campus Mon. Feb. 12 participating in the fifth annual AC Mathematics Contest, co-sponsored by the AC Math Dept. and the Augusta Preparatory School. The students will compete for individual honors on a written exam in the morning. That afternoon, the quick answer team competition will be held before an audience in rooms 5 and 6 and the lecture room of Butler Hall and room 15 of Markert Hall. Students and faculty are invited to observe teams from 16 Ga. and seven S.C. high schools competing in this event between 1 and 5 p.m.

PERSONS planning to take the Graduate Management Admission Test at AC are reminded that the deadline for registration is Feb. 23. The test will be given March 17 at the Testing Bureau. Registration materials are available from Testing or the Business Administration Department.

STUDENTS are reminded that they may sign up for Augusta College's Cullum program on Change during pre-registration Feb. 19-23. "1984 Minus Five: The Future of the Individual in a Changing Society" will be theme of the March to May program. The annual Cullum program, now entering its 7th year, departed from its usual format of studying a "third world" country once before in 1976 in order to spotlight the U.S. during its bicentennial.

THE LADY JAGS clinched the GAIWA small college Southern Division championship Thursday with a 73-72 victory over Georgia Tech. The women are unbeaten in nine conference games and improved their overall record to 14-6. AC hosts Armstrong Wednesday.

THE AMERICAN DIABETES ASSN. will hold its local monthly meeting Feb. 21 at 7:30 p.m. in the University Hospital Auditorium. Dr. H.L. Bruckner, ophthalmologist, will speak on "The Effect of Diabetes on the Eyes." The meeting is open to the public.

FOR WEEK OF: Feb. 18 - Feb. 24, 1979

Written Wednesday February 14, 1979

Augusta College radio station FM 91 (WACG) will expand its operating time to 18 hours of daily broadcast beginning at 6 a.m. February 26, it was announced by Harry Jacobs, general manager of the station. The change reflects a desire to encourage greater involvement on the part of the community, and to qualify for financial support from the Corporation for Public Broadcasting, (CPR), he explained, adding that the station would then be able to join National Public Radio (NPR) as an affiliate. With the addition of more hours of broadcasting, the station will continue to air a heavy percentage of classical music, he said, along with the reading service for the blind and the jazz, folk, and rock shows which are so popular on the weekends. Important additions will include some prerecorded NPR programs and some by Parkway Productions, which Jacobs termed the nation's leading distributor of good music programs. The addition of new programs is intended to attract new audiences and give the station a broader base of listener interest. This is necessary because the new programming is being done on a trial basis until June 1, he said. The station is listener-supported, and continuation of expanded hours will depend entirely upon community response and financial support. "We realize we are taking a risk," he said, "but we feel its worth a try in order to fulfill our role as a provider of alternative listening to our community." Local radio personality Bob Ycung has been added to the staff as a consultant to help implement these plans, he added.

The AC French Club invites everyone to an evening of French drama at 7:30 p.m. February 22 in the PAT. French students will perform Eugene Ionesco's "The Lesson" (La Lecon) and Antoine de Saint Exupery's "The Little Prince." Starring in "The Lesson" will be Randy Wall as the meek and timid professor, Terry Meredith as the student, and Laurence Moore as the maid. Tom Turner will narrate "The Little Prince" which will star Donna Jean Lawler and a cast of selected area high school students. Admission is free.

THE LYCEUM SERIES will present a lecture by Henry J. Abraham, noted scholar and expert on constitutional law and U.S. Supreme Court, at 8 p.m. Mon. Feb. 19 in the lecture room of Butler Hall. The professor of government and foreign affairs at the University of Virginia has written nine books on government, including Freedom and the Court: Civil Rights and Liberties in the United States, which has become a standard text for civil liberties courses on campuses across the nation. In addition to his public speech, he will address several classes while visiting AC.

AUGUSTA COLLEGE will participate later this month in a state-wide program examining energy-related issues which citizens of Georgia will face in the next decade. A seminar on "Energy: Facts, Fears, and the Future" will be held from 7-9 p.m. February 27 in the Lecture Room of Butler Hall. Featured speaker will be Richard J. Anderson, a geologist, and past associate director of the energy program at Battelle Memorial Institute. Panelists will include Dr. Edward Cashin, Dr. Creighton Peden and Dr. Floyd B. O'Neal. Continuing Education is handling registration.

THE AC ALUMNI ASSOCIATION is sponsoring a number of tours during the week of Masters. Included are trips to London, Mexico, Monte Carlo, Hawaii, The Caribbean and a skiing trip in Colorado. All tours are open to the public. Further information from the Maxwell Alumni House, 828-4701.

THE AC FACULTY WIVES CLUB will hold a business meeting at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 20 in the Towers (4th floor, CAC). Discussion will focus on revitalizing club programs and increasing memberships.

THE SUNDAY AFTERNOON SERIES sponsored by the Augusta Music Club and the AC Dept. of Fine Arts will present an afternoon of opera at 3:30 p.m. February 18 in the Performing Arts Theatre. The program will feature excerpts "La Boheme," "Madame Butterfly," "Rigoletto," "Daughter of the Regiment," "The Medium," and "Baby Doe," as well as a preview of "Washington Square." Featured will be composer Thomas Pasatieri, artistic director Edward Bradberry, soprano Maryanne Telese, mezzo Carolyn James, tenor Richard Estes and baritone John Davies. Admission is free with AC T.D.

Written Wednesday February 21, 1979

Augusta College Theatre is alive and acting-out--acting out the past, that is. New York in the 1940's is the setting for their next production, "Guys and Dolls," opening March 1st in the PAT. The music by Frank Loesser will be familiar to many, "Fugue for Tinhorns," "Sit Down You're Rocking the Boat," and "If I Were a Bell," and many others. The book by Jo Swerling and Abe Burrows cleverly combines characters and stories from some of the best of Damon Runyon's works. The cast comes from campus, Fort Gordon, Aiken, and Augusta. Some familiar faces include Ellen Prather, Dale Lam, Eddie Livingstone, and Debbie Nelson. Three of the leads are new to the AC stage but not to the theatre. Chris Sechler and Carmin Quillan have degrees in theatre arts, and Richard Kramer, seen recently in the "Merry Widow," has had extensive stage experience. Dr. Duncan Smith of Languages and Literature is producer and director. Dr. James Russey, fine arts, is the musical director, Richard Frank, fine arts, has designed the sets, and Carl Crosby, from Aiken, is the choreographer. Show time is 8 p.m. on March 1, 2, and 3 and 3 p.m. on Sunday, March 4. Admission is free for holders of AC identification, $1.50 for other students, and $2.00 for the public. The Saturday, March 3 performance will be a benefit for the March of Dimes, and admission will be $5. Advance tickets for this performance can be obtained by calling 736-6724. Tickets will be sold at the door for the other performances.

Editors of Sand Hills, AC's student literary magazine, are soliciting materials for the Spring 1979 issue. Fifty dollar first prizes will be awarded to the writers of the best poem and the best fiction or drama accepted for publication. Anyone who has been a regularly enrolled student any time since April 1978 is eligible for the prizes and may submit work to editors John Barden, Lisa Abbot, Carol Fuchs, or Randy Wall, or to the English Dept. secretary. Students with artwork (paintings, drawings, etchings, prints, photographs) should contact art editor Bruce Lee or members of the Fine Arts staff.

EKKLESIA (an inter-denominational Christian fellowship group) will meet in MR 2 of the CAC at noon Thursday March 1. Dr. Paul Taylor of the History Dept. will speak on "The Christian View of History." Everyone is welcome.

ENERGY: FACTS, FEARS AND THE FUTURE is the title of a seminar to be held 7-9 p.m. Feb. 27 in the lecture room of Butler Hall. Sponsored by the Office of Continuing Education, the program is a unit of a state-wide program on energy-related issues. Geologist Richard J. Anderson will be the featured speaker, and panelists will be Dr. Ed Cashin, Dr. Creighton Peden, and Dr. Floyd O'Neal of the AC faculty. There is no charge for registration, which can be done through continuing education.

THE 56TH ANNUAL MEETING of the Georgia Academy of Science will meet on the AC campus April 20-21, it was announced recently by Dr. John Black of the Department of Biology. Included on the two-day agenda is a talk by U.S. Rep. D. Douglas Barnard. The anthropology, biology, bio-medical science and science education sections will have full paper sessions beginning Friday April 20.

A NOTE TO FM-91 (WACG) FANS: Don't forget this is the week AC's radio station goes on the air from 6 a.m. until midnight increasing its hours of operation from eight to 18 daily. Significant additions will include prerecorded National Public Radio (NPR) programs and offerings from Parkway Productions, the nation's leading distributor of good music programs, according to Harry Jacobs, general manager of WACG since its broadcast debut in 1970. The station will continue to air a large percentage of classical music as well as other programs which have generated listener interest such as the CSRA Radio Reading Service for the Blind and Print Handicapped, and weekend jazz, folk, and rock shows. A special weekly program at 7:30 p.m. on Thursdays will focus on people and events at AC. Other plans include live broadcasts of public meetings such as City Council, County Commission, Board of Education, etc. The continuation of the new format is entirely dependent upon financial support and the interest of the community, Jacobs said. "We realize we are taking a risk but we feel it's worth a try in order to fulfill our role as a provider of alternative listening to our community."

FM 91, radio Augusta College, (Augusta's listening alternative), is now on the air from 6 a.m. to midnight each day. The station broadcasts a variety of programs—from classical, rock and folk music to interviews with artists and live concerts and operas. Of special interest to AC people will be a weekly program led by Bob Young and Marian Cheek of Public Information focusing on college activities. Scheduled for Thursday, March 15 at 7 p.m. is an interview with Tom Riley, director of Continuing Education, who will discuss short course offerings for spring quarter. Following that will be a series of short interviews with several instructors on their respective courses: Anne Sheppard on "Who Am I? Where Am I Going?", Joanne Zimmerman on "Stress Management" and "Massage," Russ Holloman on "Becoming More Responsive" and "The Second Time Around," and Shari Covitz on a group of workshops for women. FOR WEEK OF: March 25 - March 31, 1979 Written Wednesday March 21, 1979

The annual Sandhills Writers' Workshop and Writing Conference will be held on campus April 19-21, according to Carol Williams, who is co-directing the program this year with Dr. Charles Willig. A staff of five professional writers will conduct sessions on poetry, short fiction, the novel, juvenile and children's fiction, and non-fiction writing. Drama and screenwriting will also be considered. Students may earn two hours' credit by attending and writing for the conference, provided they meet the course requirements: 1) submitting work to be read and discussed by the staff, and 2) either writing a paper on the work of one of the staff or making a film of the conference. Cost for students is $25 plus $5 for the awards banquet. The lectures and readings by the speakers are open to all students, enrolled or not. This year's staff will be: Mary Gordon, on the novel; Rosemary Daniell, poetry; Doris Buchanan, children's literature; Starkey Flythe, Jr., non-fiction; and Marion Montgomery, the short story. The workshop is open to anyone interested in writing—from the beginner to the experienced author. To register, call the Office of Continuing Education, 4611.

The Cullum Program on Change, which replaces the annual Third World Program, will get under way Thursday when Arthur Schlesinger gives the keynote address at 8 p.m. in the lecture room of Butler Hall. The Pulitzer-prize winning historian is the author of The Crisis of the Old Order; Violence: America in the Sixties, and 15 other books on U.S. politics and history. In addition to the public lecture, he will address students on campus Friday.

VICTOR MAYE, well-known to college and area audiences, will present a performance of Franz Kafka's "Metamorphosis" at 8 p.m. Saturday, March 31, in the Performing Arts Theatre. The production, directed by Duncan Smith, will also be offered on April 5 as part of the Cullum Program. Maye has presented several other one-man shows in the area, but considers this his most ambitious to date. Kafka's classic tale of inner torment is that of a man who awakes to find he has become a large cockroach.

THE AC ALUMNI ASSOCIATION has confirmed dates for the first annual golf and tennis tournaments. The golf tournament will be played at the Forest Hills course April 29 and is limited to 60 players. Tee time is 7:30 a.m., and entry fees are $15 per player, which cover cart and greens fees. Still to be decided is whether the contest will follow Calcutta or Lauderdale rules. Entry fees and a player's last 3 scores or handicap must be received by the Alumni Assn. by April 9. The tennis tournament, which will be played the week of April 16 at the Regency Raquet Club, will be divided into two flights. Flight A is for persons who have played in other tournaments; B is for beginning players. Flights should be indicated on entries, which are due before April 9 along with a $5 fee. Both activities are open to all alumni, members of the Jaguar Club, faculty and staff of AC. The jogathon, originally scheduled for May 5, has been postponed until a later date. For any more details, call the Maxwell Alumni House, 4701.

THE SARASOTA BOY'S CHOIR under the direction of Julie Rohr will be featured in the Sunday Afternoon Series at 3:30 p.m. April 1 in the Performing Arts Theatre. Sponsors are the Augusta Music Club and the AC Dept. of Fine Arts, and admission is free with a valid I.D.

THE AC READERS, WRITERS, AND PLAYERS will hold their next monthly reading at 2 p.m. Thursday, April 5, in the AC Chateau. Anyone who is interested in reading should contact Carol Williams, Colette April, or Duncan Smith in the Department of Languages and Literature, 3706. The public is invited to the readings.

FOR WEEK OF: April 1 - April 7, 1979

Written Wednesday March 28, 1979

The Cullum Program on Change will continue this week with Ebony magazine editor Lerone Bennett speaking at noon and 8 p.m. April 3 (Tuesday) in the lecture room of Butler Hall. His engagement here preceeds by one day the 11th anniversary of the death of Martin Luther King, Jr., whose award-winning biography Bennett wrote. He has also written numerous other books, among them: Before the Mayflower: A History of the Negro in America; The Shaping of Black America; and The Challenge of Blackness. His many poems, short stories and articles have appeared in periodicals and journals both here and abroad. On Thursday, April 5, AC alumnus Victor Mays will give his presentation of Franz Kafka's "Metamorphosis" at 8 p.m. in the PAT. The production is under the direction of Duncan Smith. Other one man shows Mays has presented include Gogol's Diary of a Madman, Livvie, and A Rose for Emily. He also has credits in productions of Tobacco Road, Oedipus Rex, Harvey and She Stoops to Conquer, among others.

An Easter Party for young children will be held 2:30-4:30 p.m. in the Chateau Sunday April 8, sponsored by the Inter-Club Council. An easter egg hunt, a magic show by Dixie Dooley, and a performance by Elbo the Clown are all included for the $1.00 admission price. Proceeds will go to the Child Abuse Center.

A memorial service honoring Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. will take place at 7 p.m. Monday, April 2 in the PAT, with singing by the Paine College Choir. Admission is fifty cents for students, $1.00 for adults, and free for children. Proceeds go to the Black Student Union Martin Luther King Fund.

THE STUDENT UNION will sponsor a wine and cheese party at 7:30 p.m. Friday, April 6 for all those interested in meeting and exchanging ideas with AC's foreign students. The students hope to form an International Club as a means for all students, American as well as foreign, to become involved in social and cultural events on campus. They also hope to establish an orientation committee to introduce foreign students to Augusta and AC, and to provide assistance if needed.

THE AC CHAMBER CHOIR will sponsor a barbeque (pork and chicken) from noon to 2 p.m. and from 5 to 8 p.m. April 5 in the PAT. The meal will be prepared by Sconyers and will cost $4.00 for students, $4.50 for adults, and $3.50 for children 6-12 years. There is no charge for children under 6 accompanied by parents. Tickets can be purchased at the door or from any choir member. The proceeds will be used to help fund the choir tour this spring.

APRIL 2 IS THE DEADLINE FOR APPLICATIONS for two scholarship positions at the International Summer School at the University of Oslo, Norway. The Rotary Club of Oslo is offering the scholarship for the summer term from June 23 - August 3. Candidates do not have to be currently enrolled in college. Requirements include good academic records, the completion of the sophomore year of college, seriousness of purpose, good health, and, in the case of teachers, good professional record. Applications can be obtained from the Office of College Relations in Rains Hall.

THE FACULTY RECITAL scheduled for April 3 featuring John Scott on the clarinet has been postponed until April 30.

AC STUDENTS Sandi Strength and Margie Marshall, officers of the SGAE, attended the 27th annual convention of the National Science Teachers Association in Atlanta recently.

A GROUP OF STUDENTS who were in Richard Frank's art class winter quarter have a show of water colors on display at the Lyle Gallery on Central Avenue. The show opened with a reception last week.

THE TRI-BETA BIOLOGY CLUB will sponsor a talk by Dr. Jerry Hubbard at noon April 9 in the lecture room of Butler Hall. His topic will be "The Viking Mission: The Search for Life on Mars."

GINA ADAMS, editor of this year's White Columns, will be interviewed Tuesday at 1 p.m. during the student news segment on WACG-FM 91. Student news and activities are broadcast daily.

PM-91, radio Augusta College, airs each weekend a number of programs for a variety of musical tastes. Next weekend's schedule includes:

Friday, April 6, 8-10 p.m.: JAZZ ALIVE. Paul Anthony will host the program, which features the Pat Matheny group, the David Freisen and John Stowell Duo, and Eberhard Weber and Colors.

Saturday 6:30 p.m.: FOLK FESTIVAL, U.S.A. This week's program will feature highlights of the 8th Annual Cincinnati Appalachian Festival, including performances by Kate Laur and her bluegrass band, Lois Short, Nimrod Workman, The Morgan Family, Company's Comin', The Luke Smathers String Band, and Phyllis Myers.

Sunday 3 p.m.: NPR RECITAL HALL. Beethoven's Sonata No. 1 in D, Op 12 will be performed by Andreja Pregel, and Bach's Partita No. 2 in D for Violin by Teiko Maehashi.

5:30 p.m.: AMERICAN MUSIC SAMPLER. Percy Moore will host "Music of the Black Church." Singer Roland Hayes will perform.

6:30 p.m.: THE GRAND PIANO. Rudolf Firkušny will perform works by Mozart, Beethoven, Brahms, and Smetana.

8 p.m.: INTERNATIONAL CONCERT HALL. Carlos Chavez will conduct the Inter-American Festival Orchestra.

GARY PLAYER will be the guest speaker for the Augusta Golf Association's dinner to be held April 8 as a benefit for the AC golf program. Player has won the Masters Tournament three times (including last year) and is the third champion to speak at the annual dinner.

FOR WEEK OF: April 8 - April 14, 1979

Written Wednesday April 4, 1979

The AC Lyceum Series in conjunction with the Cullum Program on Change will sponsor a modern dance performance by soloist Daniel Nagrin at 8 p.m. Thursday (April 12) in the Performing Arts Theatre. The program will include seven separate original interpretations, ranging from Nagrin's "Spanish Dance" and "Strange Hero," choreographed in 1948, to his recent "Silence is Golden." Nagrin's dance career spans three decades, during which he has toured his solo programs throughout the U.S., Europe, and the Pacific. In addition to his dance training and background, he has conducted studies in acting technique and performance and has directed movement for off Broadway productions and films. The performance is open to the public.

The Inter-Club Council will hold an Easter Party for children ages one to 12 (accompanied by an adult) from 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. in the College Activities Center on Sunday (April 8). An easter egg hunt with prizes, a magic show by Dixie Dooley, and a performance by Elbo the clown are included for the $1.00 admission price. Tickets can be purchased in the Office of Student Activities, with proceeds to be donated to the Augusta Child Abuse Center.

THE AC CAFETERIA will serve an Easter buffet from 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. on Wednesday, April 11. The menu will consist of carved roast beef, assorted vegetables, salad and beverages. The cost will be $2.60 per person.

A TWO PART REAL ESTATE COURSE will be offered at AC this spring. Both are scheduled for Tuesday and Thursday nights, 8-10 p.m., and Saturday mornings 9 a.m.-noon. Part I, which begins April 17, is designed for the prospective salesperson. Part II begins May 22 and is intended for those who wish to qualify for the real estate broker's exam. Registration fees are $80 for Part I, $120 for Part II. More information is available from the Center for the Study of Private Enterprise, 4993.

THE AUGUSTA COMMUNITY CONCERT BAND will perform in concert at 3 p.m. Sunday (April 8) in front of the Performing Arts Theatre. Bring your family and spend a delightful afternoon outdoors. There is no admission charge.

MATH TUTORIAL SERVICES for students who are having difficulty with basic math skills and homework are now available in the Math Lab. Dr. Paul Chang announced that hours are 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. and 5-8 p.m. Monday through Thursday, and 8 a.m. - 1 p.m. Friday.

FM 91, RADIO AUGUSTA COLLEGE, has begun broadcasting each week talks by visiting scholars participating in the Cullum Program. Those who missed Lerone Bennett, Jr.'s noon lecture last week can hear it at 7 p.m. Thursday (April 12) on the Augusta College Presents program.

DR. JERRY HUBBARD of Georgia Tech will be the guest speaker at a seminar sponsored by the Tri Beta Biology Club at noon April 9 in the lecture room of Butler Hall. His topic will be "The Viking Mission: The Search for Life on Mars."

LOOKING FOR A BABYSITTER during Masters week? Call 738-5036. (Babysitter will keep children in her home.)

THE REESE LIBRARY will be closed Easter Sunday (April 15), according to Librarian Ray Rowland.

THE AC STUDENT UNION will sponsor a concert with the Putnam County Pickers at 8 p.m. Friday (April 13) in the Performing Arts Theatre. The group's act is four part harmony which blends folk, rock, blues, country and ragtime. Tickets are $3.00 for general admission (or $1.00 with AC I.D.) and can be purchased at the door.

THE INTER-CLUB COUNCIL (ICC), headed by Sandi Strength, has had Mayor Louis A. Newman proclaim April 8-15 as "Prevent Child Abuse Week" in Augusta. As part of the special week, the Student Georgia Association of Educators here will sponsor a talk by Meg Hadlock, a social worker for the Department of Family and Children Services, noon Tuesday (April 10) in the Lecture Room of Butler Hall. Ms. Hadlock will speak on the topic of child abuse--particularly as it relates to Augusta children. The special week was proclaimed as part of the International Year of the Child.

The deadline for AC's annual student art exhibit is April 27 at 3 p.m., according to Richard Frank of the Fine Arts Department. Frank said the competition is open to all students enrolled full or part time at AC this academic year. All entries must be original works done this year (not necessarily in art class), and must be properly prepared for display (framed, matted, etc.). Cash awards totalling $200 will be given to winners of the show, which will be juried by the AC Art Department. Labels for entries, which should be submitted to Nathan Bindler, are available in the department.

Area high school students who have an academic ranking in the top five per cent of their junior classes will be honored by Augusta College at 7:30 p.m. Monday night (April 23) in the Performing Arts Theatre during the annual Certificate of Achievement Awards Program. This year over 300 juniors from CSRA schools will receive certificates from J. Gray Dinwiddie, dean of the College. The program will also include announcement of and presentation of awards to winners of the annual J.B. White Literary Competition for junior and senior high school students. Parents, teachers, and friends are invited.

MICHAEL HARRINGTON, professor of political science and author of seven books on social change, will be the next speaker in the Cullum Program on Change. He will talk at noon and 8 p.m. April 24 in the lecture room of Butler Hall. As Chairman of the Democratic Socialist Organizing Committee, he has long been active in liberal and trade union causes. His book, The Other America, is widely credited for drawing President John Kennedy's attention to the issue of poverty. He served as a member of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.'s advisory committee in the 60's and as a member of Lyndon Johnson's Task Force on Poverty, and now teaches at Queens College in New York City.

THE CHANGE PROGRAM will also present "The Stranger," a film adaptation of Camus' novel, at 6 & 8:15 p.m. Thursday in the Performing Arts Theatre. The movie is directed by Dino de Laurentis and stars Marcello Mastroianni and Anna Karina.

AC HAS BEEN SELECTED AS A FINALIST in an alumni giving incentive awards program sponsored by the Council for the Advancement and Support of Education (CASE), according to John McNeal, dean of College Relations. With help from a grant from the U.S. Steel Foundation, up to $60,000 in awards will be presented to winners this year, he said. Results will not be known until later next month.

THE 2ND ANNUAL MARCH OF DIMES Invitational Art Exhibit and Sale will be held Wednesday-Friday (April 25-27) from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m., and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. at the Fuqua Center, 2249 Walton Way.

THE STUDENT PARKING LOT at the corner of Katherine Street and Walton Way will be permanently closed as of May 1, according to Dean Joseph Mele. He explained that the college was allowed to use the private property only until its owner needed it. Ample parking will be provided behind the PAT, he stressed, to make up for the lost space.

A FACULTY RECITAL with John Scott on clarinet, John Schaeffer on piano, and James Russey singing tenor will take place at 8:30 p.m. April 30 in the PAT. The three members of the Fine Arts Department will present a program which features Sonata OP. 120, No. 2 by Brahms; Introduction et Rondo, OP. 72 by Widor, and Capriccio for Solo Clarinet by Sutermeister. The conclusion will be a cycle of eight songs titled "To Be Sung Upon the Waters". The work is based on texts by Wordsworth with music by the award-winning American composer Dominick Argento. The concert is free.

THE AC POLITICAL SCIENCE CLUB has invited South Carolina politician Pug Ravenel to campus April 27 (Friday) to speak at their annual Law Day observance. His talk is at noon in the PAT. Activities are being held a few days early of the actual Law Day on May 1 to prevent a conflict with the Change Program.

IF YOU MISSED Cullum Change Program speaker Fred Keller's talk last Tues., you can hear it on the AC Presents program Thurs. at 7 p.m. on FM 91.

A LEADERSHIP FOR WOMEN WORKSHOP conducted by two experts in the field of interpersonal relations will be held all day Friday (April 27). FOR WEEK OF: May 20 - May 26, 1979

Written Wednesday May 16, 1979

The AC Student Union will present singer/songwriter Gove Scrivenor in concert at 8 p.m. Tuesday (May 29) in the College Activities Center. The nationally known recording star's act ranges from blues to classics to country rock. Free bread and cheese will be served at the concert, which is free with an I.D. and 50¢ for general admission.

The AC Theatre will perform Edward Albee's Zoo Story and Eugene Ionesco's The Gap May 24, 25 and 26 at 8 p.m. in the Chateau. The Zoo Story, a gripping tale of alienation, will star Duncan Smith and Arthur Wilson. The Gap is a farcical nightmare about an academic who forgets to take his baccalaureate exam. Keith Cowling, Briscoe Merry, Betty DiNunzio, and Mary-Kathleen Gernant make up the cast. Tickets are $2.00 general, $1.00 for students, and free with an I.D. They will be available at the door.

SENIOR ART MAJORS at AC will open their annual show with a reception at 7:30 p.m. May 20 in the PAT. Everyone is invited. The exhibition will last through June 2. Students exhibiting are Sue Allinder, Alison Fortgang and George Porter.

APPLICATIONS ARE BEING ACCEPTED for two Richard Timothy Mixon Scholarships for next year. Full time chemistry or pre-med majors who have at least sophomore status and who plan to graduate from AC are eligible. The scholarships will be awarded on the basis of scholastic ability and dedication to a career in science. They are made possible through donations from the Ways and Means for the Blind, Inc. in memory of Richard Timothy Mixon, who graduated from AC in 1972 with a B.S. in chemistry. They pay in-state tuition for the next academic year and are subject to review each quarter. Applications are available from the secretary in the Dept. of Chemistry & Physics and are due by July 1.

EDITORS OF SAND HILLS, AC's student literary magazine, have expressed their appreciation to all who submitted poetry, fiction, or artwork to be considered for inclusion. Those whose work will appear in this year's issue have been notified. Others may pick up their submissions at the Department of Languages & Literature.

THE AC MUSIC DEPARTMENT will combine efforts in a joint concert of its performing ensembles at 3:30 p.m. Sun. (May 13) in the PAT. The college band under the direction of John Scott will present compositions by Frescobaldi, German, and Ginastera. The Jazz Ensemble--under the direction of Michael McClary will perform compositions by McCartney, Cole Porter, Mangione, Westico, and Garland. Dr. James Russey will conduct the choir in works by Copland and Rodgers.

THE AUGUSTA COMMUNITY CONCERT BAND will present a Memorial Day weekend concert at 3 p.m. Sunday (May 27) on the steps of the PAT. Norman Moore and Don Milford will share the director's stand for the program, which will include "American Legion March" by Charles Parker, "Land of Make Believe" by Chuck Mangione (arranged by Jeff Tkazyik), "Fantasia on Dixie" by Dan Emmett (arranged by Carmen Draggon), and "Sgt. Pepper's Lonely Hearts Club Band" by Lennon and McCartney (arranged by Will Schaefer). Also on the program will be "Kentucky-1800," "TV's Super Hits" (a medley), "Gloria March," "The Sounds of Hollywood," "Fantasy for Band," and "Contempora Overture." Moore is director of the Evans High School Band and Milford directs the Seigo Jr. High Band. Bring your own chair or blanket to the free concert.

DR. HARVEY L. STIREWALT (Biology) recently attended the annual meeting of the Association of Southeastern Biologists in Chattanooga, Tennessee. He was accompanied by five students who assisted him over the past year in a study of the Savannah River. While at the meeting, he presented a paper titled "Some Effects of Rechannelization of the Aquatic Organisms in the Coastal Plain Region of the Savannah River," which chronicles findings of the study. Students involved in the project were Martin Truett, Suzanne Thigpen, Glenn Thomas, Robert Herring and Bruce Saul.

FOR WEEK OF: May 27 - June 2, 1979

Written Wednesday May 23, 1979

The Center for the Study of Private Enterprise has announced that two Columbia County Teachers have been awarded the first annual Paul B. Bailey Award for Private Enterprise. William R. Jackson of Evans Junior High and Joe Jolley of Harlem High were selected by a panel of judges to share the award which was established last year by the late Paul B. Bailey in the form of a contribution to the Augusta College Foundation. The award was established "to provide a means of recognizing each year a teacher who has inspired students to understand and appreciate the American way of life and the free enterprise system." Bailey, a member of the Class of '39 at the Junior College of Augusta, died April 1. He was the chairman of the board of Sherman and Hemstreet Inc. and was the Alumni Association's Distinguished Alumnus in 1975. He served for several years as chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Augusta College Foundation and it was during that time that he made his wishes known to the Foundation to sponsor such an award which is designed to encourage teachers to become more involved in economic education. CSPE Director Levings Laney and Foundation Chairman Sam Waller presided at the ceremony which was attended by College and Center officials as well as Columbia County School officials.

June and August graduates are invited to attend the AC Alumni Association's annual "Welcome to Our World" party to be held immediately after rehearsal for the June commencement at The Maxwell Alumni House. Alumni officials are promising a great time for all.

If you've seen scores of small persons running around on campus for the past several weeks, rest assured Augusta College has not lowered any age requirements for admission. The annual Summer Day Camp conducted by the Office of Student Activities is in full swing with each of the eight weeks of camp completely filled and topped with a waiting list. Directed by Debbie Murphy, the camp is for children from 4-12 and features arts and crafts, indoor and outdoor sports, swimming, lunch, and a number of field trips. To date, the program has enjoyed a demonstration by gymnast Rayna Allen, a pottery exhibit by David Stuart and, in the near future, Steve Wright of Clemson University will be here to show the children the art of milking a snake. Every Friday, a picnic is held in Pendleton King Park. Julia Ross is coordinating this year's arts and crafts program assisted by aide Mattie Davis. Volunteers include Pam Hickman, Leslie Neelands, Julie Thompkins, Pam Vicory, William Vicory, Lawrence Williams and Steve Robinson. Steve Boe serves as a lifeguard. The age groups include the Munchkins (4-6), the Hobbits (7-8) and the Titans (9-12).

Congratulations and best wishes to custodial employee Roberta Almata Scott who officially retired June 30 following 20 years of service to Augusta College. A member of the staff since January 1959, Mrs. Scott was honored last Thursday at a Physical Plant luncheon where she was presented with a handmade plaque acknowledging her long years of service to Augusta College and the Junior College of Augusta. "Everything has changed since I first came to work and I was here to see it all," she proudly said in a recent interview with the Spotlight. "All of these buildings," she motioned, "were just dust-balls when I arrived." Of particular note is the fact that since she has been on campus, she has only missed several days of work due to sickness. Carol Johnson of the Physical Plant said Mrs. Scott has over 800 sick leave hours to her credit, according to records she has kept over the past ten years. Twice married and widowed, Mrs. Scott is a native of Columbia County and worked at the Academy of Richmond County for six years before joining Augusta College. "I've enjoyed every minute of the past 20 years here," she said, adding, "I've loved everyone I've worked with and everyone has liked me. If they didn't, then they fooled me," she smiled. She hasn't decided what she'll do in retirement but does plan to continue her gospel singing with the Independent Gospel Singers and her seamstress work. She also enjoys painting, gardening and cooking. She has a sister in Augusta and a number of nieces.

THE SUMMERVILLE NEIGHBORHOOD ASSN. has announced plans to award a $500 scholarship to a permanent resident of Summerville who is attending AC now or will this fall. The Scholarship Committee has expressed the hope that not only will the award be of financial assistance but that it will stimulate an interest in the area's future. Applications are available at the Appleby Branch of the Augusta-Richmond County Library or at the Public Information Office. Applications must be submitted by August 1 to the Summerville Scholarship Committee, P.O. Box 12212, Augusta, Georgia 30904.

FORMER FACULTY MEMBER Dr. Mike Land has accepted the position of Dean of the College of Education and Psychology at Missouri Southern State. He joins Missouri from Peru State College in Nevada.

THE PERSONNEL in the Office of Continuing Education will be moving into their new offices located in the former Army Reserve Center (Walton Way and Katherine Street) on Monday (July 2). The facilities will house Continuing Education and the Department of Military Science. Surrounding acreage will provide additional parking.

AUGUSTA COLLEGE RADIO WACG-FM will add two new features to its programming. Beginning Sunday (July 1) at 10 a.m. the Classical Top 40 Show with host Jim Davis will make its broadcasting debut. Each Sunday show will be re-aired 6 p.m. on Wednesdays. Beginning Tuesday (July 3) at 5 p.m. William Buckley's well-known program "Firing Line" may be heard. The one hour program will continue every Tuesday at 5.

FACULTY NEWS

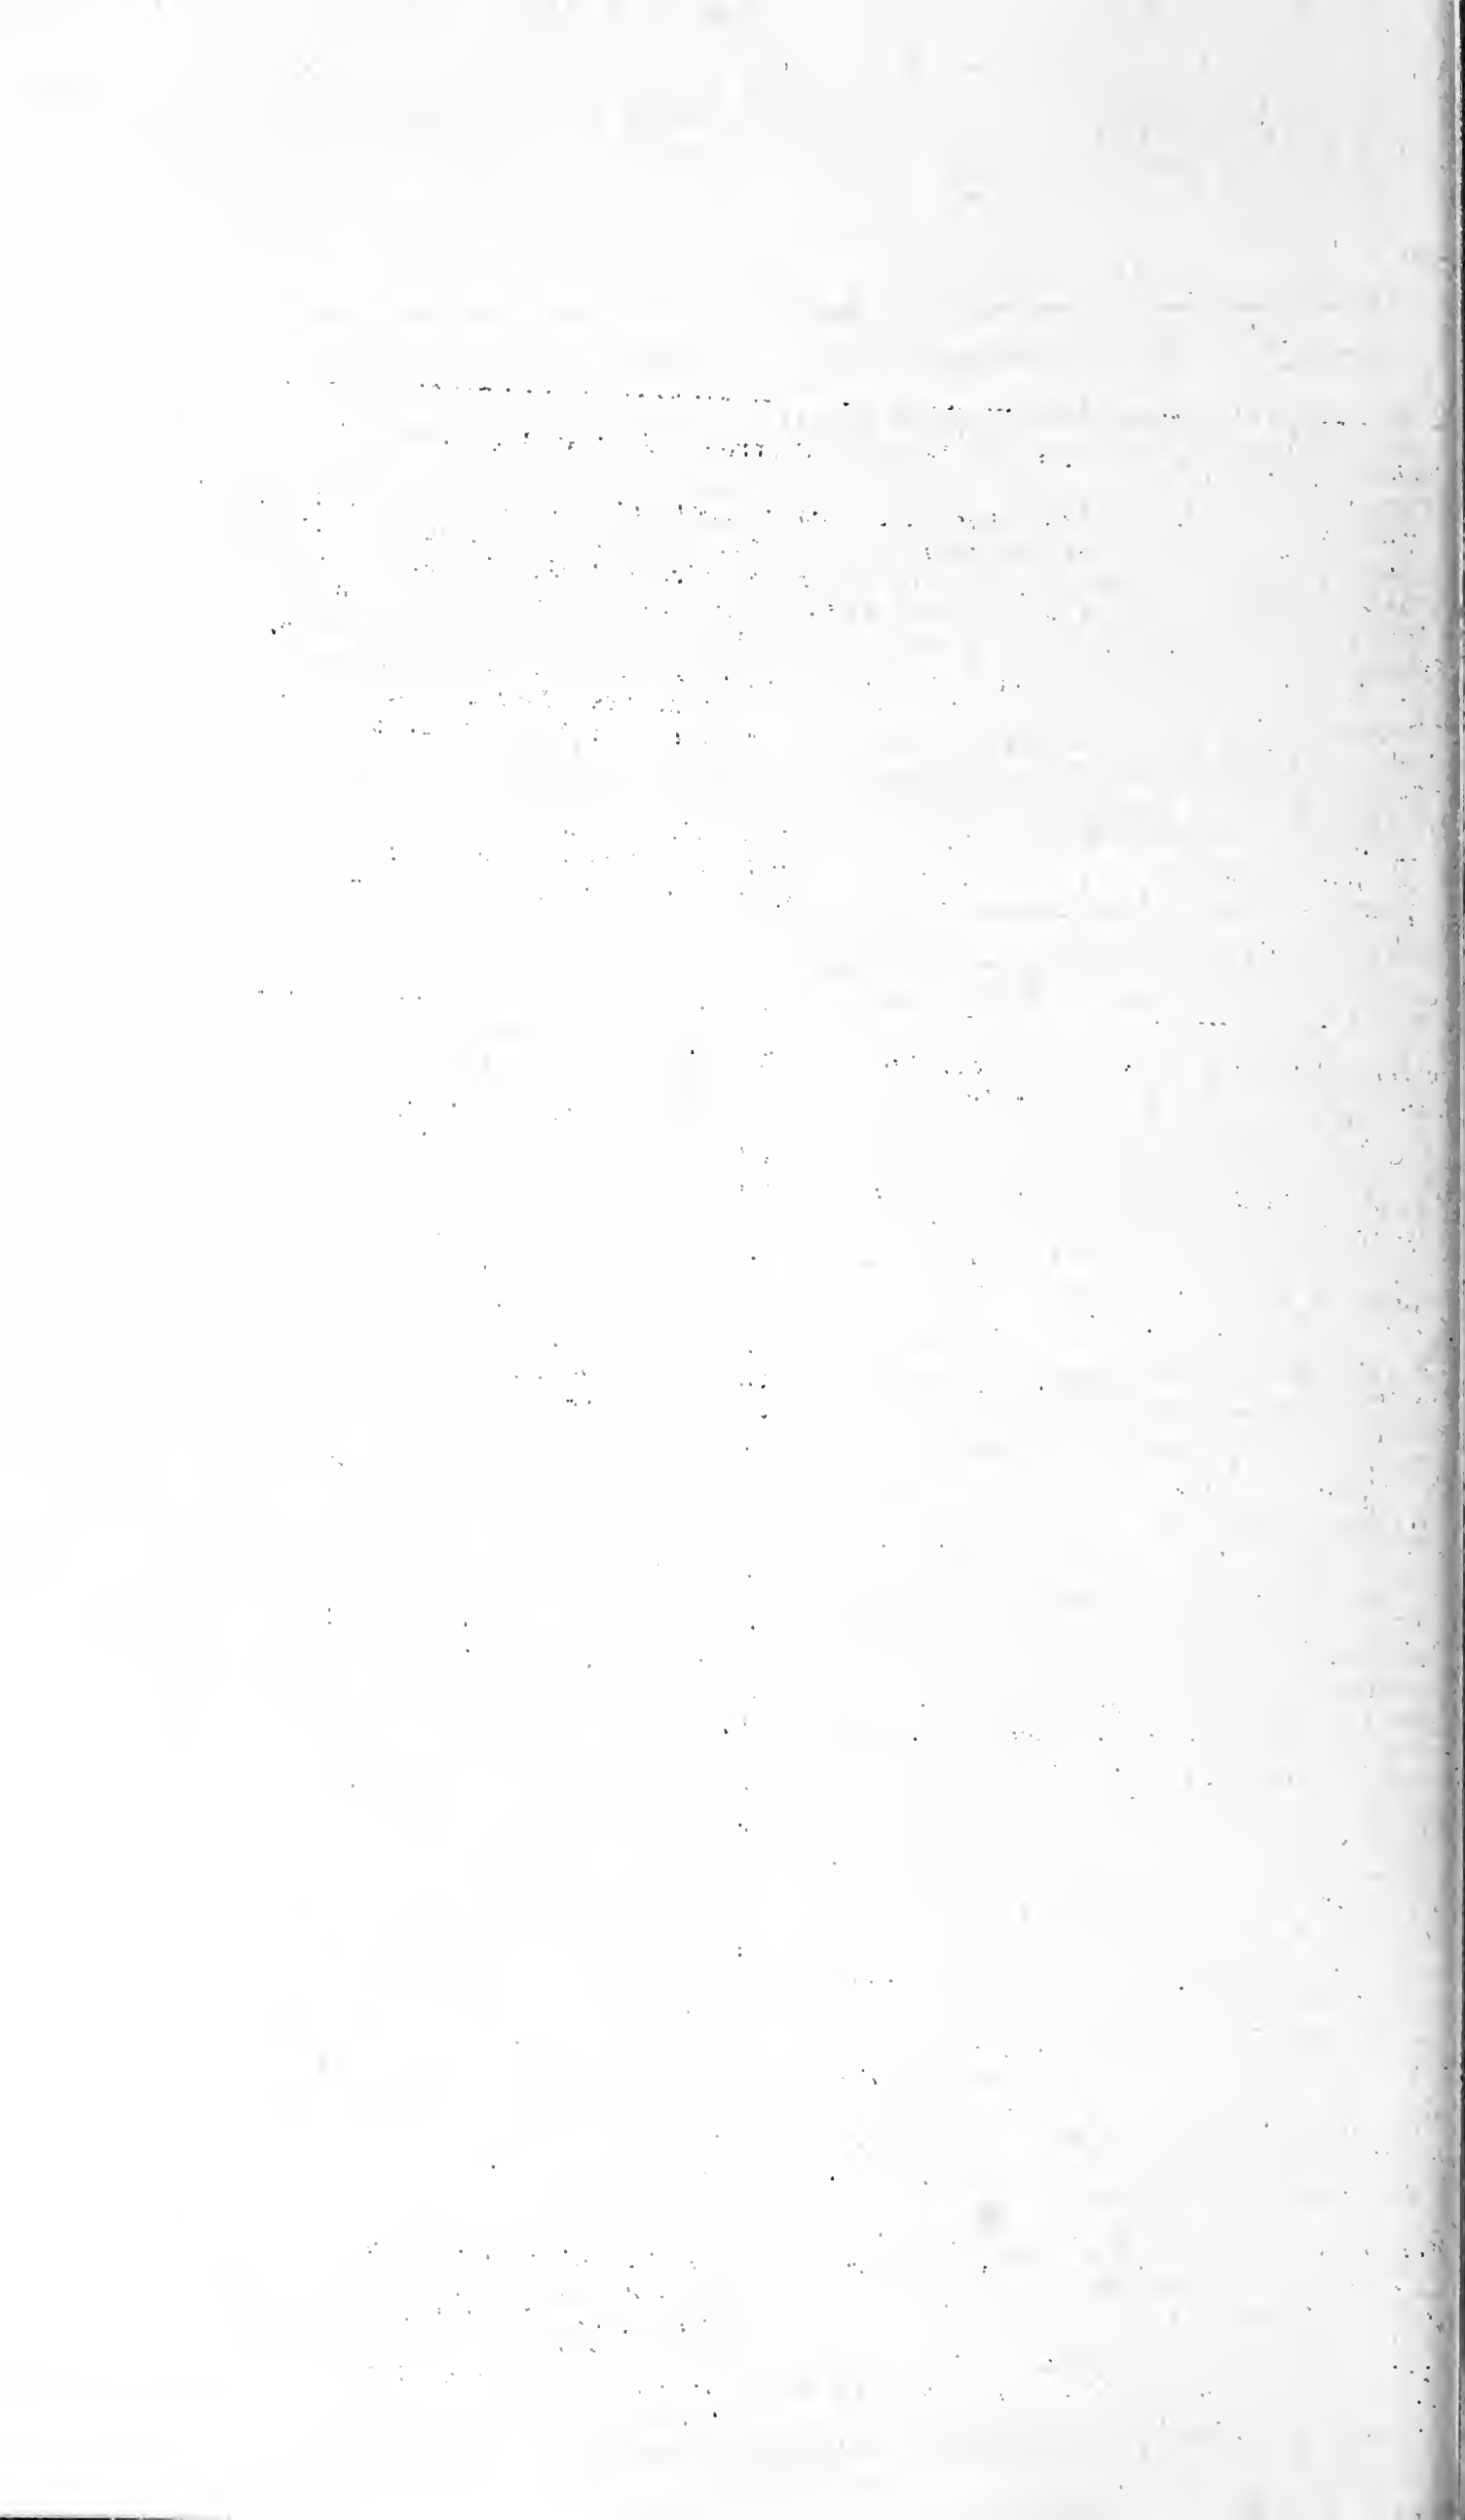

DR. EUGENE PIERCE (SCHOOL OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION) participated in the recent International Atlantic Economic Conference held in Vienna and Salzburg. While there he presented a paper titled "Petro-Currency Financing of Exports for Pluralistic, Self-Supporting Development Projects." The paper dealt with techniques by which dollars accumulated by the oil exporting nations can be channeled into the purchase of U.S. exports for the financing of free enterprise projects in nations seeking capitalistic development.

DR. JOHN PRESLEY (SPECIAL STUDIES) will have his article "Needed: A Curriculum for Supervisors" published in the next issue of the Journal of Studies in Technical Careers. The article was co-authored by AC alumnus Robert Morgan.

DR. CHARLES WILLIG (LANGUAGES AND LITERATURE) spoke at the recent meeting of the Friends of the Library in Louisville. After showing Buster Keaton's classic "The General," he discussed the film's development and technique.

Former Augusta radio personality Hans Petersen will be on campus September 28 to record his second "live" comedy album in a benefit performance to kick off our annual fund raising drive. Augusta College students, faculty and staff are being given a two-day head start on buying tickets before general public sales.

His first album, "Trust Me," a parody of the Carters in the White House, was recorded in North Augusta in November, 1976. In addition to national recognition, the album was placed in the official White House Record Library.

Petersen will perform two shows on Friday, Sept. 28 in the AC Performing Arts Theatre. The performances will be at 4:30 and 9 p.m. with music, barbecue and beverages scheduled between the two shows.

The tax-deductible tickets will be sold on a first-come first-serve basis to AC personnel on Friday, August 31 and Tuesday, September 4 in the College Relations, Maxwell Alumni House, Office of Student Activities and Public Safety Office. Admission is $10.00 for the afternoon performance and $12.50 for the evening performance. Both audiences will be able to enjoy barbecue and beverages in the AC Quadrangle from 6 to 8:30 p.m. Code 99 a local band, will perform. Tickets will not be sold at the door.

The entire Friday afternoon and evening agenda is part of AC's "Commitment to Excellence" fund-raising drive, which involves the efforts of the Foundation, the AC Alumni Association and the AC Athletic Association. Proceeds from the barbecue and the Hans Petersen album taping sessions will go to benefit the college.

Petersen was heard on Augusta radio stations WBIA and WGAC for four years from January 1975 until January 1979 when he joined a radio station in Rochester, N.Y.

Utilizing his skill of speaking in different sounding voices, Hans created several characters who joined him daily on his radio program. From the retired pirate Cap'n Regard to the very vocal Teenager, the characters became as real to many Augusta listeners as Hans himself.

In addition to his observations on contemporary life styles and an insight into what it is like to work in radio, Hans will be performing the voices in public for the first time.

The Teenager is also busily composing his first hit record, Lonely Lament, and will introduce it at the performance.

Alloyshius S.W. will introduce his orthodontist.

Cap'n will tell the punch lines to several risque jokes which Hans has forbidden him to tell.

In addition to a few comments on words and language, Hans will update the audience on the inner thoughts of Jimmy Carter. He said the shows are designed for adult audiences.

Petersen, who will turn 38 the eve of his Augusta College performance, is a native of Pensacola, Florida and is married to the former Betty Price of Los Angeles.

A disc jockey since age 14, he has worked at radio stations throughout the U.S. and at several television stations. He has also worked in radio syndication in Los Angeles including heading up his own national radio syndicate company there.

His career includes four years in the Air Force and two years in the Peace Corps in Africa.

Before leaving Augusta, Hans taught broadcasting for the Office of Continuing Education.

AUGUSTA, GA.

Several area stores have agreed to help AC by selling tickets to the Hans Petersen performances. (Hans Petersen will visit campus on Friday, Sept. 28 to tape a new comedy album.) In addition to the campus locations, Finish Line Sports, RSVP Sandwich Gallery, Johannsen's Sporting Goods, Tiffany Bakery in Regency Mall, and King's Ltd. in Augusta Mall will sell tickets. The afternoon show at 4:30 p.m. is $10.00 and the evening show is $12.50. The barbeque from 5:30 to 8:30 p.m. is included in the price of either ticket. In addition to Hans and his characters, recording artist Terri Gibbs and pianist Vola Jacobs of the AC faculty will be featured in the performances.

All persons who have volunteered to assist in AC's Commitment to Excellence campaign are asked to attend one of two training sessions at 5:30 p.m. Sept. 24 and 26 in the Maxwell Alumni House. At those times, workers will be supplied with information about the college's need for private funds and other details on our first major fund raising effort. The sessions will last about an hour and will include refreshments according to Jack McNeal, dean of College Relations.

The Augusta College Student Union will sponsor "The Guess Who" in concert at 8 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 20 in the Performing Arts Theatre. (That's eight days before the Hans Petersen performance.) Special guest for the evening will be Roger Revette. Admission is $2.00 for AC students with a valid I.D. and $5.00 for the public. Tickets will be available at the door.

AREA RUNNERS, JOGGERS, AND EVEN WALKERS are invited to participate in the AC Alumni Assn.'s first annual Jaguar Jaunt to take place Saturday evening, Sept. 29 (the night after the Hans Petersen performance). The jaunt will consist of two events: a one mile fun run at 6:30 p.m. and a three mile race at 7 p.m. The course will begin at the Katherine Street gate and will cover a mile loop around the campus. The three mile race will make three circuits of the course. Entry fee is $2.50 before Sept. 26 and $3.00 after that date. Special trophies will be awarded, and families who enter will receive prizes. Registration forms are available at the Office of Student Activities, the Maxwell Alumni House, Finish Line Sports, and other area sporting goods stores.

THE AUGUSTA COLLEGE THEATRE will hold auditions for its fall production, Shakespeare's The Comedy of Errors, on Thursday, Sept. 20 from 3 to 5 and from 7-10 p.m. & Friday, Sept. 21 (one week before Hans) from 7-10 in the Chateau. This lively comedy of mistaken identity will be presented as it might have been done by turn-of-the-century vaudevillians. In addition to actors and actresses, singers, dancers, and specialty acts will be auditioned. Performances will be given Nov. 15-18 in the Performing Arts Theatre.

THE CENTER FOR THE STUDY OF PRIVATE ENTERPRISE at AC has announced plans for a Small Business Development series to begin Sept. 18. The series will offer one course per week. Each course will include two sessions and will meet from 5:30-8 p.m. Courses scheduled through the end of October will include payroll accounting and taxation, a tax clinic, laws, cash flow management, personnel management, and credit collection. For more information, call the center at 828-4993.

THE GEORGIA TEACHER CERTIFICATION TEST will be administered on Saturday, Dec. 1, and March 1, 1980. The deadline for registering is Oct. 27 for the Dec. test and Jan. 26 for the March test. Refund deadlines are Nov. 10 and Feb. 9. Registration bulletins will be available the week of Sept. 24 in the School of Education, Butler Hall.

THE AC WOMEN'S VOLLEYBALL TEAM needs members. If you're interested, you're invited to a meeting at 3 p.m. Sept. 18 in the gym. Call Maureen Mulherin at 736-0166 for more details.

CONGRATULATIONS TO CHARLIE FREEMAN, who ran his first marathon last week at Prescove Isle in Erie, Pennsylvania. Charlie's time for the 26 mile race was 3 hours 50 minutes. His comment: "It was a perfectly run race. Everything went as I planned it would."

KO day at AC is finally arriving, following what for some has seemed like months of planning. Hans Petersen, accompanied by his grab-bag of characters, will cut his second album Friday Sept. 28 at 4:30 and 9 p.m. in the Performing Arts Theatre. The kick-off for this year's Commitment to Excellence Fund Raising Campaign will also include a barbecue dinner and live music by Code 99 in between shows. Tickets for the afternoon performance are $10 and for the evening show, $12.50. Barbecue will be served in the Quadrangle from 6-8:30 p.m. Tickets are available on campus at the Public Information Office, College Relations Office, Public Safety Office, Office of Student Activities and the Maxwell Alumni House. Off campus locations are RSVP Sandwich Gallery, Finish Line Sports, Johannsen's Sporting Goods, King's Limited at the Augusta Mall and Tiffany Bakery at Regency Mall. Remember: tickets are tax-deductible and proceeds will benefit Augusta College.

A two day regional conference on "Mathematics for the 1980's" will be held at AC Oct. 12-13 jointly sponsored by AC, and the Richmond and Columbia County school systems. The conference is designed primarily for math teachers from elementary through college levels but is open to all who are interested. Keynote speakers will be Dr. Mary P. Dolciani, professor of mathematics at Hunter College of New York and Dr. A. Edward Uprichard, director of graduate studies and professor of mathematics education at the University of South Florida. Sessions will cover early childhood, middle school, secondary school, college and general interests. Participants from Georgia, Florida, South Carolina and Alabama are expected to attend. Topics at the various sessions range from "Projects for the Gifted Secondary Student" and "Using Graphs to Improve Skills" to "Mathematics for the Learning Disabled" and "Techniques for Developing Early Childhood Math Concepts." Though the conference is free, registration is necessary through the AC Office of Continuing Education.

AC FRESHMEN entering the School of Business Administration are invited to apply now for the newly established Bob Hutchinson Alumni Scholarship. The recipient is entitled to full tuition and fees for three academic quarters. The scholarship is renewable each year, provided scholastic requirements are met. For additional information or applications, contact the Admissions Office, Payne Hall.

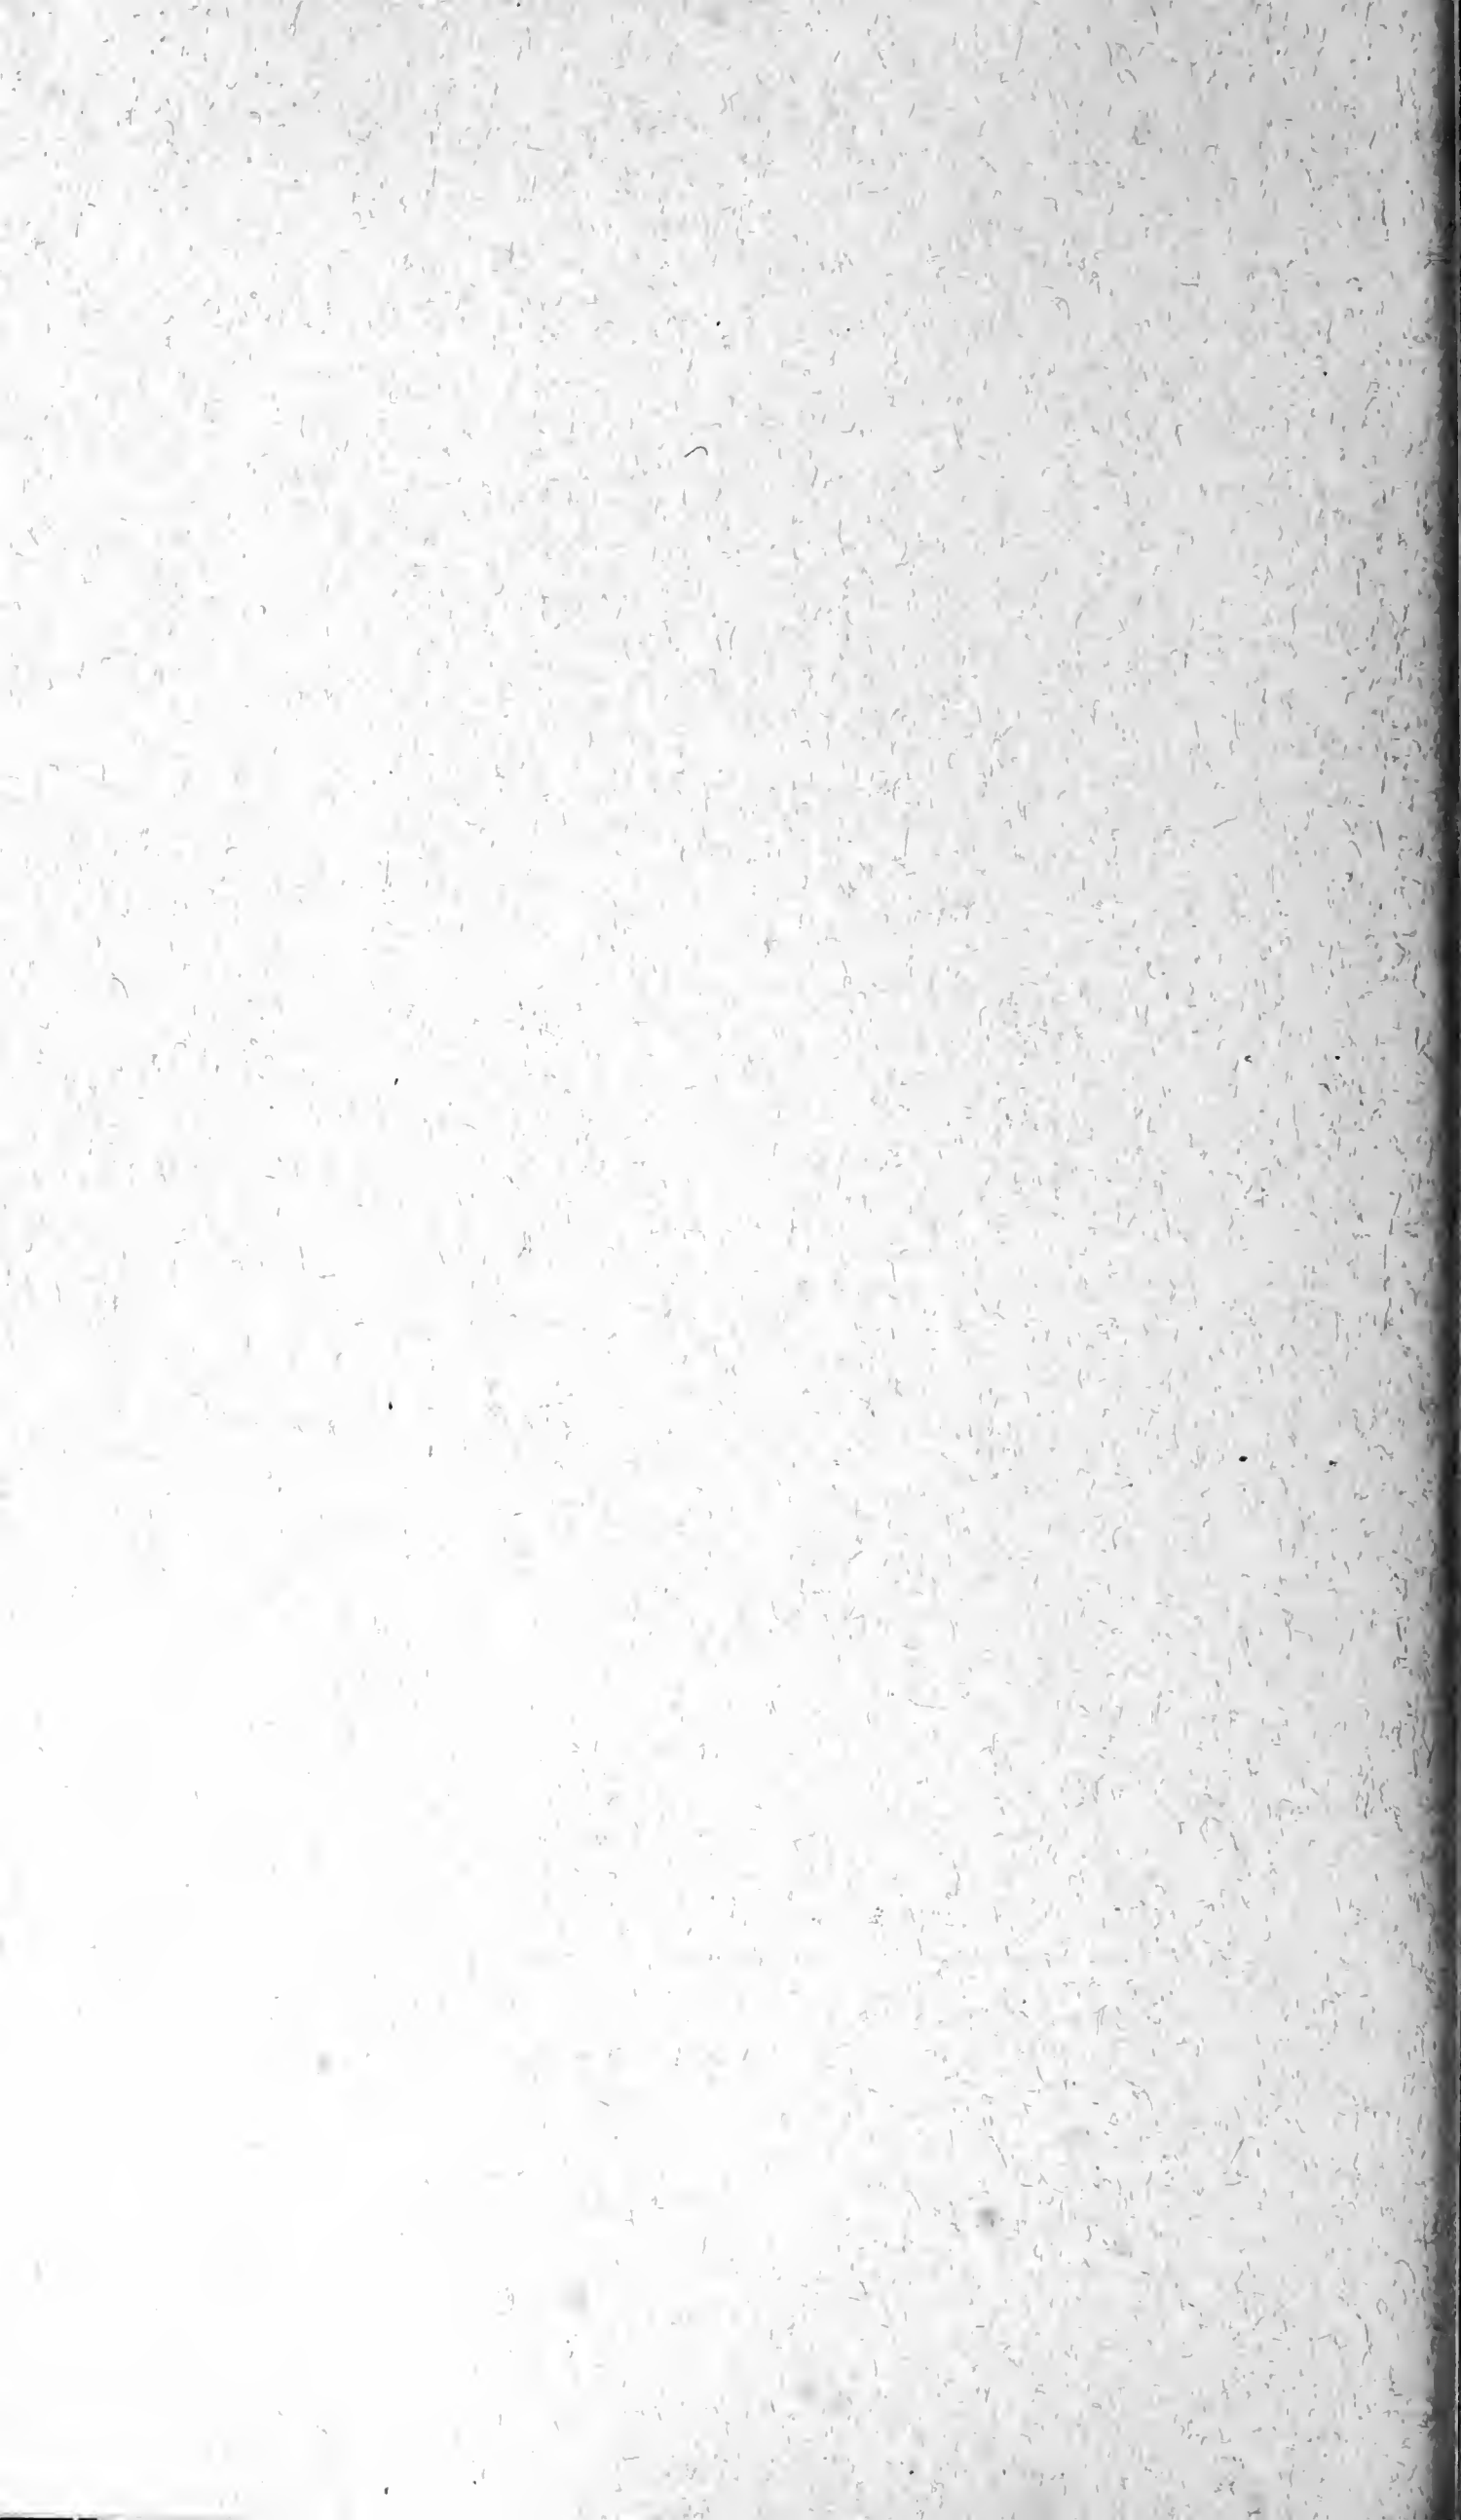

LIFESTYLES AND CARDIOVASCULAR HEALTH will be the topic of Dr. William B. Strong's talk at noon Monday (Sept. 24) as the AC Dept. of Psychology begins its fall Colloquium Series. Dr. Strong is Charbonnier Professor of Pediatrics and director of pediatric cardiology at MCG. His presentation will last one hour, with time for questions and answers, and will take place in Room A-4 of Skinner Hall. The series will continue through mid-November with four more speakers scheduled. Everyone is invited.

WACG FM 91, Augusta College Radio, has announced a new broadcast season of concerts by the New York Philharmonic, directed by Zubin Mehta. The concerts will be heard each Tuesday evening at 8 p.m. beginning Oct. 4. Among the highlights of the series are the Philharmonic's first appearances at Tanglewood, summer home of the Boston Symphony Orchestra. Performances there, scheduled for the sixth, seventh, and eighth weeks of the series, include Mahler's Fifth Symphony and Beethoven's Ninth Symphony, both conducted by Mehta, now in his second year as music director. For a complete schedule, call the radio station at 828-3702.

THE ONE AND THREE MILE JAGUAR JAUNT, a foot race on campus sponsored by the AC Alumni Association, is attracting an unexpectedly large number of runners. If you haven't registered, the deadline for early entries ($2.50 fee) is Sept. 26. Late registration will be $3.00. The event, the first of its kind at AC, is for beginning as well as experienced runners. Families who enter will receive a prize. Get entry forms at the Office of Student Activities, the Maxwell Alumni House, and area sporting goods stores. Race Sept. 29 at 6 p.m.

A REMINDER to register by Oct. 5 for the Oct. 27 Graduate Management Admission Test. For a Bulletin of Information and registration form, see Dr. Roy Nicely in the School of Business Administration, Room 3, Suite C, Markert Hall.

A SMOKING WITHDRAWAL Clinic sponsored by University Hospital will take place at 7:30 p.m. Sept. 24 in the Hospital auditorium. It's open to the public for a fee of $10 per person. You may register at the door.

FOR WEEK OF: Sept. 30 - Oct. 6, 1979

Written Wednesday, September 26, 1979

The AC Student Union will present singer and musician Elaine Silver in concert at 8 p.m. October 3, Wednesday, in the Student Lounge on the second floor of the College Activities Center. The New Jersey native is a classical vocalist who plays guitar, banjo, and dulcimer. She made an appearance on campus in February and is being brought back by student request. Admission to the performance is free with a valid AC I.D. and 50¢ for others. Free bread and cheese will be served.

The AC Student Art Association will sponsor a month-long exhibit by artists Errol R. (Mobutu) Reynolds and Anthony H. Rice in the PAT lobby beginning October 1. Mobutu is a wood sculptor who is here for a four month residency with the local school system. The Pittsburgh, Pa. native was a jazz musician for 10 years. He developed his sculpting talent by making and decorating his own percussion instruments. He has since gained international recognition for his talent. Anthony H. Rice is assistant professor of art at Wesleyan College in Macon, Ga. His guest appearances and lectures at colleges throughout the nation have covered topics ranging from basic drawing and painting to sculpting and quilt design. The exhibit is open to the public.

ATLANTA CONSTITUTION WRITER LEE MAY, who was to speak at 8 p.m. Tuesday, Oct. 2 in the lecture room of Butler Hall, has been sent on special assignment to the Middle East. His talk on Black English has been postponed until a later date.

THE AC POLITICAL SCIENCE CLUB will sponsor a forum for all City Council candidates Oct. 4 and 5 at noon in the lecture room of Butler Hall. Candidates from wards 1-4 will speak on Thursday and those from wards 5-8 on Friday. The public is invited to meet and question the candidates.

THE CHIEF OF PSYCHOLOGY at Ft. Gordon's Dwight David Eisenhower Medical Center will be the next speaker in the AC Dept. of Psychology's Colloquium Series. Dr. John McCormack will speak at noon Monday (Oct. 1) in Room A-4 of Skinner Hall. His topic will be "Adult Outpatient Psychotherapy." All lectures in the series will be one-hour presentations with time for questions and answers. Everyone is welcome.

THE AC TITLE XX Day Care Training Project is now in its fourth year on campus and is looking forward to another success, according to Director Marge Peterson. The project, funded by the Dept. of Human Resources, has grown from a budget of $63,000 for the training of 70 teachers to one of $163,000 for the training of 168 teachers in 18 counties in Georgia. The director expressed her appreciation for AC's support and cooperation.

A MATH LAB for students who have difficulty with math skills and homework will be available all quarter in room D-1, Skinner Hall. The schedule is: Morning Sessions: 8 a.m. - noon (Monday-Friday) Afternoon Sessions: Noon-1 p.m. (Monday through Friday) 1 p.m.-3 p.m. (Monday through Thursday) Evening Sessions: 5 p.m.-8 p.m. (Monday through Thursday)

THE WINNER OF THE FACULTY golf tournament held recently at Bellemeade Golf Course was the team of Henry Thomas, Linda Dinkens, Robert Shanks and Jim Russey. The total team score was eight under par. The team of Randall Thursby, Steve Hobbs, Harold Moon and Ed Pettit tied for second place with that of Joe Bowden, Emmett Arnold, Charles Freeman and Helgar Waller. Both teams finished at six under par. Thursby, et al, won the playoff, which began at #18. Though not winners, the team of Eloy Fominaya, Roscoe Williams, Rob Thies, and Lois Wright boasted five birdies on the back 9.

A WEIGHT CONTROL CLINIC for all who want to unite in "fighting fat" will be offered by University Hospital's Health Central beginning this week. Classes will be held Oct. 1, 3, and 4 with additional classes on Thursdays for the following six weeks. The classes will take place in the hospital auditorium from 5:30 to 7 p.m. Call Health Central for more information.

FM-91, AUGUSTA COLLEGE RADIO, will air the Chicago Symphony's fourth consecutive season of broadcasts beginning with an opening concert of Beethoven's only opera, Fidelio. The concert can be heard at 8 p.m. Tuesday, (Oct. 2). Presented under the direction of Sir Georg Solti, it will feature soprano Hildegard Behrens and tenor Peter Hofmann.

FOR WEEK OF: Oct. 14 - Oct. 20, 1979

Written Wednesday, October 10, 1979

Augusta College students, staff and faculty are invited to the annual Oktoberfest from 6 p.m. to midnight Friday (Oct. 19) in the College Activities Center. The menu will include bratwurst and sauerkraut, hot potato salad, assorted cold cuts, pickles, rolls, and beverages. Free child care will be available from 6 until 11 p.m. by calling 733-5837. Admission is $1 with AC identification, $2 for active alumni, and $3 for an AC guest. There will be no general admission.

Columnist Lee May, editorial associate at the Atlanta Constitution, will be the first speaker in this year's Augusta College Lyceum Series. He will speak at 8 p.m. Monday, Oct. 15, in the Performing Arts Theatre. The subject of his talk will be Black English, after which he will lead an open discussion. He holds a bachelor's degree in English literature from Cleveland State University and a master's degree in journalism from Columbia University. His newspaper columns, filled with social and political satire, have won him numerous awards, including the 1978 United Press International Award for Excellence in Commentary. His talk is free and open to the public.

AC WILL SPONSOR a free concert by the U.S. Coast Guard Band at 8 p.m. Thursday (Oct. 18) in the PAT. The 46 member group, under the direction of Lt. Lewis J. Buckley, is recognized as one of the nation's finest military bands. Since the number of members is small compared to other major service bands, each member must be versatile. As a result, the band comprises a group of musicians who can operate as five individual units: an honors band for military functions, a marching band, a parade band, a Dixieland band, and a show band. The AC program reflects the group's versatility. The concert will blend selections from Broadway musicals with classical, march and contemporary music. In addition to the evening performance, there will be a free band clinic for area music students and others who are interested at 3:30 p.m. in the PAT.

CLINICAL PSYCHOLOGIST Dr. Lee Hyer will speak Monday (Oct. 15) at noon on "The Environment: The Best Behavior Modifier We Have" as part of the AC Dept. of Psychology's Colloquium Series. The public is invited to hear his talk in Room A-4 of Skinner Hall.

THE SUMMERVILLE NEIGHBORHOOD ASSN. will sponsor its annual Fall Tour of Homes from 12 to 6 p.m. Sat., Oct. 20, and 1 to 6 p.m. Sun., Oct. 21. This year's tour will include 11 houses and promises to be an interesting blend of past and present, according to Carol Sheppard, tour chairman. Tickets are $5.00 for the full tour; $3.00 for students and senior citizens, and $1.00 per house. They are now available at The Book Corner, the Consignment Shop, Gibson's Flowers and Gifts, and the Mane Event and, on tour days, at the Fuqua Center on Walton Way. For more information, call 738-4359.

A BACHELOR OF SCIENCE DEGREE in Computer Science is now available at Augusta College, since approval last week by the Board of Regents of the University System of Georgia. The new major is being offered because of a rising demand for graduates in the field on the part of local and national firms and because of community interest, according to Dr. Jerry Sue Townsend, who chairs the Dept. of Math and Computer Science. Local surveys show that more than 200 persons have indicated an interest in the program, she said, and estimated that the first year's enrollment will range from 35 to 40 students. She also said that nationally, graduates in computer science and computer related fields are considered to be among the best employment prospects for the future. Interest in developing the major has grown since the college began offering a minor in computer science in 1972. The new program goes into effect immediately, she said.

AC WILL PRESENT a free performance by the Milliere String Trio of Paris at 8:30 p.m. Friday, Oct. 18, in the PAT. The chamber music ensemble is made up of three internationally known artists, all soloists in their own right: Marie-Christine Milliere, violinist; Raymond Glatard, violist; and Michel Strauss, violoncellist. Their concert will consist of an all-French program, with the trio performing selections by Jean Baptiste Breval, Pierre Francois Boely, Albert Roussel and Jean Francaix. The performance is free and open to the public.

WAGC FM-91 was struck by lightning during a storm last week and consequently was off the air until repairs could be made on the equipment. The radio station is now back on the air full time. Be sure to tune in to Music, Maestro Please with Harry Jacobs each weekday afternoon at 4 p.m.

THE AUGUSTA INSTITUTE OF AGING (AIA) was notified that the AC Reese Library has been selected by the federal government to serve as a repository for materials on aging. The AIA represents a collaboration between AC, Paine, and MCG to coordinate education, research and training in gerontology in the community. Institute Director Dr. Dexter Burley said the National Clearinghouse on Aging's Center for Aging Information (SCAN) selected the college library along with 169 other locations in the U.S. He said that the availability of the SCAN materials on aging will be an invaluable resource for assisting the AIA in accomplishing its goals. SCAN's purpose in selecting AC's library is to provide local access to documents on aging so that the public may freely research the subject, he said.

MICHELLE PURYEAR, an AC student in Richard Frank's painting class, took all top place honors in the recent art contest at the McDuffie County Fair. She won 1st place ribbons in Watercolor (Landscape), Oil (portrait), and Oil (Landscape). She also won the Best of Show Award for Oil (Landscape).

ALL BUSINESS STUDENTS (those who have completed or are now enrolled in a five hour business course) are invited to attend Phi Beta Lambda's meeting at noon Tuesday, (Oct. 16) in room 11, Market Hall.

AC's Pi Kappa Phi fraternity will sponsor a "World of Illusion" Halloween magic show Saturday (Oct. 27) at 8 p.m. in the Performing Arts Theatre. Fraternity members claim that the show will be one of the biggest ever in Georgia, with acts by five performing magicians. For an admission price of $3.00 per person the audience will witness tricks with cards, silks, and doves plus zigzag illusion, levitation tricks, Harry Houdini's famous metamorphosis and more. Proceeds from the evening will be used to purchase Play Units for the Severely Handicapped, a national project of the fraternity. The AC chapter hopes eventually to raise $5,000 in order to donate one of the units to the Gracewood State School and Hospital. Bring your family Saturday night and help in this worthwhile project.

The regional math conference held on campus last week was a tremendous success, according to Dr. Paul Chang, who coordinated the entire program. Over 500 people attended the conference, including teachers of all levels of math. The program's impact can be measured by praise in the form of a letter Dr. Chang received from Dr. Joseph E. Cicero, director, School of Math and Computer Service at the Coastal Carolina College of the University of South Carolina. Dr. Cicero wrote, "It is a tribute to you as the director and originator of the workshop that so many teachers and administrators agreed with you and attended. Your outstanding staff on the program committee, chaired by Dr. Bill Bompart, also deserves special congratulations on a job extremely well done. Your successful conference should be reported to the professional associations...It should serve as a model for other similar conferences...At this moment, you and Augusta College are at the very forefront of math education in this nation..."

THE AC BAND AND JAZZ ENSEMBLE will perform in a free noon concert Thursday, Oct. 25 in front of the Performing Arts Theatre. Everyone is invited. Bring a lunch and something to sit on.

INTERESTED IN SKIING? The Augusta Ski Club will hold its first meeting of the snow ski season at 8 p.m. Oct. 23 at the Regency Racquet Club on Thomas Lane. Annual membership dues are $10.00 for single and $15.00 for family membership. The first meeting's agenda will include a ski movie, an equipment demonstration, an equipment swap and free refreshments. President Bell Jenkins said there will also be an opportunity to sign up for any of the ski trips planned for this year.

THE NATIONAL RESEARCH COUNCIL has announced its 1980 Research Associateship Programs which provide postdoctoral opportunities for faculty and graduate students in the fields of atmospheric and earth sciences, mathematics and space sciences. Over 200 new awards will be offered this year on a competitive basis. Application materials are available from the Associateship Office, JH 608-D1, NATIONAL RESEARCH COUNCIL, 2101 Constitution Ave., NW, Washington, D.C. 20418. Deadline for applications is Jan. 15, and awards will be announced in April.

THE STORE! that interfered with cablevision transmission and held up the payroll at AC last week also wreaked havoc at our radio station. After extensive repairs WACG FM-91 should be back on the air by the time this week's Spotlight is issued. Stay tuned for more new programs coming soon.

THE AUGUSTA WOMEN'S ADVISORY COUNCIL will sponsor a Life Planning Seminar with a variety of workshops Nov. 1 at the Medical College of Ga.'s Student Center. It is free to the public. Open registration will begin at 6 p.m. For more information, call Karen Brittingham at 738-3672 or Rebecca Roberson at 828-2896.

A FACULTY RECITAL with James Russey, tenor; Michael McClary, trumpet; John Schaeffer, organ and piano; John Scott, clarinet; and Harry Jacobs, French horn; will take place at 3:30 p.m. Sunday (Oct. 28) in the Performing Arts Theatre. The program will feature English music (both baroque and contemporary). The same program was presented last week at Emory University as part of its Music of England series.

AN ORIENTERING WEEKEND will be held at the Alexander H. Stephens State Park in Crawfordville, Ga. on Sat. and Sun., Nov. 3 & 4. The program is open to the public and is designed to teach orienteering skills through the use of a compass and topographic map. There is no charge for participation, but interested persons should bring a suitable orienteering compass as well as appropriate clothing and boots for walking in the woods. A limited number of compasses will be made available by the park for a small deposit. A special advanced course will be offered on that Sunday only. For registration and more information, write the state park at P.O. Box 235, Crawfordville, Ga. 30631, or call 404 456-2602.

THE AC FILM SERIES will show three movies this week. The Student Art Association will sponsor a free art workshop with visiting artist Errol Mobutu Reynolds Friday, Nov. 2. Those interested in attending are asked to bring a picnic lunch and assemble at noon on the grounds around the Performing Arts Theatre. After lunch, Mobutu will give a lecture. Following his talk participants will be taught how to make a flute from a piece of bamboo. Mobutu is a wood sculptor who is in Augusta for a residency with a local public school. A former jazz musician, he discovered his talent for sculpting through making and deccrating some of the instruments he played. He has since received international recognition as a sculptor and has participated in numerous one man and group exhibits. His works are currently on display in the lobby of the PAT as part of an exhibit sponsored by the Student Art Assn. The workshop on Friday is open to the community.

Augusta College is teaming up with Paine College and the Medical College of Georgia in hosting the annual PROBE fair for high school juniors and seniors Thursday (Nov. 1) from 6 until 9 p.m. at the Regency Mall. The AC Admissions Office reports that more than 70 colleges, universities, and post secondary schools will be present to provide area high school students with information on opportunities in various institutions of higher learning. The fair is one of 34 held throughout the state during a six-week PROBE tour which will enable Georgia high school students to personally contact post secondary school representatives.

A VISITING FACULTY RECITAL sponsored by the Dept. of Fine Arts will take place at 8:30 p.m. Tues., Oct. 30, in the Performing Arts Theatre. The featured artist will be flutist Cecila Neville of the Ga. Southern faculty. Her program will include works by Frank Martin, Andre Caplet, Ernst Von Dohnangi, George Frederick Handel and others. It is free and open to the public.

THE SCHOOL OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION will sponsor Dr. Lynn J. Loudnback as a Cullum Visiting Scholar Wednesday (Oct. 31) in the Lecture Room of Butler Hall. He will speak on "Marketing and Product Liability" at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. The earlier lecture is to undergraduates and the evening session is a Graduate Seminar. Both are open to the public. The Cullum Scholar is a professor of marketing and past chairman of the Dept. of Industrial Administration at Iowa State University.

The Commitment to Excellence fund drive, which continues through the end of this month, has to date a total of $18,407 in designated and undesignated funds, it was reported recently by Dean J.L. McNeal. Of 393 calls to be made, 78 have already been completed. Twenty-seven persons have made a donation and four have made pledges for this year. Total dollars donated from these calls amount to $2,290. Amount pledged to date is $560 and net proceeds from the Hans Petersen kick-off program came to $5,557. In addition, $10,000 has been received with the provision that the interest would be used for scholarships. Of those businesses contacted to date, 39.74 per cent have either given or pledged and 18 who said they could not give this year have indicated they would put the college on their budget next year. McNeal hopes all calls will be completed by November 12.

The AC Alumni Association will sponsor its Fall Phoneathon Tuesday from 6 to 9:30 p.m. at the Georgia Railroad Bank & Trust Co. Students or faculty who would like to volunteer to make calls to alumni in the area are asked to contact Nopi Barnard at the Maxwell Alumni House. Those making calls will be concentrating on the classes between 1940-50 and 1967-76

The Office of Continuing Education has issued its winter quarter brochure, which lists a total of 68 short courses and seminars to be offered beginning in January. Among these are a number of practical "how to" courses, like Elementary Automobile Repair and Home Repair. Other new courses never before offered include: Medical Terminology; The Family--Will It Survive?; Biorhythm; Living Alone: A Course for Widows; Chinese; Tae Kwon Do; Edwardian England and GED Exam Review. Also new next quarter is a course titled Children's Performing Chorus, which will teach movement, mime, drama, puppetry, and Orff music methods and instruments to prepare for the Augusta Opera Company's March production of Pagliacci. In addition to the short courses, the Office will offer conferences on topics like creative stress control, Gestalt therapy, contemporary philosophy, self hypnosis, time management and management for supervisors. For a copy of the brochure, contact Continuing Education at 4611.

Jack King, faculty advisor to the Student Art Association, has appealed to the entire college community to aid in trying to recover a piece of art which was stolen from the lobby of the PAT. The stolen item, valued at $350, is a tribal harp fashioned from a turtle shell. It was part of an exhibit by artist Errol Mobutu Reynolds which was on display last month. King said it was probably taken from the PAT the weekend of Oct. 27. If anyone has information which could lead to its recovery, please contact him at 4611.

THE OFFICE OF FINANCIAL AID has announced that students who are to receive GIS and GHEAC checks for winter quarter may pick up their checks from the Office of Financial Aid beginning January 3, 1980. Students who are receiving other types of financial aid (BEOG, NDSL, Scholarships, etc.) in excess of the amount needed to cover tuition and fees may pick up checks for the balance from the Business Office on January 14, 1980. Please come prepared to buy your books if you do not receive GIS and GHEAC.

DEAN JOHN MCNEAL of College Relations reminds all departments and especially all college committees that copy to be included in next year's college catalog should be sent to his office no later than January 15.

AC ALUMNI, FACULTY, STAFF, AND SGA OFFICERS are invited to attend the Alumni Assn.'s annual Christmas party from 6:30 to 10:30 p.m. December 15 in the Maxwell Alumni House. There will be a Christmas buffet and cash bar.

THE AC MEN'S BASKETBALL TEAM will open the season December 1 at 8 p.m. when they host Otterbein College. On December 7, the Jaguars will face Berry College, also at home.

THE WOMEN'S BASKETBALL TEAM will travel to North Georgia College in Dahlonega to play at 3 p.m. December 1. On the following Saturday, they take on USC-Aiken at 6 p.m. in Aiken.

THE AUGUSTA TRACK CLUB will sponsor its second annual Augusta Marathon Saturday, December 8, at 10 a.m. This year's event will also include a two mile run and a 13.1 mile (half marathon) race. All three races will begin and end at the Sports Arena at Fort Gordon. All three races are sanctioned by the Road Runners Club of America (RCCA) and the Amateur Athletic Union (AAU). Trophies will be awarded to the first three finishers in fourteen categories in the marathon and half marathon. Ribbons will go to the first three in seven different categories in the two miler. Commemorative T-shirts will be given to all two mile and half marathon registrants, and all who finish the 26 mile race will be awarded marathon T-shirts. Deadline for pre-registration is December 5. To register, call Wayne Nicoll at 736-6833.

SEASON TICKETS to the Jaguar basketball games are now on sale in the Athletic Dept. office (located in the gym). Faculty and staff can purchase season tickets for $10 apiece and $5.00 for each dependent. Admission at the door will be $3.00 per adult and $2.00 for children under 12.

Written Wednesday, December 5, 1979

The annual Christmas Belle Ball will be held from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Saturday, December 15 in the College Activities Center. This year, in departure from tradition, the dance will be sponsored by the AC Greek Council. Spokesmen for the council said that they hope to provide a "better than ever" dance without relying on funds from the Student Activities budget. Tickets this year will be $4.00 per person in advance and $5.00 at the door. This price includes music by the band Crushed Velvet, catered refreshments, set-ups, and non alcoholic punch. Photographs of the candidates for Christmas Belle and Beau will be on display at the dance, and voting will take place that night. Advance tickets can be purchased at the Student Activities Office, from any Greek Council member, or by calling 863-5677.

The Cafeteria in the CAC and the snack bar in Butler Hall are closed for the holidays and will remain so until after New Year's. The cafeteria will reopen January 2 and the snack bar January 3. Any group or organization wishing catering during this period contact Dan Prickett, director of food service, at 3314 or 733-2783.

Augusta Wesley Foundation, The United Methodist Church's ministry to college students, has announced the appointment of the Rev. Jim Hyder as director. He will make his services available to all students at any time. Call him at his office, 736-0061, or at home, 738-7624.

INFORMATION AND APPLICATION BLANKS on China Study Tours are available in the Office of Alumni Affairs. The tours are sponsored by the U.S.-China Peoples' Friendship Assn. through the Southern and Western Colleges and Universities. The tours which last approximately three weeks, and cost about $3,200, will visit Peking, Xian, Chengdu, Shanghai and Canton. They are available March through September. Travelers will be given orientation programs which include films, lectures, and language and travel tips. For complete details, call Nopi Barnard, 4701.

THE AUGUSTA MUSIC CLUB in cooperation with the AC Fine Arts Dept. will present an organ recital by Timothy Wissler at 3 p.m. Dec. 9, St. Paul's Episcopal Church. Wissler is associate professor of organ and theory and director of the church music program at Tift College. His program will include works by Bach, Brahms, Langlais, Rorem, and Vierne. Tickets are available at the door. Please note the change in location for the Music Club Series this year.

SCHOLARSHIPS to the nationally known Brevard Music Center in Brevard, N.C. are made possible each year by the Ga. Power Co. through the Ga. Federation of Music Clubs. They are available to band and orchestra music students between ages 12 and 18 who are full time high school students. Part time college students and former winners are not eligible. Audition performances for the scholarships will be held again this year at AC during the first three weeks in February. Applications are available from John Scott, Fine Arts Dept., 828-3211. Deadline for submitting them is Dec. 15.

THE STUDENT FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE COMMITTEE announced plans to award a scholarship from the estate of George A. Sancken to an AC student. Chairman Jim Benedict said that the committee will consider students who are residents of Richmond County who can show "real world" financial need. "Sometimes the federal government's definition of financial need differs from actual real world circumstances," he said. Students already receiving financial aid are also encouraged to apply if their overall financial aid would be increased by the amount awarded. The scholarship for this year will be for three quarters of tuition to be used during the next four quarters. If interested, contact Dr. Jim Benedict, Math Dept.

Written Wednesday, January 9, 1979

Preparations for Homecoming Week, (which begins January 20) have already begun, with both the Student Union and the Alumni Assn. announcing plans for celebrating the annual event. Photographs of the thirteen candidates for king and queen are on display in the lobby of the CAC and voting is scheduled to take place there and in the Reese Library Wednesday and Thursday, January 16 & 17. The winners will be crowned at half time ceremonies at the game, and will be chosen from queen candidates: Patty Amaral, Nancy Boyd, Mary K. Diveley, Alicia Gardner, Sharrell Grubbs, Joanne Lawlor, Stephanie Mortensen, Lynn Stuckey, Judith Wecker and Elaine Hoyt. King candidates are David Crooke, Robert Hoover, and Edward Tarver. The Student Union has issued a calendar of different activities for each day of that week, including a performance by the comedy team of Edmonds & Curley on Tuesday, a free ice cream party, a bonfire and hot dog roast, a parade and happy hour on Friday, and a dance following the Jaguar game with Davidson College on Saturday. The Alumni Assn. has planned for alumni, faculty and staff an old timers' basketball game followed by an open house the night before the big game. Watch for more details next week.

"Growing Up Southern" will be the next topic in the Lyceum "Change" Series being sponsored this quarter by the Dean of Students Office. Speaker will be Dr. Sara C. Brabant, associate professor of sociology at the University of Southwestern Louisiana. She will speak at noon Tuesday (January 15) in the Lecture Room of Butler Hall.

THE AC FILM SERIES has issued an attractive winter quarter brochure of fine movies and copies are available in the Student Activities Office. All AC people are reminded that they are admitted free. This week's films will be John Carpenter's thriller "Halloween" on Wednesday at 6 and 8:15 p.m. and, on Friday at 8:15 p.m. only, "Illumination" which won the International Film Guide's Best Film of the Year award.

PUBLIC SAFETY DIRECTOR Julian Armstrong received a certificate from the State of Georgia for achieving full compliance with the personal qualifications and training standards contained in the Georgia Peace Officer Standards and Training Act. House Appropriations Committee Chairman Joe Frank Harris made the presentation in Augusta recently along with Derrell R. Carnes, executive director of the Georgia Peace Officer Standards and Training Council. The Act requires all newly-employed peace officers to meet certain pre-employment personal qualification standards and to successfully complete the 240 hour Basic Law Enforcement Training Course within their first 12 months of employment.

THE AC STUDENT ART ASSN. will sponsor an exhibit with three women artists opening Jan. 13 in the Performing Arts Theatre. On display will be baskets by Valarie Pothier, photographs by JoAnn Hatfield, and paintings by Eleanor Blair. The exhibit will last through the end of the month and is open to the public.

AUGUSTA COLLEGE AND THE WEST AUGUSTA ROTARY CLUB are co-sponsoring a Career Planning Seminar for the benefit of high school and college students in the Augusta area on February 7 and February 14 from 7-9 p.m. in the Lecture Room of Butler Hall. Topics will include "Weighing The Alternatives: College, Technical School, or the Job Market," "The Dimensions of the College Experience," "Technical and Professional Schools," "Planning a Career," "Business Recruiters on Campus," "Career Opportunities for Women," "The Ten Most Important Job Fields for the 1980's and the Ten Least Important," as well as an introduction to specific career fields.

STUDENTS interested in pursuing a career in the health service are invited to attend the Medical College of Georgia's Tour and See Day on February 23 sponsored by the Medical Dames. Because the number of students which can be accommodated is limited, reservations for tours will be made on a first-come first served basis. Reservation cards are available at the Counseling Center in Bellevue Hall on the AC campus. The card lists the various program areas available to students including dental hygiene, dental laboratory technology, medical record administration, medical technology, nursing, occupational therapy, physician's assistants, physical therapy, radiologic technologies. Upon receipt of the card, the MCG Office of Academic Admissions will send you a confirmation card.

Written Wednesday January 16, 1980

The AC Lyceum Series will present the National Players of Washington, D.C. in their production of Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night" at 2 p.m. and again at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the PAT. "Twelfth Night, or What You Will" is a comedy of mistaken identity. The title seems to bear little direct relation to the plot, but instead recalls a festival celebrated by Elizabethans on the twelfth day after Christmas, a day when in every family a king for the day was chosen by lot. The result was that sometimes a child might be ruler over the whole family, or a servant be crowned by his master. Scholars conjecture that the play was written around 1600 and maintain that it was specifically intended to be presented for Twelfth Night festivities at Elizabeth's court. Since the ancient custom of observing Twelfth Night was also known in other countries, many productions of the play have been set in countries other than England and in periods other than Elizabethan. In their new production of this classic, the National Players present a version set in Spain and featuring rich costumes and elaborate sets and lighting. The Players have performed to standing room only audiences in all their past appearances at AC. AC personnel will be admitted to both performances free, and general admission is $2.00.

A king and a queen of Homecoming 1980 will be chosen from among 14 contestants this year. Homecoming King nominees include Edward J. Tarver, Robert C. Hoover and David Crooke. Competing for Homecoming Queen are Patty Amaral, Nancy Ann Boyd, Mary K. Diveley, Alicia Gardner, Sharrell Diana Grubbs, Tina Hagler, Elaine Hoyt, Joanne Lawlor, Stephanie Mortensen, Marjorie Lynn Stuckey and Judith E. Wecker. The royal pair will be crowned during half time ceremonies Saturday, (Jan. 26) when the Jaguars face Columbus College at the Civic Center. Following the game, the annual Homecoming Dance will feature the sounds of "Mantra" and will be held in the College Activities Center. The Homecoming Parade will be held at noon Friday, (Jan. 25) starting at the Fine Arts Center and winding down Walton Way to 15th Street. More than 20 student entries are expected and awards will be given in three categories. Judges include students Carl DeLoach, Bunny Franklin and Danny Danforth and Deans J.W. Galloway, J.L. McNeal and S. Lee Wallace, assistant to the president. A special guest in this years parade will be Augusta Mayor Lewis A. Newman. The Grand Marshall Award will be given to the entry which best follows the 1980 theme of "Augusta College Present, Past and Future," the Jaguar Award will be given to the entry which demonstrates the most spirit and the President's Award will go to the entry considered to be the best overall.

Other Homecoming Events:

- Tuesday, Jan. 22 - 10 a.m. & noon - Edmonds & Curley (comedy duo), CAC
- Wednesday, Jan. 23- 12:30 p.m. - Ice Cream party, CAC
- Thursday, Jan. 24 - 8 p.m. - ICC: Bon Fire & Hot Dog Roast, campus
- Friday, Jan. 25 - 11 a.m. - ICC: Reception

- 8 p.m. - Old Times Game, gym
- 9:30 p.m. - Alumni Open House
- Saturday, Jan. 26 - 6 p.m. - Lady Jaguars vs. Davidson College, Civic Center
- 8 p.m. - Jaguars vs. Columbus College, Civic Center

THE DEPARTMENT OF FINE ARTS will present a dedication recital of the William S. Boyd concert organ at 8:30 p.m. Friday, Jan. 25 in the Performing Arts Theatre. The electronic organ is a gift to the college from Dr. William S. Boyd. It will be used not only for concerts, but for individual student instruction as well. Recital performers will be Dr. John Schaeffer of AC's faculty assisted by William Christmas of Paine College, and AC student Nancy Boyd. The evening's program will include a concerto for two organs, an unusual work by Padre Antonio Soler. The performance is free to the public.

STUDENTS INTERESTED in serving as editors of Sand Hills, Augusta College's student literary magazine, should submit written applications to Dr. Evans in the Languages and Literature Department. Each application should include the student's name, address, phone number, a description of any relevant experience, and a statement explaining why the individual would like to serve as an editor.

Written Wednesday January 23, 1980

The college will host a series of two concerts and three workshops next month. The first performance will feature internationally known saxophonist Eugene Rousseau and Joseph Rezits. A recital of the Rousseau-Rezits duo will be presented at 8:30 p.m. on Feb. 8 in the Performing Arts Theatre. No admission will be charged. On Feb. 9 at 10 a.m. Rousseau and Rezits will present two workshops, one dealing with saxophone technique, and a complementary workshop on piano technique. A $5 registration will be charged for the workshop. On Feb. 11 at 3:30 p.m. the Atlanta Symphony Brass Percussion and Organ Ensemble will present a workshop in the Performing Arts Theatre. The Ensemble will present a concert at 8:30 p.m. that evening in the Performing Arts Theatre. There will be a charge of $1 for the workshop and clinic. All AC students, staff and faculty will be admitted free for all the concerts and workshops.

Examples of what was going on in the cinema and in the news during the 1940's will be shown at the upcoming Film Festival to be held Friday, Feb. 1 in the College Activities Center. The feature-length films will include "Three Musketeers," the 1940 original film and "The Mark of Zorro" from the year 1948. Also to be shown will be a newsreel from 1940 entitled "A Year of History," and a newsreel from 1949 recapping that year's sports highlights. Two cartoons from the 40's are also scheduled including "Red Hot Riding Hood" and "Shooting of Dan McGoo." Format for the evening will include one cartoon, a newsreel and the movie, a short intermission, followed by another cartoon, newsreel and movie. Student Union representatives said the evening is free with I.D. and 50 cents for others.

THE INTER-CLUB COUNCIL'S Ice Cream Party held last week during Homecoming festivities was an overwhelming success, if quantity is any indication. Student Activities personnel report 39 gallons of ice cream were consumed. Around 500 people were on hand to enjoy the party.

in the main lobby of the College

Activities Center on Tuesday (Jan. 29)

from 8 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. Applications will be accepted until Feb. 15. The jobs available fall into two categories:

Historical interpreters who will work

them the significance of that part of

each site; and Park Interpretive

Naturalists who will work at a state park meeting visitors and planning and conducting programs and outdoor activities of an interpretive nature. The representative will have applications

MILLIKEN AND COMPANY will be on campus

Wednesday (Jan. 30) to interview business and math majors and chemistry majors and minors for Manufacturing

Management and Industrial Engineers.

Relocation is required. An appointment is necessary, so contact Placement as soon as possible.

"A few evenings back, I was driving home in the car with my children when my third grade son asked, 'Mama, what does Danish mean?' I proceeded to tell him that was the name given to people who live in Denmark. Those who live in Spain are Spanish and those in France are known as French people I

silence, I asked him why he wanted to know. He replied, "I just wondered what they were because the 7-11 is giving them away with coffee."

(A true story as submitted by one of our campus personnel. The Spotlight would welcome similar anecdotes that may or may not be true-but hopefully would be funny.)

The Augusta College Lyceum Series will present a concert with the Atlanta Symphony Brass, Percussion and Organ Ensemble at 8:30 p.m. Monday, Feb. 11 in the Performing Arts Theatre. At 3:30 p.m. that afternoon, the ensemble will conduct a workshop and clinic, also in the PAT. The concert is free to AC students, faculty and staff, and $1.00 to the public. There will be a $1.00 fee for those attending the workshop.

This week's speaker in the Lyceum Change Program will be Dr. Jane Stearns, professor of Social Work at the University of Southern Mississippi in Hattiesburg. Her topic at noon in the Butler Hall lecture room will be "Changing Attitudes Toward Work and Leisure: What Am I Going To Do With My Life Now That I Am 20, 30, 40, 50, 60, 70...?" Everyone is invited.

In celebration of Black History Month, the Jimmy Payne Afro-Caribbean Dance Company will perform in the PAT at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 13, as part of the AC Lyceum Series. For over 35 years, Payne said he and his group have toured the U.S. and the world "celebrating the beauty and glory of African and African-influenced dance forms." Payne is affectionately called the "doctor of dance" because of his influence on the careers of so many famous dancers, and because he was a pioneer in bringing African culture (through dance) to college campuses. His performance will include three selections that trace native African dance from its ritualistic origins through its carry over into Cuba and other West Indian islands and that culminate in the calypso. Admission is free to AC people and general admission tickets can be purchased at the box office of the theatre the evening of the performance.

HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS from throughout the CSRA will be on campus Mon. Feb. 11 to participate in the sixth annual AC Mathematics Contest. The contest is divided into two parts, according to contest coordinator Dr. Fred Maynard. The first is an individual written objective exam which will take place in Butler Hall room 5 during the morning hours. From 12:30 p.m. to 4:30, a quick answer team competition will be held before an audience in Skinner Hall, rooms A-4 and B-6. Winners of the competition in both categories will advance to the Ga. State Competition to be held this spring. The contest is sponsored by the AC Dept. of Math and Computer Sciences and Augusta Preparatory School.

AC RECENTLY RECEIVED WORD that it has been singled out by the American Assn. of State Colleges and Universities as one of ten leading AASCU institutions in the area of innovation and change. The recognition came as a result of the college's annual Cullum Third World Culture Program established in 1973. The program was one of ten finalists for the AASCU G. Theodore Mitau Award for Innovation and Change. Approximately 47 association members submitted nominations for the award established recently in honor of the late Minnesota educator. Augusta College was the only institution cited for innovative curriculum improvement by the AASCU Committee on Alternatives and Innovation. Through a grant from the Cullum Foundation, the college each spring selects a "third world" country (generally defined as non western, non European) to study for a quarter. Visiting scholars, films, theatrical productions, and art exhibits introduce students and the entire community to the culture of a different country each year. Countries studied in the past include India, Brazil and Nigeria. This year China has been selected. The program will begin spring quarter.

THE ANNUAL International Food Festival will take place at 6 p.m. Friday, Feb. 15, in the College Activities Center. Please note that this is the correct date and that it is different from the one listed in this month's calendar of events at AC. Admission to the event is one covered dish which should feed all those in your group. The Student Union and the International Club are co-sponsoring, and will provide bread, cheese, and liquid refreshments. There will be a folk dance demonstration, and the AC Jazz Ensemble will perform.

THE OFFICE OF CONTINUING EDUCATION WILL sponsor three special workshops over the next few weeks. Women and Management: Step Up to Success will be held Thurs. and Fri. (Feb. 21 and 22) in meeting rooms 1 and 2 of the CAC. The seminar, led by Anne Deely and Heather Fenton, is designed to help women develop their potential in careers in management. Registration deadline is Feb. 14. On Fri., Feb. 29, Dr. Michael Kriegsfeld, director of Gestalt Psychotherapy Associates, will conduct a workshop on Gestalt Therapy. Its purpose is to introduce gestalt awareness as a form of active meditation. Fee is $20. A Creative Stress Control Seminar will be taught by Dr. Jane Cross and Karen Brittingham from 7 to 9:30 p.m. on two Tuesdays, March 4 and 11, in the Continuing Education Building. Call the office for more information.

THE AC BLACK STUDENT UNION will sponsor two events this week. At noon on Friday (Feb. 15) there will be a presentation by the Payne and Laney Choir in the Performing Arts Theatre, Saturday at 10 p.m. there will also be a dance in the College Activities Center.

MOVIES THIS WEEK presented by the Film Series are "Alice in the Cities" Tues. (Feb. 12) at 8:15 p.m. only and "Who is Killing the Great Chefs of Europe?" at 6 and 8:15 p.m. Feb. 14. Both are in the PAT.

THE AC ALUMNI ASSOCIATION has announced that an executive board meeting will be held at 6 p.m. Feb. 12 in the Maxwell Alumni House.

THE BIOLOGY DEPT. asked the Spotlight to extend appreciation to all those who expressed sympathy at the death of faculty member Mr. George Cooke.

THE PI KAPPA PHI FRATERNITY will sponsor a campus Valentine Blood Drive Feb. 13 from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. on the second floor of the CAC.

PLACEMENT NEWS

REGISTRATION DEADLINE for the PACB exam is Feb. 15. Written Wednesday February 13, 1980

The Black Student Union will host actor Charles Pace Friday, Feb. 29 in a one-man drama on the life of Frederick Douglass, known as one of the most outstanding black men of the 19th Century. Pace will perform at 8 p.m. in the College Activities Center as well as conduct a 1 p.m. workshop also in the CAC. The 90-minute performance will be free and open to the public. Frederick Douglass was born a slave in Maryland in 1817 and went on to become a newspaper publisher, Chief U.S. Marshall of the District of Columbia, Resident Minister and Consul-General to the Republic of Haiti. He also became an advisor to Presidents Lincoln and Harrison. The drama will include two acts which span the life of Douglass from the age of 9 to 35.

The next speaker in the Lyceum "Change" Series will be Dr. Gil Lazier, academic dean of The School of Theatre at Florida State University. He will speak noon Tuesday (Feb. 19) on "American Acting As A Reflection of Social Consciousness" in the Lecture Room of Butler Hall.

The third annual Student Union Talent Show will be held 8 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 23 in the Performing Arts Theatre with Michael Marlin serving as emcee. Ten student acts will compete for three cash prizes. ($50, $30, $15) Judges will include Keith Cowling, Sharrell Grubbs, Ron Irick, Mike McClary and Robert Hoover.

AUGUSTA COLLEGE will host the annual South Atlantic Conference Basketball Tournament Feb. 21-23 at the Augusta Richmond County Civic Center. The tournament is sponsored by the Augusta Lions Club and is not included in the price of a regular season's ticket. Tickets for the entire tournament are $10 and are on sale at the AC Athletic Dept.

THE AC BOOKSTORE is sponsoring a visit by the College Traveler Mobile Book Exhibit 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday in student parking lot 1-A. Books on freshman through graduate levels representing over 200 publishers will be on display, and most will be available for complimentary examination. A representative will be on hand to help faculty members who are writing get in touch with publishers, and to explain how to get on the College Marketing Group mailing lists, used by over 500 publishers. A special section of trade, professional and reference books has been added to the display this year.

A SCHOLARSHIP TO AC is being offered by the Augusta Assn. for Retarded Citizens. It covers up to $500 per year applicable to fees, books, and tuition and is open to persons whose major is related in some way to working with retarded citizens. Applicants may be juniors or seniors in college, persons who intend to pursue graduate studies, or those already working with the mentally retarded. For information, contact Barbara Lowe, Admissions Office, 3301.

THE FILM SERIES will offer two movies this week. "The Old Country Where Rimbaud Died" will show at 8:15 p.m. only Monday, Feb. 18 in the PAT. The movie, directed by Jean Pierre Lefebvre, is the tale of a poet who goes to France in search of ancestors, friends, and lovers. "The Groove Tube," a satire featuring Chevy Chase, will be shown at 6 and 8:15 p.m. Friday.

ANYONE INTERESTED in organizing an informal study group for the purpose of learning to read Russian should get in touch with Dr. Heidi Atkins or Dr. John May in the Dept. of Language and Literature.

THERE WILL BE a poetry reading Thursday, Feb. 21, at noon in the Chateau. Everyone is welcome.

THE AC JAZZ ENSEMBLE will be the special guest of the Augusta Community Concert Band in a combined concert at 3 p.m. Feb. 17 in the PAT. The 23 piece band will perform six selections which are part of a national competition that will perform in May in Florida. The group is under the direction of Michael McClary.

PLEASE have all monthly events you wish published in the college calendar into the Office of Public Information by the 15th of each month. Please submit the event in writing rather than calling it into the secretary.

THE AUGUSTA COLLEGE THEATRE WILL PRESENT

Berry Fleming's "The Acrobats" 8 p.m. Thursday, Friday and Saturday (Feb. 28, 29, March 1) in the Performing Arts Theatre and Sunday (March 2) at 3 p.m. Jim Grer is featured in the title role supported by Ellen Anderson, Frieda Dean, Roy Delamotte, Vic Mays, Keith Cowling and others. "The acrobats is a very witty and colorful examination of life seen through the eyes of Jimmy, a modern Everyman, searching for meaning in Joyland, the carnival of life," said Director Duncan Smith. Fleming is a well known Augusta author and painter. Admission is free to AC personnel, $1 for other students and $2 for the general public.

The School of Business Administration and the Center for the Study of Private Enterprise will be offering a spring C.P.A. review course beginning in March. This year for the first time sections have been added to the course to help prepare candidates who wish to take the C.M.A. examination. The course will begin on March 15 and sessions will be held on Saturday and Sunday afternoons through May 4. Interested persons should contact the Center at 828-4993.

The AC Choir, under the direction of Donna Carter, will present a concert performance of Arthur Honniger's "King David" at 3:30 p.m. Sunday, March 2 at Reid Memorial Presbyterian Church on Walton Way. The choir will be assisted by organists John G. Schaeffer and Susan Smith. Soloists for the program will be sopranos Sandra Newman and Connie Connell, altos Kymberly Van Horn and Jennifer Hammond, and tenor Arthur Wilson. The performance is open and free to the public.

A one-man drama based on the life and times of Frederick Douglass, known by many as the most outstanding black man of the 19th Century, will be performed by actor Charles Pace Friday (Feb. 29) at 8 p.m. in the AC Student Center Lounge. He will also conduct a 1 p.m. workshop there. The 90-minute evening performance is sponsored by The Black Student Union.

THE ACROBATS, a play by Augusta artist and author Berry Fleming, will be performed by the AC Theatre Feb. 28, 29 and March 1 at 8 p.m. in the Performing Arts Theatre and again Sunday (March 2) at 3 p.m. Admission is free to AC personnel, $1 for other students, and $2 for the public.

THE DEPARTMENT OF SOCIOLOGY will sponsor a talk by Dr. Hyman Mariampolski of Kansas State University Friday, (Feb. 29) at noon in the Lecture Room of Butler Hall. His topic, "The Social Sciences In Architectural Design," will cover city development as it relates to people's needs, the growth of cities in the 80's, and the link between the social sciences and architecture. The inter-disciplinary presentation should be of particular interest to students and faculty in Fine Arts, History, Political Science and Sociology, according to Phil Reichel of the Sociology Department.

MARCH 1st IS the deadline for nominations for the Outstanding Faculty Member Award. Purpose of the award is to encourage and recognize members of the faculty who exhibit an outstanding ability to teach and to inspire students to their best efforts, and who continually serve the college and the community. Nominations may be made by any full-time faculty member, by any enrolled student, or by an active alumna/us.

THE AC HOURLY CHILD CARE SERVICE now offers after-school babysitting care for children of students, staff and faculty. The hourly charge is 75 cents. Contact Kathy Thompson in Student Activities or Carolyn Lane at the Child Care Service.

THE HEART FUND CAMPAIGN is currently underway on campus and will continue through March 3, according to John C. Groves, 1980 chairman. "We at Augusta College can recall losing valued friends and co-workers to this disease in recent years. Others have eluded death by virtue of the knowledge gained through research funded partly by the Heart Association. Your contribution can help curb this killer. Progress is made through your gifts. Please give your donation and card to the person assigned to collect your contribution by Friday, Feb. 29," he said.

A GROUP OF STUDENTS led by Drs. Fred Bowsher and Ron Ezell attended a recent Fission and Fusion workshop in Oak Ridge, Tenn. Students attending were James Clements, Richard Clifford, Carol Jones, Liz McCranie, Bill Miles, David Parrish, Alan Rickman, Charles Thompson and Jim Tussey. The group also toured the fission and fusion research facilities of the Oak Ridge National Laboratory.

PLEASE have all monthly events you wish published in the college calendar to the Office of Public Information by the 15th of each month. Please submit the event in writing rather than calling the secretary.

DO YOU HAVE an interesting or unique hobby? Do you know someone who does? Please call Public Information and let us know for publicity purposes.

THE AC FILM SERIES has no movies scheduled for this week. "Mr. Hulot's Holiday" will be shown at 8:15 p.m. only on March 5. The 1953 classic is directed by the French master of visual comedy, Jacques Tati. Other films to be shown in March are Mel Brook's "The Twelve Chairs" and "One on One," directed by Lamont Johnson.

SOCIAL WORK DAY will be observed with a play about child abuse Monday, March 3 at 7:30 p.m. at the University Hospital Auditorium. The play is sponsored by the hospital's Social Work Department, the East Central Division of the Georgia Society of Hospital Social Workers, and the local chapter of the National Assn. of Social Workers. The play is free and open to the public. A panel discussion will follow, led by Cast Production Director Charles Lambert. FOR WEEK OF: March 2 - March 8, 1980

Written Wednesday February 27, 1980

Dr. Alvin Poussaint, recognized world wide as an authority on Black behavioral science, will appear at 8 p.m. Tuesday, March 4, in the Performing Arts Theatre. "Black Child, White Child" will be the topic of a lecture by the noted psychiatrist and author, whose visit is part of the Lyceum Series. Dr. Poussaint is associate psychiatrist at Massachusetts Mental Health Center. He also serves on the faculty of Harvard Medical School as associate dean of students, associate professor of psychiatry, and director of student affairs. He is the author of "Why Blacks Kill Blacks," published in 1972, and "Black Child Care," co-authored with Dr. James Comer and published in 1975. He has written numerous articles for academic as well as lay publications, and co-authors a syndicated weekly column with Dr. Comer called "Getting Along," in which he answers questions from troubled parents. His talk is open to the public at no charge.

Editors for this year's Sand Hills, the Augusta College literary magazine, will be Carol Fuchs, Frank Reddick, Julie Gerlach, and Felicia Wiggins; Bruce Lee will serve as art editor. Again this year there will be a $50.00 prize for the best fiction published, and a $50.00 prize for the best poem. Students should submit poetry and fiction to the editors or to the secretary in the Department of Languages and Literature. All submissions should contain the student's name and telephone number. Students should retain copies of all the work they submit and those who wish to have their submissions returned should include a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Artwork may be submitted to Bruce Lee or to faculty members in the Art Department. Copies of last year's magazine are available in the Department of Languages and Literature.

THE AC CHOIR will present a concert performance of Arthur Honniger's "King David" at 3:30 p.m. Sunday, March 2 at Reid Memorial Presbyterian Church on Walton Way. The choir, under the direction of Donna Carter, will be assisted by organists John G. Schaeffer and Susan Smith. The concert will be open to the public free of charge.

Written Wednesday March 5, 1980

The gallery of the Performing Arts Theatre is now featuring the work of nationally known painter Hiram Williams through April 11, sponsored by the AC Student Art Association. Williams, professor of painting at the University of Florida, is one of a handful of American painters who has painted the human figure throughout his entire career, according to Richard Frank, assistant professor of fine arts. The painter is scheduled to make a personal appearance April 9-10 on campus as a Lyceum Series speaker. He is scheduled to talk about his paintings at 7:30 p.m. April 9. On April 10 at noon he will talk about the artist's role in society. Both talks are scheduled for the gallery of the Performing Arts Theatre.

The AC Choir will present a concert performance of Arthur Honniger's "King David" at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday, March 11, at Reid Memorial Church on Walton Way. The concert was originally scheduled for March 2 but was postponed because of the weather. Featured in the performance will be sopranos Connie Connell and Sandra Newman, altos Kymberly VanHorn and Jennifer Hammond, and tenor Arthur Wilson. Marianne Moss will portray the witch, and George Roesel will serve as the narrator. The entire production will be under the direction of Donna Carter.

TRYOUTS FOR A MULTIMEDIA stage production of Alice in Wonderland will be held at 7:00 p.m. Monday, March 10 and Tuesday March 11. There are parts for men and women and for children over 12 years of age; backstage help is needed as well. Rehearsals will begin at the end of March and the production will open May 16. The play has been adapted from Lewis Carroll's novel by Walter Evans and will be directed by Steve Walpert. The production is funded by grants from the National Endowment for the Arts and the Georgia Council for the Arts and Humanities. Call 736-5554 for further information.

THE DEADLINE for entries to Sand Hills, Augusta College's student literary magazine, is March 31. There will be two $50.00 prizes, one for best poem, and another for the best fiction or drama. Students who have been enrolled anytime during the last year are eligible. Submit literary entries to the secretary in the Department of Languages and Literature. Artwork should be submitted to Bruce Lee or to the faculty in Fine Arts.

THE THIRD ANNUAL St. Patrick's Day parade, sponsored by the Irish American Heritage Society, invites all interested Augusta College organizations to participate in this year's parade. The parade will assemble at the Civic Center around noon Monday, March 17. Groups interested in participating should call Charles Anderson at 724-0106 or John Scherer at 733-0920. The parade route will be out 8th Street to Telfair; up Telfair to 11th; out 11th to Broad; down Broad to 7th to the Civic Center. The annual dance will be held Saturday, March 15 at the Hilton Convention Center.

FOR WEEK OF: March 23 - March 29, 1980

Written Wednesday March 19, 1980

The Student Union will present nationally known pianist Mac Frampton in concert at 8 p.m. Sat., March 29, in the PAT. Frampton is a popular performer, arranger, and composer who has six record albums to his credit. He first gained national attention when he won the bronze medal in the 1969 Van Cliburn International Piano Competition. Over the past few years, Frampton and his group, which features full percussion and both acoustic and electric bass, have played over 600 concerts around the world. His unique style, popularly called rock alternative, is based on classical technique but draws liberally from jazz and rock idioms. Radio station WACG FM-91 will feature several of his albums all week leading up to Saturday's concert. Tickets will be available at the door and are $3 for AC alumni and $5 for general admission. AC people will be admitted free with a valid I.D.

The Summerville Neighborhood Association is again offering a $500 scholarship to a permanent Summerville resident to attend AC. The scholarship is open to students already attending AC and to high school seniors who plan to attend this summer or next fall. The association offers the funds not only for financial assistance, but as a means of stimulating interest and appreciation for Summerville's heritage and future. Applications are available at the Financial Aid Office, second floor, Payne Hall, or from high school counselors.

THE FACULTY CHAMBER MUSIC SERIES will feature cellist Peter Dundon in recital at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday, March 25 in the PAT. Assisting him will be Martha Geissler on violin, John Scott, clarinet, and Dr. John Schaeffer, piano. The recital is open and free to the public.

THE ANNUAL RICHMOND COUNTY SCHOOLS language festival will take place all day Friday at AC. Foreign language students from area jr. and sr. high schools will participate in a talent show in the PAT followed by several workshops offered at different locations around campus.

KAY BORKOWSKI, instructor of flute at AC, will present a recital at 8 p.m. Thursday March 27 in the PAT. She will be assisted by guitarist Christopher Berg and pianist Gary Stegall. She is the principal flutist with the Columbia Philharmonic orchestra, and has performed in the same capacity with the Fort Wayne Philharmonic, the Indiana Chamber, and the Jacksonville Symphony. Stegall is a piano faculty member at Columbia College and is working on a master's degree at USC. Christopher Berg is on the USC music faculty and was the first guitarist ever to win the Music Teachers' National Association Competition. The program is co-sponsored by the Sigma Alpha Iota Music Sorority. AC students, faculty and staff will be admitted free. There will be a $1 admission charge for all others.

THE FIRST ANNUAL Augusta College Mathematics Contest for independent schools will take place on campus all day Wednesday. Over 200 students from area private schools are expected to participate, according to contest coordinator Dr. Ping Tung Chang. Contestants will be given written individual and team tests during the morning hours, and will participate in a special ciphering event that afternoon. Activities will conclude with an awards ceremony in the PAT at 2 p.m. First and second place teams in both junior and senior divisions will receive trophies, and the three highest scoring students in both divisions will receive individual awards.

THE SOUTHERN GRASSROOTS MUSIC TOUR will appear at AC at 8 p.m. Friday April 4, as part of the Lyceum Series. The tour features a diverse group of musicians from all over the South. Among these are the Ga. Sea Island Singers, who perform traditional Afro-American songs, and blues artist Lony Pitchford, cajun musicians The Louisiana Aces, mountain singers Dee and Delta Hicks, and country balladeer Anne Romaine.

MU RHO SIGMA Sorority will hold its second organizational meeting on Saturday, March 29 at 10:00 a.m. at the Maxwell Alumni House. All married or formerly married female students are invited to attend this informal meeting.

SENIOR MUSIC MAJOR Lyle Nett will present a lecture-recital on "Platti and the Baroque Harpsichord Sonata" at 8 p.m. Friday, March 28, in the Fine Arts Center lobby. The recital is a requirement of the Virginia Wilkes Award, which he received this year. The lecture will trace the development of baroque sonatas for harpsichord from its beginnings through the death of Bach. Works by Kuhnau, Pasquini, Scarlatti, Soler and Platti will be included.

STUDENTS PLANNING TO GRADUATE IN JUNE are reminded that the deadline for ordering graduation invitations is April 4. Place your orders at the AC Bookstore.

AN ORGANIZATIONAL MEETING for the Cullum Third World Program on China will take place at noon Thursday in the lecture room of Butler Hall.

FOR WEEK OF: April 13 - April 19, 1980

Written Wednesday April 9, 1980

Chad D. Hansen, Ph.D., associate professor in the Department of Philosophy at the University of Vermont, is the next speaker in the AC Cullum Third World program on China. Dr. Hansen will speak noon Tuesday (April 15) on "The Confucian and Taoist Concepts of 'Tao'" and at 8 p.m. on "Practical Implications of Taoist and Zen Buddhist World-Views." Both talks are scheduled for the lecture room of Butler Hall. Hansen's areas of specialization include Chinese philosophy, Chinese logic and philosophy of language, Taoism, ethics and philosophy of language. He earned the B.A. degree from the University of Utah and the Ph.D. degree from the University of Michigan. On Thursday, the film "Buddhism and Confucianism" will be shown in the Performing Arts Theatre at 8 p.m. All events in the Third World program are open to the public.

"When The Kitchen Walls Close In" will be the topic when Dr. Russ Holloman speaks in the first of a series of informal meetings for AC alumnae who are full time homemakers. The first program will be on April 15, beginning at 9:30 a.m. with coffee, followed by his talk at 10 a.m. The format for future sessions will be determined by those who attend the initial meeting, according to Naomi H. Barnard, director of alumni affairs. A nursery will be available at the AC Hourly Child Care Service for children through 5 years of age. Reservations for children must be made in advance. Alumnae who plan to attend the first session should call the Alumni Association at 828-4701 to make reservations.

THE AC CHAMBER CHOIR, under the direction of Dr. James Russey, will present a concert in the PAT at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday April 15. The program will include works by Scarlatti, Dello Joio, Schubert, Brahms, Bennett, Scandalo, Costeley and di Lasso. Soloists will be Sandra Newman, Kymberly Van Horn, Arthur Wilson, Ron Thomas, Richard Justice, and Melissa McElmurray. The chamber choir, a division of the AC Choir, has presented concerts in Bermuda, in Washington, D.C., and in other major cities in the U.S. They placed third in the Bermuda International Festival in 1979. Tuesday night's concert is open and free to the public.

THE CENTER FOR THE STUDY OF PRIVATE ENTERPRISE and The School of Business Administration will offer their first post-licensing course for real estate salespersons May 5-26. This course is mandatory for all salespersons who were licensed January 1, 1980 and after. Registration deadline is 5 p.m. April 23. A minimum number of students will be required to hold the course, so it is important to register as soon as possible. For more information contact The Center at 4993 or The School of Business Administration at 3566.

THE AC POOL is open to students, faculty and staff, their children and spouses from 3:30 - 5 p.m. Monday - Friday.

THE ANNUAL MASTERS BLUEGRASS festival sponsored by the Martinez Merchants Association will take place April 18 and April 19 at the Columbia County Fairgrounds on the Bobby Jones Expressway. Entertainers featured this year include the Osborne Brothers, Lonzo and Oscar, Don Reno and the Tennessee Cut-ups, Mac Wiseman, the Byrd Family, Ed Hurt and the Cross Country Express and many others. In addition to two days of music, there will be arts and crafts displays, and plenty of food. Tickets are available at Home Folks (all three locations), Stereo City in Daniel Village, and Byrd Music Co. in Martinez. They can also be purchased from any member of the association.

STUDENTS WHO HAVE DIFFICULTY with basic math skills and homework assignments can take advantage of math tutorial services organized by Special Studies math coordinator Dr. Paul Chang. Spring quarter hours are 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. and 6 to 9 p.m. Monday, Tuesday and Thursday and 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Wednesdays.

S. LEE WALLACE, assistant to the president and long respected for his talent for hand lettering, has asked the Spotlight to help him locate his Leroy lettering kit. Someone borrowed it a few months ago and has forgotten to return it. Call him at 4524 if your office has it.

THE PHENOMENON OF HYPNOSIS will be the subject of a presentation by Dr. Delwin Cahoon at noon Wednesday, April 16, in room A-4 of Skinner Hall. The AC Psychology Organization is sponsoring it. Everyone is invited.

THE EXHIBIT AND SALE OF ORIGINAL GRAPHIC ART which was scheduled for Thursday April 17 in the Fine Arts Center Lobby has been canceled. Representatives from Marson Graphics, the firm which was to sponsor the exhibit, said it will be rescheduled at a later date.

AC ART STUDENT CHARLES WATKINS was notified of acceptance into the first annual National Works on Paper Exhibition to take place at the Alice Lloyd College in Kentucky. He will send a print to the juried exhibition.

MARY BROCK, a junior music major, will present a recital in percussion on Friday, April 18 at 8 p.m. in the lobby of the Fine Arts Center.

FACULTY NEWS

RICHARD FRANK (Fine Arts) has been invited to participate in two juried exhibitions. German artist Jurgen Olbrich has invited him to participate in the International Exhibit titled "In Kleinem Rahmen" in Kassel, Germany this summer. He will also take part in the Mid-America National 1980, which will show April 26 at the Owensboro Museum in Kentucky, then travel throughout the country. Juror for the show was Hilton Kramer, art critic for the New York Times.

ANNE C. BARTON, artist in residence at AC, has been selected to fill that position with the University of Ga.'s Studies Abroad program in Corton, Italy for the summer quarter. She was selected for the position from hundreds of applicants from throughout the country. Four years ago, she spent three months in Italy to study bronze casting. Barton has also learned that one of her recent works in sculpture, "From the Dust," was chosen for the exhibition "Ceramics Southeast" which will continue in the University of Ga.'s Visual Arts Gallery through May 1.

DR. MARY ANNE CHRISTENBERRY (School of Education) has had her paper, "From Education to Charlie Brown: Cross-Cultural Values in Traditional Literature" accepted for inclusion in the ERIC system. DR. JOHN FLOWERS (School of Education) was appointed by the National Curriculum Study Institute to host a two day workshop on Middle Schools in Atlanta recently. The workshop was sponsored by the Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development and was attended by 100 school administrators.

PLACEMENT NEWS

REPRESENTATIVES from the Georgia Power Company in Atlanta will be on campus Tuesday, April 15 to interview for accounting associates (accounting, management or finance majors graduating by August 1980) and for associate methods analysts (major or minor in computer science graduating by August 1980). Relocation to Atlanta is required. An appointment is necessary, so contact the Placement Office as soon as possible to schedule one.

MU RHO SIGMA was one of many local groups who participated in last week's Beautifully Augusta campaign. Sorority members cleaned a site selected by the campaign as in need of "beautifying." The sorority is now having weekly meetings, some during the week, some at night and some on Saturdays so that as many women as possible can attend. For more information call Linda Thomson at 2045.

FOR WEEK OF: April 20 - April 26, 1980

Written Wednesday April 16, 1980

Dr. Carol Mitchell of Colorado State University will talk on "Chinese Folklore and Poetry" noon and 8 p.m. Tuesday, April 22 as part of the continuing Cullum Third World Program on China. Dr. Mitchell is the third in a series of seven scholars who will talk on various aspects of Chinese living and culture. Both talks will be given in the Lecture Room of Butler Hall. An assistant professor at Colorado State, Dr. Mitchell has presented or published over 26 papers with such diverse topics as "Ancient Matriarchies" and "Contemporary Urban Ghost Lore." She is editor of Western Folklore and co-editor of Folklore Women's Communication. She earned the baccalaureate, master's and doctorate degrees from Indiana University. On Thursday, April 24 at 8 p.m. a one-hour slide presentation entitled "Art Masterpieces" and lecture will be given by Linda E. Peters, instructor in art at AC. The presentation will focus on the major forms of Chinese art from the Shang Dynasty up to the 20th Century. Included will be bronzes, paintings and porcelain. The Shang Dynasty was between 1500 B.C. to 1028 B.C. All of the Cullum programs and presentations are free.

The AC Department of Fine Arts will sponsor an art exhibit entitled "Portraits of Our Presidents" and other works by Augustan Doris Simmons Weltch beginning April 26 and continuing through May 2 in the Fine Arts Lobby. A reception in her honor will be held 7 p.m. Saturday, April 26 in the lobby of the Fine Arts Center. Portraits of all six presidents of AC and the Junior College of Augusta were painted by Mrs. Weltch and are to be hung in various campus buildings. The presidents include George Phineas Butler, James Lister Skinner, Eric West Hardy, Anton Paul Markert, Gerald Burns Robins and Dr. George A. Christenberry who assumed the presidency in 1970. Doris Weltch is an alumna of the Junior College of Augusta (Class of '28) and graduated from the University of Georgia cum laude in 1930 with an A.B. degree in art and education. In 1972, she enrolled at AC to take additional art courses and in 1977 she became a full-time student. This June she will receive a Bachelor of Fine Arts in studio art from AC, 50 years after receiving her first baccalaureate degree.

JAMES DOOHAN, who played the role of Scottie in the movie "Star Trek," will make an appearance at Augusta College Thursday, April 24 at 8 p.m. Doohan will give a presentation, "Star Trekking with Scottie," in the lecture room of Butler Hall. It will include outtakes from one or more of the TV episodes, a lecture, and a question and answer session. The Student Union is sponsoring his talk, which is free to those with a valid I.D. and 50¢ for others.

PROFESSIONAL DRESS FOR THE '80's--- The Placement Office is sponsoring a fashion show on May 7 for all students and interested campus personnel in meeting room 1 of the CAC. The focus will be on dressing professionally at a low-moderate cost. Shows will be at 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. Contact the Placement Office for more details--everyone is welcome!

A FREE ESTATE PLANNING SEMINAR for former students of AC and the Junior College of Augusta is planned for Monday, May 5 by the AC Alumni Assn. Because many people are unaware of changes brought about by recent tax reform acts, the association is offering the seminar to help former students review and improve their estate plans. Panelists will include Edward Austell, banker; Richard Daniel, Certified Life Underwriter; Roger Denning, Certified Public Accountant; and Charles Rowell, tax attorney. Reservations are necessary and can be made by calling the Office of Continuing Education. The seminar will start at 7 p.m. at the Maxwell Alumni House.

SEVERAL MEMBERS of the Fine Arts faculty recently participated in a guest faculty recital at Georgia Southern College. John Scott, James Russey, John Schaeffer, Peter Dundon performed along with Karen McClary as part of a faculty exchange program with Georgia Southern.

AUGUSTA COLLEGE IS AN AFFIRMATIVE/ACTION EQUAL OPPORTUNITY INSTITUTION

THE BOARD OF REGENTS of the University system of Georgia, at their April meeting held in Augusta, approved the following faculty promotions: To the rank of professor: Walter E. Evans III; To the rank of Associate Professor: Elizabeth Ann House, Jack King Jr., Phillip L. Reichel, Phillip D. Rutsohn, Russell E. Stulliken and Anna Jo Turner; To the rank of Assistant Professor: Thomas T. Chadwick, Jeanne L. Jensen and Ernestine H. Thompson.

A SPECIAL Chinese Fair will highlight April's agenda for the Cullum Third World Program on China which began earlier this month and will climax the end of May. The 1-6 p.m. fair, to be held Sunday, April 27 in the Performing Arts Theatre, will feature a martial arts demonstration, Chinese music, dancing, brush painting and calligraphy, food booths, a kite flying contest, a Chinese dragon parade--featuring a 50-foot dragon--and a cooking demonstration. The Reese Library will have on exhibit work of local Chinese artists. A special presentation to Augusta College will be made by Stephen Chen, who is now director of the Atlanta office, Coordination Committee on North American Affairs for the Republic of China. Chen will present a valuable and comprehensive 130-volume set of "The History of China" to the college.

ELENA KORNETCHUK, owner and director of the World Galleries in Pittsburg and probably the leading authority and dealer in Russian icons, will talk to interested Augusta College personnel noon Wednesday, April 23 in the Fine Arts Library. She will talk about the icons as well as the business aspects of art.

DR. JOHN FLOWERS (School of Education) recently attended the 32nd Georgia Science and Engineering Fair at the University of Georgia in Athens. During a concurrent meeting of the Georgia Science Teachers Association he was installed as the elected elementary representative to that Association during 1980-81.

RICHARD FRANK (Fine Arts) recently judged the annual student art exhibit at Georgia Southern College.

PING-TUNG CHANG had his paper, "Persistence in Small Group Instruction in Developmental Mathematics Courses--On Relationships Among Academic Performance, Sex Difference, Attitude and Persistence" published in Resources in Women's Educational Equity in the Eric System. It was also included in "Investigations in Mathematics Education--Expanded Abstracts and Critical Analyses of Recent Research."

ON APRIL 23, K-Mart Enterprises will interview for management trainees in sporting goods and automobiles. All majors are eligible to interview. Stop by the Placement Office for an appointment.

THE PROPOSAL to organize an organization for Augusta College secretaries has gained much momentum lately with all AC secretaries responding to a recent questionnaire issued by the Office of College Relations. Without one dissenting vote, AC secretaries have expressed their interest and support of such an organization, termed by many as "long overdue." The first get-together will take place--appropriately enough--during National Secretaries Week this week. A catered luncheon will be held Wednesday, April 23 from 11:45 a.m. to 1:15 p.m. in the AC Towers. The price of the lunch will be $3.50 per person. The first get-together promises to be an exciting affair as many suggestions have been offered toward making the organization a viable and productive one. A few of the preliminary comments received: "An excellent idea if we can have good participation." "The idea about campus secretaries grouping together for a monthly meeting/luncheon to become familiar with one another and to discuss mutual problems is good. I'm willing to support the meetings as long as the sessions prove to be worthwhile and productive." "I have often thought how nice it would be to get to know the other secretaries at Augusta College. I am delighted with the idea of a monthly luncheon." "I would love to meet the other secretaries that I talk with over the phone daily." "I am interested in discussing how secretarial help can be more satisfactorily scheduled during registration periods, how we can manage our time more effectively and how to handle nuisance calls."

FACULTY NEWS

SHARI COVITZ, Ph.D. (Continuing Education) recently delivered a paper entitled "The Effects of Career Counseling on Job Satisfaction in Mature Women Returning to College" at the National Association of Women Deans Administrators and Counselors meeting in Cincinnati.

FOR WEEK OF: April 27 - May 3, 1980

Written Wednesday April 23, 1980

The Cullum Third World Program on China continues this week with a guest lecture by Michael Y.M. Kau, Ph.D., professor of political science and director of the Mao's Writings Project at Brown University. He will speak at noon and at 8 p.m. in the lecture room of Butler Hall on the topic, "Modern Historical and Political Development" (of China). Dr. Kau serves as editor of the quarterly journal "Chinese Law and Government" and on the editorial board of "International Journal of Politics." A member of the national committee on U.S.-China Relations, he is author of several books and many scholarly articles on Chinese-Communist movement and politics. Educated in Asia and the U.S., he earned his doctorate in government from Cornell University. His talks are free and open to the public.

Students and staff are invited to participate in the annual Student Art Show and Competition to be held next month in the PAT. All entries must be original work (in any medium) and must be brought to the Fine Arts Dept. before 4 p.m. April 30. Those who submit an entry are asked to print a name, phone number, title, medium used and price on the back. Cash prizes will be awarded to the winners, and all works entered will be on display in the PAT beginning May 1.

The annual Augusta College Honors Convocation will be held at 8 p.m. May 2 (Friday) in the PAT, where scholastic, departmental, journalistic and special awards will be presented to AC's top students. The Outstanding Faculty Member Award will also be announced. The program will include organ music by Nancy Boyd, a soprano solo by Sandra Newman, and an address by guest speaker H. Dean Propst, vice chancellor for academic affairs for the University System of Georgia. Ushers for the evening will be members of the newly established Mu Rho Sigma sorority. A reception in front of the PAT will follow the ceremonies.

THE OFFICE OF THE ASSISTANT TO THE PRESIDENT was particularly festive last week with the Wednesday announcement that S. Lee Wallace had been named "Executive of the Year" and the Thursday announcement that Francis Eddins, his secretary, had been named "Secretary of the Year." Both distinctions were awarded by the North Augusta Chapter of the American Secretaries Association. Mrs. Eddins, in her nomination of Wallace, described him as "not only a good boss but an unusual human being. He is a person who is respected by his peers, his employees, members of the younger generation, the community and his family...one who will put another persons's problems and needs above any need of his own. He will rejoice with me and if I have something to cry about, he will cry with me. He is a Christian with high ideals and good moral concepts, a beloved family man, and a leader in his profession..." Wallace, upon hearing of Mrs. Eddins selection, said, "I wasn't at all surprised. I have been expecting it for about eight years." Mrs. Eddins and Wallace have worked together for almost 13 years. Only once before has the chapter honored a boss-secretary by awarding the titles the same year.

AUGUSTA COLLEGE SECRETARIES enjoyed a gala luncheon and expressed their enthusiasm and support of the newly-formed organization for them on campus. The Wednesday luncheon, held during Secretaries Week, was attended by 28 secretaries. It was decided that members will take turns hosting the monthly luncheons with Donna Holley (Education) and Kathy Hook (Psychology) to coordinate the May luncheon. The date and place will be announced. A number of spontaneous drawings were held and winners were: Ella Owens (Physical Education), Evelyn Farr (President's Office), Hazel Santacroce (Nursing), Maxine Allen (Continuing Education) and Vera Wilkerson (Comptroller's Office). Hostesses for April Janie McMillan and Helga Waller would like to extend a special thanks to Kaye Keel (History), Dana Parsons (Languages and Literature), Francis Eddins (Assistant to the President's Office), Evelyn Farr for all their assistance in planning the get-together and a special thanks to Dr. and Mrs. George Christenberry for their donation of flowers.

The Chinese Fair scheduled for Sunday from 1 to 6 p.m. in and around the performing arts theatre will feature activities for the entire family. The fair, co-sponsored by the Culium Third World Program on China and the Chinese Merchant Benevolent Association of Augusta, has announced its afternoon schedule:

1 p.m. Opening Ceremonies and Presentation of History of Twenty-five Dynasties of China. (The collection is being given to the college by Stephen S.F. Chen, director of the Atlanta Office, Coordination Council for North American Affairs, Republic of China.

- 1:20 Karate Exhibition
- 1:30 Cantonese Cooking Demonstration
- Chinese Variety Show (Folk Songs, Dancing, Puppet Show, Chinese Musical Instruments)
- 2:30 Martial Arts Demonstration
- 3:00 Calligraphy and Brush Painting Demonstration
- 3:30 Mandarin Cooking Demonstration
- 4:00 Karate Exhibition
- Slide Presentation
- 4:30 Chinese Variety Show
- 5:00 Martial Arts Demonstration
- 5:30 Dragon Dance

A FREE ICE CREAM PARTY for night students will take place on Wednesday, April 30, and again on Thursday, May 1 from 6:30 to 7:15 p.m. in front of the College Activities Center. The Student Union is sponsoring it.

THE MOVIE "THE GOOD EARTH" is this week's Third World feature film. It will be shown at 8 p.m. in the PAT and is open to the public.

AN ORGANIZATIONAL MEETING of the Russian study group will be held at 2 p.m. Monday (April 28) in the faculty lounge in Butler Hall.

JACK HAMILTON (Procurement) his two daughters and sons-in-law appeared on the TV game show Family Feud in Hollywood, Calif. recently and won two games. The shows will be aired May 5, 6 and 7 at 11:30 a.m. on Channel 6.

EVERY WEEKDAY MORNING at 8:30, KZK Radio (AM 16) announcer Hans Petersen talks with Marian Cheek (Public Information) about what's happening on campus. Students or faculty wishing to announce their campus activities may call public information at 3917 a day or two in advance.

WAGC RADIO FM 91 has announced that all daily programs aired from 6 to 9 a.m. are discontinued until further notice. All other programming will remain the same, so stay tuned for continued excellence from Augusta College's alternative listening station.

FACULTY NEWS

RICHARD FRANK (Fine Arts) has been invited to send a painting to the Chatham South Regional Competition in Rome, Ga. Juror for the exhibit is noted artist Ida Kohlmeier.

DOM'T MISS the art exhibit by Doris Simmons Weltch entitled "Portraits of our Presidents" and other works to be on display through May 2 in the Fine Arts Lobby. A reception was held Saturday night in her honor. Portraits of all presidents of the Junior College of Augusta and Augusta College have been done by Mrs. Weltch.

APPLICANTS are now being accepted by the Office of Admissions for the Powell Memorial Scholarship in art at Augusta College. The grant, in the amount of $150, is to be awarded to an entering freshman desiring to major in art. Selection of the recipient will be made by the art faculty based on samples of creative work plus personal references. Deadline for submission by the Fine Arts office is May 23. The winner will be announced during the first week in June.

CHARLES L. WILLIG (Language & Literature) was hospitalized last week. Everyone misses you. Hurry back!

THE ANNUAL REUNION DINNER MEETING OF the AC Alumni Assn. will take place at West Lake Country Club Sat., May 10. A social hour will begin at 6 p.m. and a seated dinner at 7:30 p.m. followed by dancing to the music of "Friends." Special reunions will be held for the classes of 1930, '55, and '70. The recipients of the distinguished Alumna/us Award and the Distinguished Service Award will be named at the dinner and election of officers will be held. Reservations, which can be made by charge card if desired, will be handled by the Maxwell Alumni Office. In conjunction with the annual meeting, the second annual Jaguar Invitational Golf Tournament will be held that morning at 9 a.m. at the Forest Hills Golf Course. The entry fee is $20, which includes greens fee and 1/2 a cart. Trophies and prizes will be awarded at the dinner. The tourney will be limited to 15 foursomes, so anyone interested should register early.

The Cullum Third World Program on China lecturer for this week is Dr. Yaun-Li Wu, professor of economics at the University of San Francisco. He will speak Tuesday, May 6, at noon and at 8:00 p.m. in the lecture room of Butler Hall. His topic will be the "Economic Development of China From 1949 to The Present." Dr. Wu has extensive experience in both academic and practical affairs. He is the author of 29 books and many articles and monographs on the economy of China. His writings have been translated for use in France, Germany, Spain, and Japan as well as China and the U.S. As an economic consultant and research scholar, he has been associated at various times with many organizations, including the Center for International Studies. He has been consultant to the Hoover Institution on War, Revolution and Peace at Stanford University since 1960. On Thursday, May 8, the China program will continue with a presentation of the movie "The East is Red" at 8 p.m. in the Performing Arts Theatre. Both events are free and open to the public.

The AC Alumni Association's annual meeting, which will take place Saturday, May 10, will include a dinner/dance, the election of new officers, four special class reunions, and the presentation of two special awards. The recipient of the Distinguished Alumna/us award will be announced, as will the Distinguished Service Award winner. Reunions will be held for the classes of 1930, '35, '55, and '70. In conjunction with the annual meeting, the second annual Jaguar Invitational Golf tournament will be held that morning at 9 a.m. with trophies and prizes to be awarded at the dinner. During the business session of the meeting, reports by association officers on the past year's activities will be given. AC faculty have received a special invitation to join former students for the evening. Make reservations through the Maxwell Alumni House.

APPLICATIONS ARE NOW BEING ACCEPTED for the Powell Memorial Scholarship in art. The Office of Admissions will accept them until May 23 and the winner will be announced in June. The grant, in the amount of $150, will be awarded to an entering freshman intending to major in art. Contact Nathan Bindler in the Fine Arts Dept. for more information.

THE SECOND ANNUAL STREET SKEEDADDLE sponsored by the University Hospital will take place Saturday, May 10, at the Health Central Wellness Center on 13th street. The first event, a one mile fun run, will start at 8:30 a.m., followed by a 10 kilometer (6.2 mile) race at 9 a.m. For information, call 722-9011 or 736-6833.

THE AUGUSTA COLLEGE JAZZ ENSEMBLE, under the direction of Mike McClary, is competing this week-end in the Great American Music Festival in Orlando, Florida. The ensemble will give a 30-minute presentation to include a swing number from the 1940's, a ballad, and some experimental jazz. Forty bands from throughout the southeast are competing in Orlando. Twenty players accompanied McClary and are scheduled to return Monday morning.

THE MU RHO SIGMA sorority has issued a challenge to all AC clubs to match its membership percentage donations to the Walter Sheppard Blood Center before the end of spring quarter. Because of the recent measles epidemic, the center is unable to conduct its spring blood drive. Sorority members feel the challenge will help prevent any shortages. All donors must be in good physical condition and weigh over 110 pounds. (A proxy may donate if a member is unable to do so.) A blood donation drive may be held on campus later this quarter, but the center is accepting donors now. If you wish to meet the challenge, call the center at 722-0224. Be sure to mention the name of the organization you represent.

STUDENTS PREREGISTERING FOR summer and fall quarters will be happy to learn that a mail chute has been installed on the front door of Fanning Hall. Anyone who wants to drop off pre-registration payments after the business office has closed may use the chute.

PREREGISTRATION for summer and fall quarter will begin Monday, May 5 and continue through Friday, May 9.

AN OLD-FASHIONED GATHERING on the banks of the Savannah River next to St. Paul's Episcopal Church will be held Thursday and Friday (May 8-9) sponsored by Continuing Education, Historic Augusta, Chamber of Commerce of Greater Augusta, and the CSRA Community Symposium. Entitled Chautauqua 1980, the two-day event is being funded by a grant to the Georgia Adult Education Association from the Committee for the Humanities in Georgia. Featured will be speakers from AC, Paine College and MCG, various musical groups including the AC Jazz Ensemble, the AC Chamber Singers; Tenth District U.S. Congressional Rep. Doug Barnard, 90th District State Rep. David Swann, chamber of commerce officials, Channel 6 News Director Jim Davis and other civic and community leaders. The name "Chautauqua" is taken from the city in New York which initiated one of the prototypes of continuing education for adults in this country. Back then, entire families would gather under massive tents to hear speakers of the day. Hours on Thursday and Friday will be from noon to 2 p.m. and from 5-7 p.m. Lunch and dinner will be available. All of the activities are free.

MORE THAN 40 persons have reserved seats for the estate planning seminar to be held Monday, May 5 at the Maxwell Alumni House. The seminar is for all former students of the Junior College of Augusta and Augusta College. Speakers include Edward C. Austell, representing the banking industry; T. Richard Daniel, Certified Life Underwriter; Roger M. Denning, Certified Public Accountant; and tax attorney Charles W. Rowell. J. Carlisle Overstreet, a local attorney, will moderate the session. The seminar is sponsored by the AC Alumni Assn.

THE AC FILM SERIES will present "The Emigrants" starring Max von Sydow and Liv Ullman at 6 and 8:15 p.m. Tuesday May 6 in the PAT. The movie is based on the novel by Wilhelm Moberg and recounts the dramatic Swedish emigration to America in the middle of the 19th century.

THE ANNUAL INITIATION BANQUET of the MCG Chapter of Sigma Xi, the scientific research society, will be held at 6:15 p.m. May 7 at the Convention Center of the Augusta Hilton. The keynote address will be given by the acting chancellor of the University System of Georgia, Dr. Vernon D. Crawford. HAROLD MOON, ASSOCIATE DEAN OF THE COLLEGE, is secretary of the organization.

An elaborate multi-media production of Alice in Wonderland will open at the Ft. Gordon Performing Arts Center on Friday, May 16 at 8 p.m. The production will be mounted by the Augusta-Ft. Gordon Theatre Guild with grant support from the National Endowment for the Arts and the Georgia Council for the Arts and Humanities. The play is directed by AC graduate student Steve Walpert, was adapted from Lewis Carroll's novel by AC professor Dr. Walter Evans, and stars AC alumna Christina Rice as Alice. Tickets are available at a 50¢ discount (adults $3.50, children $2.00) at the Student Activities Office. Performance dates are May 16, 17, 18, 23, 24, 25, 30, 31, June 1. Friday performances begin at 8 p.m.; Saturday and Sunday matinees are at 3 p.m. For further information call 736-5554 or 791-5289.

The Cullum Third World program on China will feature a guest lecture by Dr. James Hsiung at noon and 8 p.m. Tuesday, May 13 in the lecture room of Butler Hall. His topic will be China's contemporary foreign policy. Dr. Hsiung is professor of politics at New York University. He is an active member of a number of professional organizations including the American Political Science Association and the Association for Asian Studies. He is the author of Ideology and Practice: The Evolution of Chinese Communism (1970) and Law and Policy in China's Foreign Relations (1972), and numerous other books and articles on the subject. Dr. Hsiung has served as New York University's Director of the Third World Series and was Adjunct Visiting Professor at Columbia University in New York. His talks are open to the public.

THE CSRA FAMILY COUNSELING AND SERVICE CENTER (a United Way organization) will open for individual and family therapy services on May 16. Many members of the AC faculty have been active in getting the agency started. It is located in Suite 406 in the Medical Arts Building on Harper Street and is available for use by the AC community. The center is also in need of office furniture. If you are willing to donate items like bookcases, file cabinets, lamps, plants, pictures, etc. call Ernestine Thompson in the Sociology Dept.

AUGUSTA COLLEGE WOMEN who play tennis have received a special invitation to participate in the AC Alumni Association's Tennis Tournament the weekend of May 23. Alumni representatives said that only a few women have signed up for the event, which consists of men's and women's singles. Draws will be limited to 16 persons in each, and everyone who enters the tournament will receive a gift. This is a great chance to win a trophy, so pick up your application this week at the Maxwell Alumni House.

THE EDITORS of Sand Hills magazine wish to thank all those who submitted materials for consideration. The editors have already contacted all those whose submissions were accepted. Others may pick up their submissions at the English Department.

SOPRANO MARGARET WILLIAMS will present a senior voice recital Sunday, May 11, 3:30 p.m., in the Performing Arts Theatre, in partial fulfillment of requirements for a bachelor of music degree from Hartt College of Music, Hartford, Connecticut. She is organist and music director of Our Savior Episcopal Church, Martinez, and has appeared as soloist with the Augusta Choral Society and the Augusta Chamber Singers. Until her recent return to Augusta, she was vocalist and instrumentalist with the Early Music Players of New Haven. Sunday's recital will include works by Purcell, Brahms, Schubert, Handel, Poulenc, Honegger and Copland. The public is invited.

THE ANNUAL SENIOR ART EXHIBIT will open May 17 and continue through May 31 in the PAT. There will be a reception from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. May 21, also in the PAT. The show will feature works in various media by seniors Tony Shaw, Judith O'Quinn, and Tom Crow.

STUDENTS PREREGISTERING for summer and fall quarters are reminded that a mail chute has been installed on the front door of Panning Hall. Those who wish to drop off payments after regular business hours can use it.

A ROLLER DISCO CONTEST AND SKATE-A-THON

sponsored by the American Cancer Society will be held Saturday May 17 from 10 to 4 p.m. at the Starlite Skating Rink. The contest will feature exhibitions by skating champions and prizes for winners of each event. Registration forms are available at all McDonald's locations. Students from Paine College have issued a challenge to AC students for competition in the contest. For information on it, call 738-5379.

TENOR JAMES RUSSEY of the Fine Arts

Dept. will present a faculty recital on Friday, May 16 at 8:30 p.m. in the PAT. Assisting him on the program will be John Schaeffer. Featured work on Friday's recital will be Schubert's song cycle "Die Schone Mullerin" (The Beautiful Miller's Daughter). First published in 1824 to words by Wilhelm Muller, "Die Schone Mullerin" has become one of the most famous songs cycles in all of history. The story depicts the wanderings of a water miller worker and his love for a miller's daughter. Friday's recital will be open to the public without charge.

NEWS FROM THE SCHOOL OF EDUCATION:

Dr. Thomas Ganschow, associate professor of history at the University of Georgia, will be this week's Cullum Third World speaker. He will speak at noon and at 8 p.m. Tues. (May 20) in the lecture room of Butler Hall on Chinese education and socialization. Ganschow is co-author with Gary Bertsch of "Comparative Communism: The Soviet, Chinese and Yugoslav Models." He taught for three years at Ching Yi Liberal Arts College in Tai-chung, Taiwan, and lectures on a range of topics which include East Asian history, Japanese history, Far East politics, and China-U.S. relations. His talks are open to the public.

In conjunction with the China program, the AC Theatre will stage its spring production "Malice of Empire" May 22, 23, and 24 in the PAT. The play is a story of love and political intrigue set in Peking's Imperial Palace at the turn of the century. Written by Yao Hsin-nung in 1941, it is well known to Chinese audiences in both its stage and movie versions. Based closely on historical fact, the play not only offers insight into Chinese history and culture, but is a touching and exciting love story. Cast members are Arthur Wilson, Marie Bruce, and Bette DiNunzio along with Ellen Anderson, Grant Carrington, Angie Dyc, Eddy Livingston, Victor Maye, Johnny Morbit, Alison Rufo, Gary Simpson and Colin Smith. Duncan Smith is director. Curtain time is 8 p.m., and admission is free.

THE ATHLETIC BOOSTER CLUB at Butler High School has established a Butler Bulldog scholarship to AC to cover tuition costs and student activities fees. The scholarship will be awarded on the basis of academic record, participation and leadership in extra-curricular activities, and athletic participation. The Financial Assistance Committee at AC will determine the recipient, and the announcement will be made during Butler's graduation exercises on June 6.

THE REAL ESTATE SALESPERSON'S PREPARATORY COURSE will be offered May 20 through June 14, with classes scheduled for Tuesday and Thursday nights from 7 until 10 p.m. and on Saturdays from 9 a.m. until 12:30 p.m. The registration fee is $80 and books are $24. For further information contact the Center for the Study of Private Enterprise 828-4993 or The School of Business Administration 828-3566.

"GARDNEER'S SON," a film about the murder in 1876 of prominent Augustan James J. Gregg, will be shown at 7:30 p.m. May 21 in the lecture room of Butler Hall. Gregg, a well-known Augustan, was shot and killed at the Graniteville Mill by Robert McEvoy. The film, which won national acclaim when it was aired on public television depicts life in a mill village during the late nineteenth century. Cullum Visiting Scholar Dr. Tom Terrill of the University of South Carolina will give a commentary following the showing, which is sponsored by the AC History Club.

THE AUGUSTA COLLEGE SUMMER DAY CAMP for children ages four to 12 will be held again this year. The Office of Student Activities directs the program, which will be held for eight one-week sessions June 25 through August 15. Parents may enroll their children for any or all of the eight sessions. A total of 45 children will be accepted for each session. Tuition includes a snack and lunch in the College Activities Center, swimming, arts and crafts, special events and field trips. Applications may be obtained by calling the Office of Student Activities at Augusta College. Six full-time counselors are needed for the camp. Interested work-study students should contact Sandra Fowler in the Financial Aid Office.

THE LOCAL CHAPTER of Amnesty International will hold an organizational meeting Monday (May 19) at 8 p.m. in room 9 of Markert Hall. The organization exists to work on behalf of "prisoners of conscience everywhere," according to member Bob Gutman. Anyone interested is invited to attend.

THE SCHEDULE for summer quarter registration, which will take place June 16, has been revised to give students who work a chance to register early in the morning and at lunch. The new hours are 7:30 - 9:30 a.m., 11:30 a.m. - 2 p.m., and 5 - 7:30 p.m.

Of that total, seven students will receive the associate in applied science degree, 41 the associate in science, 14 the associate in arts, one the bachelor of music, five the bachelor of fine arts, 11 the bachelor of science in Education, 63 the bachelor of business administration, 26 the bachelor of science, 103 the bachelor of arts, seven the master of science, 23 the master of business administration and 31 the master of Education.

Augusta College has been asked again this year to participate in the Share A Day of Work program sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and Ft. Gordon. In an effort to foster a continuing rapport between the community and the fort, the program asks that a soldier be allowed to work on campus for a day with someone who performs duties similar to his or hers. For instance, last year a soldier whose job required some writing skills spent the day in the AC Office of Public Information. Any campus office or department willing to cooperate is asked to contact Dean McNeal in the Office of College Relations. Phone 3725.

THE OFFICE OF PUBLIC INFORMATION extends appreciation to those people who made possible the slide show prepared for the annual alumni dinner meeting (also shown at the last faculty meeting). Thanks to Lee Wallace and Marguerite Fogleman for use of their vast collection of old slides of the college, and to Roscoe Williams who photographed so many of the beautiful new color slides. Thanks, too, to Alan Cooke of radio station WACG for his production work with the audio portion of the show.

THE BLACK STUDENT UNION will sponsor a take-out dinner sale from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. May 31 at the Maxwell Alumni House on the corner of Katherine and McDowell Streets. The dinner will include a choice of chicken or fish, vegetables, and dessert. Tickets are $2.50 for adults, $1.25 for children and will be on sale daily from 2 to 4:30 p.m. in the Student Activities Office and 2 to 3:30 p.m. in the Bell Ringer Office, or from any Black Student Union member.

THE AC JAZZ ENSEMBLE, under the direction of Mike McClary, performed this past week for the Exchange Club of Augusta and will give another performance next week for the West Augusta Rotary Club.

PLACEMENT NEWS

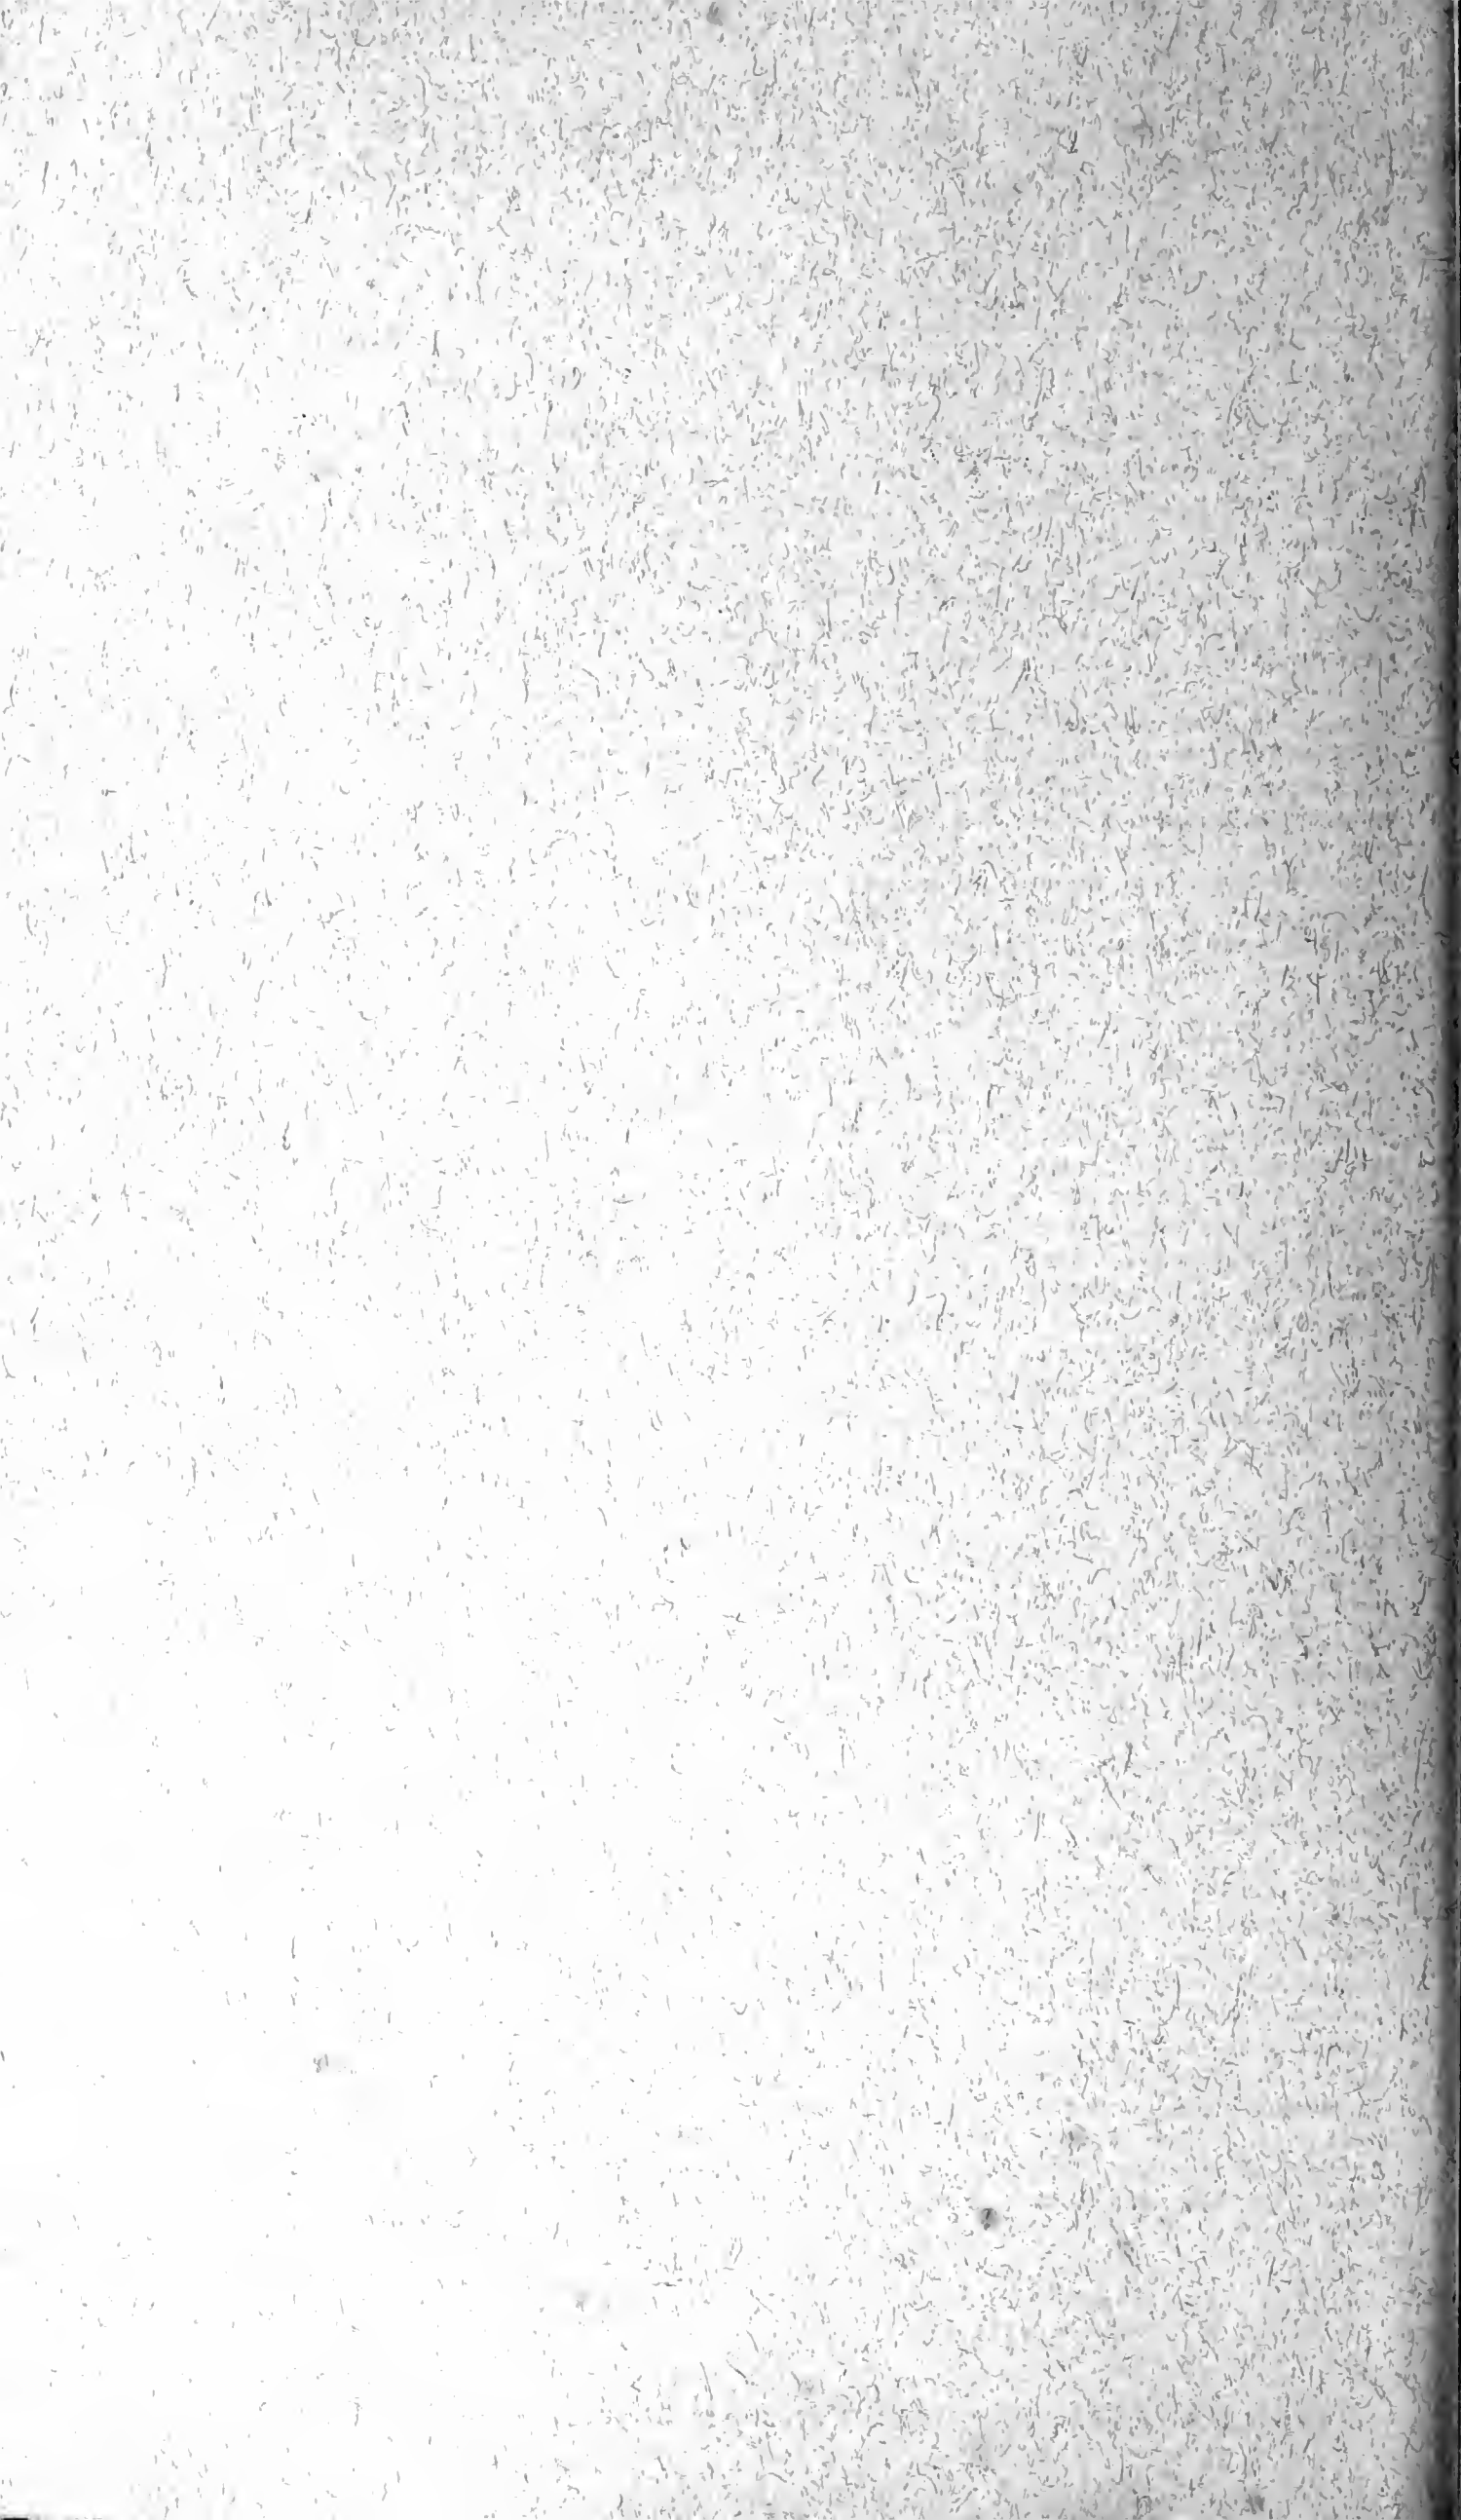

THE BOY SCOUTS OF AMERICA will be on campus Wed. May 28 to interview for district executives. There is one position in Waynesboro and other positions nationwide.

THE SPOTLIGHT regrets to hear that Don Smith (Admissions) is a patient at Doctors Hospital.

LANIER BUSINESS PRODUCTS will be interviewing on Thurs. May 29 for sales trainees. A degree (any major) is preferred, but not required. Sales experience is an advantage but appointments are required for these recruiters. Those interested should contact the Placement Office immediately.

A REAL ESTATE salesperson's preparatory course will be offered June 17 through July 19 at AC. Classes are scheduled for Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 4:30 until 6:30 p.m. and on Saturdays from 9 a.m. until 1 p.m. The registration fee is $80 and books are $24 (approximately). GLORIA M. MOHNEY, a social studies teacher at the Academy of Richmond County, has been awarded the Paul B. Bailey Award for Private Enterprise by the Center for the Study of Private Enterprise. The $1,000 award was established in 1978 by the late Paul Bailey and is given annually to a teacher in a 13 county area who is judged to have inspired students to understand and appreciate the American way of life and the free enterprise system. It was established in the form of a contribution to the AC Foundation. The check was presented by Samuel C. Haller, chairman of the Foundation's Board of Trustees. Bailey was a member of the class of 1939 and was chairman of the board of Sherman and Hemstreet Inc. Gloria Mohney's entry, called "From Canvas to Cut-Off's: The Jeans Story," was a case study undertaken by students in her "Principals of Private Enterprise" class. She is a graduate of the University of South Carolina and received her masters degree from Pepperdine University. This is the second year the award has been made.

FOR WEEK OF: June 22 - June 28, 1980

Written Wednesday June 18, 1980

There's good news for parents of restless children out of school and already bored with summer vacation. The AC Office of Continuing Education is offering several short courses designed especially for children, and they begin this week. The Just for Kids Program includes Dance for Children ages six through 12 and Dance for Teens (beginning and advanced), both taught by Jack Yantis; Drawing and Painting for Children ages 8-12, taught by Judith King; French for Children 8-12, taught by Dr. Mary Kathleen Blanchard; Pottery for Children 8-12, taught by Kathleen Ogle; and Slimnastics for Children, taught by Marsha Radford. For information on times, dates, and prices, call the office at 828-4611.

The not-so-young may want to take advantage of other CE courses starting soon. "Publicity for Clubs and Organizations," which will cover ways of obtaining media coverage and outdoor publicity, will be taught for six Wednesday nights beginning June 25. Starting June 23 at 7 p.m. will be a six week course on inflation and personal budgeting called "A Consumer Spending Plan." Classes will meet for two hours on Monday nights. A detailed description of these and many other offerings can be found in the summer brochure. Call Continuing Education.

THE STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION will sponsor a Richmond County voter registration drive on campus Mon., June 23, and Thurs., June 26 from 10 a.m. to noon in the College Activities Center. Linda Beasley will be here to register voters, and reminds all males that registering to vote does not automatically register you for the draft.

ENTERING AC AS A FRESHMAN THIS FALL will be Melanie Joy Roberts, STAR student from Glascock County High School. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Roberts, she plans to follow a pre med program at AC, then continue studies in orthodontics. The STAR (Student Teacher Achievement Recognition) Program is sponsored by the Ga. Chamber of Commerce.

THE AC JAZZ ENSEMBLE, under the direction of Michael McClary, recently completed a record 44 concert tour when they played at the Thunderbird Inn for the West Augusta Rotary Club. After the performance, State Representative David Swann invited them to perform for the opening session of the Ga. State Legislature in Atlanta this fall. The group also received an excellent rating after returning from a recent trip to Florida, where they participated in the Great American Music Festival in Orlando. Plans are now being made for an even better next year, according to McClary. Congratulations, ACJE!

THOSE PERSONS planning to take the National Teacher Examinations (NTE) to be given at the AC Testing Center on July 19 are reminded that the deadline for registration is June 25. The deadline for the Graduate Management Admissions Test (GMAT) to be given July 12 is June 20. Other tests administered by the Center this summer are the Regents Testing Program on July 14, Achievement Test on July 30, and the SAT on July 31.

AC SENIOR ART MAJOR BRUCE LEE, who will graduate in August, has been chosen by the Athens-Clarke County Office of Cultural Affairs to serve as a governor's intern this summer. His responsibilities include the preparation of a series of studies of non-profit cultural programs in Clarke County, attitudinal studies of audiences, and studies of artists. He will also prepare a graphic design for the Office, and a pamphlet, scheduled for mid summer release, on the effective production of an arts event, including practical help in planning and publicity. Bruce has served as president of the AC Student Art Assn., editor of Sand Hills Literary Magazine, worked closely with local theatre groups on set and makeup design, and taught art to children at Rose Hill Art Center in Aiken, S.C.

THE OFFICE OF CONTINUING EDUCATION is offering a two-day seminar in July entitled "Managerial Skills for Executive Secretaries and Administrative Assistants." The July 24-25 seminar will be taught by Russ Holloman. The CE office will also offer two seminars for supervisors and managers in August. "Management of Ineffective Employee Performance" will be offered August 7-8 and "Effective Managerial Coaching and Counseling" will be offered August 18-19. Seminar leaders will be Holloman and Phil Rutsohn.

THE AC SUMMER DAY CAMP is no longer accepting applications for camp, according to Kathy Thompson. Each week has a waiting list of at least ten children, she said.

Nine students from Butler High School have already received credit for English 101 at AC, thanks to a cooperative project initiated by the AC English Dept. and the Richmond County School system. During winter and spring quarters this past year, English professors visited three classes--two at Butler and one at Laney High School--each Monday for college composition presentations. The high school teachers taught the classes the remaining days. All students in the classes had the option of registering at AC and taking the English 101 final exam. Eleven students, taught by Ephraim Williams at Butler, chose to take the exam, and nine passed it. When the final is offered again in August, any other students from the classes may attempt to take it. If a student plans to attend a college other than AC, the credit can be transferred. Only Butler and Laney were able to participate in the program, since they were project schools for a Title IV Communication Skills Project. However, the English Dept. is making videotapes of each presentation and will produce an accompanying teacher's manual with course activities. Next year the tapes will be made available to other high schools in the system.

THE GA. PARTNERS OF THE AMERICAS will hold its eighth annual Citizens Exchange, EXCHANGE 80, from Atlanta to Recife, Pernambuco, Brazil, Oct. 7-22. All persons interested in participating in traveling to Brazil and representing Ga. as goodwill ambassadors are invited to attend an orientation meeting at 3 p.m. July 7 in the lecture room of Butler Hall. During the exchange, 160 Georgians will fly to Recife, where they will be hosted by Brazilian families, participate in activities related to their own professions, and attend special events. After five days, they will be free to travel to other areas. In return, 160 representatives from Brazil will visit Ga. The program is sponsored by the Partners of the Americas, an independent organization of private citizens committed to fostering understanding and a closer relationship between the people of Latin America and the U.S.

STUDENTS HAVING DIFFICULTIES with basic math skills and homework assignments are reminded of the math tutorial services offered in the math lab, room D-1, Skinner Hall. The lab is open 8-9 a.m. and 10:20 a.m. to 1:40 p.m. Monday through Friday and 5-9 p.m. Wednesdays.

TWO AC STUDENTS, art major Tom Crow and business major Glenn Duval, have been chosen to serve as governor's interns for the summer. Crow will serve with the Augusta Opera Assn. and Duval will work with the business manager of the Augusta Symphony Orchestra.

ROTC STUDENTS Christine Vizzari and Linda Walker have been chosen to represent Ga. at a special leadership school to be held this summer in Ft. Greely, Alaska. The two are among a select group of 150 cadets who will undergo a rigorous training schedule which includes mountain climbing, skiing, and cold weather survival techniques.

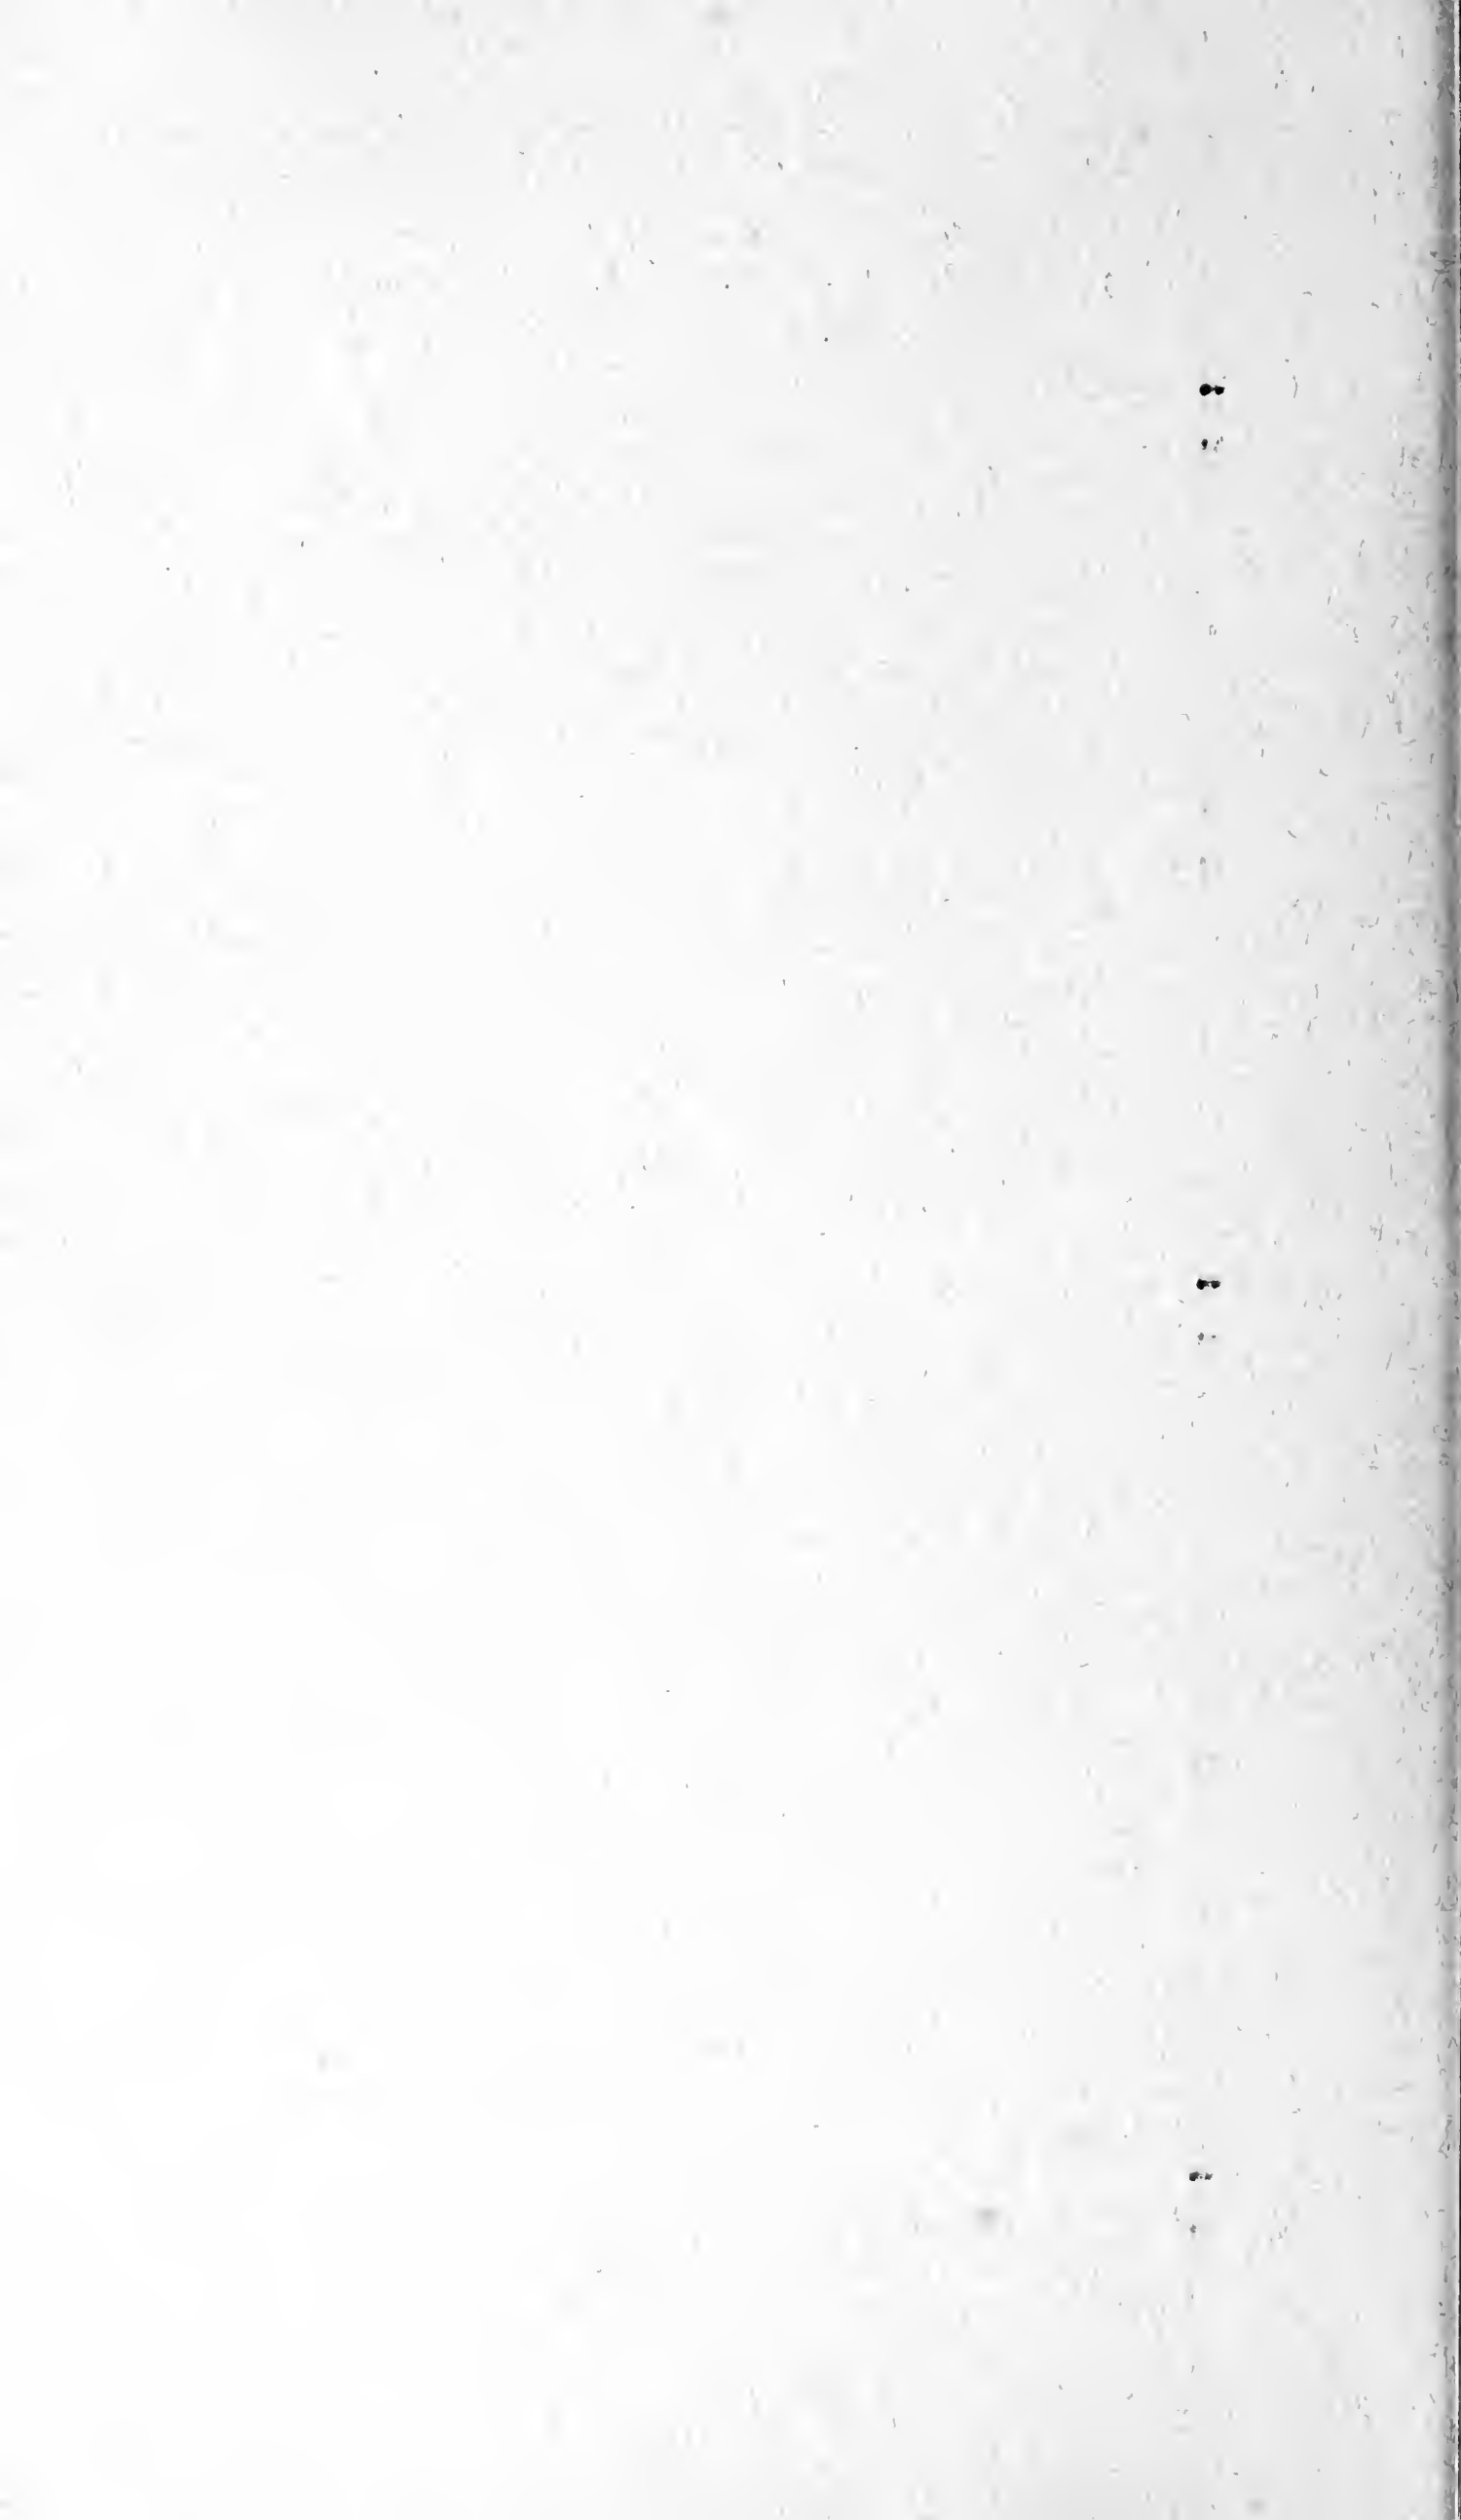

PRESIDENT AND MRS. GEORGE A. CHRISTENBERRY were honored with a welcome back reception hosted by the alumni assn., faculty and staff last week. Helen Hendee, president of the alumni assn., presented them a three piece china tea set on a china tray, decorated in gold with the Augusta College crest. She also thanked Dean J. Gray Dinwiddie for his service to the college as acting president during the past year. Lib Gray, Rocky Dinwiddie, and Lenora Holloman coordinated refreshments for the party, which were highlighted with a three tiered cake made and decorated by Lib Gray. The cake's message was echoed by the entire college community, "welcome back, Christenberrys."

A REMINDER-- THE AC pool is open for recreational swimming from 2 to 4 p.m. Mon - Fri.

A softball marathon to benefit Easter Seals will take place Friday and Saturday, August 22 and 23, at the Lumpkin Complex on Lumpkin Road. Each team will play for one and a half hours, and the winner will be the team ahead at the end of that time. Team members will be asked to find sponsors willing to donate money to raise the required entry fee. All who enter will receive prizes, and teams raising the most money for Easter Seals will receive additional ones. This is a great way for your team to end the softball season. For entry blanks, call Linda Smith at 733-4401.

The Student Union will sponsor its annual summertime Super Sunday at Clark Hill Lake July 27, from 1 to 4 p.m. Hot dogs, hamburgers, soda and beer (upon proof of age) will be served free.

The Film Series will feature two movies this week. "Allegro Non Troppo," an animated film by Bruno Bozetto which parodies Walt Disney's "Fantasia," will be shown at 6 and 8:15 p.m. in the PAT Tues., July 22. "The Wizard of Oz" will show at the same times Fri., July 25. Admission is free with an I.D.

TWO COURSES IN REAL ESTATE SALES will be offered this summer by the School of Business Administration. The first, a salesperson's pre-licensing preparatory course, will meet on Tuesday and Thursday evenings and Saturday mornings July 22-August 16. A first year licensing course will meet Mon.-Fri. August 4-15 from 6 to 10 p.m. Registration deadline for either is July 29. For information, call 828-3566.

DONALD L. SMITH, Ed.D., is now Assistant Dean of Students and Director of Admissions. He assumed the additional title to "more accurately reflect his duties," according to Dean of Students J.W. Galloway. His responsibilities have been expanded to include the offices of the registrar, financial aid and testing. The coordinating duties are in addition to his responsibilities as director of admissions.

THE AC JAZZ ENSEMBLE, under the direction of Michael McClary, recently performed at the Hopeland Gardens in Aiken, S.C. There was one in a series of Monday evening programs presented there each summer. Featured soloists were Patty Amaral, Jeanette Nobles, David Buskirk, Henry Mann, Walter Hawkins, Tyronne Jefferson and Steve Dickson. The crowd attending gave the band two standing ovations, calling for an encore. This was the first time that an encore and standing ovation occurred at Hopeland, according to McClary, making it yet another milestone for the Augusta College Jazz Ensemble.

STUDENTS OR FACULTY wishing to announce upcoming campus events or news items are urged to call the Public Information Office (3917) which has a live spot on Radio Station KZK (AM 16) each morning at 8:30. Morning host Hans Petersen is especially interested in activities on campus which would have public appeal. He also enjoys hearing news about faculty and students. To promote your activity or news, call Public Information.

THE TOPIC OF BIOFEEDBACK will be discussed by Dr. Andy Lloyd of the Veterans Administration Hospital during the fifth period on Thursday (July 24) in Room A-4 of Skinner Hall. Dr. Lloyd will discuss the basic principles of biofeedback and will present case studies as examples of its use as a therapeutic method. His presentation is sponsored by the AC Psychological Organization.

THE PLACEMENT OFFICE has issued a reminder to students graduating in August to come by and register for job placement and pick up a free College Placement Annual. THE OFFICE IS NOW taking applications from rising juniors majoring in management for a co-operative education program. The program allows a student to combine theory with practice by alternating full time academic study with full time employment in career-related work assignments. Apply in the Placement Office.

A three-evening seminar entitled "Handling The Homework Hassle," sponsored by the School of Education, will be held August 19-21 in the Lecture Room of Butler Hall. The free seminar is primarily for parents of school-age children and will be conducted by Sandra Mashburn, M.Ed., reading and learning disabilities specialist and director of Reading Success. On August 19, the 7:30-9 p.m. seminar will be for parents of first to third graders. On August 20, parents of fourth through seventh graders are invited and on August 21, parents of eighth to 12th graders. College students are also invited to this session. (Parents attending the last two sessions may bring their children). Reservations are necessary by calling the School of Education at 828-3601 or the instructor. The seminar was offered two years ago to a capacity audience.

An art show featuring works by students Cynthia Morales and Bruce Gordon Lee will be on display in the Performing Arts Theatre this month. After an opening reception on August 2, the show will remain on exhibit through August 15. Included will be paintings, drawings, prints, ceramics, blown glass and box constructions. The pieces represent three years of work, and are being shown by both arts majors as part of senior exit requirements. Many items will be for sale.

THE STUDENT UNION will present a special showing of the film "Camelot" starring Richard Harris, Vanessa Redgrave and Franco Nero at 8 p.m. Friday August 3 in the College Activities Center. Popcorn and soft drinks will be served, and cartoons will also be shown. Admission is free with an AC I.D. and $1.00 for others. Children will be admitted for 50¢.

THE SPOTLIGHT congratulates Janie J. McMillan, secretary in the Office of Public Information, on being chosen recently as Career Woman of the Day by a local radio station. In addition to public acclaim for her efficient and cheerful manner, she received a bouquet of flowers and lunch for two at a local cafe.

THERE WILL BE a regular faculty meeting at 3 p.m. Wednesday August 6 in the lecture room of Butler Hall.

THE SPOTLIGHT regrets to learn that JIM SMITH (Languages and Literature) is a patient at Doctor's Hospital. Those who wish to send cards can address them to room 417.

THE SECRETARIES' monthly luncheon was held July 23 at Western Sizzlin Steak House. Hostesses were June Pritchett and Lois Wright. Sixteen secretaries attended. Door prize winners were Frances Eddins and Mary Dickson. Hostesses for August will be Nancy Bryant and June Wallom. A Boss-Secretary luncheon was discussed for the month of September when hostesses will be Janie McMillan and Helga Waller.

Dr. Martha Farmer, associate professor of business administration, has been selected by Augusta College graduating seniors to deliver the summer commencement address Friday, August 22 in the Performing Arts Theatre. This is the seventh year summer graduates have chosen their own speaker from among the faculty. Those chosen in the past are Dr. Edward Cashin, Dr. Jean Morse, Dr. Otha Gray, Dr. Frank Chou, Dr. Geraldine Hargrove and Dr. Lyle Smith. Ceremonies for approximately 115 graduates will take place at 8 p.m.

The Bookstore invites all who wish to sell their used text books to bring them by between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. August 19 and 20. Cash will be paid for any book currently in print that is listed in the Buyers' Guide. (Books are not limited to those used at AC.) Manager Mary Bailey has also announced that the bookstore will be closed all day August 29. Hours during the quarter break are 7:45 a.m. - 4:15 p.m. daily.

Faculty Marshal Harry Dolyzniuk has asked that faculty members who plan to participate in summer quarter graduation exercises furnish their names to the secretary in the Dept. of Chemistry and Physics. Faculty will assemble in the lobby of the Fine Arts Building at 7:30 Friday, August 22.

THE AC JAZZ ENSEMBLE will be featured in a performance at the first annual Sacred Heart Festival Day to benefit Sacred Heart Church Sunday, August 17. The festival, staged by the Augusta Hair-dressers and Cosmetologists Assn., will take place at the church from 1 to 7 p.m. Special events will be a hair cut-a-thon, hair braiding, and arts and crafts exhibits by local artists. In addition to the ACJE, performers will include the Barber Shop Quartet, Connie's Cloggers, Margaret Utley on the piano, the YMCA TAGS Gymnastic Team, the Augusta Shrine Club Clowns, and the Chain Lightning Band. Proceeds from raffles and refreshments will be contributed to the preservation of the historic building. Artists or craftsmen wishing to display works can contact Wayne Parsons at 736-7091 or 738-0343.

AUGUSTA COLLEGE, through its School of Business Administration and the Center for the Study of Private Enterprise, will offer its fall CPA/CMA review course beginning September 5. Sessions will be held on Friday evenings and Saturdays through November 1. Each section will be taught by an expert in the area. Interested persons should contact the Center for the Study of Private Enterprise at 828-4993. Application deadline is August 22.

THE SPOTLIGHT extends best wishes to professors Harry Dolyzniuk and Nathan Bindler, both of whom will retire at the quarter's end. They were recognized with a standing ovation at the faculty meeting last week.

THE NATIONAL ENDOWMENT FOR THE HUMANITIES announces its 1981 Summer stipends. The program provides support for college, university, junior and community college teachers, and others working in the humanities to pursue two consecutive months in full-time study or research. Deadline for applications is Oct. 13 and announcement of awards will be made in mid-March. Applicants employed by colleges or universities must be nominated by their institution. The stipend is for $2,500. Further information may be obtained by writing to the Division of Fellowships (MS101), NEHa, 806 15th Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20506. The work proposed may be study or research within the applicants' special areas of interest, or it may be study in some other area that will enable them to understand their own fields better and enlarge their competence.

Augusta College's second annual fund drive will get underway with a "Friends of Augusta College" benefit barbecue 6 to 10 p.m. Tuesday in the quadrangle. In addition to barbecue by Sconyers, festivities will include music and dancing. Entertainment will be provided by the Augusta Barbershop Chorus, the Cross Country Bluegrass Express, the Augusta Symphony Big Band, and the Sounds of Joy. Tickets are $12.50 and are on sale in all the deans' offices, the Public Information Office, the Students Activities Office and the Public Safety Office. During the three weeks following the kick off, members of the AC Alumni Assn. will make calls on persons in the community to solicit donations. Chairman for the month long fund drive is Tom Fuller, AC class of '74 and vice-president for development for the alumni assn. Co-chairmen are John Trulock, class of '65, and Nick Greene, class of '66. The alumni hope to raise $35,000 this year toward the college's overall $100,000 goal. All proceeds will go to the AC Foundation.

The second annual Jaguar Jaunt will take place on campus Sat. evening, Sept. 27 beginning with a one mile fun run at 5 p.m., followed by a five kilometer (3.1 mile) race. The race is sponsored by the AC Alumni Assn. and the Student Government Assn. and is open to anyone who can walk, jog, or run either of the distances. Entry fee is $4.00 before Sept. 24 and $5.00 after that date, with all proceeds going to the Alumni Assn. Registration blanks are available at the Maxwell Alumni House, the Office of Student Activities, and area sporting goods stores. Everyone who enters will receive a Jaguar Jaunt T shirt and is invited to a post-race party in the Maxwell Alumni House following the awards ceremony.

JOHNNY A. WALTON, a sophomore majoring in math, has been named the recipient of one of 34 scholarships awarded by the Ga. Distilled Spirits Institute. AC is one of 19 institutions within the University System of Ga. to share in the program, which was contributed by the associations memorial foundation. The program is a $20,000 direct financial aid package, the largest source of privately funded scholarship aid within the system.

DR. VERNON CRAWFORD, chancellor of the Board of Regents, will be on campus Thursday, visiting the suites and offices that morning and lunching with faculty at noon. His visit is part of the week's pre-fall quarter activities which include the president's invitational golf tournament on Monday (Sept. 8), the AC benefit barbecue on Tuesday, faculty meetings at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. and self study committee meetings at 3 p.m. Wed., and faculty meetings on academic advising with Dr. Ralph Hemphill on Fri. Orientation and registration will take place the following Mon. (Sept. 15), and classes will start Sept. 16. Goodbye, summer. Welcome back, students, faculty and staff.

PRESIDENT GEORGE A. CHRISTENBERRY was recently presented a resolution by the Board of Regents of the University System expressing appreciation for his one year term as acting vice chancellor. The plaque says in part "...Whereas he has consistently discharged his every assignment and responsibility with the same careful attention to detail, the same understanding of the educational issues, the same skill in dealing effectively with people, and the same infectious good humor which are the hallmarks of his administrative style, all of which we shall sorely miss..."

KENNETH W. JONES has been named director of public safety, it was announced recently by Dean Joseph Mele. A 1975 graduate of the Augusta Law School, he joins AC from the Medical College of Ga. where he has been associated with the Police Bureau since 1974. The AC Lyceum Series will present two performances of Eugene O'Neill's lyric drama, A Moon For The Misbegotten, on Thursday, Sept. 25 and again Saturday, Sept. 27. The play will be performed by members of the Atlanta Academy Theatre, the same group which performed Tartuffe here two years ago. Curtain is at 8 p.m. and tickets are $2 general, $1 student, and free with AC identification. Tickets will be available at the door. In addition to the performances, the Academy actors will conduct a series of workshops on Friday, Sept. 26 and Saturday, Sept. 27. The workshop sessions are open to all and are free.

Tryouts for the AC Theatre's first fall production, The Glass Menagerie, by Tennessee Williams, will be held Thursday, Sept. 18 and Friday, Sept. 19 at 7 p.m. in the Chateau. This American classic will be performed Nov. 21, 22 and 23 in the PAT. Written as a "memory play" seen through the eyes of Tom, who has, like his father before him, made his break for freedom, the play offers exciting staging possibilities. "This will give us a chance to try out some of the new equipment in the Performing Arts Theatre," said Director Duncan Smith.

LEAVING THE AC GOLF COURSE at Forest Hills last week with trophies in hand were members of the winning first-place team of Black, Christenberry, Cashin and Thies. Placing second was the team of Hobbs, Vanover, Russey and Eskew. Third-place winners were Johnson, Arnold, Rutsohn and Gassman. Though the latter two teams scored equally, the second-place team was declared winner by virtue of the rule regarding the most recent birdie. Coordinator Roscoe Williams said everyone enjoyed the day and were appreciative of President Christenberry's efforts in arranging the pre-fall tourney.

THE BENEFIT BARBECUE held in the Quadrangle on Sept. 9 was a complete success with more than 800 Augustans in attendance. The 6-10 p.m. event featured the Cross-Country Bluegrass Express, The Augusta Barbershop Chorus, The Augusta Symphony Big Band and the Sounds of Joy. The barbecue signified the beginning of the second annual "Commitment to Excellence" fund campaign.

THE SPOTLIGHT WELCOMES new faculty members from the School of Arts and Sciences: Judith Breckenridge, instructor of math (Special Studies Dept.); Steven Greenquist, instructor of art; Seymour Kesten, assistant professor of fine arts; Shirley King, instructor of math (Special Studies); Lester Pollard, instructor in English; Dr. David Proefrock, assistant professor of psychology; Dr. William Wellnitz, assistant professor of biology; Carolyn Wheale, assistant professor of nursing; Betty Turner, instructor of reading (Special Studies); from the School of Business Administration: Diane Saint, instructor; from the School of Education: Robert Eskew, instructor of physical education; Thomas Taylor, assistant professor of physical education.

THE AC FOUNDATION has received a check for $240,000 from J.B. Fuqua to be used for communication purposes including the establishment of a television studio and television support for the new Learning Resources Center. Support will also be given to WACG-FM. Fuqua, chairman of the board and chief executive officer of Fuqua Industries Inc. made the presentation last week. It is anticipated that all AC departments will benefit from the television studio, which will permit the production of programs to supplement classroom instruction. The studio should be fully operational by the end of the fall quarter, and the Learning Resources Center, under the direction of A. Ray Rowland, should be in operation now. Dr. Christenberry said that the gift "...demonstrates Mr. Fuqua's commitment to and confidence in Augusta College. It is through substantial private gifts such as this that we are able to develop a new program in communications and continue our commitment to excellence in education."

THE OFFICE OF CONTINUING EDUCATION has just released its new brochure of fall quarter short courses and seminars. Included this quarter are dog obedience, music appreciation, recorder, rug looping, stained glass, yogurt and yoga, commodities, everyday conversation, publicity for clubs and organizations, tax shelters, weather, and graphic design. A course on decorating for Christmas will be held at the Augusta Mall. Call 828-4611 to obtain a complete listing of courses.

A free concert by Continuum, the performing ensemble of the Performer's Committee for 20th Century Music from New York City, will take place at 8 p.m. Friday, Sept. 26 in the Performing Arts Theatre. At noon the same day, the group will present a free public workshop on 20th century music, also in the PAT. Their visit is part of the Cullum Visiting Scholars program and is made possible by a grant from the National Endowment for the Arts and the Cullum Foundation. The Performer's Committee began in 1967 with the aim of expanding the audience for 20th century music, and since has presented workshops and programs throughout the U.S. Continuum's performers include Victoria Villamil, soprano; Marilyn Dubow, violinist; Cheryl Seltzer, pianist; and Joel Sachs, pianist and conductor. The public is invited to the performance and the workshop.

The second annual Jaguar Jaunt will take place Saturday evening, Sept. 27 with a 5 p.m. one mile run and a 5000 meter (3.1 miles) run at 5:30 p.m. around campus. The race is sponsored by the AC Alumni Assn., the Student Government Assn. and Southern Beer of Augusta, Inc. Seventy-five cents for each entry fee will be donated to the AC Alumni Fund. Applications are now available at area sporting good stores, the Maxwell Alumni House and the Office of Student Activities. Late registration on the day of the race will begin at 4 p.m. Everyone who enters will receive a bright blue T-shirt with a silver Jaunt design. A party for all participants will begin immediately following the awards ceremony at the Maxwell Alumni House, 2339 McDowell Street.

THE AC FILM SERIES continues Tuesday, Sept. 23 with showings of "Superman" at 6 and 8:15 p.m. in the Performing Arts Theatre. General public tickets are $1.50 for the early show and $1.75 for the 8:15 show. Those persons 65 or older are admitted free to the early show.

THE 1980-81 LYCEUM SERIES at Augusta College gets underway Thursday, Sept. 25 with an 8 p.m. performance of Eugene O'Neill's lyric drama, A Moon for the Misbegotten, by the Atlanta Academy Theatre. A second performance will be held at the same time on Saturday, Sept. 27 both in the PAT. Tickets are $2 general, $1 student, and free with AC identification. Tickets will be available at the door. In addition to the performances, the Academy actors will conduct a series of workshops on Friday, Sept. 26 and Saturday, Sept. 27. The workshop sessions are open and free. Workshop titles, dates and times are as follows: Sept. 26, 10-12 noon, "An Actor Prepares;" 1-3 p.m., "Actors' Workshop;" 3-5 p.m. "Working in Georgia/Auditioning," all in the AC Chateau; and 7-9 p.m. "General Interest Workshop," CAC, Room Two. Sept. 27, 10 a.m., "An Actor Prepares" scheduled for the CAC, and "Directing Workshop," in the PAT. From 1-3 p.m. an "Actors Workshop" will be held in the PAT and "Teaching Techniques for Creative Dramatics," will be taught in the CAC.

A NUMBER OF WORKSHOPS are being planned this fall by the Office of Continuing Education. Career Strategies: Planning and Changing will be offered for six Thursday nights beginning Oct. 2 from 7-9 p.m. each week in the CAC. Instructors are Rita Rutsohn and Annette Starnes. Written Wednesday Sept. 24, 1980

The Reese Library is celebrating U.S. Constitution Week by hosting an exhibit sponsored by the College Hill Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution (DAR). The exhibit is located on the second floor of the library, and contains assorted documents, articles and pamphlets about the Constitution. Various copies of it, including a draft modified by George Washington in 1787, are also displayed. The exhibit will remain up through Tuesday.

The competition for grants for graduate study abroad during 1981-82 under the Fulbright Program will close on Oct. 31. Qualified graduate students are invited to apply for one of over 511 awards which are available to 52 countries. Most of the grants provide round trip transportation, tuition and maintenance for one year. Applicants must be U.S. citizens and must hold a bachelor's degree (or its equivalent) and in most cases should be proficient in the language of the host country. Creative and performing artists may substitute experience for a degree. Application forms and further information may be obtained from program adviser Dr. Walter Evans in Butler Hall. The deadline for filing applications is Oct. 21.

FOR WEEK OF: October 19 - October 25, 1980

Written Wednesday October 15, 1980

A special exhibition of textile art and a lecture by artist Eleanor M. Drake-Lewis will be featured on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday in the Fine Arts Center. The British artist is a native of Devon who studied applied art and design (creative stitchery and tapestry weaving) in several countries in Europe before completing studies for a doctorate in art education at Pennsylvania State University. Her exhibit will be on display 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. Oct. 23 and 24 in the Fine Arts lobby, and from 9 a.m. to noon Oct. 25. In addition, she will be available to discuss her work from 2 to 5 p.m. Thurs. and 10 a.m. to noon and 3 to 5 p.m. Friday. She will give a public lecture on "A Decade of Textile Art: British-American" at 2 p.m. Oct. 24 in room C-1, Fine Arts Center. Her visit is sponsored by the School of Education and Fine Arts Dept. at AC and the Delta Kappa Gamma Society, Rho Chapter.

Zeta Tau Alpha and Alpha Delta Pi have issued a challenge to all departments to compete in their blood drive to take place from 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. Oct. 22 (Wed.) on the second floor of the College Activities Center. With the help of the Walter L. Sheppard Blood Center, the groups will distribute pledge cards all week on campus in order to determine how many donors to expect. Center representatives say there is great need for blood donations, especially type B, in this area. The donating procedure is safe and simple and takes less than 30 minutes, they said. It is reported that the AC Science and Math Depts. donate each year. Winners of this year's competition will receive a T shirt or some other form of recognition. Everyone who is able should participate in this worthy cause.

PAUL E. FERTIG, PH.D., one of the nation's foremost accounting educators, will assume the position of Alumni Professor of Business Administration at AC, effective winter quarter. The Alumni Association-sponsored position is a new one for the college, and one that fulfills "a goal we have had for some time," according to association president Helen Hendee. Dr. Fertig will teach accounting majors at graduate and undergraduate levels and will serve as a representative of the School of Business Administration to the local business community. He will also be the keynote speaker at the annual meeting of the Ga. Assn. of Accounting Instructors to be held in Statesboro in Feb. Fertig has been named to several visiting professorships, including ones at Stanford University and the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. He received his A.B. degree from the University of Michigan, the CPA designation from the state of Illinois, and his Ph.D. from Ohio State.

THE OFFICE OF ALUMNI AFFAIRS in conjunction with the Public Information Office will be publishing an alumni newspaper in the near future. The publication, the Alumni Bell-Ringer, is in need of a new title. Anyone with any suggestions, please contact either office. Alumni Affairs is 4701 and Public Information is 3917.

THE DRAMA CLUB will hold an organizational meeting at 1 p.m. Wed., Oct. 22, in topic room 3 of the CAC. Anyone interested in theater work and especially in the development of children's theater is invited to attend.

THE AC POLITICAL SCIENCE CLUB will hold the second in a series of political forums at noon Wed., Oct. 22, in the lecture room of Butler Hall. The candidates for the contested seats in the Ga. House of Representatives will be featured in the question and answer format. Everyone is invited to attend and participate. Bonnie Hodges is president of the club this year, and Ralph Walker, Ph.D., is faculty advisor.

REPRESENTATIVES from Piggly Wiggly Southern, Inc. recently visited campus to present the AC Foundation a check for $900. Making the presentation to President Christenberry were Marion J. Milburn, division manager, and Robert Austin, Washington Road store manager.

FOR WEEK OF: Oct. 26 - Nov. 1, 1980

Written Wednesday October 22, 1980

The AC Lyceum Series will present a talk by Jeffrey Klein, principal editor of Mother Jones magazine, at 8 p.m. Oct. 29 in the Performing Arts Theatre. Klein's topic will be "Mother Jones on Politics in the 80's." His cover stories for the publication in the past have included interviews with personalities like TV's Mike Wallace, basketball's Bill Walton, psychic Helen Palmer and publisher Larry Flynt. In his latest article he speculates on what four years under a Reagan presidency would be like. The public is invited free of charge to his talk.

The AC Student Union will hold a pumpkin carving contest at noon Oct. 31 in the College Activities Center. Everyone is invited to compete. Judging will be done that evening at a Halloween Masquerade Ball, to take place from 9 p.m. to 12:30 a.m., also in the CAC. Admission is free with I.D. and 50¢ for guests accompanied by students with I.D.'s.

STUDENTS WHO PLAN to do their student teaching winter quarter need to submit applications to Dr. Robert Hilliard in the School of Education by Oct. 31.

AUGUSTA COLLEGE will host the annual PROBE fair for high school juniors and seniors Thursday (Nov. 6) from 6 until 9 p.m. at the Augusta Mall. The AC Admissions Office reports that more than 70 colleges, universities, and post secondary schools will be present to provide area high school students with information on opportunities in various institutions of higher learning. The fair is one of 37 held throughout the state during a six-week PROBE tour which will enable Georgia high school students to personally contact post secondary school representatives.

THE DEPT. OF FINE ARTS is offering a number of music scholarships beginning winter quarter. Based on music accomplishment and merit, the scholarships are available to entering students planning to major in music as well as music majors already enrolled. Auditions will take place at 7:30 p.m. Oct. 30 in the Fine Arts Center. Applications will be accepted through Oct. 28 in the Fine Arts Dept.

A SAFFTY AWARENESS SEMINAR will be held on campus on Thurs., Oct. 30, sponsored by the Dept. of Public Safety. There will be two sessions, one at noon and the other at 1 p.m. in the topic room 2 of the CAC. The seminar will feature a talk by Earl V. Campbell, national training director of the Immobilizer Corp. His talk will deal specifically with the immobilizer, a non lethal weapon used for self protection. Kenneth Jones, Public Safety Director, urges everyone, especially women, to attend one of the free sessions.

VIRGINIA KING THOMAS, class of '73, is the newly appointed coordinator of learning services in Hardy Hall. Virginia earned her bachelor's degree in music from AC in 1973 and has since done additional course work in audio visual communications. Her experience includes work in television and audio electronics. She will be assisted in her duties by media utilization specialist GERALD HAGERTY, whose wife Linda is secretary in the Testing Center. His experience includes four years as production manager of WSAV-TV in Savannah. The Spotlight welcomes them both on behalf of AC.

AC WELCOMES TIM CROSBY, the new business manager for athletics. Tim graduated from AC in 1978 with a B.B.A. with a concentration in marketing. While in school, he was student manager of the basketball team from 1973-76. After graduating, he worked for an insurance company before assuming his position as assistant general manager for the Savannah Braves baseball team, an AA farm club of the Atlanta Braves.

THE FIRST ANNUAL ALUMNI BASEBALL GAME is scheduled for Sun., Nov. 9, at 3 p.m. All former players interested in forming a team to play the AC team are asked to call coach Terry Childers at 828-3606. Denny Burau will coach the alumni team.

THE AC SOCCER TEAM will play Armstrong State at home on Tues., Oct. 28 at 3 p.m.

THE SCHOOL OF EDUCATION Thursday sponsored an all-day symposium called "Directions for the 1980's" during which school personnel from six counties outlined what needs and services the school could provide to them. This effort to solicit input will help the school determine its objectives and long range goals, according to Dean Geraldine W. Hargrove. In addition to school personnel, representatives of agencies which work closely with Education also attended. This is the second time such a symposium was held.

THE DELTA CHI FRATERNITY will receive a special plaque for recruiting the most blood donors during last week's blood drive on campus. Donors representing various organizations on campus gave a total of 91 pints to the Walter L. Sheppard Blood Center. Certificates will be given to all organizations which participated.

A Small Business Development Center has been established at AC, and opened last week with ceremonies which included a tour of the facilities in Boykin Wright Hall. The SBDC was patterned after the agriculture extension service offered to farmers, according to Director Donald Law, professor in the School of Business Administration. The purpose of the center is to assist small business owners and managers by providing counseling, technical assistance and general management analysis. Law said that nine out of ten small businesses fail due to lack of management skills. In an effort to reverse this trend, the center will integrate resources of the college, the small business community, and the government in conducting seminars and workshops for small business personnel. The college will also benefit from the center, he said. It will bolster the business education program by providing a practical laboratory for faculty and students in the School of Business Administration.

The AC choirs will perform Bach's Magnificat and A Ceremony of Carols by Benjamin Brittan at 8 p.m. Thursday, Nov. 20 in the PAT. Featured soloists in the Bach performance will be sopranos Sandra Newman and Denise Cheeks Lotz, alto Kymberly Van Horn, tenor Arthur Wilson and bass-baritone William Smith. Featured on trumpet will be Michael McClary, instructor of music in the Fine Arts Dept. The orchestra will consist of members of the Augusta Symphony Orchestra and the entire work will be under the baton of Dr. James Russey, director of Choral Activities. The AC Chamber Choir will present A Ceremony of Carols with the assistance of harpist Margret Morrison under the direction of Jamie Council. There will be a small admission charge of $1.50 to cover the cost of the production.

George Shirly, noted operatic tenor and soloist in the Augusta Symphony's Saturday night performance, will present master classes for both AC and Paine College on Monday, Nov. 17. He will conduct a workshop in the PAT from 10 to 11:30 a.m. and one at Paine in the Gilbert-Lambuth Chapel, from 1 to 2:30 p.m. The public is invited to both sessions.

ATTENTION STUDENTS RECEIVING BASIC GRANTS:

The Education Amendments of 1980, signed into law on Oct. 3 by President Carter, have removed the four year limitation on basic grants. Students who have not yet received their first bachelor's degree but have already received the maximum Basic Grants assistance (four years) may now be eligible to receive additional assistance. Contact the Financial Aid Office if you were denied aid due to the four year limitation.

ALSO EFFECTIVE AS OF OCTOBER were the following changes in the National Direct Student Loan Program:

1. The interest rate has increased from three to four per cent.
2. The grace period for repayment has decreased from nine to six months.
3. The definition of handicapped children for purposes of teacher cancellation has been changed.

Students receiving the NSDL on or after Oct. 1 are asked to stop by the Business Office to sign a new promissory note.

MARK YOUR CALENDAR for Thursday, Nov. 20! Mu Rho Sigma will be having another fabulous bake sale, featuring Christmas baked goods. Part of the proceeds of this event will be donated to the Empty Stocking Fund. Save your change!

APPLICATIONS FOR THE GEORGE A. SANCKEN scholarship to AC are now being accepted. The Student Financial Assistance Committee encourages all students who are residents of Richmond County to apply. Only those students who can demonstrate actual financial need will be considered. Applications may be obtained by calling Dr. James Benedict in the Math and Computer Sciences Dept.

AN AC FALL GOLF OUTING at Oristo Golf Resort, Edisto Beach, S.C. has been planned for Nov. 21-23. A caravan will leave the Arsenal Ave. parking lot at 5 a.m. Nov. 21 (Fri.) The cost of the golf package, which includes lodging for three days and two nights and greens fees and carts for 18 holes per day is $62 (food is extra). Those who arrive Fri. night will be charged $49.52 for the weekend. If you wish to make reservations, call Henry Thomas at 3213 or 541-0279 or John Black at 3201 or 733-7982. A deposit of $20 is required by Monday, Nov. 17.

A PANEL DISCUSSION on "Energy Alternatives," moderated by Dr. Floyd B. O'Neal, will be held at 7:30 p.m. Nov. 20 in the lecture room of Butler Hall. Panelists will include representatives of the Department of Energy, Georgia Power, Dupont-Savannah River Plant, and Friends of the Savannah River. The event, sponsored by the Augusta Chapter of the American Association of University Women, is free and open to the public.

SAVINGS BOND INTEREST RATES HAVE INCREASED, according to a message received by Dean Mele's office from the Department of the Treasury. The interest rate on Series EE bonds purchased on and after Nov. 1 is being increased from 7 to 8 per cent, compounded semiannually, when the term to maturity is being shortened from 11 to nine years. The interest rate on Series HH savings bonds purchased on/after Nov. 1 is being increased from 6 1/2 to 7 1/2 percent. In addition, all outstanding series E, EE, H, and HH bonds as well as outstanding savings notes (Freedom Shares) will benefit from a one percent increase to their next maturities. If you are interested in buying bonds, contact the Business Office and arrange a payroll deduction.

AC AND THE SIGMA XI (MCG Chapter) are sponsoring visits to campus of Dr. Sue Savage-Rumbaugh and Dr. Duane Rumbaugh on Nov. 20. She is a scientist at Yerkes Primate Center, and he is chairman of the Dept. of Psychology at Georgia State University. His research interest is in primatology. The Drs. will give talks at noon in the lecture room of Butler Hall and at 8 p.m. in room A-4 of Skinner Hall. The noon address will concern their work with retarded individuals involving communication technology resulting from research with chimpanzees. The evening talk will deal more specifically with their research in communication with chimpanzees. Everyone is invited.

A REAL ESTATE SALESPERSON'S first year post-licensing preparatory course will be offered at AC beginning with a class Dec. 8 and continuing through Dec. 19. Sessions will meet Mon.-Fri. afternoons from 1:15 to 6 p.m. The state exam will be given on campus Dec. 22. Registration is $150, including text and exam costs. Deadline for registering is noon, Nov. 25. This course is required for all salespersons both active and inactive who were first licensed Jan. 1 or later. THE REESE LIBRARY has announced another major step in the conversion of its card catalog records to machine readable form. The COM (computer-output-microfiche) Catalog, which is produced from the data base of library holdings, is now the primary key to the book collection. Cards are no longer being filed in the card catalogs for books added to the collection. The COM Catalog contains cataloging for all books added to the collection or changed to the COM system since Jan. 1979. The COM fiche will be produced quarterly and each time will contain more cataloging information as the records are converted to the COM system. By September, 1981, it will include cataloging for all books, microforms, audiovisual materials, music scores, manuscripts, maps, and sound recordings in the Reese Library collection.

The following story was written by Augusta College student Susan Power.

For a 13-year-old to make such a big decision, and then to stick to it, is impressive to say the least. But that's how old AC student Renee Williams was when she decided to audition for the Augusta Civic Ballet Company. With her acceptance into the company came the responsibility of dedicating all of her spare time to dancing and forfeiting the social life of a normal child her age. She has spent forty hours a week for the past six years (13,440 hours), on improving her talent and today, at 19, Renee may be a rising star of the future.

Renee has been interested in ballet since she was 3.

"My mother took me to art productions and opera when I was young," she said. At the age of 6, Renee was taking ballet lessons at the Augusta Civic Ballet School.

"It's just something that I always wanted to be a part of and as a child I thought it was a beautiful art," Renee recalled. Her idol as a child was Ann Burton, a member of the Atlanta Ballet Company.

"She looked like a fairy to me. I thought she was beautiful," Renee said. Since joining the company, she has had little spare time and has been forced to manage that time wisely around school. Yes, there is time for a social life, but it too must be manipulated to fit into her tight schedule.

"I was at the studio on Friday nights and Saturdays while most of my friends were out on dates. I've loved every minute of it," Renee comments about her strict schedule. "I get my high from dancing. The thought that you've made an audience of 600 people happy because you've expressed yourself to them... It's just a good feeling."

Renee recalls that, like most beginners, she did not always look perfect on stage. She tells of the time she lost her leotard during one of the rather fast performances.

"I had this terrible feeling that I was coming out of my costume," she said laughing. "And when I looked down, I was!"

Renee's credentials are impressive. She attends a regional Ballet festival each year. She has also attended classes in New York under Melissa Hayden, formerly with the New York City Ballet.

A big incentive for Renee has been the encouragement from Zanne Beaufort, her coach.

"The person rehearsing you is most responsible for what you look like on stage," Renee said. Beaufort, also the assistant director of the company, has influenced her a great deal.

"Renee is a lovely dancer," Beaufort comments, "a thoughtful dancer, who uses her physical gifts to the fullest and gives a whole performance." She adds, "she is one of the most disciplined people in every aspect of her life."

Renee agrees that discipline enters into every aspect of her life. It requires great discipline for her to sometimes force her body to "do what it doesn't want to do."

Patty Williams, Renee's mother, is aware of the pain Renee often goes through in preparing for performances. "She hasn't had a break for two years," although the financial costs are "astronomical," the emotional costs are much higher for her parents. They recognize the stress and pressure Renee is constantly subjected to, and they also see the times she is injured both physically and mentally.

"If I had my way, Renee would not be doing this right now; she would be away in school. I cannot live her life for her, though, and I won't stand in her way. She has always had our full support," her mother states. Although not away in school, Renee is studying at Augusta College now and hopes to major in Special Education.

Some mornings Renee has to get up 2 or 3 hours early to study and some nights she goes to bed late for 2 or 3 hours sleep.

"I rehearse at the studio from 11:00 to 6:30 on Saturdays, so Sunday is my catch up day... I study all day Sunday.

"I don't know where I'm going from here. That is the big question in my life right now. I would like to get a Masters degree as a Reading Specialist, but in several years I am hoping for a professional contract... maybe with the company here."

As for the immediate future, Renee will be appearing again (as she does each year) in the annual production of "The Nutcracker." For the first time ever, Renee will be alternating the leading role with her coach, Zanne Beaufort. "I am very pleased to know Renee and to work with her on a day to day basis. Renee could do anything she sets her mind to," her coach says admiringly.

As for that, surely time will tell.

NOTE: For the next few weeks, the Office of Public Information will publish in the Spotlight a series of feature stories written by the students enrolled in Fall quarter in Journalism 102. The course is an introduction to feature writing taught by James Garvey, Ph.D. The articles all focus on the Augusta College community.

Written Monday November 24, 1980

The annual Christmas Belle Ball will take place Dec. 5 from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. in the College Activities Center. The dance is sponsored by the AC Student Union and will feature music by "Fasar." Highlighting the evening will be the crowning of this year's Christmas Belle and Beau. Voting was to take place Nov. 24 and 25 when students could choose from 13 contestants, nine for belle and four for beau. Competing for the title of belle were Debra Banning, Jacquelyn Brooks, Carolyn Lineberry, Kathy Marshall, Gina Readdy, Roxane Rodgers, Pamela Shands, Cynthia Walker, and Annie Wright. Male Contestants were John Boatman, Reginald Forrest, Joseph Neely, and Karl Richardson. Contestants were not sponsored by a particular group, but were required to submit a petition with 20 signatures.

A two-day seminar on listening and memory development will be offered by the Office of Continuing Education December 4-5 in the College Activity Center. "Listening and memory retention are skills which can be easily acquired," according to Anne Deeley, a seminar co-leader who designs and teaches training programs for companies throughout the country. The other seminar leader is Maurie Freed, an associate of Deeley-Fenton & Associates, Inc. The program will be divided into listening and memory components. The former will cover listening skills, empathic listening, body language, non-verbal communication and overcoming barriers to listening. The memory component will include the history of memory development, using imagery to focus the mind, remembering names, people, dates and numbers, techniques for improving the memory and the link and hook system. Registration forms are now available in the Continuing Education Office. Registration may also be made over the telephone with major credit cards. This seminar will be offered again February 26-27, 1981.

THE PUBLIC SAFETY OFFICE will be open from 7:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Friday effective Dec. 1. After 9 p.m., Monday through Friday and all hours Saturday and Sunday the telephone is tied into the Medical College of Georgia Dispatcher Office. If an emergency arises and you need one of our officers the call will be relayed to the officer on the grounds at Augusta College. Please be very sure you specify "Augusta College" when you call after hours.

THE SUMMERVILLE NEIGHBORHOOD ASSN. and Augusta College will co-sponsor a Christmas tree lighting ceremony at 6 p.m. Sat. Dec. 6 on the grounds around the Performing Arts Theatre. In addition to performances by the AC Jazz Ensemble and Choir, there will be a special visit by Santa, escorted by the Public Safety Dept. Refreshments will be served. Everyone is invited.

The following story was written by Augusta College student Lisa Perry.

The things that are amazing about Bud aren't even considered unusual about most other people. It's fascinating to watch Bud type, to see him get from one place to another, or just to hear him laugh. He has cerebral palsy, and the degree to which he has adjusted to the kind of life he must lead is truly incredible.

Twenty-one year old Augusta College student, Bud Wardlaw has been afflicted with this disease of the central nervous system since his birth. It allows him very little muscle control. Bud has never walked or even fed himself. However, he had a bigger problem than the disease. Bud was ambitious. He wouldn't allow himself to lead an empty life, so with painstaking determination, Bud declared war on all obstacles that may ever stand between himself and his goals. With admirable patience and love, his family stood behind him. Bud said that he is forever grateful to them and for them. "I see myself as normal as anyone else because that's how my parents treated me as I grew up. They set certain standards and expected me as well as my brother to adhere to them," Bud said.

When Bud was in junior high school, his mother, Billie Wardlaw, designed a kind of headgear with which he could type. The contraption fits around his head like a sweat band and has a metallic extension with which he hits the keys. This was a big advance in Bud's life. It helped give him the courage to overcome the restrictions imposed on him by his handicap.

Being confined to a wheelchair hasn't hindered Bud's mobility a great deal. A couple of years ago, he discovered that by hanging his head over the back of his chair to see where he was going, he could steer himself by pushing the chair with his feet. Needless to say, Bud receives many "double-takes" wherever he happens to go. Doors don't present much of a problem, either. All he has to do is flash his winning smile at the nearest bystander.

Although Bud is remarkably independent for his condition, someone had to be hired to write for him when he entered Augusta College. This year it is Monteen McElveen. Several people had to be interviewed for the position because sometimes even the most honest people are tempted to write in the correct answer if Bud happens to quote a wrong one.

However, Bud doesn't quote the wrong answer very often. He is a 1978 honor graduate of T.W. Josey, the high school chosen to accommodate handicapped students. He wrote the benediction prayer of his own graduation, and it was written in braille so that a blind graduate could read it. It best illustrates the kind of person he is because it captures his rhetorical eloquence as well as his spirituality. It says, in part, "...Lord, all too often as members of the younger generation, we are quick to criticize, yet slow to help. As the leaders of tomorrow, let us see our responsibility to promote a better life and better peace on earth. Let us go forth from this place tonight with determination to let our lives and abilities count for thee in the world..."

Of all the remarkable things about Bud, perhaps his defeat of depression is most admirable. His ability to laugh is sincere, and his cheerfulness is contagious.

Only once having made below an A in a course, Bud is an excellent student. If you ask him, Bud will say that he intends to attend the school of law at Berkeley (yes, California) and set up practice. There is no reason not to believe him.

FOR WEEK OF: DEC. 7 - DEC. 13, 1980

Written Thursday December 4, 1980

Five AC seniors and three juniors have been selected for inclusion in Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. The selection is based on academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities and potential. Seniors named were Roberta K. Allen, an accounting major; Frank Chow Lee, a biology and psychology major; Denise K. McClure, an elementary education major; Beverly Yvette Myers, an English major; and Gayla Karen Spooner, a history and English major. This is the second year Lee and Spooner have received the honor. Juniors named were management major Erich V. Boerner, psychology major Donna K. Broshek, and English major Johnny George Pool III. They join an elite group of students from across the U.S. and from several foreign nations.

Holiday in old Augusta, a holiday festival celebrating the contributions of national groups to Augusta's history, will take place from 3 to 7p.m. Sunday, Dec. 7 on Greene St. and Fourth St. in that historic downtown section. Featured will be ethnic holiday foods, gift items, national dances, music, and tours of restored Victorian homes. Masters of the celebration will be George Fisher and Pat Mulherin. Sponsoring the event are local groups representing Afro-American, Greek, Scottish, Irish, Italian, Israeli and Chinese heritages. Everyone is welcome.

A note of appreciation for sympathy and flowers sent to classmates and teachers of AC student Henry Perry, who died recently. Henry's wife Dixie, also a student, sent the note, which said in part, "... in a few weeks I will return to the campus. Henry and I wanted to graduate together so he would expect me to carry on in the "army" way. He was so fond of you all."

THE AUGUSTA MUSIC CLUB will open its 1980-81 Sunday Afternoon Series in cooperation with the Augusta College Dept. of Fine Arts at the Performing Arts Theatre 3 p.m. Sunday (Dec. 7). The first concert of the series will be given by Elena Barere, second place winner of the Augusta's Symphony's 1980 String Competition. Faculty, staff and students are admitted free. There is a small admission fee for others. Proceeds from the concerts are used for scholarships for promising music students throughout the CSRA.

BASKETBALL SCHEDULE FOR THIS WEEK:

Dec. 10, Wed. Central Wesleyan 8:00 p.m.
Dec. 13, Sat. Fla. Inst. of Technology 8 p.m.
Both games will be played at the Civic Center.

RIDE WANTED from Windsor Square Shopping Center to AC campus winter quarter. Need to arrive at about 8:30 a.m. Share gas expense. Call Dave 798-1368.

DR. ELIZABETH HOUSE (Special Studies) recently gave a paper entitled "Cognitive Style and Special Studies Writers" at the Georgia State Special Studies Workshop at Jekyll Island, Georgia.

DR. JOHN D. FLOWERS (Education) recently attended the regional meeting of the National Science Teachers Association in Orlando, Florida. He presented a paper entitled "A governance model for in-service science teacher education." The paper describes the management model he developed for use in the NSF sponsored Academic Year Institute during 1979-80 at Augusta College.

DR. LINDA MIXON CLARY (Education) presented a paper, co-authored with Dr. Anne Christenberry, on the influence of T.V. on basic readiness skills in children at the S.E. Conference of the International Reading Assn. in Norfolk, VA.

DURING WBIA RADIO STATION'S broadcast of the 80-81 Jaguar basketball season, the Public Information Office will host a half-time series of interviews with faculty members and others involved with the college. On Wednesday, Dec. 10, WBIA will air an interview with Dr. Edward J. Cashin on his new book, The Story of Augusta. On Saturday, Dec. 13 the half-time show will feature an interview with Nopi Barnard, director of alumni affairs, on the association's annual Christmas open house that night.

ALL FACULTY AND STAFF ARE INVITED to the AC Alumni Assn.'s eighth annual Christmas Open House from 7:30 p.m. to midnight Dec. 13 in the Maxwell Alumni House. Those who plan to attend the basketball game that night are invited to drop by afterwards.

AUGUSTA COLLEGE IS AN AFFIRMATIVE ACTION/EQUAL OPPORTUNITY INSTITUTION

The following story was written by Augusta College student Susan Twilley.

Communiting as much as 100 miles a day isn't an option most students would choose. There is, however, a considerable population at Augusta College that has little choice to do otherwise.

They come from towns like Dearing, Appling, Louisville, Thomson, Wrens, Waynesboro, Lincolnton, and Warrenton. And they share similar sentiments about communiting: they don't like it. "I hate it, but I can't live down here, so there aren't too many choices left," says sophomore Lucile Dixon of Thomson.

Angela Biggerstaff of Lincolnton says that communiting 80 miles each day is "frustrating" because of the various costs commuters must pay. Communiting, though less expensive than renting an apartment, is not necessarily cheap with gas at an average $1.25 per gallon. Fuel bills range from $15 to $50 a week.

Terril Gray of Louisville, who drives 100 miles round trip, says that she is buying a fuel efficient car in order to cut down on her $50 a week gas bill. Carpooling reduces expenses considerably, but it usually limits one's involvement in school activities.

"Even though I spend $130 a month on gas, I would prefer to drive by myself and have the option of attending various school activities," says one Thomson junior. Audrey Weiss, an Augusta College junior, says, "I don't feel as if I am a real part of college life. I have been to only one school function, and that was a barbecue. The distance between home and school is just too far. Once I get home, I hate to turn around to come back."

Another costs is grades. Russell Partain, an ex-commuter, moved to Augusta. "I hated communiting, and living in Thomson hurt my grades. I couldn't study there."

Vicky Davis also feels the disadvantages of living out of town. "I had to take a "B" in a drama class because I couldn't stay late in the afternoons to participate in skits and other activities. I hated to make the girls I rode with late in getting home."

Though not as important as grades, the early hour commuters must leave their homes is yet another cost. "I have to leave my house around 7:30 just to make sure I can get a parking place before my 9:00 class," says junior Marcia Brown of Warrenton, who drives about 100 miles each day.

The solutions to these problems are few, simply because the options to communiting are even fewer. Moving to Augusta is the only answer, but many cannot afford the high costs of apartments and at the present, apartments seem to be the only housing possibilities available. Perhaps in the future, dormitories will provide a solution to the problems of communiting.
